RBI MPC LIKELY TO RAISE REPO RATE BY UP TO 50 BPS

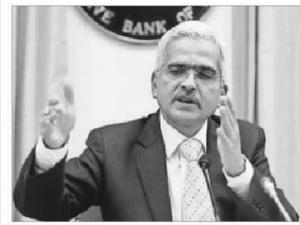

Eye on return to pre-Covid rates: Mkts brace for 'no-brainer' hike

GEORGE MATHIAS Mumbai, June 5

AFTER THE 40-BP HIKE IN repo rate to 4.4% last week, the Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) of the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) is set to go for another rate hike to tackle the elevated inflation level at its meeting on Wednesday.

The bond and stock markets are already positioned for a front-loaded hike in repo rate—the main policy rate at which RBI lends funds to banks. The broader market expectation is that the central bank will hike repo rate by around 40-50 basis points (bps) in the June meeting. Any smaller rate hike will be a positive surprise and short-term bond yields may soften marginally.

RBI governor Shaktikanta Das has already indicated a rate hike. "Expectations of a rate hike is a no-brainer. There will be some increase in the repo rate. By how much, I will not be able to tell now but to say that it will be hiked to 5.15% now will not be accurate," he said on May 24.

light that for the sale of standardized steps, the chances of delivering a 50-25 bps hike combination is quite high too." The key thing is that the RBI MPC is likely to exit ultra-accommodation by August and take policy repo rate to the pre-pandemic level of 5.15%.

Accordingly, until then, the RBI MPC is likely to retain the stance as accommodative while focusing on withdrawal of accommodation. Thereafter, as inflation continues to stay high, we see the RBI MPC take policy repo rate to 5.65% by March 2023, he said.

Expectation of a rate hike is a no-brainer. There will be some increase in the repo rate. By how much, I will not be able to tell now, but to say that (it will be hiked) to 5.15% will not be accurate reserve ratio (CRR) by 50 bps to 4.90% to bring down the elevated inflation and tackle the impact of geopolitical tensions.

However, the central bank retained the accommodative monetary policy in an unscheduled meeting of the MPC.

Banks have jacked up repo-linked lending rates and marginal cost of funds-based lending rates (MCLR) since then, leading to a rise in equated monthly instalment (EMI).

"We expect the RBI to hike interest rates by anywhere between 25-40 bps in the June policy meeting. No doubt inflation has risen in India, and it is largely attributable to the global geo-political environment," said Unmesh Revankar, vice chairman and managing director, Shriram Transport Finance.

Musk backtracks, says Tesla salaried staff to be 'fairly flat'

REUTERS June 5

TESLA CHIEF EXECUTIVE Elon Musk said on Saturday that the electric vehicle maker's total headcount will increase over the next 12 months, but the number of salaried staff should be little changed, backtracking from an email just two days ago saying that job cuts of 10% were needed.

Total headcount will increase, but salaried should be fairly flat

In many areas. But "hourly headcount will increase", he said.

Tesla's shares sank 9.2% on Friday on the news.

According to a Tesla US regulatory filing, the company and its subsidiaries had almost 100,000 employees at the end of 2021.

Ahead of his emails on staff levels, Musk on Wednesday in an email to Tesla employees issued an ultimatum to return to the office for a minimum of 40 hours a week. Failure to do so would be taken as a resignation, he wrote.

Musk on Thursday said Tesla's AI day had been pushed to September 30, and said a prototype of Optimus, a humanoid robot that is a company priority, could be ready by then, which could be launched next year.

Mercedes to recall 1 m cars on fear of faulty brakes: Report

SHYIN CHEN June 5

MERCEDES-BENZ GROUP will recall almost a million vehicles worldwide because of a potentially serious problem with the braking system, AFP reported, citing the German federal transport authority.

The regulator, known as KBA, said in a statement June 1 that the affected cars were built between 2004 and 2015 and include the ML and GL-Class luxury minivans, according to AFP.

Mercedes confirmed the recall in a statement to AFP, saying a "particularly strong or hard" braking maneuver could cause mechanical damage to the vehicle's brake booster, "in rare cases" of very severe corrosion.

More than 993,000 vehicles were being recalled worldwide, of which 70,000 were in Germany, AFP reported.
