Private schools were also asked to undertake the verification process at their level.

However, police complaints were not filed as these applicants withdrew the admissions on their own or got them converted into regular seats, facing pressure of legal action.

Every year since 2012-13, when the state government implemented the RTE Act, the admission process has been mired piemented the Rr. Act, the ad-mission process has been mired in controversies. So far, nearly 3,10 lakh admissions have been allotted to RTE applicants. However, applicants are complaining that the govern-ment's recent move has put forth an additional financial burden. "For getting the rent agreement registered, it costs somewhere between Rs 4,000 and Rs 5,000. If one can spend this much amount on getting it registered, then why would they apply under this scheme? This is an unnecessary cost burden on parents who can hardly afford it," said Fajil Saiyyed from Vatva, an RTE applicant.

Private schools, too, are challenging this move. "The government, instead of acknowledging the fact that they do not have tools to verify the income of applicants, is putting all these checks and measures," said Choksi.

Bhupendrasinh Chudasama on Monday, seeking an extension in the deadline amid incessant rain and the Covid-19 situation leading to difficulty in procuring documents.

The admission process has already been delayed as half of the academic session in most private schools is over. It was started on August 19 this year and only a 10-day window is given to the applicants to file with documents.

Joshi stated that nearly one lakh applications were received till Monday.
