Solix Expands Senior Leadership Team to Accelerate Cloud Growth

Solix appoints Jim Lee as Vice President of Data Services

September 13, 2019 — Santa Clara, Calif. — Solix Technologies, Inc. (www.solix.com), a leading big data application provider for empowering data-driven enterprises, today announced the appointment of Jim Lee, Vice President of Data Services.

Mr. Lee is a veteran technology executive with over 30 years of experience across business, strategy, product management, product marketing, software development and consulting. Prior to Solix, Mr. Lee was SVP of Product Line Management at Systech where he transformed the market leading serialization product into an integrated platform for brand protection, and VP, Product Line Management at IBM—joining IBM via acquisition of Princeton Softech. He holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in Computer Applications and Information Systems and a Bachelor of Science Degree in Accounting from New York University, College of Business and Public Administrations.

“During the course of my career, data management has evolved significantly—and I believe Solix is a pioneer in driving transformation of big data and data analysis for the next era, empowered by the cloud,” said Jim Lee, Vice President of Data Services at Solix Technologies, Inc. “I look forward to taking a vital role in overseeing many of Solix’s cloud-first initiatives, and continuing to provide best in class data management services to its customers.”

Solix continues to expand with substantial investments in research and development of products such as SOLIXCloud Enterprise Archiving, the world’s first archiving as-a-service solution featuring an Information Lifecycle Management (ILM) framework to archive enterprise data to the cloud, built on Microsoft Azure. Additionally, the Solix Common Data Platform (CDP), and Solix Enterprise Data Lake provide unified big data management and ILM capabilities, respectively, to help organizations across verticals reduce infrastructure costs, improve application performance, and meet compliance objectives.

“Jim is a pioneer in data management and enterprise archiving—he helped create the database archiving market that we see today,” said John Ottman, Executive Chairman of Solix Technologies, Inc. “We look forward to bringing his expertise to the team and continuing growth of our cloud-first products.”
