Commenting on the launch of 5000th Vakrangee WLA, Mr. Dinesh Nandwana, MD & Group CEO said, "This is a big milestone towards our vision to make Financial Inclusion a big success across the nation. I would take this opportunity to thank our regulators Reserve Bank of India, NPCI Network and our Vendor and Service Partners who all have played a key role in the helping us to achieve this milestone. Without their support this would have not been possible. We believe that these NextGen outlets will enable every Indian to seamlessly benefit from financial inclusion, social inclusion, digital India, skill development, employment, government programmes and a wider access to basic goods and services.

National Payment Corporation of India (NPCI) has been our support system for various services such as Banking through AePS, Bill payments through BBPS and ATMs for usage of RuPay cards. We believe our vast network of Vakrangee kendras would financially empower a larger section of society which till now had been excluded from mainstream activities such as banking, insurance and ATM. All Jan dhan accounts have been provided with a RuPay card and these citizens would be able to use our outlets for various services.”

Ms Praveena Rai, Chief Operating Officer, NPCI said, “We wish Vakrangee success on the launch of 5000th WLA. NPCI along with the ecosystem partners have been constantly working towards financial inclusivity and revolutionizing the payments ecosystem. The past few years for NPCI has been marked with milestones in creating an evolved robust network of payment solutions, supported by encouraging government policies. We at NPCI are glad to witness that our innovative offerings have accelerated the growth of the digital landscape.”
