Lean patch for retail in Q2: Demand woes loom large

Easing raw material prices may relieve gross margin pressure

SHARLEEN D'SOUZA
Mumbai, 16 October

Retail companies are expected to experience muted topline growth in the July-September quarter, as demand continued to remain soft during the period. Additionally, the delay in the festival season this year compared to the previous year has shifted demand into the third quarter.

"The moderation in raw material pricing should alleviate pressure on gross margins. However, decreased same-store sales growth could negatively impact store productivity and lead to operating deleverage," said Motilal Oswal in its preview report on the sector.

Nevertheless, jewellery and watchmaker Titan Company is expected to buck the trend, thanks to robust sales growth driven by studded activations, according to brokerage reports.

It also said that the overall revenue growth of 18.8 per cent for second quarter (Q2) of 2023-24 (FY24) is anticipated to be primarily driven by store additions, as same-store sales have remained negative due to weaker demand and a higher base.

"Despite Adhik Maas (deemed inauspicious by Hindus) in Q2, we expect Titan Company to report robust sales growth of 18 per cent (excluding bullion), on the back of studded promotions in the quarter. This will also be supported by rapid store additions, leading to continued new buyer growth," IIFL Securities said in its preview report on the retail sector.

In the apparel sector, low wedding dates, combined with persistent weak consumption patterns that were observed in the April-June quarter, will play spoilsport for companies.

"Trent continues to be an outlier; we expect 44 per cent sales growth, driven primarily by store additions in Zudio. We forecast aggregate revenue growth of 13.4 per cent (5 per cent excluding Trent)," stated the domestic brokerage firm in its report. Motilal Oswal also expects the slowdown to persist in both premium and value fashion categories. Shoppers Stop and V-Mart have indicated a single-digit decline in same-store sales.

Nirmal Bang also mentioned in its report that the September quarter is seasonally the weakest quarter for the industry, and this year the weakness is amplified due to festivals being pushed into the October-December quarter.

"Bata and V-Mart — the two retail companies under coverage — will show moderate growth and likely not achieve the volumes attained in Q2 of 2019-20, especially V-Mart," the brokerage noted.

It also added, "The pre-announced revenue growth (year-on-year) for V-Mart in Q2FY24 — which was 3 per cent below our expectation — was driven by retail area expansion while like-to-like sales were down in mid-single digits."

Motilal Oswal expects Aditya Birla Fashion and Retail to see moderate revenue growth of 7 per cent compared to last year, as revenue growth for Pantaloons and Madura is expected to remain weak due to demand pressures.

IIFL Securities expects Vedant Fashions (Manyavar) to report the weakest performance in the coverage, with a sales decline of 9 per cent during the quarter.

Don't prioritise near-term goals over retirement savings

Too many loans can diminish savings' ability; spending lavishly on offsprings' weddings can also hurt

BINDISHA SARANG

While the majority of Indians are financially ill-prepared for retirement, many don't even realise the seriousness of the issue. Only 20 per cent of respondents in a recent survey by HDFC Pension, which covered 1,801 participants, felt that serious retirement planning should begin before 30. On average, those surveyed also felt that a retirement corpus of ₹1.3 crore (less than 10 times their current annual household income in many cases) would suffice.

Current needs often act as barriers to retirement planning. Says Jinal Mehta, certified financial planner, Beyond Learning Finance: "A major part of most people's income goes towards paying off loans taken to purchase cars or homes, leaving them with less savings for retirement. Many also withdraw money from their Employees' Provident Fund (EPF) account."

What's your R-number?

Most people do not have a fix on how large a corpus they will require to live comfortably post-retirement. Says Jay Thacker, member, the Association of Registered Investment Advisors (ARIA): "Individuals, especially those with several decades until retirement, should aim to save an amount equivalent to 30 times their annual income."

For example, if your monthly expense is ₹1 lakh (which amounts to ₹12 lakh annually), then you would need ₹3.6 crore to retire comfortably.

The assumption that expenses decrease with age is flawed. Says Adhil Shetty, chief executive officer, BankBazaar: "Most people visualise a ramp down in lifestyle and consumption needs post-retirement and consequently project lower real cash flow needs."

20s: Benefit from early start

Define your retirement goal and estimate how much you need to save to achieve it. "The earlier you start saving, the more time your money has to grow. Even if you can only save a small amount each month, it will add up over time as the power of compounding works in your favour," says Col Sanjeev Govila (retired), chief executive officer, Hum Fauji Initiatives, a financial planning firm.

With a long investment horizon, people in their 20s can allocate more to riskier assets, such as equity mutual funds and stocks. Says Govila: "Use tax-advantaged retirement savings plans, such as the EPF and the National Pension System (NPS)."

Buy health insurance to protect yourself against unexpected medical expenses that could deplete your retirement savings. Also establish an emergency fund.

30s and 40s: Save steadily

Set a clear goal, with professional assistance if required. Aim for a corpus that will allow you to maintain your current lifestyle. Says Thacker: "Gradually increase your investments to 20-25 per cent of your income. After considering your risk appetite, diversify across assets like equities, equity mutual funds, gold, Infrastructure Investment Trusts (Invits), and Real Estate Investments Fund (REITs)."

Continue contributions to NPS, and maximise your contributions to EPF and Voluntary Provident Fund (VPF). Implement strategies for repaying debt at the earliest.

Says Shetty: "In the 30s and the 40s, individuals achieve a certain level of stability in both personal and professional life." They must save steadily for retirement from this stage.

50s: Play catch-up

If you have fallen behind on your retirement goal, this is the decade when you must catch up. Says Govila: "Get a clear estimate of your retirement

RETIRES' PORTFOLIO & 100-MINUS AGE RULE

- Don't have more than 100 minus your age in stocks when retired
- Investors aged 60 should have 40% of their portfolio in equities and 60% in debt instruments
- Someone who has substantial assets and can live off interest and dividend income can use this rule as a starting point
- Some investors whose portfolios are smaller may require a higher allocation to equities; they should go for it only if their risk appetite permits
- With the passage of time, your retirement portfolio should tilt more towards debt and turn less risky corpus requirement and make adjustments to the amount you save if necessary." He suggests exploring pension plans, which offer annuities—the only instrument that can provide a guaranteed income stream for life.

Consider downsizing your home and other assets to boost retirement savings. Says Mehta: "The 50s are a critical period for retirement savings. However, those still contributing to their children's finances, or taking care of elderly parents, may find it challenging to ramp up savings." Couples in this age bracket must avoid going overboard on children's marriage.

Those who have fallen behind on their retirement target should consider extending their working lives by a few years. Says Thacker: "Allocate approximately 30 per cent of your income to retirement savings and prioritise debt repayment."

Seek professional advice. Top up your EPF contribution, renew PPF, and explore options like largecap and hybrid mutual funds.

As you approach retirement, shift the bulk of your corpus towards fixed income.
