Ram temple in Ayodhya to be ready by Jan 1 next year: Shah

Priyanka Deb Barman and Smriti Kak Ramachandran

AGARTALA/NEW DELHI: Union home minister Amit Shah announced in Tripura on Thursday that the Ram Temple at Ayodhya will be ready by January 1, 2024, the first time a specific date is being assigned to the event.

The trust in charge of building the temple had previously indicated the temple would be ready by January 2024 but did not mention a date. "Should the Ram Temple in Ayodhya be constructed or not? After Babur razed it and since we got independence, Congress was responsible for keeping the matter pending in courts. But when Narendra Modi came to power and the Supreme Court gave its ruling, he announced construction of the temple," Shah said at a public meeting at Sabrom in Agartala.

"In 2019, Rahul Gandhi used to taunt us as say that while we keep promising construction of the Ram Temple we never give a fixed date. I would like to tell him and everyone else that the Ram Temple at Ayodhya will be ready on January 1, 2024," he added. The Supreme Court, in a landmark decision, paved the way for the construction of the temple with an order that put an end to a decades-long movement.

Shah added that, within a year or two, the Tripurasundari temple in Tripura would also be built. The northeastern state goes to the polls this year, and the Union home minister was on a day-long tour to flag off two rath yatras of the state's ruling BJP and address two public meetings.

Shah appealed to the people to keep their faith on the development model of PM Modi in the upcoming assembly polls. "Whatever development you have seen since 2018 under the reign of Biplob Kumar Deb and Manik Saha is just left," said Shah. The entire movie is still left, "said Shah.

Reacting to Shah's statements, Tripura Pradesh Congress president Binay Singh said, "The BJP is engaging in politics by depriving people of basic necessities, like food, employment. We condemn this kind of politics."

Amit Shah

"vinash" (destruction), "vivaad" (quarrels), "kushashan" (bad governance) and "duvidha" (confusion) seen during the rule of the previous Left Front government in the state.

"There used to be infiltration, terrorism, corruption, trafficking, crimes against indigenous in Tripura. But we have brought development in the state," said Shah.

"The BJP central leadership has set its sights on not just retaining power but also maintaining its massive mandate from 2018, and is, therefore, deploying senior leaders to underscore how the BJP's rule has been vastly different from that of the Communist Party of India-Marxist (CPM) in terms of development, said a senior party functionary aware of the details.

In 2018, the party stormed to power in the Left bastion, winning 36 of the 60 seats in the assembly and reducing the CPM to 16. "The contest in Tripura is a battle of the ideologies. In 2018, the BJP came to power exposing the deficiencies of the Left government that had been in power for three decades. In 2023, the party will form government based on the delivery of promises," said a functionary, requesting anonymity.

In Dharmagarh, Shah also spoke of the agreement the government has reached with the banned group National Liberation Front of Tripura (NLFT) to end insurgency in the state. He slammed the Opposition CP(M) and Congress, saying that they had not done enough for the state's development.

"The eight-day-long rath yatra will conclude on January 12 at Agartala where BJP national president JP Nadha is scheduled to address a gathering. The yatra will cover nearly 1,000 km, across almost all constituencies. Besides the yatra, the BJP plans to hold over 100 meetings and 50 roadshows to highlight the government's performance.

The BJP's campaign is expected to pivot on the theme of development, but the reduction in insurgency will be prominent in its list of achievements. "The reduction in corruption and insurgent activities has changed the quality of life in Tripura," said the functionary quoted above.

In recent weeks, dissension within the party saw several leaders and elected representatives quit and joined the Tripura Indigenous People's Regional Alliance (Tripura) Motha headed by former Congress leader Pradyot Bikram Manikya Debbarma. The BJP also hopes the appointment of Manik Saha as chief minister in 2022 will help buck anti-incumbency and override issues of administrative lapses that made news during his predecessor Biplob Deb's tenure.

"There were issues between Biplob Deb and some senior leaders but these have now been resolved. There is a cohesive unit with both the CM and the ex-PM ready for the electoral battle," the functionary cited above said.

Tripura Motha's call for a separate party had found some resonance among indigenous people and forced the BJP to increase its outreach to tribal communities. The party had performed well (winning 18 of the 28 seats) in the Tripura Tribal Areas Autonomous District Council elections in April 2021.

Foreign varsities setting up campuses a win-win'

M JAGADESH KUMAR | UGC CHIEF

NEW DELHI: Foreign universities setting up campuses in India will be a win-win situation as it will provide Indian students an opportunity to access international education in their homeland, and boost arrival of foreign students to India, University Grants Commission (UGC) chairperson M Jagadeesh Kumar said in an interview to Fareeha Iftikhar. Edited excerpts:

M Jagadeesh Kumar

What is the significance of these regulations and how will they help the country in establishing itself as a global education hub?

The commission has framed the regulations in line with the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 that envisioned facilitating operations of top universities of the world in India. Since Foreign Higher Educational Institutions (FHEIs) can admit both Indian and international students, it will be a win-win situation for the country. It will not only help in providing greater opportunities to Indian students, but also attract international students to the country.

What type of foreign universities are expected to set up their campuses in India?

Universities that can offer popular programmes such as financial management, fintech, digital marketing, and business analytics, besides science and engineering are expected to set up their campuses here. A few European universities are in touch with UGC. We are writing to the ambassadors of about 55 countries where some of the top universities are located to seek their feedback on the draft regulations.

Why has UGC decided to give autonomy to these FHEIs in terms of fixing admission criteria, fees, and faculty recruitment?

Since the FHEI gives the degree, it makes sense to use the same admission criteria for their campuses in India. The regulation says that the FHEI shall ensure that the qualifications of the faculty appointed shall be at par with the main campus of the country of origin. Since the FHEI, from their resources, pays faculty salaries, they would also be those faculty members from across the world. As far as the tuition fees are concerned, the regulation says that "the fee structure should be transparent and reasonable". If any FHEI charges exorbitantly, the students will look for other institutions. Ultimately, the quality of education they offer and the affordability will decide where students will set up their campuses. This, therefore, will act as a self-regulation on tuition fees.

How will UGC ensure that these universities don't offer any programme that jeopardises the national interest of India, as mentioned in regulations?

The FHEIs must submit an annual report to the commission, giving details of the programmes offered. These details will also be available on their websites. Therefore, identifying a violation of regulatory norms should not be a problem. In case of any adverse finding, misappropriation, or suppression of facts, UGC holds the authority to impose a penalty and suspend/withdraw its approval.

Will these universities follow the existing reservation norms of India?

The admission procedure of these universities in India will be the same as they follow in their parent campuses. However, to take care of the interest of needy students, just as is done in top international universities, the regulation specifies that based on an evaluation process, full or partial need-based scholarships may be provided through endowment funds, alumni donations and tuition revenues.

Is UGC expected to benefit monetarily from FHEIs?

Other than the application processing fee and a nominal annual fee, UGC won't charge anything from FHEIs.

India, France discuss defence and security cooperation

NEW DELHI: National Security Adviser Ajit Doval and his French counterpart Emmanuel Bonne on Thursday held wide-ranging discussions on defence and security cooperation, with the talks also preparing the grounds for a visit to India by French President Emmanuel Macron.

During the talks, India and France reiterated their commitment to take forward their strategic partnership to "ensure peace, stability and security in the Indo-Pacific region based on common beliefs in rules-based international order and strategic autonomy", the external affairs ministry said in a statement.

NSA Ajit Doval with Emmanuel Bonne in New Delhi.

Besides participating in the 36th session of the India-French Strategic Dialogue with Doval, Bonne met Prime Minister Narendra Modi, external affairs minister S Jaishankar and G20 Sherpa Amitabh Kant. In addition to being the diplomatic advisor to the French president, Bonne is France's G7-G20 sherpa. People familiar with the matter said the talks also paved the way for a visit by Macron, who is expected to travel to India sometime in the first quarter. The French side proposed a visit in March but the final dates are yet to be locked down, the people said. March is set to be a busy month in the diplomatic calendar, with other high-profile visits and an expected meeting of G20 foreign ministers.

External affairs ministry spokesperson Arindam Bagchi said Doval and Bonne held discussions on a range of issues, including the current global security situation in the context of Ukraine conflict, regional security in the context of Afghanistan, counter-terrorism, cyber-security and defence cooperation in the Indo-Pacific.

The two sides discussed "expanding the scope of defence cooperation to include co-development of futuristic technologies in line with India's priorities of Make in India and Atmanirbhar Bharat", the ministry's statement said.

80-member contingent flagged off for National Youth Festival

Artists representing UT serve as J&K's ambassadors: Sarmad Hafeez

Jammu, Jan 05: "The youth artists drawn from different areas of the Union Territory representing various districts serve as the ambassadors of Jammu & Kashmir at the national scene. The young artists are the messengers of peace, harmony and prosperity," said Sarmad Hafeez, Secretary to Government Department of Youth Services and Sports while flagging off an 80-member contingent to represent the UT in the prestigious National Youth Festival (NYF), being held at Hugi in Karnataka from January 12 to 16.

Services and Sports Officers (DYSSOs).

While lavishing praise on the organisers for organising a 5-day-long programme in a most befitting manner, Sarmad said that the Youth Festivals serve as a launch pad to inculcate spirit and build camaraderie, friendship, brotherhood and togetherness among the participants.

He said that the government was committed to promoting youth activities and sports in the Union Territory.

Director Youth Services and Sports, Subash Chander Chibber presented a welcome address and extended thanks to the chief guest for gracing the occasion despite his busy schedule.

Earlier, young and experienced artists drawn from various districts of twin divisions exhibited the cultural diversity of the Union Territory of Jammu and Kashmir and also portrayed a picture of unity in diversity through their performances.

In multiple cultural events, the artists hailing from different districts of J&K exhibited the cultural diversity of the UT disseminating the message of the culture of their respective areas. The programme is being carried out under the aegis of the Department of Youth Services and Sports J&K.

The event is being adjudicated by a panel of experts comprising Bishan Das, former Cultural Officer, Academy of Art, Culture and Languages; Anu Kotwal, Folk Singer and Ravi Sharma, Choreographer. The National Youth Festival in India is celebrated every year to commemorate the birth anniversary of Swami Vivekananda from January 12 to 16 with the aim to promote the concept of National Integration, the spirit of communal harmony and brotherhood among the youth. The youth from different states of India showcase their cultural prowess on a common platform.

A total of 524 youth artists drawn from various districts of the Union Territory took part in the Inter-District Festival, out of which an 80-member contingent has been selected for NYF including officials.

The selected teams for competitive events include folk songs of the artists from Bandipora district, a folk dance from Dodra and Srinagar districts, while in non-competitive events, there is one act play from Budgam district and Bharatnatyam and Elocation from Dodra and Kishtwar districts respectively.

Holistic dev in J&K only through diversification of agriculture: VC SKUAST-J

Jammu, Jan 05: Vice-Chancellor, SKUAST-Jammu Prof. J.P. Sharma on Thursday said that the holistic development in Jammu & Kashmir can be brought only through diversification of agriculture as the per cent of land holding in the Union Territory is less than the national average.

the mantra of the IPR regime so as to ultimately bring farmers away from subsistence farming with the transfer of IPR-enabled technologies through various commercial, cooperative and public routes. He gave the example of the GI tag given to Kashmiri saffron (A prized GI commodity of Kashmir) with the proof of origin and its uniqueness. He discussed other GI products viz., Kashmiri Pashmina, Sozni Art, Kani Shawl, walnut wood products, etc. He highlighted the future Green Revolution of the state with the aim to make J&K a bio-economic state with the national vision of Atam Nirbhar Bharat, saying a strong resilient approach is required for inclusive growth of India to join the league of developed countries. He also emphasized on the five pillars of self-reliant India-Economy, namely Infrastructure, System, Demand and Innovation as a strategy for Atam Nirbhar Abhiyan.

Speaking as a chief guest at a two-day workshop on Geographical Indications which concluded here at SKUAST-Jammu, Prof. J.P. Sharma called for the promotion of local products of J&K like Kala Zeera, Rajmah, honey, mushroom and saffron. Vice-Chancellor, SKUAST-Kashmir Prof. N.A. Ganai and GI expert Padamshree Dr. Rajnikant were the guests of honor on the occasion.

VCSKUAST-Jammu emphasized on the preparation of a comprehensive list of potential GI products of the North-Western Himalayan region. He discussed the launch of a sensitization program for farmers through KVKs and for students through NAHEP on registration of GIs. He also urged for sharing the concept of GIs in Farmer's Producers Organizations.

Padamshree Dr. Rajnikant said that GI is the legal logo guarantee and is the golden standard of India by its countries such as handloom, handicrafts, spices, millets, etc. He appreciated different types of Dogra cuisine and stressed upon its conservation and dissemination. He urged for the preservation of ethnic community products. He explained the complete process of registration of GIs and answered the queries of the participants.

The second day of the workshop begins with the technical session third being chaired by Prof. J.P. Sharma and co-chaired by Dr. Lakshmi Kant Director, ICAR-VPKAS, Almora, Uttarakhand. During the session, Vice-Chancellor, SKUAST-Jammu presented a presentation on the topic 'IPRs in Agriculture - Way to prosperity'. He said that the different stakeholders must recognize and realize the mantra of the IPR regime so as to ultimately bring farmers away from subsistence farming with the transfer of IPR-enabled technologies through various commercial, cooperative and public routes. He gave the example of the GI tag given to Kashmiri saffron (A prized GI commodity of Kashmir) with the proof of origin and its uniqueness. He discussed other GI products viz., Kashmiri Pashmina, Sozni Art, Kani Shawl, walnut wood products, etc. He highlighted the future Green Revolution of the state with the aim to make J&K a bio-economic state with the national vision of Atam Nirbhar Bharat, saying a strong resilient approach is required for inclusive growth of India to join the league of developed countries. He also emphasized on the five pillars of self-reliant India-Economy, namely Infrastructure, System, Demand and Innovation as a strategy for Atam Nirbhar Abhiyan.

Dr. Sudershan Kumar, Former DG, DRDO spoke on the topic 'Role of technology for sustainability and development of North Western Himalayas'. He highlighted the richness of the Northern Western Himalayas in terms of the Flora and Fauna of the region and its importance for GI tagging. He emphasized how DIHAR's (DRDO Lab) technologies have changed the socio-economic condition of villages of Ladakh by providing low-cost sustainable technologies viz., Trench Greenhouse, Double Walled Polyhch Green House and Fibre Reinforced Green House. Further, he said that designing and developing such Green Houses has resulted in round-the-year vegetable cultivation.

Dr. Mahesh Gupta, Principal Scientist, CSIR IIBT delivered presentation on 'GI and IPR vision of CSIR - IIBT Technologies'. He highlighted various patents and GI tags granted to Himachal Pradesh and the contribution of CSIR, and IIBT for the same. He gave examples of the revival of Himachali Dham and Kangra tea. He further discussed how tea catechins can be used as nutraceuticals and this technology has been transferred to industries. He further said that CSIR-IIBT is working towards reducing post-harvest losses in fruits and vegetables using CRISPY fruits and vegetables.

During the workshop, an MoU was also signed between SKUAST-Jammu and ICAR Vivekananda Parvatiya Krishi Anusandhan Sansthan, Almora, Uttarakhand to promote ICAR-VPKAS's varieties in J&K.

Earlier, Dr. R.K. Salgotra, Director, Institute of Bio-Technology and organizing secretary of the workshop gave a welcome address. Choudhury Mohammad Iqbal, Director Agriculture Kashmir and K.H. Sharma, Director Agriculture Jammu also attended the workshop. Statutory officers, faculty members, participants and media persons were present during the inauguration function. A vote of thanks was presented by Dr. Manmohan Sharma while the proceedings were conducted by Dr. Sachin Gupta.
