'Nail-biting', scientist recalls Chandrayaan-1 launch moment

Bengaluru, Sept 5 (PTI):

As ISRO waits with bated breath for the soft-landing of Chandrayaan-2's 'Vikram' module on the Moon in the dark hours of Saturday, a top space scientist recalled his 'nail-biting moment' experience during the launch of India's first lunar mission more than a decade ago.

On the day of the Chandrayaan-1's launch in 2008, the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) faced a 'very tough situation' as it had a very short launch window and the weather was 'very, very bad', M. Annadurai, the Project Director of the successful mission, said.

'We were running against time, that was the last date to take off, we had some technical issues to set right and weather was very, very bad at Sriharikota spaceport. Everybody was anxious, luckily for half an hour, weather cleared but after that there were thunder-storms; launch time was a real nail-biting moment,' Annadurai, also the Programme Director of 'Mangalyaan', the Mars Orbiter Mission, launched in 2013, told PTI today.

Now Chairman of the National Design and Research Forum, he termed the present Chandrayaan-2 mission, which seeks to make soft-landing of Vikram on the unexplored Lunar south pole, as another milestone in India's space journey. '...whatever we started is getting carried forward, another milestone for Indian space journey, we are not falling behind, we are taking lead and going ahead in the international arena. That way, it's a satisfying moment,' Annadurai said.

He said missions such as Chandrayaan-1, Chandrayaan-2 and Mangalyaan were also aimed at enthusing the young generation to pursue basic science and further develop Indian aerospace industry.

The success of such missions enhanced India's reputation in managing them and makes its case in any future collaborative planetary ventures much better in the international arena, the scientist added.

Chandrayaan-1 scripted history by making more than 3,400 orbits around the Moon and was operational for 312 days till 29 August, 2009.

Explained: Why gold rate is going high

◆ Experts attribute global, Indian economic meltdown

| BHAVANI PRABHAKAR |

Chennai, Sept 5:

In the last three months, the price of gold has grown multifold. While the rate of one sovereign standard gold stood at Rs 26,752 in the end of July, today it is Rs 30,024.

Experts opine that it is due to the economic meltdown witnessed in India and across the global markets.

'The slump in economic condition is major contributing factor that has led to such a glaring situation. In India, there is depression in share market, real estate and the tax is also hiked,' Madras Jewels and Diamond Merchants' Association general secretary, S Shanthakumar tells News Today.

'The unemployment rate has increased in India and since the other fields are not performing well, major investors have directed their interest towards gold due to which the price is growing with every

RICHIE RICH

Experts unanimously state that this is the right time to invest in gold and not in share market passing day,' Shanthakumar adds.

Topping the bag of reasons is the depreciation of currency value across the world, according to the experts.

Shanthakumar states that the advent of online trade is also one of the reasons. 'The situation is extremely dynamic as the changes occur in split seconds. Whereas, in the past, the rate grew by a rupee or two,' he concurs.

Sharing similar thoughts, Kamesh Balaji S of Classic Diamonds in the city, cites the trade war between the US and China. 'The gold and silver price is expected to grow at least for the next few days and the values in share market would go deep down in about eight months,' he says.

It has hit the middle class and underprivileged communities in Chennai as the price has crossed Rs 30,000. 'All the major jewellers are witnessing loss,' Kamesh says.

'The capital price has gone beyond the roof and we would have to invest 20 per cent more than required to purchase fresh gold stock,' Shanthakumar says.

Asked about stability in price, he says, 'The correction would occur when the other sectors are strengthened which would gradually pull the investors. Another possibility is the change in economic structure in India. In the global scenario, if any country decides to sell the precious metal asset in a bid to stabilise the economy, the gold prices may come down.'

doing the rounds here after videos showing him in western dress went viral,' they state.

After completing his UK visit, EPS is currently in the United States. There, he received the support of higher officials of Caterpillar and Ford Motors, who have already invested in the State, and Tamilnadu was showcased as a preferred destination for investments in the sectors of Fintech, Aerospace and Electric Vehicles manufacturing.

As a result, more than 16 firms in the US have committed investments to the tune of over Rs 2,700 crore in Tamilnadu and another firm has signed an agreement for an in-principle investment of Rs 50,000 crore to set up a plant.

The Chief Minister held direct talks with representatives of various companies to promote investments in the State, and highlighted the infrastructure facilities being provided for smooth running of the business in Tamilnadu.

'Palaniswami has come a long way since he became the CM in 2017. He has emerged a confident leader who is capable of running the State and the party with ease. His foreign trip proves this well,' says S Ravi, a professor and a political observer.

Tamilnadu Advanced Technical Training Institute (TATTI), in collaboration with Annai Theresa College of Arts and Science, conducted value-added courses for 400 students in Chennai recently. The students received the certificates in the presence of former MLA Tamil Mani, college principal Kamalkannan and TATTI COO Joshua Gerard.

SC allows Mehbooba Mufti's daughter to meet her

◆ Former CM is under detention in Kashmir

New Delhi, Sept 5 (PTI):

The Supreme Court today allowed former Jammu and Kashmir Chief Minister Mehbooba Mufti's daughter to meet her in Kashmir, where she is under detention following the revocation of the State's special status a month ago.

A bench headed by Chief Justice Ranjan Gogoi allowed the PDP chief's daughter Iltija to meet her after she submitted in court that she has no problem in going to their Srinagar home but has not been able to move freely in the city.

The bench, also comprising Justices

SA Bobde and SA Nazeer, noted that there was no problem in authorities permitting Iltija to travel from Chennai, where she is presently staying, to Srinagar to meet her mother.

As far as moving around in other parts of Srinagar goes, Iltija can do so subject to the permission from district authorities, the bench said in its order.

It also allowed Iltija's plea to meet her mother in private. In her petition, Iltija said she is concerned about her mother's health as she has not met her for a month.

While advocate Nithya Ramakrishnan was making a submission that the petition was filed on behalf of Iltija seeking access to her mother as she has not met her for long time, Attorney General K.K. Venugopal and Solicitor General Tushar Mehta said Mehbooba's mother Gulshan Ara and sister Rubaiyya Sayeed visited her on 29 August. They met her again later with the permission of the district magistrate, the law officers said.

'Govt to provide all possible support to crisis-hit auto industry'

New Delhi, Sept 5 (PTI):

Union Minister Nitin Gadkari today assured the crisis-hit automobile industry of all possible support from the government, including taking up the demand of GST reduction with Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman.

Reiterating that the government would help the industry, the road transport and highways minister also said his ministry would give out 68 road projects worth up to Rs 5 lakh crore in the next three months to help generate demand for commercial vehicles.

With the impending price increase of vehicles and the upcoming of BS VI norms deadline, 'it is your (industry's) demand that there should be reduction in tax of petrol and diesel vehicles. Your suggestions are good. I will take your message to the Finance Minister,' Gadkari said at annual SIAM convention here. Even if it (GST) is reduced for some time, it will help, he added.

'I will follow it up with the finance minister. The sector needs help right now to increase vehicle sales,' Gadkari said.

The Minister said, like the way GST on electric vehicles has been reduced to 5 per cent from 12 per cent, he would propose to the Finance Ministry to extend the same benefit to hybrids vehicles.

'We have reduced GST in electric vehicles. Now I am trying that GST on hybrid vehicles is also reduced. I am following up regarding this with the Finance Minister,' Gadkari said.

Gadkari, who had in 2017 stated the auto industry would be 'bulldozed' if they didn't push for electric vehicles, also struck a reconciliatory note saying that the government has no intention to ban petrol and diesel vehicles.
