Mental health awareness initiative Art After Dark 6.0 held in Guwahati

GUWAHATI, AUG 16: Storyweavers organised the sixth edition of Art After Dark on August 14, 2022 at NETHING in Guwahati to raise mental health awareness and instill empathy in young and adults alike. The event was supported by Dream House Music & Film Academy, one of the top film and television institutes in North East India. Storyweavers, a Mumbai-based advertising and branding agency, in their mental health awareness programme covered a diverse range of cultural events from music, theatre, visual art, and poetry. It aims to provide a non-judgemental platform wherein one can share their thoughts through different mediums of expressions and explore how arts and cultural engagement can help prevent mental ill health, support recovery, and address stigmas. The sixth edition kicked off with a performance by the students of House Music Academy, poetry and music recitals by several talented individuals, to name a few: Tinat Atifa Masood, Sagar Saurabh, Praball Deka, Raj Agnihotri, Daradi Patar, Bishwahan Shivam Bhattacharjee, Harsh Kumar Jha, Shivangi Ray Baruah, Anmol Chandak among others. Dr Sudipta Dipak, Senior Resident, Anatomy, NEIGRIHMS, Shillong, stressed on the importance of mental health. In his address, he said, "Mental health stigmas can often come from either a place of fear or a lack of understanding. Unfortunately, this combination can foster a negative view of individuals who are dealing with mental health issues. An increasing awareness of mental health helps society work toward eliminating its stigmas. For instance, developing a greater understanding of mental illness can allow people to recognize those in their lives who may be dealing with anxiety, depression, or other conditions that affect their mental well-being. This could even include a self-realisation of their own mental health conditions." "Storyweavers is doing a wonderful job by organising mental health awareness programmes in a very innovative way wherein they blend art with medical support for greater impact. Anyone who feels overwhelmed or pressured by the hectic world we live in should try art therapy. Art therapy improves the mental health of people who are dealing with addictions," he added.
