PM asks people to share inputs for his I-Day speech

NEW DELHI: PM Modi on Friday urged citizens to share their inputs for his Independence Day speech on August 15, saying their thoughts will reverberate from the ramparts of the Red Fort. In a tweet, he asked people to provide their inputs on MyGov, a citizen engagement platform. The portal noted that the prime minister in his Independence Day speech lays out the government's programmes and policies, and Modi over the last few years has directly invited ideas and suggestions from citizens.

Police suspect some gangs operating in the state to run this forged letter business recommending transfers in the state. Three incidents had come to fore earlier for him his longed letter trisiness recommending transfers in the state. Three incidents had come to fore earlier this year when calls were made to officials for transfers by people posting as officials on special duity (OSD) to ministers. It will also be invostigated as if the 30 people, for whom recommendations were made through letters, had sought transfers as per against the rule, said additional superintendent of police (ASP) crime branch Gopal Dhakad. The forgery was committed by unidentified miscreamts who had sent these recommendation letters to the Chief Minister's (CM) house. The forgery came to fore after the officials in the CM house detected some irregularities in the letters. As the format was not usual, the matter was brought into notice of CM House officials, and they in turn alerted the concerned politicians, Police have now booked unidentified miscreams under Sections 420, 476, 488 and 471 of the IPC. Dhakad said that it is likely these letters were printed at some closed location and the accused had accessed original letterheads and then got its duplicate copy printed. terheads and then got its duplicate copy printed. the petition, as it was not willing to entertain it. However, the top court clarified this will not come in the way of a genuinely aggrieved person, who moves court to quast an FIR. The bench queried the pertinener as to how could it ascertain the details of the cases cited by hin. It polinted out in exceptional cases, a pertitioner's parents can move the court if he or she is not around, but an FIR cannot be quashed at the behest of a third party. After a brief hearing in the matter, Yadav sought permission to withdraw his PIL, which was allowed by the court. ing to entertain it. However,
