Ola Electric targets IPO filing by October-end

OLA ELECTRIC PLANS to file regulatory papers for its up to $700 million IPO before the end of October as the e-scooter maker fast-tracks its listing move, three people with direct knowledge said.

Ola Electric and Kotak did not respond to a request for comment while the other three banks declined to comment. The sources did not wish to be identified as the communication is internal.

IPO-bound Indian companies typically do not instruct senior bankers and lawyers to not take leaves, they said.

Once the IPO papers are filed, they will be reviewed by India's markets regulator who can also send queries, indicating any possible listing is still some months away.

Ola Electric is targeting IPO roadshows for early January or February, said one of the sources. The company, India's market leader in e-scooters with a 30% share, was founded by Bhavish Aggarwal and has seen its popularity surge as the country promotes use of electric cars and scooters.

He has said his affordable e-scooters, which start retailing at $1,080, are for the masses, and in an interview this year said "Tesla is for the West, Ola is for the rest." Ola Electric, though, still makes losses. It recorded an operating loss of $136 million on revenue of $335 million in the fiscal year ending March 2023, Reuters has reported. —REUTERS

Infy, Nvidia collaborate on AI tech

THE TWO COMPANIES are also co-developing AI-powered solutions in areas like 5G, cybersecurity and energy transition. Nvidia CEO Jensen Huang said generative AI will drive the next wave of enterprise productivity gains. "The Nvidia AI enterprise ecosystem is ramping quickly to provide the platform for generative AI. Together, Nvidia and Infosys will create an expert workforce to help businesses use this platform to build custom applications and solutions," he said.

Infosys chairman and co-founder Nandan Nilekani said in a statement that the company is transforming into an AI-first company to better provide AI-based services. "Our clients are also looking at complex AI use cases that can drive significant business value across their entire value chain... Infosys Topaz offerings and solutions are complementary to Nvidia's core stack. By combining our strengths and training 50,000 of our workforce on Nvidia AI technology, we are creating end-to-end industry-leading AI solutions that will help enterprises on their journey to become AI-first," he added.

As reported earlier, with Reliance Jio, Nvidia will help with end-to-end AI supercomputer technologies including CPU, GPU, networking, and AI operating systems and frameworks for building the AI models, and Jio will manage and maintain the AI cloud infrastructure.

With Tata group, Nvidia will help build and process generative AI applications as well as upskill the 600,000-plus employees of TCS in AI; it will work with Tata Motors to deploy AI across design, styling, engineering, simulation testing and autonomous vehicle capabilities; and also help Tata Communications build AI infra.

42% joblessness among graduates under 25

IN FACT, EARNINGS were impacted severely and remained depressed for a prolonged period. Even two years after the 2020 lockdown, self-employment earnings were only 85% of what they were in the April-June 2019 quarter. The authors cautioned against emphasising merely the rising participation rates for women if they are due to falling household incomes which force women into self-employment. "What we would like to see is an increase in the participation rate alongside constant or increasing earnings in the subsistence sector," they wrote.

The report notes that since both self-employment and agriculture constitute fallback options for workers who have lost work and cannot afford to remain unemployed, the data can be interpreted to indicate a rise in distress. Taken together, the numbers paint a picture of an economy that was slowing down and was then hit by a massive shock, with the result that there was a distress-led participation of women in paid work as well as a reversal of structural change, the report said.

The report said gender-based earning disparities have declined. In 2004, salaried women workers earned 70% of what men earned. By 2017 the gap had reduced and women earned 76% of what men did.

Since then the gap has remained constant till 2021-22.

However, gender norms continue to remain. According to the report, as the husband's income rises, women are less likely to work. In urban areas, after the husband's income crosses ₹40,000 per month, the chance of the wife working increases again (ie there is a U-shaped relationship).

Fed keeps markets on edge

A REPORT BY DBS Research has projected a value of 83-85 for the Indian currency against the greenback depreciating from the range of 81-83 over the past year.

Benchmark bond yields fell to 7.175% from 7.19% on Monday with markets shrugging off the overnight rise in US treasury yields as they anticipate India's inclusion in the JP Morgan Emerging Market Bond Index. Although the government's borrowing programme is heavy with close to ₹35,000 crore of supply every week, the markets are hopeful of an inclusion in the index.

Despite elevated crude oil prices, a slowing economy in the near term and richly valued stocks, institutional and retail investors have been bullish on the Indian markets. Fund managers and strategists believe that while India may be expensive relative to peers, there is a large universe of companies growing their profits at a good pace.

In a recent interview to Bloomberg Television, Chris Wood, global head of equity strategy at Jefferies, said India remains his favourite market in Asia. Nilesh Shah, MD&CEO, Kotak AMC, believes there is momentum in the markets as earnings for the broad market are growing at about 1% a month and both the fundamentals and flows are strong. Shah, however, has cautioned there could be some correction with prices having run ahead of fundamentals. Andrew Holland, CEO, Aventus Capital Alternate Strategies, observed that not all pockets of the market are expensively valued and that there are some opportunities. Given that India is growing faster than most economies, investors believe the market will attract a disproportionate share of flows.

Siddhartha Khemka, head (retail research), Motilal Oswal Financial Services, pointed out the selling by foreign investors was a concern as was the elevated price of crude oil. We expect the market to remain cautious in the near term, while profit-booking in the broader market is likely to continue," he said.

Pankaj Pandey, head (retail research), ICICI Direct, the weakening currency was a concern. "Further, with many central banks due to meet in the coming days, there has been some impact on banking stocks, which is why both PSU and private names have declined," he said.

Women's quota Bill gets green signal from LS

HE SAID THE delimitation commission would be headed by a retired Supreme Court judge, a representative of the Election Commission and a member each from the political parties. The committee, he said, will take its decisions after visits to the constituencies to ensure the process is fair and transparent.

Hitting back at the Opposition which criticised the government for using the long-pending women's Bill as a political tool on the eve of elections, he said: "For our leader Prime Minister Narendra Modi and the party, the empowerment of women is a matter of principle, not a political weapon... Women's security, respect and equal participation have been the life force of the government since Prime Minister Modi took oath of office."

Without referring to Rahul Gandhi's remark that there are only three OBC Secretaries in the Government of India, Shah said, "Some people think secretaries run the country, I think the government does. This government run by the BJP has 85 OBC MPs which is 29% of the total number of party MPs. Of the party's 1318 legislators across India, 365, which constitutes 27%, are OBC MLAs. Around 40% of the BJP MLAs are OBCs... Congress never made an OBC as the Prime Minister, but the BJP has."

During the debate, ruling party speakers slammed the Opposition, saying their government in the past brought Bills without the intention to get it cleared and pushed them as "lip-lips or token" to "eyewash the voters."

The ruling party MPs also said that the provisions of the Constitution regarding census and delimitation had to be included in the Bill to follow the Constitution.

"The Prime Minister has repeatedly said 'yahi samay hai, sahi samay hai' (this is the time, this is the right time), and this Bill has been brought at the right time. What bothers the Opposition is that it is now brought by Prime Minister Modi and the BJP," Nishikant Dubey, who initiated the debate from the ruling party side, said.

Targeting the Congress which tried to bring the Bill during UPA rule, Dubey said it developed cold feet and had "excuses" like consensus and quota-within-quota.

Both Dubey and Union minister Smriti Irani took on the Opposition over the demand for immediate implementation of the Bill, saying the government was just following the Constitutional process.

Reading out provisions of the Constitution regarding census and delimitation to drive home the point that it was necessary to include these in the Bill, Irani asked: "Is it the wish of Opposition leaders that the Constitutional process is not followed? Should we not abide by the Constitution? Is that the position taken by the Opposition parties?"

As Opposition MPs raised questions on the census delay, Dubey cited the Covid pandemic and the lockdown that followed as the reasons. "How could we do the census during the pandemic?... Our home minister Amit Shah keeps saying that no steps would be taken by this government that is not in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution," he said.

Irani, who described the Bill as Goddess Laxmi taking a Constitutional form, said the BJP, right from its Jana Sangh days, stood for constitutionally-guaranteed reservation for women.

Taking on the Congress which maintained that the Bill was its agenda, Irani said: "Success has many fathers and failure has none. So when the Bill was introduced yesterday, some people started saying that it was their Bill... But I am glad that someone here has clarified that even the 73rd and the 75th Constitutional amendments (related to Panchayati Raj and Rent Tribunals), which were said to have been brought by a certain political family, were also by PV Narasimha Rao."
