Govt to display its share in PM Housing Scheme

Won't let Centre take the whole credit, says minister

> OUR STAFF REPORTER BHOPAL

The state government is gearing up to counter the attempt of the Central government to take credit of the Prime Minister Housing Scheme. The state government is going to get display its contribution on the houses built under the Scheme.

Minister for panchayat and rural development, Kamleshwar Patel said there is ratio of 60:40 as far as share of the Centre and the state under PM Housing Scheme is concerned.

He said that despite of the fact that the state government gives 40 per cent of the total cost of the house, the Central government takes full credit.

MGNREGS: CENTRE YET TO RELEASE 600 CR

The Centre has not yet released funds for payment of wages and material under MGNREGS for the past three months. As a consequence, the wages are not paid. According to Kamleshwar Patel, he has sought time from Union minister Narendra Singh Tomar to meet and speak on release of pending funds. Patel said he would also demand changes in the policy for Prime Minister Housing Scheme. He added that he would also discuss with Tomar on fund allotment for rural roads.

Patel said the new houses constructed under the scheme will display information about the money spent by the state government in their construction.

Patel said the Central government has been asked to define the role of public representatives in the allotment of houses under the Scheme.

He said a public representative cannot get a house allotted to any poor person of his constituency.

Patel has written in this matter to Union minister for panchayat and rural development, Narendra Singh Tomar. Tomar in his reply clarified that no one is permitted in the Scheme to intervene in the manual allotment of houses.

New policy for awards in higher edu on the anvil

OUR STAFF REPORTER

New policy for giving awards in the higher education department is ready. According to the new policy teachers will not have to apply for the award rather a committee will zero in on the names.

Draft for 'policy on awards' has been finalised and will soon be sent to the minister for approval. According to the new draft, teachers will not have to apply for the awards. Rather a committee headed by the principal secretary of the department will decide on the names. Panels will be made at various levels to identify and recognize teachers who are doing exceptional work. Their names will be forwarded to the district level first and if approved then to the state level committee. Numbers of awards being given to teachers are also expected to increase as strong recommendation has been made in favour of it. Awards for other staff members too have been suggested to boost their motivational levels. Sources indicated that some new awards may be constituted in the name of great leaders and reformers while awards constituted by previous dispensation might get a backseat. "Awards of the previous government will not be abandoned completely but will be made redundant in due course of time," said an official commenting on the new draft.
