BJP leaders come and say provocative things in name of religion, says Gehlot

PRESSTRUST OF INDIA JAIPUR, KOTA, NOVEMBER 14

CHIEF MINISTER Ashok Gehlot on Tuesday challenged Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Union Home Minister Amit Shah and other BIP leaders to speak on the work done by his government instead of talking about religion in election rallies. Accusing the leaders of the opposition party of doing politics in the name of religion ahead of the November 25 Rajasthan Assembly polls, Gehlot said the Congress was fighting the electoral battle on issues of development and welfare of the people.

"BJP leaders come and say provocative things in their speeches in the name of religion. They impose their agenda in the name of religion which is not a good tradition," he said at Jaipur's Albert Hall after paying tributes to former Prime his birth anniversary.

"I challenge them to speak on our schemes and programmes and the performance of the government instead of doing politics in the name of religion... If Minister Jawahar Lal Nehru on they have something to criticise our development works with, they should do it but it is not a good thing to do provocative things," Gehlot added.

"We made important laws, gave 10 guarantees in inflation relief camps, our Covid-19 management was excellent, Rajasthan is first in north India and second in the country in economic growth. We delivered good governance in five years. Development is our agenda and we are contesting elections on this," he told reporters.

Gehlot later left for Kota to launch the 'Guarantee Yatra' in the division, participate in roadshows in favour of Congress candidates Shanti Dhariwal, Rakhi and Gautam Naimuddin Guddu, and address a public meeting at Thermal Circle.

In Kota, Gehlot accused Lok Sabha Speaker and Kota MP Om Birla of secretly campaigning for the BJP and urged him to be impartial. Gehlot, while referring to the social security and welfare guarantees of his government, urged people to vote for the Congress government to continue development.

"The member of the Parliament here is now secretly campaigning for his party and provoking the people while moving in parks and gardens and talking (with candidates) and calling them at his residence," Gehlot alleged while addressing a public

BJP leader slams Cong on inflation, development rate

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA JAIPUR, NOVEMBER 14

INFLATION REMAINS low and the rate of development is high during BJP rule while the figures are reversed under Congress regimes, BJP Rajya Sabha MP Sudhanshu Trivedi said on Tuesday.

Despite adverse circumstances across the globe, the country's economy is gradually normalising as inflation was recorded at 4.87 per cent, he said. Retail inflation eased to a four-month low of 4.87 per cent in October, mainly due to cooling prices of food items, government data showed on Monday.

"Inflation is low and the rate of development is high when there is a BJP government whereas inflation is high and the development rate is low when they (Congress) are in power,"

BJP Rajya Sabha MP Sudhanshu Trivedi

Trivedi told reporters at a press conference.

"In July, Rajasthan was among the top three states where inflation was the highest (9.6 per cent) in the country. Those who used to say that the BIP destroyed the economy should see that, despite the adverse circumstances across the globe, the country's economy is gradually normalising under Prime Minister Narendra Modi's leadership," Trivedi said.

He also cited a Congress rally on inflation in Jaipur where Rahul Gandhi's speech revolved around Hindutva. "The reason for this is that they have no problem with inflation and unemployment, they only have a problem with Hindus and Hindutva. These people used to say that the BJP government would destroy the economy whereas, this time, the sales of the automobile sector, gold and fourwheelers have increased by 20 per cent to 24 per cent," he said.

Trivedi, a BJP national spokesperson, said during Indira Gandhi and Raiiv Gandhi's terms as prime ministers — when they had governments with full majority — the country's growth rate did not go beyond 2 per cent. At the time, people used to joke that this was the Hindu growth rate. And at that time, inflation was above 15 per cent, the BIP leader claimed.

Sardarji making waves in Jaipur, not with Amritsari kulcha or bhature, but with his hing dal kachori

The Sikh family uses only the hing imported from Afghanistan via Amritsar in their kachoris. They have developed strong and deep ties with the local Hindu and Marwari communities in the capital

DIVYA GOYAL GOPAL JAIPUR, LUDHIANA, NOV 14

FROM MELT-IN-MOUTH aloo paranthas with butter to flavoursome chole bhature and Amritsari kulcha, the gastronomical delight of Punjabi cuisine is known across the world. While there's hardly a doubt over how Punjabis, especially the Sikh community, have made Punjabi cuisine a global identity, here's a Sikh family in the pink city Jaipur, with its roots in Amritsar, which is now making waves for its delectable Raiasthani kachoris and lassi

Enter the lanes of the crowded Nehru Bazaar in Jaipur and ask locals about the shop serving the best piping hot kachoris and here comes the instant reply: "Sardar Ji Lassi Kachori Wale, shop number 31."

The shop, with an insignia of a turbaned Sikh man with twirled moustaches on its display board, is buzzing with customers. Sitting at the counter, Amarjeet Singh alias Tony, in his thirties, is busy taking orders for what this 'Sardar ji's shop' is well known in Jaipur their khasta hing dal kachori.

The dal kachori in Rajasthan is synonymous with breakfast, like aloo paranthas or Amritsari kulcha, are in Punjab, and is the most popular street food delicacy across Rajasthan.

The shop is located in the crowded Nehru Bazaar in Jaipur. Express

Not just hing dal kachori, but this eatery run by Sikhs in Jaipur is also known for its pyaaz kachori, rabdi milk rose and Patiala lassi.

Niranjan Singh, 58, whose father Sahib Singh had started this small eatery way back in 1964, says that though their ancestors hailed from Amritsar, they later shifted to Ganganagar of Rajasthan in search of better opportunities and later to Jaipur.

"My grandfather Jiwat Singh had shifted from Amritsar to Ganganagar. Later my father Sahib Singh opened this small eatery-cum-tea shop in Jaipur. My father died in 1991 but the taste of his kachoris and customised recipe continues to live on. We sell nearly 1,000 kachoris daily, 80 per cent of which is hing dal, our speciality. We also export them to the US, Canada, UK, Dubai and other countries," says Niranjan, whose son Amarjeet mostly sits at the shop. So what makes Sardar ji's hing dal kachori so unique?

"It's the taste of the masala filled inside the kachori. A specific quantity of each masala has to go for a particular number of kachoris. Each masala packet is packed in that quantity as per our traditional recipe and handed over to the cooks," says Niranjan.

Hing (the Indian name for asafoetida) — one of the main ingredients of the kachori — is also sourced from a trader in Amritsar who in turn imports it from Afghanistan, one of the largest producers of the best-quality hing in the world.

"The hing produced in Kabul has a strong aroma and taste which is of the highest quality. We only use the hing imported from Afghanistan via Amritsar in our kachoris," says Niranjan Singh.

"To make 500 kachoris, we use 5 kg of urad and moong dal

Sonia visits Jaipur to escape Delhi pollution; Rahul rallies tomorrow

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA JAIPUR, NOVEMBER 14

CONGRESS LEADERS Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi arrived in Jaipur on Tuesday on what was described as a private visit for her to escape air pollution in Delhi. The two were accompanied by All India Congress Committee general secretary K C Venugopal.

"It is a private visit. There is air pollution in Delhi, that's why," Venugopal said in Hindi when reporters at the airport asked him about the reason for Sonia's visit to poll-bound Rajasthan.

But answering another question, he indicated there could be party meetings as well in Jaipur.

Venugopal said the party is sure of its success. "We will win the elections. We are confident that we are going to win." he said.

He dismissed a reporter's observation that Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot and his former deputy Sachin Pilot have not been seen campaigning together.

"Just wait," he said, asserting that all Congress leaders are together. "We are all one, we will win this election."

A party spokesperson said Sonia Gandhi has come from Delhi on a four-day visit due to health issues – a reference to Rajasthan on Thursday to address election rallies in Tara Nagar (Churu), Nohar (Hanumangarh) and Sadulshahar (Sriganganagar) that day, the party said.

These will be Gandhi's first public meetings after the announcement of elections.

BJP to release its manifesto tomorrow: Meghwal

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA KOTA, NOVEMBER 14

BJP PRESIDENT J P Nadda will release the party's election manifesto in Jaipur on Thursday.

Senior BJP leader and Union minister Ariun Ram Meghwal said Nadda will release the party's 'Sankalp Patra' (manifesto) on Thursday at 11 am. The manifesto is based on the suggestions of more than one crore people through the party's outreach programmes like 'Akansha Peti,' e-mails and social media platforms, he said.

Meghwal was speaking to media persons at the Kota airport on Tuesday morning before leaving for campaigning at Ramganj Mandi and Ladpura Assembly seats of the district.

On the question of "delay" in releasing the manifesto, Meghwal said it was not a delay; the party adopted an outreach programme, which meant public participation, to prepare its 'Sankalp Patra.' Based on people's recommendations and suggestions, the party's 'Sankalp Patra' was prepared, Meghwal said. He also exuded confidence of the BIP's victory in the Rajasthan Assembly elections to be held on November 25.
