UN comes to Gaza's help

United Nations is aiding as many people in Palestinian territory as possible

The UN, in the face of escalating violence between Israel and militants in the Gaza Strip and rising casualties, is aiding as many people in the Palestinian territory in need as pos-

The UN Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA), citing its partners, reported on Friday that civilian infrastructure damage in the Gaza Strip includes more than 20 schools, reports Xinhua. The North Gaza Seawater Desalination Plant, serving more than 250,000 people, is still not operating due to the risk to workers and a damaged electrical supply line, the humanitarians said.

An estimated 2 million people live in Gaza and about 3 million more live in the West Bank.

Because of limited fuel reserves in Gaza, there are now daily, rolling electrical power cuts of eight to 12 hours per day, OCHA said.

Another 230,000 people from Gaza City and Khan Younis have limited access to piped water because of the increasing power cuts and damage to electrical networks

The humanitarians have reported hundreds of homes housing more than 1,000 people are damaged. More than 12,000 people reportedly seek shelter from the fighting. Many are in schools run by the UN relief agency for Palestine refugees known as UNRWA.

The agency opened 29 schools as emergency shelters for about 10,000 displaced people. UNRWA and humanitarian partners are providing food, water and non-food items for them, said OCHA.

The UN is concerned that displaced people crowding into schools increases the risk of spreading Covid19. In the West Bank, the world or ganisation is concerned about reports of violent incidents resulting in casualties among Israeli security forces and Palestinians.

The UN and humanitarian partners have provided non-food items and cash support to displaced fami-

incredibly disturbing. '

Dubai: Joe Biden and Israeli PM Netanyahu have spoken about the situation with Gaza. According to a statement from Netanyahu's office, the Israeli leader updated Biden on the developments and actions that Israel has taken and intends to take. It says Netanyahu also thanked Biden for the "unreserved support of the United States for our right to defend ourselves." It says Netanyahu emphasised in the conversation that Israel is doing everything to avoid harming the uninvolved. The statement added "the proof of this is that in the towers where there are terrorist targets attacked by the IDF, they are evacuated from the uninvolved." The Biden-Netanyahu call came just hours after an Israeli airstrike on Saturday targeted and destroyed a high-rise building in Gaza City that housed offices of The Associated Press and other media outlets. Netanyahu has vowed that Hamas will "pay a very heavy price" for its rocket attacks.

Vax almost certainly less effective against B1.617.2 transmission: UK expert

ADITI KHANNA LONDON

The vaccines being administered to protect against COVID-19 are "alcertainly most effective less against preventing the transmisof the sion B1.617.2 variant first identified in India, a leading

UK scientist who advises the country's vaccination programme said on Saturday.

Professor Anthony Harnden, from the University of Oxford who is the deputy chair of the Joint Committee on Vaccination and Immunisation (JCVI), said it was important to approach the easing of lockdown in England with "utmost caution" as it remains unclear exactly how much more transmissible the variant detected in India is. But he reiterated that there is no evidence of increased severity of illness or that the particular mutation of the coronavirus evades the vaccine

"The vaccines may be less effective against mild disease but we don't think they're less effective against severe disease But in combination with being less effective against mild disease. they're almost certainly less effective against transmission," Prof. Harnden told the BBC

'We don't know how much more transmissible it is vet. All the evidence so far suggests there is no evidence of increased severity of illness or that it evades the vaccine. So, at the moment, on the basis of the evidence we are doing the right thing, coolly, calmly continuing with Monday, but keeping everything under review." he said. in reference to the next stage in the easing of lockdown that begins in England from Monday.

His comments follow UK Prime Minister Boris Johnson's Downing Street press conference Friday on evening, when he focussed "important unon the knowns" related to the B1.617.2 variant, which is believed to be largely behind India's devastating second wave of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Climate protection depends on political majorities: Angela Merkel

AGENCIES / Berlin

German Chancellor Angela Merkel stressed on Saturday that far-reaching climate protection measures could be implemented only with the corresponding political majorities.

"I understand - and it makes me a little sad, of course-that young people say, 'man, we had to go to court first before those in the government actually give us what we're entitled to'," dpa news agency quoted the Chancellor as say ing during a discussion with German climate activist Luisa Neubauer. However, it was also true that "in a democracy, I always have to get majorities for something", she added, Merkel pointed to her own rural constituency as an example. where concerns over the building of wind turbines are always accompanied by complaints. Simply ignoring people's concerns could lead to a situation where climate deniers could be in the majority, she said, who used former US President Donald Trump as an example.

media to trick Hamas Early Friday, just after midnight, the Israeli military put out an omi-

Israeli army accused of using nous statement to the media: "IDF air and ground troops are currently attacking in the Gaza Strip." The terse statement set off frenzied speculation that Israel had launched a ground invasion of Gaza - a muchfeared scenario that would mark a bloody escalation of this week's operation against Hamas militants. Some reporters were even told outright the incursion had begun. Hours later, the military issued a "clarification." There were no troops inside Gaza. But by then, several major news outlets had erroneously reported the ground offensive was under way. While the army attempted to play down the incident as a misunderstanding, well-placed Israeli military commentators said the media had been used as part of an elaborate ruse to lure Hamas militants into a deadly trap that may have killed dozens of fighters.

HK freezes Jimmy Lai's assets

HONG KONG: Hong Kong authorities have frozen nearly HKD 500 million of imprisoned media tycoon Jimmy Lai's assets under the draconian national security law.

Issuing a statement on Friday night, the Hong Kong government announced that the secretary for security had ordered Lai's shares in the Next Digital media company to be frozen, along with assets in the local bank accounts of three companies he owned, reported South

China Morning Post (SCMP). Although the statement did not specify the amount, it mentioned that the security minister had the authority to take such action if there are 'reasonable grounds' to suspect that people charged with national security offences held 'offence-related property'.

Based on Next Digital's HKD 490.3 million market capitalisation, Lai's 70 per cent stake is worth HKD 343 million. Meanwhile, Next Digital shares closed 2.11 per cent, or 0.4 HK cents, lower at 19 HK cents.

The Hong Kong Journalists Association criticised the latest action against Lai, with chairman Chris Yeung Kinhing questioning whether political factors were involved.
