Strong demand for smartphones; Flipkart in the lead

SANCHITHA CHENGAMPA

This year's festival season sale started with a bang with retailers raking in ₹29,000 crore (₹26 billion) in the first 7 days of the sale which saw ₹1.5 crore worth of smartphones being sold every minute across platforms. Last year, e-tailers raked up ₹19,000 crore (₹17 billion). While Flipkart and Amazon contributed to over 90 per cent of the sales, Flipkart (including Mytra) dominated the first week starting October 15, garnering 64 per cent of the total. Flipkart's Amazon.com revealed the "The Festival of First" report from RedSeer Consulting. Sales were fuelled by strong demand for mobile phones, huge growth in Tier 2 shoppers, well managed stock, affordability concerns, increase in the number of users seeking consumer post Covid and an amount of upgrade plans of online shopping in Covid times. Probe against Amazon, Flipkart: SC asks CCI to approach Karnataka HC for vacating stay order

SHRINIVAS

Supreme Court on Monday directed to enjoin the Competition Commission of India (CCI) plea in secret stay by the Karnataka High Court in the matter relating to competition watchdog's probe against Amazon and Flipkart over alleged anti-competitive practices.

The apex court has, however, given liberty to CCI to approach the Karnataka High Court and file an application to vacate the stay. Once this application is filed, the Karnataka High Court has six weeks to decide on the application. The apex court has requested the Karnataka High Court to dispose of the matter expeditiously, preferably within six weeks from the date the application is filed, legal experts said. It is notable that the CCI had on January 11 ordered a probe against Amazon, Flipkart on alleged anti-competitive practices on a case filed by Delhi-based Maharashtra trader Suresh J of the Competition Act. This Delhi-based association had alleged that both Amazon and Flipkart were indulging in exclusive arrangements with smartphone makers, preferential treatment to some sellers and deep discounting. The CCI had said there was prima facie case and had asked its Director General to investigate both companies. Flipkart and Amazon had moved the Karnataka High Court against the CCI order, asking for the order to be quashed and be given an interim stay.

The Karnataka High Court had on February 14 granted an interim stay on the CCI order and had asked all the parties to come back with more evidence and details in two months.

The CCI had on September 21 approached the Supreme Court against Karnataka High Court's interim stay.

Meanwhile, the Confederation of All India Traders (CAIT), while backing the apex court's order, said that both CAIT and Delhi-based Malabar Hills have already filed an appeal in two-judge bench of the Karnataka High Court challenging the single judge bench order of the High Court, made on February 14.

Commenting on the SC move, Abdullahi Hussain, Partner, L&L Partners, said the order by the Supreme Court was expected since the CCI didn't approach the High Court first for urgent disposal of the matter court appeal before the Division Bench.

Daimler India bucks CV slowdown in Sept quarter

Truck and bus maker bets on BS-VI offerings

CHANDRASEKHAR

Chennai

Truck and bus maker Daimler India Commercial Vehicles (DICV), Indian arm of German auto major Daimler AG, has recorded a positive growth in the sale of its BharatBenz trucks during the September 2020 quarter, bucking the commercial vehicle market trend in the country.

While the domestic medium and heavy commercial vehicle volumes reported a drop of close to 50 per cent in the September quarter with all players reporting a decline due to the Covid impact, DICV has seen some recovery and posted positive growth.

DICV's BharatBenz truck sales stood at 2,817 units during July-September 2020 period when compared with 2,672 units in the year-ago period.

"Post-lockdown, DICV has gone from strength to strength. Demand is definitely up. For September 2020 quarter as a whole, our unit sales are up 10 per cent compared to last year," Saravanan Siva, MD & CEO, DICV, told BusinessLine.

Three key factors

He attributed the performance to three main factors. Beyond strong trust in BharatBenz's technology and the brand's extensive experience with BS-VI equivalent emission norms around the world helped.

Airtel launches cloud-based communication channel IQ

CHANDRASEKHAR

Chennai

Rham Airtel has launched cloud-based communication channel IQ, a cloud-based omnichannel communications platform, to enable brands to deepen engagement with customers through timely and secure communication.

For instance, a customer ordering food through an online platform and calling the delivery agent to find out the status of their order. The entire communication is orchestrated through a unified platform, it said.

"Clearance of our BS-VI stock before the April 1 deadline, allowed our dealers to focus on sale of our new BS-VI portfolio," said Siva. DICV has seen an uptick in mining and agriculture segments. To take advantage of the demand revival, DICV introduced its BharatBenz 3222T (tractor-trailer) model, today's first 3222T on a 4x2 tractor.

"It's been especially designed for applications like camera, tankers, parcel, mailer for load and top tractors, so it's perfect for these and other heavy-duty jobs. The 3222T will set new benchmarks for the tractor trailer segment with improved revenue prospects, fuel efficiency, safety and convenience, so it's really helped us gain traction in sales," said Siva.

The company said that in the BS-VI era, DICV has also been attracting more new customers into its fold as most of the fleet owners see BharatBenz brand as a "safe bet" for long term benefits and gains.

Meanwhile, while a full recovery in the CV industry is expected to take some time as the industry is seeing slowly, DICV is of the view that a well-incentivised scrappage policy will not only spur volumes, but also transform the industry as a whole.

Shine after whine: Consumer durables sector hopes to recoup lockdown losses

Industry players say signs are encouraging, especially in the home appliances segment

HEMANTHANI VERMA ANANDHANI

New Delhi

After the crucial summer season for cooling products was hit by the lockdown, the consumer durables industry is banking on the festival season to recoup some of the losses made in this pandemic year.

Industry players said that early signs during the 30 days of the Navratri and Dussehra period have been encouraging especially in the home appliance segment.

Malay Babu, Vice-President, Home Appliances, LG Electronics India, said, "Looking at early trends, we anticipate a growth of over 30 per cent in the October-November festival period compared to the same period last year. Consumers are upgrading to high-end and high-capacity products in segments such as washing machines and refrigerators. Also, there is an uptick in demand for microwave ovens and dishwashers."

The industry has, in fact, been witnessing encouraging signs of revival since September also. However, industry players pointed out that given that April-May period, which is crucial for ACs and refrigerators sales, was completely washed due to the lockdown, the sector will at best narrow down its losses due to the festival season push.

Festival push A senior industry executive pointed out that the industry was earlier starting at a downturn of nearly 30 per cent for the year. With the festival season demand push, the industry is expected to narrow the dip growth to 10-15 per cent. Kamal Nandi, Business Head & Executive Vice-President, Appliances, said, "We have seen a growth of 15 per cent in the Navratri

Consumer durables players are focusing on various festival season offers such as cashbacks and financing schemes to woo consumers and Dussehra period, which gives us the confidence that demand will continue to remain strong in the upcoming days and we will rise above the overall festive season, with double-digit growth. We are also seeing good retail demand as normal monsoons boosted agricultural output and several firms have reversed payouts in urban regions.

In addition, consumers are upgrading home appliances to enhance their lifestyle as they stay and work from home."

Stew of offers Consumer durables players are focusing on various festival season offers such as cashbacks, longer warranties and longer tenure financing schemes to woo consumers. Eric Braganza, President, Hairer India, said, "While there is a section of consumers that have indeed witnessed pay cuts and job losses, there is also a large section of consumers, who are working from home, and have reduced their expenses on eating out and other such leisure activities. Such consumers are instead looking at putting their expense on upgrading their home appliances." He added that the company expects to close October with 35 per cent growth over the same period last year.

However, retailers also pointed to challenges in terms of supply constraints in segments such as laptops, TVs and high-end durables products due to tight on components. Nitesh Gupta, MD, Wave Sales, said, "We saw post-festival sale trends during the 30 days of Navratri and Dussehra and witnessed a growth of 34 per cent over the same period last year. It could have been much higher if there weren't supply constraints in certain segments. We are seeing an increase in ticket size of home appliance purchases by 10-15 per cent, which is a positive sign."
