6 J&K parties team special status restoration

Announce formation of People's Alliance for Gupkar Declaration

ADITI PHADNIS
New Delhi, 15 October

Restoration of Article 370 as it applied to Jammu & Kashmir prior to August 5, 2019, is the principal demand of representatives of six J&K political parties — bitter adversaries on the ground — who met at former chief minister Farooq Abdullah's residence in Srinagar on Thursday and announced the formation of the People's Alliance for Gupkar Declaration to start a movement towards that aim.

"We will meet again" was Abdullah's promise as he made a short but terse statement, with Mehbooba Mufti of the Peoples Democratic Party (PDP) by his side.

People's Conference Chairman Sajad Lone, People's Movement leader Javid Mir, and CPI(M) leader Mohammad Yousuf Tarigami were among those who attended. The state unit of the Congress announced it could not be present because of a medical emergency.

Abdullah said the signatories will also fight for the rights of Ladakh. "We also want that the steps be taken for the resolution of Kashmir issue and all the stakeholders should be taken on board."

The meeting was a follow-up of the Gupkar declaration — so called because it was signed by six mainstream parties at the Abdullah residence in Srinagar's Gupkar Road on August 4 last year, a day before Article 370 was revoked. The declaration "unanimously resolved that signatories would be united in their effort to protect and defend the identity, autonomy, and special status of J&K against all attacks".

The group made no comment about the nature of further participation in the political process, neither about the possibility of taking part in local body elections that are likely to be held first; nor, significantly issuing a boycott call.

Former central interlocutor Radha Kumar said the coming together of the group itself was a major step forward. "As far as restoration of Article 370 is concerned, I don't think the central government will be inclined towards it. On the other hand, some people have floated the idea of adding another section to Article 371 of the constitution by which some rights that J&K enjoyed might be restored," Kumar said.

Given the divergence within the group about the feasibility of restoring Article 370, getting the parties to speak from the same script itself will be difficult. Former Union minister Omar Abdullah has said he believes promising restoration of status quo would be "tokenism" and "appeasement". Congress, too, is divided on whether it can be reversed.

The biggest challenge before the overground political forces is to organise themselves in protests. The second challenge is to decide whether to participate in elections, at whatever level they are held.

"The one big point that emerges from Thursday's meeting is this. Those who said that the presidential order of hollowing out Article 370 would be met with universal anger and a sense of humiliation in the valley were not wrong," Kumar said.

Several civil rights groups are in Supreme Court, which is hearing cases on the legality of the revocation itself. Most of these groups believe that the formation of an alliance, however loose, to demand restoration of Article 370 will strengthen their case in court.

We only provide platform, won't appear before Delhi Assembly panel, FB tells SC

PEERZADA ABRAR & PTTI
Bengaluru, 15 October

The Supreme Court (SC) on Thursday extended the relief granted to Facebook India and Ajit Mohan, its vice-president and managing director, at its previous hearing from appearing before a Delhi Assembly panel till the next hearing, scheduled for December.

The matter pertains to a petition filed by Facebook India and Mohan, challenging the summons issued by Delhi Assembly's Committee on Peace and Harmony, which is probing the social media giant's alleged failure to track down hate speech during the Delhi riots that took place in February.

Meanwhile, the Centre told the apex court that Delhi panel's proceedings were "without jurisdiction" as the issue pertained to law and order.

Solicitor General Tushar Mehta submitted before a Bench of Justices S K Kaul and Dinesh Maheshwari that "public order and police are not within the domain of the Delhi Legislative Assembly and therefore this proceeding is without jurisdiction." The Bench posted the matter for arguments on October 2.

"Facebook asserted that it will not appear before the Delhi Assembly's panel," said Sumit Kochhar, a corporate commercial lawyer and transaction advisory partner at Dolce Vita Trustees. "It said there is no meaning of summoning Facebook as a witness as it only provides a social media platform and doesn't write anything leading to any social issue, hence, summoning Facebook for any proceeding is futile."

Facebook did not comment on the development. Senior advocate representing Mohan had mentioned that the right to freedom of speech and expression under Article 19(1)(a) of the Constitution includes the right to not speak.

The Delhi Assembly in a counter-claim submitted earlier had mentioned that the witness (Facebook) cannot claim his right to silence or to be let alone in response to the summons to depose before a lawful committee of empowered legislation. It had said the right to remain silent is not a fundamental right except when the person is an accused under Article 20 of the Constitution.

Air India...

The deadline to bid — currently October 30 — is likely to be extended by two more months.

"Air India's equity value is negative. Hardly, anyone will be willing to pay for equity. But under the current disinvestment rules, a negative bid isn't allowed. So, a prospective bidder had to take over the debt amount. The changed rule means the bidders can quote a combined value, based on equity and debt. The highest one to quote that will win the bid. The proceeds from the bid can be used to retire whatever debt remains on the books of the company," said a government official aware of the matter.

₹29,464 of the company's debt has already been transferred to a special purpose vehicle (SPV).

Along with this key change, bidders will also be promised more flexibility on how to deal with human resources and assets in the later stage of bidding if the aviation sector's condition is further worsened by the pandemic.

"Submission of expression of interest is only the first stage of the bidding process. By the time an entity submits a financial bid, it will be clear whether there is a second wave of the pandemic or a vaccine is near which will mean a sudden recovery in the matter said. Since the scenario of upside or downside is not clear, more relaxations in terms of workforce and assets have been put off, he pointed out.

'Outside of...'

What are the checks and balances in place to ensure the sanctity of raw data and final numbers?

We are statistically built, so we look for outliers in the data. If there are 10 channels in a genre and there is anomaly — increase in time spent at a certain time or at the usual time or new audiences from different clusters come — we are alerted. Many times, it is a normal thing. For instance, during the lockdown, non-prime time viewing grew, or if a channel has, say, a James Bond film festival, you binge-watch. But if there are unusual spikes, we investigate. The algorithm picks it up; the data scientists look at it. Every week there are a lot of outliers — many legitimate. Then there are errant homes which have been penetrated. Ratings are a currency for the ₹32,000-crore television ad business, not for content and broadcasting. Advertisers need stability of data. So if things are fluctuating wildly, we investigate.

A statistical process determines where the boxes are placed. Also, every subscriber (to our data) signs an end-user licence agreement. We have filed police complaints across many states. These are usually local complaints, but these can be filed only if there is evidence. Usually, we get no support from authorities because they (genuinely) have other priorities. We have been trying to criminalise the breach of a panel home, but it is difficult. Infiltration means you are breaking the end-user licence agreement. Plus, replacing a panel home is an expensive process. Who pays for it? Then there is a disciplinary process (on our website), which lists four levels of offence and the punishment for each. This varies from penalties to suspension of rating and termination of membership. So far, there has been action only up to level two.

Why is there this popular perception that ratings are tampered with?
The perception is among people in the media business. We are measuring the mass and the popular in India, and we give incentives to these homes on norms that have been laid down. These are for the inconvenience, the use of electricity for the meter. But people figure out how to gamify the system.

Can BARC choose to only measure genres like entertainment, for which the sample is statistically stable? Can the suspension of ratings for news be permanent?

There is a social value to news that cannot be ignored. That is why the revenue share of news is more than 8 per cent (which is its share of total television viewership). Usually revenue share is proportionate to share of viewership).

Fading stimulus...

The hopes of the US Congress passing a stimulus package waned after Treasury Secretary Steven Mnuchin on Wednesday said something done on the stimulus package before the election and executing on that would be difficult.

"A deal before the elections seems unlikely, and investors are worried," said Andrew Holland, chief executive officer, Aventus Capital, Alternate Strategies.

The rising pandemic cases in Europe added to investor worries. Infections in Germany and Italy are rising, and several countries have imposed stricter measures to contain the disease. Stalled vaccine trials and Brexit clouds also affected sentiment. Both overseas as well as domestic investors were sellers in Thursday's trade. The former sold shares worth ₹604 crore, while the latter yanked out ₹808 crore.

Centre to borrow...

However, a senior finance ministry official said: "It is the Centre that is facilitating the states' borrowing. This helps the states... the yield may be lower."

Despite a lack of consensus on the issue in the Council meeting, the finance ministry initiated the borrowing process for 21 states that had picked the option of borrowing up to ₹1.1 trillion. Under this option, the principal and interest will be repaid via compensation cess, which has now been extended beyond June 2022.

Punjab Finance Minister Manpreet Singh Badal wrote Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman in August, saying many members (of the GST Council) had stated borrowing by the states might be costlier by 50-150 basis points.

West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee, in her letter to Prime minister Narendra Modi, had urged the Centre to do the borrowing.
