Biden off to climate talks, 1st leg of around-the-world trip

AP ■ WASHINGTON
President Joe Biden is heading to a global climate meeting with a giant domestic investment in tow — and he's likely to face questions about how far the US will go to pull other large greenhouse gas emitters along.
His attendance on Friday at the UN climate conference, known as COP27, in the resort town of Sharm el-Sheikh, Egypt, is the first stop on an around-the-world trip that will also take him to a meeting of Southeast Asian leaders in Cambodia and a Group of 20 summit meeting for leaders of the world's largest economies in Bali, Indonesia.
Biden boarded Air Force One late on Thursday buoyed by a stronger-than-expected showing by the Democratic Party in Tuesday's midterm elections, congressional passage this year of the largest climate investment in US history and Russian military setbacks on the Ukrainian battlefield. At the climate conference, Biden will discuss a new supplemental rule coming Friday that cracks down on methane emissions, a measure that expands on a similar regulation his administration released last year.

The 2021 rule targeted emissions of methane — a potent greenhouse gas that contributes significantly to global warming — from existing oil and gas wells nationwide, rather than focusing only on new wells as previous Environmental Protection Agency regulations have done. But this year's rule goes a step further and takes aim at all drilling sites, including smaller wells that emit less than 3 tons (2.7 metric tonnes) of methane per year.
He also will spotlight one of his key domestic successes — the Democrats' massive health care and climate change bill known as the Inflation Reduction Act.
The US commitment of some USD 375 billion over a decade to fight climate change gives Biden greater leverage to press other nations to make good on their pledges to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and transition the global economy toward cleaner energy sources.

Biden will be in a far different position from last year's gathering, which came about during a particularly unhappy stretch in the bill's tortuous path to passage.
That summit resulted in additional global commitments to meet the temperature targets agreed to in the Paris Climate Accord, which Biden rejoined after his predecessor, Donald Trump, pulled the US from the deal.
In his remarks, Biden will also make his case that "good climate policy is good economic policy," while calling on all major emitting countries to "align their ambition" to the international goal of trying to limit future global warming to 1.5 degrees Celsius (2.7 degrees Fahrenheit), according to the White House.
Former Pakistan PM Nawaz Sharif issued diplomatic passport: Reports
PTI ■ ISLAMABAD/LONDON
Pakistan government has issued a diplomatic passport to former premier Nawaz Sharif, who has been living in self-imposed exile in the UK since 2019, media reports said on Friday. Former prime minister Imran Khan's Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf government had cancelled Sharif's diplomatic passport after he was declared a proclaimed offender by a Pakistani court on corruption charges, the report said.
The 72-year-old Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N) supreme was issued the diplomatic passport for a period of five years after getting the clearance from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs on Thursday, the Express Tribune newspaper reported.
Shehbaz told media in London, "Mian Sahib (Nawaz Sharif) is coming, failure is destined for Imran Khan," indicating that his elder brother may return to Pakistan.

Spain appeases Catalans with planned reform of sedition law

AP ■ MADRID
The two parties making up Spain's leftist coalition government on Friday presented a proposal to reform the centuries-old crime of sedition, which was one of the main charges against pro-independence Catalan activists and politicians convicted for their roles in a 2017 secession push.
Under the proposal, sedition will be replaced with the crime of aggravated public disorder and will carry lower sentences.
With the support of smaller regional parties almost guaranteed, the bill is likely to be approved by parliament over the coming months although it might undergo some minor changes.
Spanish Prime Minister Pedro Sánchez issued partial pardons of the nine high-profile separatists last year, releasing them from prison after they had spent three years behind bars serving sentences that ranged between nine and 15 years.
They are, however, still banned from holding public office.
Announcing the reform late Thursday, Sánchez said it would bring Spain in line with other European democracies.
But Sánchez said the reform wouldn't exempt former Catalan President Carles Puigdemont and his associates that fled the country in 2017 from eventually standing trial if they return, albeit for a crime with a lower sentence.

Ethiopia asserts 70 per cent of Tigray now under military control

AP ■ NAIROBI
Ethiopia's lead negotiator in ongoing peace talks asserted on Friday that 70 per cent of the country's northern Tigray region is now under military control and aid deliveries have resumed to the area, but there is no immediate confirmation from aid workers or Tigray spokesmen.
National Security Adviser Redwan Hussein tweeted the information as the talks continued in neighbouring Kenya, and as the United States applied pressure on Ethiopia's government to swiftly deliver aid and basic services.
The peace deal says Ethiopia will "expedite" both aid and services to the long cut-off Tigray region of more than 5 million people, where food and basic medical supplies have run low.

Redwan said 35 trucks of food and three trucks of medicine have arrived in the north-western town of Shire, which federal forces and their allies captured last month. That was before last week's "permanent cessation of hostilities" in a two-year conflict estimated to have killed hundreds of thousands of people.

"Aid is flowing like no other times," Redwan said, adding that services were being reconnected and flights allowed.
The Tigray lead negotiator, Getachew Reda, did not immediately respond to a request for comment. A lull in the fighting earlier this year allowed about 8,000 trucks of humanitarian aid into the region, according to the United Nations, whose experts have found that Ethiopia's government used starvation as a tool of war.

Migrant rescue ship docks in French port amid Italy rift

AP ■ TOULON
A maritime rescue ship docked in a southern French port on Friday carrying 230 migrants whose fates sparked a diplomatic row between France and Italy, as well as fury from far-right rivals of the French government.
The Ocean Viking disembarked its passengers at the Toulon port, where they were expected to undergo health and security checks at a military base, Var region prefect Evence Richard told reporters.
The passengers from Eritrea, Egypt, Syria, Bangladesh, Pakistan and other nations include 57 children, the youngest of whom is 3 years old, and more than 40 are unaccompanied minors, according to European rescue group SOS Mediterranée, which operates the ship.

Some of the people on the ship were rescued in the Mediterranean Sea three weeks ago, the group said. The French coast guard boarded the Ocean Viking Thursday to help four passengers who needed urgent medical attention ashore.
The ship became the cause of a rift between France and Italy after Italian Premier Giorgia Meloni granted three other private maritime rescue ships permission to dock in Italy but refused the Ocean Viking, claiming that France would take it although the French government had not said that publicly.

SE Asian leaders do little to raise pressure on Myanmar

AP ■ PHNOM PENH
Southeast Asian leaders did little to ramp up pressure on Myanmar to comply with their plan for peace, agreeing Friday to a course of action that largely kicks the matter down the road. With violence in Myanmar spiraling out of control since the military seized power in 2021, the Association of Southeast Asian Nations has been trying to implement a five-point plan for peace, so far with little effect. Already, the group has banned leaders of Myanmar, from participating in its top-level events, such as the ongoing summit in Phnom Penh. A faction led by Indonesian President Joko Widodo had been pushing for that ban to be broadened to exclude Myanmar from other events — something urged by human rights groups.
