Man rapes married neighbour multiple times

BHOPAL: A man sexually assaulted his 30-year-old married neighbour several times while her husband was away. The complainant lives with her children in Mendori village of Ratibad. The victim's husband, who earlier worked in Bhopal had lost his job in the 2020 lockdown. Later he moved to Betul looking for a job. The accused was known to their family and thus the woman never objected to his visiting her home. In September, the accused, knowing well that the woman was alone at home, entered her house at night and sexually assaulted her.

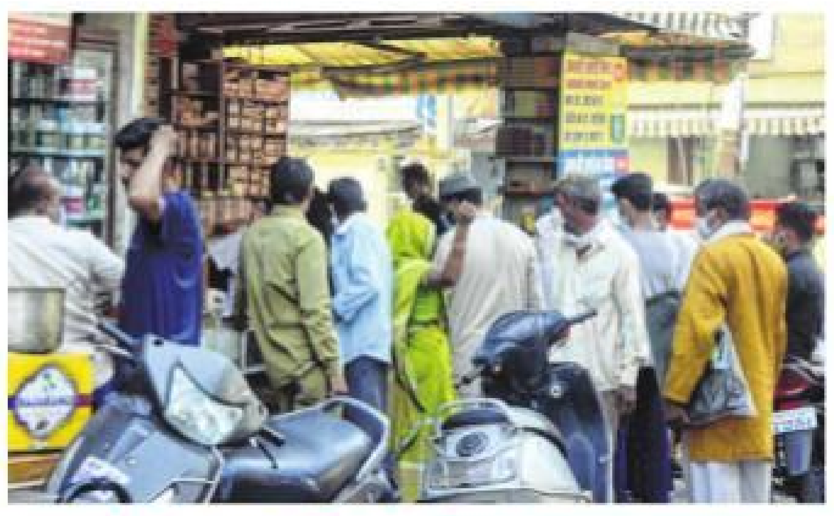
Third wave is imminent if rush at markets swells unchecked

OUR STAFF REPORTER
BHOPAL



The rush to the markets continued to swell unabated and, if it continues, it seems that a third wave of corona cannot be stopped and the government will have to face the brunt of such an occurrence very soon.

The administration attributed the rush to congested roads which are only of 10 ft breadth in the Old City. But it is also true that the people, too, looked careless. They tossed all Covid protocols to the winds—maintaining social distancing and hand hygiene and wearing masks.

Such places as Ibrahimpura, Lakherapura, Budhwara, Jumerati and Godha Nakkas are the main markets in the Old City, where thok kirana markets are operated. But there is no control by any monitoring agency on the rush. If this continues, a third wave cannot be stopped.

On the first day, the crowds were much more controlled and police teams were deployed at many sensitive points, but, on the second day of unlock, the rush was heavy and there was no monitoring agency constituted or assigned to keep a close vigil on the markets. No policeman was seen in the markets to control the crowds swelling all around. This shows the carelessness on the part of both the public, as well as the administration. Although chowkis have been formed at many points in the Old City, hardly any policeman was seen during the rush hours.

'THIS TIME, WE'RE MORE ALERT'

'There may be an overall rush in the markets, but at individual shops, we maintained strict Covid protocols. We've instructed the traders to follow all Covid norms and guidelines—maintaining social distancing and wearing masks. This time around, we're more alert in this regard. The rush may also be because of unlock after 50 days; people who were staying locked up in their homes have now moved out in the markets'

■ Anupam Agrawal, general secretary, Thok Bazaar Vyapari Mandal

'We're keeping a close vigil'

'The roads are of 10ft breadth, so, even 10 people moving on the roads gives the impression that there's a heavy rush in the markets. We're keep a close vigil on the crowds, so that there's no untoward rush in the markets'

If cases don't increase in a week, markets will reopen

BHOPAL: The administration may give some relaxations for reopening markets in the next week in Bhopal, Indore and in a few other cities in the state. The corona curfew was partially lifted on June 1, but the collectors of different districts have set different timings for reopening markets.

At a few places, the markets were allowed to open till 3 pm. At a few other places, markets were allowed to remain open till late in the evening.

In such districts as Damoh and Morena, markets were partially reopened. In Bhopal, shops selling essential items have been allowed to reopen. Similarly, in Indore, only grocery shops were permitted to reopen.

It is because of confusion over reopening of markets that some traders are mounting pressure on the people's representatives to allow them to restart their businesses.

According to sources, several BJP leaders have held discussions with Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan about the reopening of markets. Chouhan has reportedly assured those leaders that, if there is no increase in the number of cases in a week, some more relaxations may be given in corona curfew. He also assured the BJP leaders that, if the cases do not shoot up, all markets would reopened after June 15.

Kapada Vyapari Sangh calls on DME minister Vishwas Sarang, says…

'Graded unlock has benefited roti, makan businesses, but kapda?'

Even on the first day of unlock on Tuesday, the traders had protested at Bairagarh and Old City for not being allowed to open their shops

Monitoring team visits New Market for implementation of Covid protocols on Wednesday

The protest by traders over alleged discrimination in opening of shops during the graded unlock in the state capital continued on the second consecutive day on Wednesday. On the first day of unlock, the traders had protested at Bairagarh and Old City for not being allowed to open their shops.

The Kapada Vyapari Sangh called on DME minister Vishwas Sarang, who is minister-in-charge of the district for Covid affairs on Wednesday to register their protest against discrimination in opening of shops during the graded unlock. DME minister Sarang requested them to wait for three to four days more for permission to open their shops.

The textile traders expressed their disappointment to the DME minister, stating that 'roti, kapda aur makan' were the basic needs of the people. The graded unlock had benefited 'roti' (grocery) and 'makan' (construction businesses), but 'kapda' shops had still not opened.

This is reason why the traders had protested at Bairgarh and the Old City on the first day of unlock on Tuesday, demanding justice for their business. After June 15, monsoon was likely to arrive, so business would not pick up, Sangh president Kanhaiyalal Ishrani said.

'MINISTER ASSURED US'

'We called on minister Vishwas Sarang, who requested us to wait for four or five days more. Our consignments have already been dispatched from Gujarat, but we haven't received them. Still, they're demanding money. How can we pay them when our shops haven't been opened? The entire wedding season has been non-productive for us. Even Eid passed, but our shops weren't opened. Three to four members of the staff work in our shops—how can we pay them, either? So, our entire business is ruined because of the lockdown. Now, those shops which were already open have been opened officially during the unlock. We told the minister that roti, kapda aur makan were important. Shops of roti and makan have been opened, but kapda shops are still closed, so it's not justice'

■ Kanhaiyalal Ishrani, president, Kapda Vyapari Sangh

'I was also part of the delegation that met minister Vishwas Sarang. Our stand is that all businesses should be opened uniformly so that people get all items with ease and without any rush at the shops. But, unfortunately, this hasn't happened. We've been asked to wait until June 7'

Striking GMC junior doctors demonstrate covering themselves with coffin shrouds

OUR STAFF REPORTER
BHOPAL

On the other hand, the GMC administration has released a list of junior doctors who have not been attending duty and served notice on them

Junior doctors demonstrate after covering themselves with coffin shroud, or 'kafan', at Gandhi Medical College on the third day of their strike demanding a stipend hike.

After the incident of alleged harassment of the parents of the president of the Junior Doctors' Association by the government, the striking junior doctors demonstrated at Gandhi Medical College (GMC) on the third consecutive day of the strike on Wednesday, covering themselves with coffin shrouds, or 'kafans'. On the other hand, the GMC administration has released a list of junior doctors who have not been attending duty. The Medical Teachers' Association has come out in support of the JUDA over the strike issue. Emergency services, the Covid ward and the ward where patients of black fungal infection are treated have been boycotted during the strike.

Dr Harish Pathak, president, JUDA, Gandhi Medical College, in a video, has been heard alleging that the government harassed his parents in Singrauli on Tuesday night.

He said, "For the past one and a half years, I haven't spoken to my parents just because of the workload during pandemic times, but the government's treatment of them wasn't expected because I raised the issue of the stipend hike. My parents phoned me at midnight on Tuesday night, asking me to give up my job and go back as the police were harassing them a lot because the JUDA had raised issues against the government."

'DEMANDS ARE JUSTIFIED'

'Our 6-point charter of demands is justified and even DME minister Vishwas Sarang assured us when we went on strike that our demands would be fulfilled. But now, he's made a U-turn instead of releasing the order. We're just demanding that the order be released in line with what the DME minister assured us. But it's very unfortunate that the government has chosen the path of harassment and confrontation instead of giving us the incentives to work even harder during these pandemic times'

WHAT ARE THE DEMANDS?

- JUDA is on strike for fulfilment of their 6-point charter of demands, including a hike of 24 per cent in their stipends and a 6 per cent annual hike
- Earlier, the striking junior doctors alleged that the government had harassed the parents of the organisation president at night
- The JUDA has uploaded a video of the incident on social media

'ACTION WILL BE TAKEN'

'The GMC administration has served notice on the striking JUDA doctors and instructed them that action would be taken, including cancellation of their registration. We've also released the names of the striking doctors'

HONEY TRAP PEN DRIVE ISSUE

SIT returns empty-handed from former CM's house

OUR STAFF REPORTER
BHOPAL

A special investigation team probing into a 'honey trap' case on Wednesday went to the house of former chief minister Kamal Nath to collect the 'pen drive' related to the case but it had to return empty-handed. Reason? Nath was not out of station.

While addressing the online press conference on May 21, Nath claimed that was in possession of a pen drive/CD related to the honey trap case. His claim had kicked up the dust in the political corridors as well as in the police department, which is investigating the case.

The SIT was quick to send a notice to Nath under relevant provisions of CrPC said asking him to hand over the pen drive/CD to its sleuths.

The notice stated that this 'pen drive/CD was extremely important evidence' in the FIR lodged in Palasia police station and it would make the probe more effective and stronger. The notice added that Nath should be present in his house in Bhopal at 12:30 pm on June 2 for recording his statement and handing over the pen drive/CD to the SIT.

Sources claimed that when the team reached the ex-CM's house, Nath's counsel informed the SIT that the he is in New Delhi and will return on June 7.

The sources claimed that the SIT may serve the fresh notice to the ex-CM for his statement and recovery of the 'pen drive'.

Five women and a man were arrested in Bhopal and Indore in September, 2019 for allegedly trapping well-placed people and blackmailing them with objectionable videos.

CONTENT IS WIDELY CIRCULATED: NATH

Earlier speaking on the issue during his visit to Morena, Nath said he would respond to the notice but added the pen drive was not with him and several journalists were in possession of the content and it was being circulated widely in MP. Nath said he was kept informed about the case by the police as he was the chief minister of MP at the time.

Shajapur ADM beats up youth, plaint filed

Officer bashes up youth for opening shop during corona curfew

OUR STAFF REPORTER
BHOPAL

The National Confederation of Human Rights Organisation has filed complaint against the Additional District Magistrate (ADM) of Shajapur for beating up a youth publicly for opening the shutter of a shop during Corona curfew.

The complaint has been sent to the Chief Minister, National Human Rights Commission (NHRC), Union Public Service Commission (UPSC), Department of Personnel and Training (DoPT), Central government and other concerned departments.

The organisation general secretary Vasid Khan informed that recently, in Shajapur ADM Manjushah Vikrant Rai, citing violation of Corona curfew, got furious and publicly humiliated a youth. Such an attitude of an administrative officer is unwarranted and completely against the administrative ethics and human values. This act of ADM has definitely tarnished the dignity of the administrative post and is a clear violation of the human rights of a common citizen, he added. The NCHRO demanded to take strict legal action against the officer.

Cancellation of Class 12 examinations

'Thodi khushi, thoda gham', react students in city

OUR STAFF REPORTER
BHOPAL

'Thodi khushi, thoda gam' is how the reaction of the students in the city to the cancellation of Class 12 exams can be summed up. Within less than 24 hours of Prime Minister Narendra Modi announcing the cancellation of the CBSE Class 12 exams, Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan declared that the MP Board of Secondary Education (MPBSE) would not be holding the examinations for Class 12 this year. The decision has been taken in view of the second wave of Covid-19.

Free Press asked Class 12 students of schools affiliated to the CBSE and the MPBSE what they felt about the decision. Almost all of them agree that the safety of the students was most important. They, however, are also worried about what criteria would be used to award marks and what the basis for college admissions would be.

Chanchal Verma is feeling odd. She regrets that her hard work has gone to waste. "I was fully prepared for the examinations. Now, there'll be no proof that I'd covered the syllabus thoroughly," she says. Jay Mauraya is happy that the uncertainty has ended and things have become clear. "I can now focus on preparing for the JEE," he says.

Shreyansh Bankey says that the marks to be awarded to the students would depend on the teachers. "It would be their perception that would decide our marks. Also, if the final exams had been held, the students would have got a chance to improve their performance," he says.

Sanchita Shivede feels that the exams should have been held. "Cancellation is no solution. It'll affect our future. They could've held online examinations for the main subjects," she says. Sanchita adds that the students may even face problems while trying for jobs.

Shivam Chandra says that the CBSE could have organised the examinations in July-August. The government has given the option that the students can appear in the examination whenever it is held in future. "But this is meaningless as we can't wait for months," he said. He is happy that the examinations have been cancelled, but also sad because his career may suffer.

Babli Sharma is very disappointed because she was preparing to win a position in the merit list.
