Quad key example of US, partners pulling together for free Indo-Pacific: US

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA Washington, February 10

THE QUAD IS a key example of the US and its closest partners, including India, pulling together for the good of a free and open Indo-Pacific region, the Biden administration has said.

The Quad, or the Quadrilateral Security Dialogue, is an informal grouping of four countries: Australia, India, Japan and the United States. It is aimed at ensuring a free and open Indo-Pacific, a strategically vital region that witnessed increasing Chinese military assertiveness in recent years. "What I would say generally is that the Quad is a key example of the United States and our closest partners, including, in this case, India, pulling together for the good of a free and open Indo-Pacific region," State Department Spokesperson Ned Price told reporters at his daily news conference on Tuesday.

Myanmar faces business fallout after Kirin retreat

BLOOMBERG February 10

MYANMAR'S POLITICAL UP-HEAVAL is prompting global companies from Japan to Thailand to dial back operations in the country, spurring concern about a widening business fall-

From beer maker Kirin Holdings to an early backer of gaming firm Razer, companies and investors are weighing the impact of a military coup that's thrust the once-thriving nation into a state of emergency. The turmoil is prompting multinationals like Thailand's biggest industrial developer to delay investment plans, a harbinger of things to come should the chaos deepen.

Western nations are applying pressure on the newly installed military government of the Southeast Asian country,

once regarded as greenfield

territory for everything from oil and gas to leisure resorts. With the US reiterating plans to renew sanctions, it could cause a rippling effect among businesses, threatening $5.5 billion in foreign investment in a country that just a few years ago was on the path to democracy.

"It will definitely get bigger as these corporations get on board the leave-first-and-askquestions-later bandwagon,"

Justin Tang, head of Asian research at United First Partners in Singapore.

Myanmar has been attracting more outside investment in recent years after posting double-digit economic growth in the early part of the last decade. Bordering the massive markets of India and China Myanmar has abundant natural resources, including oil and gas, gold, silver and precious stones.
