ive 2026. ICRA recently said it ng. "expects crude prices to e a remain in the range of $100-lia. 120/barrel for FY2023 owing are to increasing demand as lockive downs ease globally, under-ur- investment in the upstream be sector for the past several years nd and limited spare capacity."

A lower oil prices would ease pressure on India's current account deficit and have a salutary effect on the fisc as prices of many major commodities, including natural gas and subsidised goods like fertilisers, are linked to oil.

Oil minister Hardeep Singh Puri on July 7 said the recent fall in the crude oil price is out of recessionary fear and the price might come down further if global economies continue to pass through adverse circumstances.
