Auto sector could grow in double digits in FY23

Analysts say SUVs to lead charge in cars, two-wheelers could make strong comeback

SHALLY SETH MOHILE Mumbai, 16 June

fter negotiating some tight corners over the last three years, India's automotive market is poised single-to-double-digit for growth across segments from commercial vehicles (CVs) and tractors, to passenger vehicles and two-wheelers as demand and supply-side problems even out.

While CVs are expected to benefit from strong replacement demand, the twowheeler and tractor segments are expected to gain from a recovery in the rural economy.

PV sales, which have remained range bound because of the semiconductor shortage despite robust demand, too, are expected to advance at a fast clip and will be the first to return to the peak volume levels of financial year 2018-19 (FY19) as automakers start sourcing chips from multiple vendors, said Binav Singh. India autos and shared mobility analyst, Morgan Stanley. It will be followed by CVs and two-wheelers, he added.

Continuing the recent trend, SUVs (sport utility vehicles) will lead the momentum, said Shashank Srivastava, executive director, Maruti Suzuki India. In the last couple of years, the share of SUVs and MPVs has risen in the PV seg-

"This trend is expected this year as well and subject to no supply-side constraints the overall PV market may exceed the previous best of FY19. However, segment-wise the market structure will change with greater share of SUVs and MPVs," Srivastava told Business Standard. The share of SUVs and MPVs in the overall PV market is expected to jump to and reach around 3.7 million units as semiconductor availability improves, he said.

Semiconductor inventory at some of the global tier-I OEMs (original equipment manufacturers) has now increased to one or two months, said Singh. This will gradually trickle down across the industry and improve supplies by the second half of FY23.

Car market leader Maruti Suzuki India's management said during the post-earnings investor call that they expect the PV market to end FY23 with sales of 3.4-3.5 million units. This despite the company expecting chip availability to remain a challenge.

Others too are optimistic on PVs. According to a recent note by brokerage Motilal Oswal, PV volumes are likely to recover from the low base of FY21, driven by higher aspirations, improving affordability, and lower penetration. It expects the PV industry to clock a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 15 per cent in terms of volumes over FY22-24.

There were some indications of this bounce in May as auto sales increased fourfold vear-on-vear (YoY) to 1.532.809 units, according to the Society Indian Automobile of Manufacturers (Siam).
