Ramlila and Dussehra in a pandemic era

Our Correspondent

New Delhi/October 12 The Delhi Disaster Management Authority (DDMA) on Sunday allowed Navratri and Dussehra Pujas to be organised in the national Capital with limited attendees, even as it prohibited all kinds of fairs (melas), food stalls, exhibitions, rallies and processions till October 31.

However, despite the order some of the biggest and oldest Ramlila committees in Delhi have decided to skip organising any event this year, a first for them in several decades.

With just five days left for the festivities to begin, Delhi chief secretary Vijay Dev issued the order on Sunday in which the DDMA also lifted the ban on gatherings and large congregations for the first time since the nationwide lockdown was imposed on March 25. "It may be noted that the restriction on gatherings and large congregations... stands withdrawn only to the extent of allowing gatherings/congregations for celebration of upcoming festivals till 31st October, 2020 only," read the order.

It stated that apart from the statutory permissions that need to be taken every year, this time owing to Covid-19, every organiser will have to take permission from the district magistrate. Delhi has 11 districts.

Revenue minister Kailash Gahlot, who is a member of the DDMA, said the permission to allow Ramlila and Dussehra Pujas functions has been decentralised this time with the power being given to each district administration to decide which ones should be allowed.

The organiser will have to apply to the DM. After the application is received, a team of district officials including those from the Delhi police and the municipal corporation concerned will inspect the venue. Parameters such as area and the number of visitors allowed inside at a time will be decided based on the inspection. Spaces which are too small may not be granted permission owing to social distancing norms," said the minister.

A senior revenue official said that it is likely that this time the number of functions that are held across the city will be far lesser than previous years. A nodal officer has to be appointed by the DM for each function. In case of any violation, the permission granted to an organiser will be immediately withdrawn for the subsequent years. Videography of each pandal or venue will be a must and a soft copy of each day's function will have to be submitted to the DM's office, which in turn will be sent to the chief secretary," said the official on condition of anonymity. Arjun Kumar, general secretary of Lav Kush Ramlila, said that he and his committee will not happen this year. "Usually we get the permission for the land from the Archaeological Survey of India around 60 days before the start of the event. The first day of Navratri this time is Saturday, October 17. But, Union culture minister Prahlad Singh Patel himself is getting treated for Covid, so our file is stuck. Also, our Ramlila plays involve 250 artists who do each other make-up which means coming close to each other. If by chance anyone gets the infection, all the cheer gives up making the arrangements for 11 days will go in vain because the venue will be sealed for sanitisation," Kumar said. Ravi Jain, press secretary of Shri Dharmik Leela Committee also said they won't be organising any function this year as did 11 other committees in Rohini alone. While Navratri will begin from October 17 to 25 (Dussehra), Dussehra will be celebrated from October 22 to 26. wapun Ganguly, general secretary of New Delhi Kali Baru, one of the oldest Durga Puja organisers in the city, said for the first time they will not offer bhog on site. "In a first, we will home deliver Durga Ma's blessings and the cheer gives up making for the bhog. Other visitors who insist on getting the bhog will have to make a nominal payment this time and will be given the 'prasad' in packed boxes as they exit the pandal," he said. Ganguly said as per the order issued by the DDMA, they too have planned separate entry and exit with sanitising tunnels for visitors. "We are creating a proper route for visitors coming to see the Durga idol. Also, there will be no stage performances or food stalls this time," he said.

100% is becoming a cut-off norm at Delhi university

Our Correspondent

New Delhi/October 12 The Delhi University cut-off touched the 100% ceiling for the first time in 2011. Shri Ram College of Commerce (SRCC) had set the mark for admission to B Com (Hons), attracting a raft of reactions from students, parents and academics. Since then, several colleges have demanded cent per cent marks for admission to various courses. This year, it was Lady Shri Ram (LSR) College that has set 100% cut off for three courses.

Experts cited several reasons for the trend, most prominent of which is the way how the evaluation for the Central Board for Secondary Examination (CBSE) exams has changed over the years. PC Jain, the then principal of SRCC, said the colleges set the cut-off at 100% in view of the increase in the number of top scorers in the CBSE Class 12 board exams. "The number of students scoring above 90% and 95% was exceptionally high that year and it's been increasing every year since then. In fact, students are scoring a percent of 100 in the most theoretical subjects like History, Political Science and Sociology. It's not just happening in CBSE but also in several state boards now. There is a possibility that more colleges will announce 100% cut-offs in the coming years," he said.

This year, while the number of CBSE students scoring 95% and above increased by 118.6% this year, those getting 90% and above went up by 67.48%. This is significant since a majority of applications (285,128) received by the university are from the CBSE board.

The Delhi University announced its first cut-off that on Saturday with an average increase of 0.5 to 2 percentage points across colleges for various courses.

DU officials also pointed out that colleges set very high cut-offs to prevent 'over admissions'. According to the witnessed admissions double the number of available seats. College principal Anju Shrivastava said, "The number of top scorers is high and to limit the admissions we have to keep the cut-offs high." The highest cut-off at the college is 99.5% this year for Political Science.

Another official said the colleges did not have course-wise data for applications - an important metric while setting cut-offs. The application process was tweaked a little this year since the coronavirus pandemic delayed the board exams and their results, leading to an overall delay in the admission process. Since the entire process was online, the applicants were made to fill forms in which they didn't have to specify course.

"Since the university did not seek course-wise or college-wise information this year, as many as 2,512 girl students with 100% applied for admission, as per the registrar's data. Over 13,000 were in the range of 95-99.9%.

Why silence on mob lynching of Hindus? - Dr. Surendra Jain

New Delhi/October 12

The Vishwa Hindu Parishad has expressed its concern over the brutal killing of a boy Rahul Kandel, son of a driver from a poor backward class in Delhi, by some radical Muslims, asking if this 19-year-old teenager being friends with a Muslim girl had become his crime, for which he was penalized by Jihad elements with mob lynching? VHP Central Joint General Secretary Dr. Surendra Jain today said that it is a matter of great concern for the entire country that whenever a Hindu boy falls in love with a Muslim girl, that boy is tagged as a criminal and gets marked for sure death penalty, but when a Muslim boy establishes a relationship with a Hindu girl even by force or fraud, he does not come under any category of crime for them. By tagging the Hindu youth as a criminal and killing him by mob lynching cannot be an indicator of a civilized society. Despite this, one has to comprehend why a large section of Muslim society nurses so much hatred for Hindus. Even on trivial matters, he goes on to mob-lynch Hindus. In the last four-five years, there have been more than 73 incidents of mob lynching of Hindus by Jihadists. In the national capital Delhi itself, there have been more than 9 mob lynching incidents to kill Hindus in the last 5 years. He said that the VHP urges the leaders of Muslim society to remedy and cure this sickness Jihadist Hindutva of a section of their society and bring them to the path of CO-EXISTENCE.

The tolerance of Hindu society should not be taken otherwise. The Vishwa Hindu Parishad believes that the so-called secular fraternity is no less guilty for promoting this bigotry and violent hatred. For some isolated incidents with a member of Muslim society, they not only put the central government but the Hindu society and the entire country in the dock, but not a word of sympathy and condolence escapes their mouth when scores of youths like Rahul are mob-lynched. When IB officer Ankit Sharma was accused, brutally tortured and killed and his badly mutilated body dumped in the drain, way was the mouth of the secular fraternity stitched? A despicable and repellent crime like rape is unpardonable. But in this too, only the secular fraternity can commit the crime of seeing Hindu and Muslim. Their reactions in the Hadrass incident has made it clear that these incidents are merely a means for the secular fraternity to fulfil their vested interests and they also commit the crime of becoming the puppets in the hands of anti-India foreign powers.

The role of Dalit organizations like the Bhim Army has made it clear that they too do not hesitate to play their anti-Dalit and anti-national role to fulfil their vested interests. They are working overtime to destabilize elected national governments, promote anti-national activities, defame the Hindu society and the country.
