Quake in Morocco kills more than 1,000

Rescuers carry out a search operation following a powerful 6.8-magnitude earthquake, in Amizmiz, in Morocco on Saturday

The tremor was the biggest to hit the country in 120 years

ASSOCIATED PRESS Marrakech, September 9

A RARE POWERFUL earthquake struck Morocco late Friday night, killing more than 1,000 people and damaging buildings from villages in the Atlas Mountains to the historic city of Marrakech. The full toll was not known as rescuers struggled to get through boulder-strewn roads to the remote mountain villages hit hardest. People woken by the magnitude-6.8 quake ran into the streets in terror and disbelief. State television showed people clustered in the streets of Marrakech, afraid to go back inside buildings that might still be unstable. The quake was the biggest to hit Morocco in 120 years, and it toppled buildings and walls in ancient cities made from stone and masonry not designed to withstand quakes. "The problem is that where destructive earthquakes are rare, buildings are simply not constructed robustly enough to cope with strong ground shaking, so many collapse resulting in high casualties," said Bill McGuire, professor emeritus of geophysical and climate hazards at University College London. In a sign of the huge scale of the disaster, Morocco's King Mohammed VI ordered the armed forces to mobilise air and land assets, specialised search and rescue teams and a surgical field hospital, according to a statement from the military. In an exceptional move, Algeria offered to open its airspace to allow eventual humanitarian aid or medical evacuation flights to travel to and from Morocco. Algeria closed the airspace when its government severed diplomatic ties with Morocco in 2021 over a series of issues. The countries have a decades-long dispute involving the territory of Western Sahara. Algerian President Abdelmadjid Tebboune's office said in a statement that Algeria is ready to offer humanitarian aid "in solidarity with the brotherly Moroccan people, in case the authorities of the Moroccan kingdom express a wish for this." The statement also offered to reopen the airspace, and condolences for the dead and "deepest compassion" for the injured. World leaders offered to send in aid or rescue crews as condolences poured in from countries around Europe, the Middle East and a Group of 20 summit in India. In Marrakech, the famous Koutoubia Mosque, built in the 12th century, was damaged, but the extent was not immediately clear. Its 69-meter minaret is known as the "roof of Marrakech." Moroccans also posted videos showing damage to parts of the famous red walls that surround the old city, a UNESCO World Heritage site. At least 1,037 people died, mostly in Marrakech and five provinces near the quake's epicentre, and another 1,204 people were injured, Morocco's interior ministry reported. Of the injured, the ministry wrote, 721 were in critical condition.

More voice to funds for Global South

AANCHAL MAGAZINE New Delhi, September 9

A PUSH FOR "bigger, better and more effective" multilateral development banks, a fully functional dispute settlement system under the World Trade Organisation, and a regulatory framework for crypto, debt resolution, financial inclusion and digital public infrastructure, were some of the key economic outcomes under the G20 New Delhi Leaders' Declaration on Saturday. Terming it as a "people-centric, action-oriented and far-sighted" approach, Union finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman said the outcomes reflect a "shared path for all", ensuring that no country, especially those from the Global South, is left behind. "It has been very clear in our mind that we should ensure that no one is left behind in our pursuit of global solutions, so we have endeavoured to support countries, especially those from the Global South to be an integral part of the decision-making processes. The G20 is a very diverse group, each country is at different milestones of economic development and their trajectory is also very different in achieving their developmental goals. So, through well-curated debates and careful assimilation of all the perspectives, the Indian Presidency has crafted solutions that resonate with each member, offering a shared path forward for all," she said. Sitharaman said there was agreement among G20 nations for "better, bigger and more effective" MDBs, which she termed as necessary because of high developmental demands from all across the globe. "This is also going to contribute to enhancing the representation and voice of developing countries in decision making," she said. There has been an agreement to boost the World Bank's financing capacity and options will be explored to enhance the headroom of The International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD or World Bank) to support low-income and middle-income countries, she said. Sitharaman further said that the implementation of the capital adequacy framework and the measures thereby will potentially yield additional lending headroom of approximately $200 billion over the next decade. The G20 independent expert group on strengthening MDBs has already submitted its first volume of the report recommending a triple agenda to address eliminating extreme poverty, inclusive growth and the financing of global public goods along with a suggestion to constitute a 'Global Challenges Funding' mechanism for 'Global Public Goods.' The second volume of the report will be taken up for discussion at the World Bank and IMF annual meetings in Marrakech in October. On the issue of common norms for crypto, Sitharaman said the global push for clearer policies on crypto assets has gained momentum under the Indian presidency and the global consensus is emerging on the same.

Chandrababu Naidu arrested for alleged siphoning of funds

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA Amaravati, September 9

TDP CHIEF N Chandrababu Naidu was on Saturday named as the 'principal conspirator' by the Andhra Pradesh police in the Skill Development Corporation scam, causing a loss of ₹300 crore to the state government. Naidu was arrested in connection with the fraud in an early morning police operation which involved officers knocking on the door of the caravan in which he was sleeping. The former CM was arrested by the CID police around 6 am from a marriage hall (outside which his caravan was parked) at Gnanapuram in Nandyal. Addressing reporters after Naidu's arrest, APCID chief N Sanjay said the investigation implicated the former AP CM and TDP as beneficiaries of misappropriation of funds. "...this case revolves around the establishment of clusters of Centers of Excellence (CoEs) in the state of Andhra Pradesh, with a total estimated project value of ₹3,300 crore. The alleged fraud has caused huge loss to the Government of Andhra Pradesh in excess of ₹300 crore," he said. Reacting to his arrest, Naidu in a post on X (formerly Twitter), said, "For the past 45 years, I have selflessly served Telugu people. I am prepared to sacrifice my life to safeguard the interests of Telugu people. No force on earth can stop me from serving Telugu people, my #AndhraPradesh and my motherland." "Finally, truth and dharma will triumph. Whatever they do to me, I will march forward for the people," he said. According to Sanjay, the statement of public officials recorded under section 164 CrPc clearly points to the involvement of former AP CM as the principal decision maker to release the money in advance. Chandrababu Naidu."

Tax notices to startups on investors' creditworthiness

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, September 9

THE INCOME TAX Department has slapped notices on some startups seeking information on creditworthiness of their investors as it looked to verify if the amount invested was commensurate with the income declared by the investors. The tax department replying to a social media post of BharatPe co-founder and former MD Ashneer Grover, said under the law, the onus was on the assessee-company to provide the identity and creditworthiness of the investors as well as the genuineness of the transaction. "In the last one month, a number of startups (a few in my portfolio as well) have received Income Tax notices asking to furnish information about shareholders," Grover had said on a post on X, formerly Twitter, on September 8. "Bahut interesting hai (it is Replying to him, the Income Tax Department in a post on X said, "Section 68 of Income-Tax Act, 1961 (the Act) under which the Assessing Officer (AO) has made the enquiry about creditworthiness of the shareholder/investor, places initial onus on the assessee-company to prove the following: a) Identity of the investor, b) Creditworthiness of the investor and c) Genuineness of the transaction." It went on to state that the "Finance Act, 2012 mandated that the nature and source of any sum credited as share capital, share premium etc., in the books of a closely-held company (excluding Venture Capital Fund or a Venture Capital Company registered with SEBI) shall be treated as explained u/s 68 only if the source of funds from a resident shareholder is also explained by investor."
