PM Modi calls for hybrid mode of learning in schools

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI, MAY 7

TAKING STOCK of the progress of implementation of the National Education Policy, (NEP) 2020, Prime Minister Narendra Modi Saturday underlined the need for a combination of online and offline learning in schools.

At a review meeting, attended by Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan and top officials from CBSE, NCERT and UGC among others, Modi also instructed that databases maintained by anganwadi centres be integrated with records maintained by schools.

"Modi observed that a hybrid system of online and offline learning should be developed to avoid overexposure of technology of school-going children. The databases maintained by anganwadi centers should be seamlessly integrated with the school databases as children move from anganwadis to schools," according to a statement issued by the Prime Minister's Office.

DAY AFTER BJP LEADER BAGGA'S ARREST

CBI searches premises linked to Punjab AAP MLA in fraud case

DEEPTIMANTIWARY NEW DELHI, MAY 7

THE CBI on Saturday searched premises associated with Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) MLA from Punjab, Jaswant Singh, in connection with a case of bank loan fraud amounting to Rs 40.92 crore and allegedly involving a company in which Singh is a director.

This comes a day after Punjab Police had arrested BJP leader Tejinder Pal Singh Bagga, leading to a clash between Punjab Police and Delhi Police, which filed an FIR against the personnel of the

"The Central Bureau of Investigation is today conducting searches at three locations, including at Malerkotla (Punjab), at the premises of accused including private firms, Directors/Guarantors in an ongoing investigation of a bank fraud case. Cash of Rs 16.57 lakh (approx), around 88 foreign currency notes, some property documents, several bank accounts and other incriminating documents were found and recovered during searches," the CBI said in a statement.

According to CBI, it registered a case of bank loan fraud against Tara Corporation Ltd (later renamed Malaudh Agro Ltd), in which Singh is a director, based on a complaint from Bank of India, Ludhiana branch. The company is based in Gaunspura, in Malerkotla tehsil of Punjab. Along with Singh and the company, CBI has booked Balwant Singh, Kulwant Singh and Tejinder Singh, all directors in the company, in the case.

The agency has also booked a related entity, Tara Health Foods, and its directors.

CBI sources said all directors of the company were found to be residing in the same house and were related. During searches, CBI also found 94 cheques bearing signatures of different people, along with as many Aadhaar cards, it was informed.

According to CBI, Tara Corporation was engaged in trading of DOC rice bran, DOC mustard cake, cottonseed cake, maize, bajra and other foodgrain.

"The borrower firm was sanctioned loans at four intervals from 2011-2014 by the Bank," the agency stated. "It was alleged that the firm through its directors had concealed hypothecated stock and diverted book debts with mala fide and dishonest intention so that the same were not made available to the creditor Bank for inspection and for effecting recovery as secured creditor."

The CBI alleges that this caused a loss of Rs 40.92 crore to the bank. "It was also alleged that the loan availed by the accused has not been used for the purpose for which it was availed," the CBI said in the statement.

Three arrested for cow slaughter in

Seoni, over 19 kg beef seized, say cops Friday night, Seoni's additional as axes used for the slaughter, he superintendent of police (ASP)S said.

> The trio were booked under provisions of the Madhya Pradesh Cow Slaughter Prohibition Act, Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Act and Arms Act, the official said.

Earlier this week, two tribal men identified as Sampat Batti from Sagar village and Dhansa from Simaria were beaten by a group of 15-20 people over suspicion of cow slaughter at Simaria under Kurai police station limits in Seoni district.

Bajrang Dal says works with police, handed over Seoni tribals to it

DEATH OF TWO TRIBAL MEN OVER COW SLAUGHTER

ANAND MOHAN J SEONI (MP), MAY 7

FOR THE past two days, Bajrang Dal leaders in Seoni district in Madhya Pradesh have been in damage control mode. They have issued an apology over the death of two tribal men over cow slaughter allegations, and released a video purportedly showing both had been handed over to police. They also claim to be working in coordination with police, a fact acknowledged by the force.

Of the 13 men arrested for the death of the tribals, families of six told The Sunday Express they had Bajrang Dal links.

The video released by the Bajrang Dal shows policemen at the spot along with its men armed with sticks, surrounding the tribals Sampatlal Vatti and Dhansai Invati. Says Devender Sain, Zila Sahvojak of the Bajrang Dal's Seoni unit: "The men who are accused of being members of our unit handed over the two men to police. We coordinate with police on every cow protection raid giving them crucial tip-offs. Those two men should not have died. We are sorry about that."

Senior officers of Seoni district admit they rely on tip-offs from various vigilante outfits, including Bajrang Dal men, to check cattle smuggling in the region.

Every year around 120 cases of cattle smuggling are reported in the district. The Kurai Police Station, where the lynching case is being investigated, sees 30-40 cases per year, police said. On Saturday, police reported the arrest of three persons for alleged cow slaughter and seizure of over 19 kg of suspected beef in Seoni.

SP Kumar Prateek, posted in Seoni district for the past two years, says he has repurposed a highway patrol unit comprising five policemen, including an armed officer and four constables. who instead of highway robberies, now focus on cattle smuggling. Prateek says that roping in the vigilante outfits denies them the excuse that the administration is not checking cattle smuggling. "I am in touch with most of these outfit members... Per day we get one-two informer tip-offs," the SP says.

He adds that most of the inputs are about the colour of vehicles, and that of the 120-odd cases a year, 80% involve rescue of live cattle. The rest are of cattle slaughter. There have been cases of cattle smugglers taking on police, says Prateek, including damaging their vehicles or ramming through a police barricade. Tapasvi Upadhyay, the Seoni district chief of Bajrang Dal, says their cow protection members are chosen with care, after testing their knowledge and articulation on key talking points, such as the "importance of cow" in Hindu religion. "The recruitment drive is carried out during yearly Hindu festivals. We look at whether a karyakarta has aastha (devotion) towards the cow," he says.

The members are deployed at the local road and transport authority offices to keep tabs on vehicles, he says, adding: "The transport authorities can't make out if cattle are being transported. Our karyakartas rely on cues like the sound of a cow's hooves thumping the vehicle, or their smell... The vehicle number and its destination state are noted and provided to police."

VHP Seoni president Akhilesh Chauhan says their cow protection unit members are deployed at multiple exit points to the district, covering a 60-km stretch. They don't have any ID or certificates, Chauhan adds. "They along with their neighbours go out on operations. They note down vehicle registration numbers if there is suspicion of cattle smuggling. The input is given to the local SP and town inspectors, who are our point of contact."

Kurai Police Station in-charge Ganpat Singh Uike says staff shortage means they can't always patrol the two checking points near Kurai. "We are short of 15 men... We do depend on tip-offs from vigilante outfits and coordinate with them."

Tribal leader and Congress MLA Arjun Singh Kakodia says the Seoni killings were the first they had heard of, but alleges a deep racket behind the whole vigilantepolice operation. 'This is all a business. The largest animal market in Seoni district is in Barghat area, which sees business of Rs 10 lakh per week. This market is visited by local farmers who buy and sell cattle... The vigilante outfits don't rescue cattle and send them to gaushalas. They are sold at these animal markets for a profit. The prices of cows, buffaloes and goats have escalated this year."

VHP and Bajrang Dal leaders refute this by claiming to have rescued 1,980 cattle this year, and around 10,000 since 2016.

BJP district chief Alok Dubey says the district has nine gaushalas managed by local temple trusts, which suffer from a manpower shortage. "The younger generation does not have much love for the cow. The older generation is busy with their own work. We need support to sustain them," Dubey says.

Delhi cops forcibly took Bagga away: Punjab Police in DD entry

MAHENDER SINGH MANRAL NEW DELHI, MAY 7

MULTIPLE DAILY diary (DD) entries were filed by the Punjab Police at Sadar Thanesar police station in Haryana's Kurukshetra, in which they have alleged they were forcibly stopped by the Haryana Police around 10.40 am, held hostage for around five hours, before the Delhi Police forcibly took Delhi BIP spokesperson Tajinder Pal Singh Bagga from their custody, it is learnt.

The Haryana Police, on the other hand, mentions in a DD entry that Delhi Police showed all legal documents and took Bagga's custody after taking consent from the Punjab Police.

Sources said that Janakpuri police station in Delhi, near Bagga's home, first received a PCR call at 9.10 am in which his father, Preetpal Singh Bagga, said that some people from Punjab Police had come and abducted Bagga. "Another PCR call was received at 9.29 am from a police personnel, who said he is posted with the Punjab Police and that he had come with his Deputy SP to Janakpuri police station to make a DD entry regarding Bagga's arrest," a senior police officer said. An officer said that after the arrival of Punjab Police at Janakpuri police station, officers from Delhi came to know that another team had already picked up Bagga from his house and they were heading to Mohali. "A message was then conveyed from the (Delhi Police) top brass to intervene since Bagga's father had also filed a kidnapping complaint, and a message from the control line was flashed at 9.42 am for the Punjab team to be stopped," the officer said.

Sources told The Sunday Express that the Harvana Police filed a first DD entry at 10.40 am, mentioning that they had stopped the vehicles of Punjab Police at Khanpur Kolian village after receiving a message from the Delhi Police. "In another DD entry filed at 12.40 pm, they mentioned that they took the team and Bagga to Sadar Thanesar police station, and filed another DD entry at 2.40 pm after a team of the Delhi Police arrived." a source said.

"As per the third DD entry, filed at 3.30 pm, the Haryana Police stated that a team of Delhi Police had arrived and showed legal documents, including a search warrant issued by a Delhi court to SHO Ianakpuri, to locate Bagga," the source said.

At 4.24 pm, an Additional DGrank officer of the Punjab Police arrived at the police station and the Punjab Police filed a DD entry at 5 pm. "They stated that they were stopped by Haryana police for around two hours without being provided any information. They also stated that they were held hostage, and without their consent, Bagga was taken away forcibly by the Delhi Police," the source said.

Punjab cops seek order to preserve footage from Delhi, Haryana police stations

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE CHANDIGARH, MAY 7

THE PUNIAB Police has filed an application before the Punjab and Haryana High Court seeking directions to preserve CCTV footage from Janakpuri police station in Delhi and Sadar Thanesar police station in Haryana's Kurukshetra.

This comes a day after the Punjab government filed a habeas corpus petition in the HC challenging the alleged detention of its police officers in Haryana and Delhi while they were undertaking an operation to arrest BJP leader Tajinder Pal Singh Bagga. In response, both Haryana and Delhi filed affidavits stating they had not detained any Punjab Police officer. The matter came up for hearing on Saturday before the bench of Justice Gurvinder Singh Gill, who ordered to list the matter for hearing on May 10. This came after Additional Solicitor General of India Satya Pal Jain, who is representing the Delhi Police in the matter. sought more time to file a reply.

The Punjab government also sought to implead the Delhi Police Commissioner and Centre as respondents in the case.

The application filed by the Punjab Police Saturday states that footage from both police stations needs to be preserved, and produced before the court, for a correct decision in the present case.
