Moving ahead with conviction

At Strides, there have been many learnings derived from a muted performance in FY 2021-22. Building on these perspectives, we implemented several course correction measures and are on track for a full recovery in FY 2022-23. We identified areas of concern and increased our focus on strengthening our fundamentals to face future challenges and a dynamic external environment.

For faster recovery in the US, we have been de-risking the business from its acute-only strategy to a well-diversified player. In other regulated markets (ORM), including Europe, Australia, and other parts of the world, we aim to continue the growth momentum by focusing on new customer acquisitions and expanding into new geographies through strategic partnerships and portfolio expansion. Over the years, we have steadily increased our wallet share in emerging markets. We will continue to strengthen our presence in these regions through our cost leadership and selective portfolio expansion.

While focusing on business growth, we are committed to creating sustainable value for all our stakeholders. Together, we are striding ahead with greater confidence in our ability to bounce back, make sustainable progress and usher a brighter future for the Company.

Chairman and MD's Message

Focused on restoring growth

While the operating environment continues to evolve and is ambiguous, we remain optimistic and confident about delivering significant value to our stakeholders in the coming years.

Despite a difficult year, we have been seeing green shoots from Q4 FY 2022. As the Company's founder and promoter, I acknowledge that we couldn't deliver to our potential. It is simple to rationalise the challenges of the business environment, however accepting responsibility, fixing inadequacies, charting a new course, and moving forward are most important.

I am excited to return to Strides in an executive role, and we are committed to restoring the Company to its former health. We are working towards strengthening our fundamentals and developing strategies in response to the changing pharmaceutical landscape.

As we gear up for a faster recovery in FY 2022-23, we have devised a clear strategy that focuses on our global product supply. We implemented a number of capability-building programmes to help us improve our performance. Furthermore, we have established distinct strategic priorities for each key market.

The US remains a key focus market

We have seen improvement across our businesses since Q4 FY 2022, including the recovery of our US business. We are progressing further by integrating Chestnut Ridge operations in the US, which will help us achieve our target of over $250 Million in revenue from US operations in FY 2022-23. Given that we have over 150 products approved, we should be able to see sequential growth in the US, giving us room to grow the business from organisation to stay resilient and focused on a sharp bounce back to cushion the business and add more value with our offerings.

Making sound decisions

We witnessed unusual price erosion and volume drops in the US, leading to a significant contraction in our gross margins. The other regulated markets delivered tepid growth due to Covid-related disruptions. Our Emerging Markets business witnessed growth as the region was not significantly impacted by the challenges peculiar to the regulated markets.

Dear Shareholders,

I begin with the hope that this letter finds you and your loved ones at the top of your health and spirits. In every way, the global community, as well as businesses, have waded through a sea of change during the last two years. With a sinister Covid wave re-emerging in the country at the beginning of the year, widespread supply disruptions, commodity price rises, and the Russia-Ukraine conflict deepening, FY 2021-22 was a challenging year for several sectors, and the state of affairs was no different for the pharmaceutical industry and for Strides. That said, we have made exemplary efforts as an there. We have plans to launch around 20 products per year from this fiscal. Our new domain additions, which include controlled substances, hormones, and nasal sprays, will help accelerate portfolio differentiation, thereby driving growth.

Scaling up ORMs

Other regulated markets or ORM is an important part of our growth strategy, fuelled by our front-end in key markets and IP-led B2B partnerships in Europe, Australia, and other parts of the world. In these markets, our R&D investments will fast-track growth opportunities for the Rx and OTC portfolios, as several new products will be launched in FY 2022-23.

Market and portfolio expansion in emerging markets

Our emerging market business includes African and institutional or access market verticals. The access market vertical has a relatively lower margin, but it is critical to reducing under-recoveries at our manufacturing sites, given the volumes. Our cost leadership and selective product portfolio expansion will drive institutional business growth. In Africa, we are focusing on scaling up our business by expanding our geographic footprint in the region and ensuring better penetration of existing markets through portfolio expansion.

Road ahead

While the operating environment continues to evolve and is ambiguous, we remain optimistic and confident about delivering significant value to our stakeholders in the coming years. We have made several changes to our businesses, focusing on growth, improving cash flows, and debt reduction. In addition, the focus will be on efficient inventory management, improving capacity utilisation, and optimal capital allocation, thereby reducing under-recoveries.

We will also optimise our manufacturing network for better outcomes and aggressively focus on cost and debt reduction. We plan to reduce our gross debt by more than ₹1,000 crores in FY 2022-23, targeting Net Debt to EBITDA below 3x.

Finally, I would like to thank everyone who has supported

Strides over the years. I reassure you that we will continue to uphold our core values of integrity, collaboration, and efficiency while creating sustainable value for all stakeholders. I am excited about the journey ahead, with the Board's guidance and the advice and collaboration of my management colleagues, employees, partners, customers, and all of our stakeholders.

Warm regards
Arun

CFO's review

Charting a new course

Consistency and sustainability will be our mantra as we address issues of the present, past and future simultaneously. The conviction is very high at this point of time as we continue to work tirelessly to rebuild the company.

Dear Shareholders,

At the beginning of the year, I highlighted that market behaviour continues to be very challenging, with price and supply chain disruptions adding to downswing risks.

FY 2021-22 has not met our expectations in terms of performance across internal and external parameters, with price erosions, bloated cost structures, and long Cash to Cash (C2C) cycles resulting in negative operating leverage/cash flows. Significant negative operating cash flows resulted in the ballooning of debt and a downgrade in credit rating by ICRA. We adopted several liquidity measures, but the nosedive in performance resulted in poor ratios on the balance sheet. For the first time, we reported an operating PAT loss. While the reasons can be attributed to many factors, we will be better prepared in the future for challenges to come.

We have taken several corrective actions, expected to reflect in our results H2 of FY 2022-23 onwards. This includes measures on PEG (Profitability - Efficiency - Growth). Seamless execution/superior governance will enable it. Consistency and sustainability will be the focus and will pave the way for debt reduction and cash flow generation. I would like to dwell on a few of the targets.

From a revenue standpoint, we have set ourselves the US revenue target of US$250 Million driven by several new launches. We have initiated many cost management programmes to gain cost leadership in key molecules and improve the gross margins. On the workforce cost front, we are focusing on right-sizing the company and variable pay programme to drive accountability. From an operational cost point of view, we are resetting the entire cost base by reducing logistics costs, enhancing governance and tightening control on costs. All this will lead to the focus on absolute EBITDA growth and steady build-up. The green shoots of all our actions are visible as we get into the new year with promise.

To sum up, the key priorities are as follows for the next year:

- Daily governance and review cadence is being strengthened to avoid surprises
- We are institutionalising all the important processes implementing strong controls
- Cost management – Revisit all costs and get back to profitability
- Reset or exit some of the low margin P&Ls, which do not positively impact our margins
- Liquidity challenges need to be addressed during the year. Once growth returns, superior operating leverage and working capital efficiencies are the focus areas

- Improve all metrics of profitability/efficiency/growth, including superior ROCE by Q4 FY 2023
- Engage actively with all investors and restore confidence through better demonstration of performance
- Focus on launch of new products from approved ANDAs and get back to historical gross margins
- Balance sheet strengthening - Light balance sheet from FY 2022-23

Consistency and sustainability will be our mantra as we address the issues of past and present, and prepare ourselves for the future, simultaneously. The conviction is very high at this point of time as we continue to work tirelessly to rebuild the company. Long-term growth and profitability will be our focus going forward.

I thank all the internal and external stakeholders for reposing faith in our Company and look forward to continued support.

Warm regards
Badree

Strategic priorities

Roadmap for accelerated recovery

Our newly formulated three-year strategic road map called REACH, has been in play since last year, which enables Global Product Supply (GPS) to act as a key driver for our growth and add value to the stakeholder experience.

REACH stands for Respect for all human beings and our environment, Empowerment of our teams, Accountability that we all take, Customer focus, and Health of our patients, which embodies our long-term goals and vision based on our ICE values. Improving performance sustainably requires a clear purpose and articulated strategy linked to performance targets and capability-building objectives. Through REACH, we have already launched various capability-building programmes to move up the 45-degree zone with a dual focus on performance and capability.

Developing leaders

An 18-month journey spread across five modules designed specifically for plant managers to enable their development as strong site leaders through action learning. We have completed two modules, and all plant heads have drafted their own action plan to outline the next course of action across plants. The programme aims to equip plant managers with various tools, with the first two modules focusing on business and financial acumen as well as strategy development.

Focus on operational efficiency

We have a focused operational excellence programme to improve plant efficiency and reliability while also developing our own Strides Production System. The pilot programme in our KRSG facility reduced throughput time to 50% of what it was at the start of the programme and change-over time to less than half of what it was. More importantly, it brought a shift in mindset, with shop floor operators thinking and acting in terms of minutes rather than shifts.

Strategy cascading

Using our 4-D (Direction, Dialogue, Deliver, and Develop) toolbox, we have created an interactive engagement series to cascade our overall strategy and goals down to the shop floor. We held more than 20 workshops last year, engaging in discussions on overall GPS goals, outcomes, and measurements. The response has been incredible, and it will be used to shape this year's cascading of our recovery strategy.

Scale and portfolio

Broadening our customer base

As a global generic pharmaceutical company, we focus on expanding our portfolio and entering new geographies to reach more customers. We have achieved global scale while improving operational efficiencies and maintaining momentum in product launches across our core markets.

Stelis began its journey as a Strides subsidiary and have since evolved into a Global biopharmaceutical contract development and manufacturing organisation (CDMO).

formats. Stelis is poised to be among the leading biologics CDMO players in the world due to its scale and capacity. Its world-class cGMP manufacturing facilities in Bengaluru, India, have proven expertise in microbial, mammalian, and other technology platforms, enabling it to provide high-quality customer services.

Stelis provides the full range of services from cell line technology transfer to clinical and commercial manufacturing, including the ability to convert drug substance into stable formulations with fill and finish

CDMO division

Through this division, Stelis provides a complete spectrum of services from cell line technology transfer to clinical and commercial manufacturing. Stelis operates three cutting-edge facilities with 900,000 square feet of Process Development (PD) and manufacturing space for mammalian, microbial, and other modalities.

Product division

Biolexis, the product division of Stelis, is developing a portfolio of leading products with low-cost, efficient processes. With its deep technical expertise, Biolexis is forming strong partnerships to commercialise high-quality and affordable products. This positions us to capitalise on emerging opportunities.

Stelis business model

Manufacturing Services Agreements (MSA)

- The first part of the CDMO contract typically includes the technology transfer, process development, process scale, and execution of Performance Qualification (PPQ) batches.
- Includes the base work required to secure the regulatory approval and, consequently, contract for manufacturing
- Typical revenue is $1-2m for drug products and $4-5m for drug substance.

Commercial Sales Agreement(CSA)

- The second part of the CDMO contract includes the value of the business, secured through the commercial supplies of products developed for the partner under the MSA.
- Typically, the duration of CSA would be 3-5 years and is secured by capacity commitment ensuring annuity of revenues.
- As more MSAs translate into CSAs, Stelis could scale up its business significantly, resulting in high profitability with no significant cost increase.

FY 2021-22 updates for CDMO division

- The CDMO business of Stelis Biopharma delivered ₹1,321.27 Million in revenues through MSA. Our MSAs in FY 2021-22 will drive a secured commercial services agreement (CSA) of ₹6,762 Million starting FY 2023-24
- We received significant new orders for the drug product facility with continued traction for cartridges, high-speed vial fill-finish, and lyophilised vials.
- In 2022, the Company was audited by EMA, and in H1CY2022, it had inspections scheduled for USFDA and TGA, among others.

- Revenue performance was impacted by high unused facility costs as the operating cost included the cost of the new unit 3 facility, which currently does not generate commercial revenues.
- The Company reported a negative EBITDA, adjusting for the unabsorbed costs (Drug Substance block and unit 3 facility); else, it would have delivered a strong EBITDA performance.

FY 2021-22 updates for products division

Biosimilar pipeline

- STLP001 (PTH) is nearing European Medicine Agency (EMA) approval as Stelis completes the facility inspection (EUGMP), which was one of the prerequisites for acceptance. The approval is expected within 2022, and Stelis has already partnered/licensed this product to different national champions across 20 countries.

- Insulin programmes continue to progress according to plan as Stelis readies itself for a phase 3 study for Insulin Glargine in 2022
- Development on track for the other pre-clinical programmes

In-licensed AmbiVax-CTM opportunity

- AmbiVax-CTM is a SARS-CoV-2-Fc fusion protein vaccine developed by Akston Biosciences, United States.
- The vaccine has been exclusively licensed to Stelis/Biolexis for 140+ global countries, including India, South-East Asia, LATAM, GCC, and Africa. Stability studies conducted have demonstrated thermostability at room temperature (High Temperature stable, no cold chain requirements)
- The vaccine was undergoing Emergency Use Authorisation (EUA) determining clinical trials in India. An interim analysis of this data shows no significant safety issues and a 91% seroconversion rate at Day 56.
- Volunteers in the bridging study had antibody titers that persisted at statistically significant high levels through six months, with serum taken from them showing protection against variants of concern.
- The results are under submission for a prime vaccine in India

Update on Sputnik Light Vaccine

- Last year, Stelis completed the technology transfer of the Sputnik Light vaccine from the Russian Gamaleya National Center of Epidemiology and Microbiology (Gamaleya), the IP holder of the vaccine.
- In November 2021, Stelis received its first order of 50 million doses of the Sputnik light vaccine to be exported to Russia.
- Against the 50 million doses to be shipped, Stelis has produced ~23 million doses retained as inventory with a long shelf life.
- Considering the geopolitical challenges regarding exports to Russia, the management continues to discuss with the Russian Direct Investment Fund (RDIF) to initiate exports to Russia and other markets where the vaccine could be exported.

Consistent innovation

Innovation-led growth

At Strides, we are driven by research and development expertise and an innovation mindset that propel our ability to address emerging needs. This strength is reflected in our ability to successfully create our niche and differentiated product portfolio across dosage and technology platforms, supported by strong regulatory expertise.

On the R&D front, our efforts are focused on accelerating access to safe, affordable and innovative medicines that serve patients worldwide.

We have capabilities across multiple dosage forms and have fostered development partnerships that complement our organic capability. Our expertise lies in potent compound development, novel drug delivery systems for solid orals [modified release tablets, powder for oral solution/suspension (PFOS) and capsules], oral liquids, nasal sprays, soft gelatin capsules, and ointment and creams for both regulated and emerging markets. Our product selection for development is focused on niche products characterised by complex formulations and technology across diverse therapeutic segments.

In FY 2021-22, we focused our product development efforts in niche dosage areas and targeted filings to limited competition opportunities. During the year, we received approval for 6 ANDAs and filed for 5 more. We have invested ₹1,000 Million in various innovation and development activities in FY 2021-22.

Improving R&D infrastructure and project management processes.

We strengthened our digital and IT infrastructure during the year by integrating the product lifecycle management (PLM) software with instruments to enable data storage and analysis. These processes have enabled paperless operations in our laboratories.

We have enhanced our project management process by incorporating stage gate reviews and governance to ensure timely portfolio delivery. In new product development during FY 2021-22, we focused on difficult-to-make generics, enriching our basket of differentiated products and ensuring portfolio maximisation, wherein existing products were leveraged for other geographies with minimum efforts.

Road ahead

Going forward, we are targeting 20+ new launches per year across different geographies. Our lean structure will facilitate this and enable minimal R&D spend with significant productivity improvement. We will focus on consolidating our presence by developing limited competition products, leveraging our existing product portfolio to other geographies. Additionally, we will aim to enhance our existing source security and manufacturing robustness.

Advanced technologies

Accelerating digital transformation

Technology is a mainstay of the Strides business. During the year, we increased our focus on technology adoption considering the challenges posed by the pandemic to optimise our processes, increase efficiency, and become more agile and resilient.

Digital manufacturing

The e-logbook kickstarted at the beginning of 'Path2Digital,' is now being rolled out across plants and functions. The benefits of achieving 100% Right First Time (RTF) are undeniably significant. Even though adoption was difficult at first, this is now a pull factor for manufacturing staff.

The Manufacturing Execution Process (MES), which has gained traction over the last two years, was put in place to improve efficiency. The objective is to make it efficient before scaling it up to the point where MES is used to manufacture most product types in our flagship plant.

Continued focus on cybersecurity

During the pandemic, the pharmaceutical and healthcare industries were among the main targets for cyber attackers, and they remain so today. As we move towards the digital, we focus more on strengthening our cybersecurity capabilities. Our ecosystem is fully integrated with industry-leading cyber security solutions. Aside from having tools and systems, we also focused on employee awareness and judgment regarding cyber security across the organisation. Cyber security training has been made mandatory for the entire workforce. Phishing simulations have improved employees' ability to differentiate between genuine and malicious emails or links.

Moving towards the paperless lab

Across our manufacturing plants, analytical raw data sheets for semi-finished and finished goods are completely digital. Electronic lab notes (ELN) are commonly used in laboratories. The majority of logbooks in the quality control labs have been digitalised. A few more artifacts will be converted to digital this year, moving us closer to paperless labs.

Optimising supply chain

During the pandemic, there were shortages of medicines, vaccines, and other healthcare consumables because many pharmaceutical companies faced major supply chain challenges. We plan to develop a digital control tower to provide the supply chain with true digital fluency. Consequently, we will be able to perform accurate demand forecasting, supply planning, and optimal inventory management.

Mastering the virtual audit

We were among India's first companies to use smart glasses for virtual auditing. As virtual auditing necessitates additional skills, we trained key employees, including plant quality personnel, to improve our virtual audit setup. Regulatory and client auditors have praised the efforts made in this regard at various manufacturing plants.

Tech integrations at the newly acquired facility

In this era, one of the big challenges in the case of any M&A is technology synergies and amalgamation of different technology platforms. Last year with the acquisition of the Chestnut Ridge plant in the USA, we faced a similar challenge. Technology integration was done in three phases – Lift and Shift, Stabilise, and Enhance. While enhancement will continue to happen over a period of time, the technology operation has considerably smoothed.

Quality and compliance

Elevating quality benchmarks

Quality benchmarks and regulatory compliance remain our critical focus as the landscape continues to evolve in our core markets. To this end, we have automated our manufacturing facilities to a large extent to achieve greater accuracy, precision and global quality standards.

Ensuring high quality

We have established an agenda for people, processes, products, and technology to reinforce quality excellence across the organisation. We closely monitor the SOPs in place to ensure consistent meeting of our quality culture objectives. During FY 2021-22, we undertook the following initiatives:

- Continued to maintain our track record of regulatory approvals
- Engaged with external consultants for QMS assessment and improvements to strengthen systems and processes for greater maturity and compliance
- Rolled out 'quality fabric' programmes in our facilities, consisting of attributes such as proactiveness, responsiveness, and all-time compliance meticulously designed into the programme through people, products, processes, and facilities
- Increased corporate quality oversight on our global manufacturing sites and international business centres
- Undertook many efficiencies improvement programmes in manufacturing and laboratory, which significantly improved our overall cycle time
- Took initiatives to improve customer satisfaction through improvements in manufacturing and packaging lines
- Expanded our serialisation project beyond the US and European regions to facilities that supply drug products to various other regions
- Introduced a comprehensive corporate process for the assessment on elemental impurity and nitrosamine impurities
- Completed the risk assessment for all applicable products, which helped us identify risks and take proper mitigation measures to safeguard product quality

Environment

Ensuring responsible business practices

Our sustainability approach goes beyond compliance requirements, and we work towards bringing down the negative impact of our operations on the ecosystem. We are driven by a passion for solving unmet patient needs across core markets by developing affordable and complex or specialty generics in a sustainable manner.

We aim to achieve net-zero by implementing measures to lower energy consumption, increase the use of renewable energy, reduce our carbon footprint, recycle wastewater, minimise potable water consumption, and focus on waste management, among others. We conduct regular internal and external audits to ensure compliance.

Environment management systems

ISO 14001:2015 is an internationally agreed standard that sets out the requirements for an environmental management system. It helps organisations improve their environmental performance through more efficient use of resources and waste reduction, gaining a competitive advantage and the trust of stakeholders. Strides believes that ISO14001 is a management tool to improve environmental performance. Of our plants in India, 2 are already ISO 14001:2015 certified by NQA, and in the coming years, there are plans to certify all the manufacturing sites to ISO 14001:2015 standards.

Energy consumption and renewable energy

We understand how important efficient electricity usage is, and we are moving towards more sustainable forms of energy. We have invested in rooftop solar panels. Currently, we have an installed capacity of 340 KWp as cleaner sources of electricity generation are pivotal in our fight against climate change. We generated 3,01,654 units from the solar panels saving around 214 tonnes of carbon in FY 2021-22 alone while enabling the reduction of 12,000 tonnes of CO₂ by utilising 17 million units from buying green energy from solar power generators. We have plans to further reduce fossil fuel consumption and our carbon footprint by investing 1,900 KWHp from solar energy across our various sites.

Water and waste management

Water management

We have implemented a system to recycle wastewater and increase the water table around our plant sites through various methods, including rainwater harvesting ponds. We strive towards conserving as much water as possible through recycling and reusing the water we use.

Key interventions in FY 2021-22

- 1,00,903 KL of wastewater was treated by Wastewater Treatment Plants (WWTP) to reuse it for garden/lawn/utilities inside plant premises across all Indian sites
- 21,060 KL of water was recycled from steam condensate and reused for steam generation at KRSG and Puducherry
- 16,138 KL rainwater was collected and recharged by us to improve the groundwater level in and around the plant across sites

Operational waste

We use the finest quality raw materials and implement a precautionary approach to minimise waste/rejected batches to create safe, efficient, and affordable medicines while adhering to the highest compliance standards. We ensure the segregation of 'hazardous' and 'non-hazardous' wastes at the source and store them separately. We verify that third-party entities who treat the waste are authorised by regulatory agencies and audit their facilities regularly to ensure compliance with all waste treatment requirements. The waste storage areas are also audited for compliance with storage requirements.

Paper usage

We aspire to reach 100% digitisation across our sites and product portfolios in a few years. Our new initiative – e-Logbooks, will help strengthen our manufacturing operations, HR systems, and paperless R&D operations. We are minimising our paper usage through this and other initiatives by transitioning to digital platforms, reducing our paper consumption. In FY 2021-22, we converted many analog logbooks into digital logbooks.

- Operationalised a Covid Task Force, which meets on a weekly basis to monitor the dynamic situation and take necessary steps to ensure employee health and safety

Social – People

Employee engagement

We also ensure the well-being of our employees through active engagement. We have several two-way communication platforms for employees to express themselves, ask questions, and learn more about the organisation. We recognise the employees' union for pursuing the interests of its members while keeping an eye on overall business expectations. We currently have a management-recognised employee association representing ~20% of the workforce.

Seek App

This is for bringing in greater awareness and engagement around quality. Through SEEK the employees are introduced to the concept and issues around quality. It provides an interactive platform to express views and opinions.

Open House Meeting

This is a two-way communication channel where the common concerns and issues among the employees are discussed. The employees can raise their concerns, give suggestions and express their grievances.

Amber App

Amber was onboarded as an AI tool to understand employee sentiment and reach out to employees at various tenure milestones. It also gives data of disengaged employees.

Learning and development

With the pandemic compelling us to transition to remote working and adapt to a new normal that brought all planned learnings to a halt, we adopted newer digital methodologies to keep the learning momentum going. All physical learning events were virtually converted to short-burst learning content and delivery style to match the need as part of our mission to adopt digital transformation. With employees returning to work, the L&D team provided both in-person classroom trainings and virtual trainings for those who are still working remotely.

Skill development

Strides Continuous Learning Programme (CLP)

It is an ongoing initiative that aims to reinforce our values, identify skill gaps, strengthen fundamental skills, and improve personal capabilities. The programme modules are digitally enabled by converting them into e-learning short burst modules of ~1 hour each to adapt to changing needs, improve mass audience scalability, and provide self-paced, anytime, anywhere access. This provided all employees with a new-age and quick learning experience through mobile learning at the click of a button.

Strides values and behaviors

L&D has been instrumental in driving the ICE values and behaviour immersion programme for leaders, managers, and employees across locations to raise awareness, relate to the business, and influence behaviour. The emphasis on embedding the values and behaviours included large-format employee engagement programmes as well as trainings. Under the auspices of the B.I.G Challenge, L&D used the SEEK tool to run campaigns, quizzes, and competitions to raise awareness. The programme witnessed 1,800 enthusiastic employees participating and was concluded with an awards ceremony.

Supervisory development programme

This was a specialised curriculum designed and developed for self-managed teams at the Chandapura unit to raise participants' awareness of the role of supervisors in organisations. The programme's objective is to prepare them to manage and engage team associates/members in a changing environment. To provide them with a platform to develop supervisory skills for people management.

Ignite - Manager Essentials Programme

While the organisation was on the right track with strong execution plans, great talent, inspiring leaders, and well-defined processes, it was critical to examine the missing track. Investing in our managers' capability development has become a top priority in the organisation's capability roadmap. A well-structured and well-thought-out design with a blended learning approach that includes a mix of online learning modalities as well as live facilitated sessions to promote self- and reflective learning among managers. This initiative was piloted among 43 managers at our R&D centre, with the goal of creating engaged and high-performing teams. This course is divided into three tracks: Foundation, Intermediate, and Advanced, with each track consisting of short-burst engaging modules that will be implemented in FY 2022-23.

this skill while also preparing employees to manage organisational growth.

Thus, to ensure the building of a resilient and efficient organisation in dynamic markets following the pandemic, we worked to identify critical roles and ensure robust talent management for those roles. Our talent management strategy is derived based on many factors mainly:

- Current talent pool
- Department-wise and role-wise proof of concepts
- Future business plans and value-based analysis of roles
- Recommendations from leaders on developing their teams

The organisation is committed to develop its talent through multiple programmes, including continuous learning programme, pathway programme and future leader programme. We strive to do the best to keep our employees happy and motivated through our rewards and recognition system, which is crucial for organisational success. Some of our recognition programmes include:

Strides recognition programme

Employee grievances

We follow the best international practices, which ensure the freedom of association, prohibition of child labour, protection of indigenous rights and prohibition of forced and compulsory labour. In FY 2021-22, we did not receive any complaint related to child labour, forced labour, involuntary labour, or discriminatory employment.

PACE (Performance & Capability Enhancement)

PACE is our business skills suite, which includes key skills such as time management, planning and prioritisation, giving and receiving feedback, productivity hacks, interpersonal skills, MS Office tools, professional email writing skills, setting stretch goals, and six thinking hats. PACE is designed as a short, intense 2.5-hour programme that focuses on skill development through role plays, case studies, and discussions. These offerings are part of the monthly training calendar and are open to self-nomination and attendance by all employees. PACE is delivered through in-person and virtual classroom sessions.

Talent management

At Strides, we emphasise growth through continuous learning to help employees progress from individual contributors to team leaders, and then to senior leadership positions within the organisation. Atmospheric water generator

We discovered an alternative water source in the form of the atmospheric water generator. This technology generates water from air, which is then filtered and mineralised before reaching the user. There is no water waste and no use of groundwater, which protects groundwater levels.

A pilot project was launched in the village of Lingapura, Haragadde Panchayat. This is a self-sustaining model that provides 900 people in the village with 2,000 litres of water per day. It also employs a person with special needs. The Panchayat leaders and residents of Lingapura village have highly praised the project.

Siva Sakthi Sathya Sai Charitable Trust

This is a registered trust that was established to assist people with intellectual disabilities and senior citizens. The Trust operates a home in Sri Raja Rajeswari Nagar, Bengaluru, for 28 differently abled people. Strides Foundation stepped up to sponsor groceries and medicines for the inhabitants.

Education

LeAPs

The Leadership Adoption Program for Schools (LeAPS) caters to people transformation and is further customisable for young students in government schools. During FY 2021-22, ~500 students from Haragadde Govt Primary and High School benefited from the 'Taking Learning to Villages' initiative. As schools were closed due to the pandemic, there was a disconnect between teachers, students, and learning. Teachers visited villages, met students, and conducted workshops for them near temples, marriage halls, and under banyan trees to revitalise the student-teacher bond.

Infrastructure development

We recognise the value of education and will continue to focus our efforts on improving educational infrastructure to provide high-quality learning environment. We donated a laptop and accessories to the smart class at Dr. Ambedkar Government Law College in Puducherry.

Employability

Vocational skill development

Every year, we organise the Employment Empowerment Program, and have partnered with Swami Vivekananda Rural Community College (SVRCC) to widen our reach. This collaboration enabled the selection of 100 students who will be trained in a variety of job-related courses using a holistic approach to help them become responsible citizens.

Skill development programme

To empower the women of Muthanallur Village Panchayat and train them to earn a living, we established a Training Center in Muthanallur village by donating sewing machines, embroidery machines, interlock machines, cutting machines, and accessories to Siri Sanjeevini - Women Self Help Group (SHG). This initiative will assist in the upskilling of ~900 women in every batch in the village panchayat.

Economic environment

World

The global economy, in the previous year, opened up with a note of optimism as the impact of covid-19 started to ease out. However, the pace of recovery was impacted by successive waves caused by newer variants and consequent supply chain disruptions across the world, driving crude and other material prices. The ongoing Russia-Ukrainian war further posed a significant risk impacting global supply chain dampening global economic recovery. Besides, the tightening of monetary policy by the US Fed towards the end of the year impacted the economic outlook.

After a severe contraction in 2020 driven by the Covid-19 pandemic, the US economy rebounded sharply, albeit with the occasional spread of the virus caused by different variants. Monetary policy remained highly accommodative, but the announced tapering of government bond purchases is appropriate as the recovery becomes more firmly entrenched. Sustained pricing pressures will prompt a gradual increase in the federal funds rate, as already seen in 2021 and first half of 2022. Several pandemic-related fiscal measures announced in 2020 and early 2021 have largely been withdrawn. Earlier stimulus checks, supplementary unemployment benefit payments, and expanded benefit coverage have led to a substantial increase in accumulated savings expected to continue supporting economic recovery.

The Eurozone was impacted to a great extent by the outbreak of the Delta and Omicron variants of the pandemic, leading to restrictions and disruptions in activities. Despite the challenges, the Eurozone reported strong growth. This performance largely reflects catch-up growth after the deep slump of 2020, but it is also evidence of a robust recovery of economic activities.

The economic performance of the emerging economies varied greatly during the past two years. Export of goods and services remained comparatively in a better position except tourism and allied activities, which continued to witness poor economic performance. Emerging market economies have witnessed a surge in inflation, driven primarily by higher commodity prices, supply chain disruptions, labor shortages, and demand for goods.

The conflict in Eastern Europe between Ukraine and Russia has led to an increase in the prices of food, oil, and natural gas. The entire global economy has been impacted by the conflict and is expected to experience slower growth and faster inflation.

According to the World Economic Outlook published in April 2022, global growth is predicted to slow, i.e., from 6.1% in 2021 to 3.6% in 2022.

With the pandemic still raging, a strong global health strategy is more important than ever. To lower the possibility of more deadly COVID-19 variations, global availability of immunizations, testing, and therapies are critical. This necessitates higher supply production for medications including vaccines, improved in-country delivery networks, and more equitable international distribution. Many nations' monetary policies will need to tighten more to keep inflation pressures at bay, while fiscal policy will need to prioritize health and social investment while focusing support for the most vulnerable.

India

The rollout of vaccination and gradual opening of the economy provided silver linings to the Indian economy, which experienced degrowth in FY21 which was the first time in multiple decades. However, the spread of the delta variant, rising input prices, and then the Omicron variant did disrupted the pace of economic recovery. The country reported a growth of 9.2% during the year under review. The government continues to provide the impetus for growth through various incentives to push the manufacturing sector as well as commit higher outlays for the country's infrastructure sector.

The accommodative stance taken by the RBI throughout the year under review helped the economy recover faster and boosted investments. The country reported robust GST Collections, with March 2022 reporting a record collection of ₹ 1.42 Lakh Crore. This was achieved through the waning impact of the Omicron variant, enhanced anti-evasion measures as well as a rate rationalization. Despite the short-term instability, India's core economic fundamentals remain solid, and the impact on the long-term outlook will be minimal. The effects of growth-enhancing policies and schemes (such as production-linked incentives (PLI) and the government's push toward self-reliance) and increased infrastructure spending is beginning to take effect and will result in a stronger multiplier effect on jobs and income, higher productivity, and increased efficiency—all of which will lead to faster economic growth.

According to the FICCI Economic Outlook Survey, the country's gross domestic product (GDP) is predicted to expand by 7.4% in the current fiscal year 2022-23.

The threats to economic growth are continuing to rise. While the possibility of a pandemic is still there, the ongoing conflict between Russia and Ukraine is creating a substantial barrier to global recovery.

Industry developments

Global Pharmaceutical Industry

The onset of the pandemic led to the global pharmaceutical industry facing several challenges. Despite the disruptions, the industry demonstrated immense determination in fighting off the pandemic. While vaccination was the core focus area for the industry worldwide, it also ensured a continued supply of critical medicines to keep the global healthcare system uninterrupted.

The global medicine market was valued at US$1.4 trillion in 2021 and is expected to expand at a 3-6% CAGR through 2026, reaching around US$1.8 trillion in overall market size in 2026, including spending on COVID-19 vaccines. The primary variables influencing medicine spending and growth in developed countries are projected to be the adoption of novel medicines, countered by patent lifecycles and competition from generics and biosimilars. The most significant drivers of change in the use of medicines in pharmerging nations will continue to be substantial improvements in healthcare access.

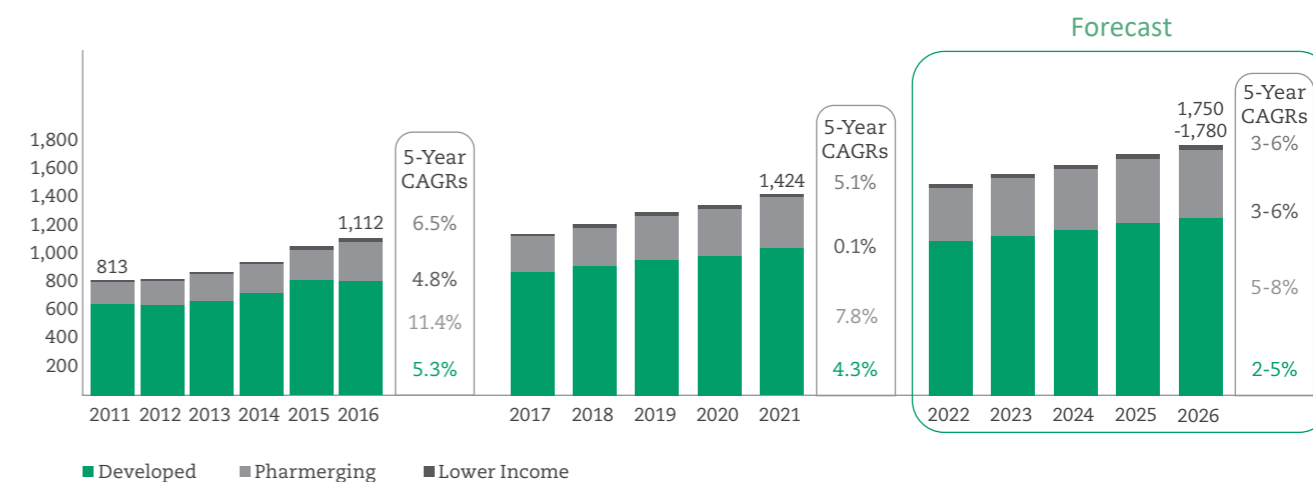

The pharmaceutical markets in the developed world grew at ~4.9% CAGR from 2017 to 2021 and are estimated to grow at about 2.5-5.5% CAGR by 2026. In developed countries, adopting new treatments, offset by patent to lifecycles and competition from generics and biosimilars, are expected to continue as the main factors influencing medicine spending and growth.

The pharmerging markets have reported a growth in spending at ~7.8% CAGR between 2017 and 2021 to reach US$354.2 Billion in 2021. Pharmerging countries, led by China, are increasingly allowing access to newer medications, frequently earlier and to a larger portion of their populations than previously.

The COVID-19 disturbance had hampered the worldwide markets. Supply chain disruption, product releases, adoption, decreasing footfall at pharmacies and hospitals, and a slowdown in R&D activity were among the issues faced by the pharmaceutical business. Some of these headwinds have now started to ease with improved demand outlook. However, supply chain disruptions owing to covid waves and geopolitical risks around the Russia- Ukraine war continues to be a key risk.

Pharmaceutical and biopharmaceutical manufacturing will face various hurdles in 2022, ranging from formulation and delivery issues to skilled labor shortages and compressed schedules. Integration of sophisticated technologies is one possible answer to these problems. Challenges brought possibilities, especially in the pharmaceutical business, which is currently dealing with the aftermath of the COVID-19 pandemic and evolving under changing conditions. The upcoming opportunities have come in the form of Data analytics which will accelerate biotechnology innovation, and new operating models will bring much-needed agility.

The Generics Pharmaceutical market

The global generic drugs market reached a value of $ 320 Billion in 2021. At a CAGR of 7%, the market is estimated to reach $482.5 Billion by 2027.

Price deflation has largely countered growth from relevant patent expiry events, therefore, generics, including biosimilars, have had a minor impact on growth.

Top 20 therapy areas in 2025 in global spending (5-year CAGR forecast) (US$ Billion):

The US

The US Pharmaceutical market saw a ~3.5% CAGR from 2017-21 to reach US$580 Billion. This market is expected to grow at a 2%-5% CAGR to reach US$605- 699 Billion by 2026. Expenditure is likely to expand at a rate of 0–3% in the United States, while rising off-invoice discounts and rebates are expected to restrict spending growth over time. Aside from discounts and rebates, ongoing market dynamics surrounding the use of medicines, the adoption of newer treatments, the impact of patent expirations, and new generic or biosimilar competition will all contribute to historically slow market growth in the United States over the next five years.

European Union (EU5)

The top five European Union (EU5) markets grew at a 4.8% CAGR from 2017-21 to reach US$209.7 Billion and is projected to grow at about 3-6% CAGR to US$245-275 Billion by 2026. Medicine spending in the top five European markets is predicted to rise by $51 Billion over the next five years, up from $44 Billion in the previous five, but with significant adjustments in growth drivers. Generics, including biosimilars, are predicted to add $15 Billion in growth over the next five years, almost the same as in the previous five years, despite a bigger impact of loss of exclusivity due to price deflation offsetting volume increases.

Japan

The market has witnessed marginal decline of 0.5% from 2017-21 to reach US$85.4 Billion; and is projected to progress at around (-2)-1% CAGR to US$73-93 Billion by 2026. While the pandemic made 2020 a price-cutting year, the more modest rebound in 2021 included an off-cycle price-cut as well as the epidemic's residual impacts on the market.

Australia

The Australian market grew by 0.6% from 2017-21 to reach US$14.4 Billion and is projected to grow at around 2.5-5.5% CAGR to US$16-19 Billion by 2026.

China

The Chinese market grew by 6.1% between 2017-21 to reach US$169.4 Billion and is projected to grow at around 2.5-5.5% CAGR to US$190-220 Billion by 2026

. China's growth continues to outpace the rest of the group, owing to a trend away from traditional Chinese medicine and toward original branded products. Over the next five years, government policies requiring annual updates to the national reimbursement drug list (NRDL) will result in a greater share of new original medicines being reimbursed, resulting in higher levels of spending, though these will generally be subject to lower negotiated net prices.

Africa

The pandemic has unearthed Africa's vulnerabilities in ensuring access to vital drugs, vaccines, and health technologies. Close 95% of the continent's medicine it uses is dependent on imports. Africa's US$24 bn pharmaceutical market largely depend on companies outside the continent. It is expected that the market will reach a size of US$45-65 Billion by 2030. The optimism comes from rapid urbanisation, severe under penetration and an expected surge in income driven by growing economic activities in the continent.

Africa is the first market where we initiated exports in the early 1990s, since then we have promised to cater to its unmet requirements. Our philosophy to conduct business activities is "In Africa for Africa", we bolstered this with the acquisition of a WHO-approved facility under Universal Corporations in Kenya. The continent demonstrates an industry-leading growth which is driven by increasing urbanisation and rapid expansion of primary health care capacity. We intend to capitalize this growth through our rich brand portfolio along with several of the product registrations in the pipeline. We are actively engaging in the development of a wide range of dosage forms with special emphasis on novel drug delivery systems for solid orals (modified release tablets and capsules) and soft gelatin capsules for both Regulated and Emerging markets. In order to deliver sustainable growth, we are focusing our product selection on niche products characterized by complex formulations across diverse therapeutic segments. Constant endeavours of Strides to improve our R&D along with our strong formulation R&D capabilities combined with knowledge of the regulatory environment in Regulated markets have resulted in successful product registrations in several markets.

Strengthening the IT infrastructure

The availability of multiple vaccines within a year for tackling COVID-19 wouldn't have been possible without the correct use of digital technology in extraordinary ways. A significant percentage of our volumes are manufactured using the programme for Manufacturing Execution System (MES), a typically multi-year initiative. MES system empowers our whole manufacturing operations to be GMP-compliant along with automatic capturing of data from different machines and instruments. We can generate electronic 'Batch Manufacturing Records' enabling us to quickly release the batches with 'Review by Exception' using MES. Electronic logbooks have enabled us to avoid documentation mistakes and ensure concurrent entries of all activities.

People management

Strides has a global team of around ~4,200 people working in diverse and harmonious work environment with an open and transparent culture. We pursue a merit-based recruitment, reward and recognitions policy and attract and retain the best talent. We put a lot of emphasis on growth through learning in order to motivate our people to align their goals with the organization goals.

Our top management connects with our global employee base during communication sessions that we conduct several times during the year as a part of our transparent organisational culture. In order to encourage two-way communication across the organisation, we have an app-based for employee feedback and governance.

We adhere to the highest standards of ethical, moral and legal conduct of business operations.

We have a Whistle Blower Policy which provides a mechanism for the Directors, employees and stakeholders of our Company to raise concerns on any violations of legal or regulatory requirements, incorrect or misrepresentation of any financial statements and reports, among others.

We conduct adequate trainings, workshops and awareness programmes against sexual harassment across the organization and we have also adopted a gender-neutral Prevention of Sexual Harassment (POSH) policy.

Quality compliance

Achieving high benchmarks in the compliance curve has always been Stride's emphasis. Clearly defined agendas concerning people, processes, products and technologies is provided by our quality excellence programme. We train our people in advanced quality management through specific programmes, enabling the identification, reporting and rectification of quality concerns at Strides.

Enterprise Risk Management at Strides

We are operating in an uncertain environment for past two years due to the pandemic. However, it is a highly interconnected world with stringent regulatory oversight, rapidly evolving external environment, with increasing geopolitical tensions, environmental risks, supply chain disruptions and fast-paced technological evolution, that could have an impact across the value chain of the organisation. Strides continues to be on its journey of institutionalising its Enterprise-wide Risk Management (ERM) Programme to provide a holistic view of our risk exposures as well as to facilitate a risk informed decision-making, in the highly volatile and uncertain business environment.

The Board of Directors and the Senior Management are cognizant of the importance of equipping the organisation with the necessary framework and processes to navigate the complex and dynamic risk environment in the short term and the long term.

In its journey towards risk intelligence, a robust risk governance structure has been developed across the Group globally. The Board of Directors have constituted a Risk Management Committee (RMC). Further, to drive ERM process across the Group, a Group Risk Steering Committee has been constituted at the Senior Management level. It is also proposed to establish entity/ regional specific Steering Committees to monitor risks periodically at local business level.

At Strides, we acknowledge the fact that having a robust and pervasive risk-intelligent culture is essential for achieving Company's objectives and build resilience for the future. We are consistently mapping various levels of risks inherent in our business strategies and operations. The central risk office led by Chief Risk Officer, assists RMC and Group Steering Committee in risk monitoring and reporting process. The CRO regularly reports to the RMC and the Group Risk Steering Committee on the status of the potential risks based on the assessment of risks and the mitigation strategies. Employees are also being kept abreast with the leading risk management practices through training programmes and workshops.

Risk Management Framework and Process

The Company has adopted a combination of a bottom-up and top-down approach to drive ERM across the business units and subsidiaries. The process includes identification and regular assessment of risks by respective business heads/risk owners across the Company and planning of mitigation strategies in a structured manner. At the Organizational level, the leadership team identifies and assesses long-term and strategic risks for the Company. Risks are consolidated under major risk themes at the enterprise level to create focus areas and prioritise mitigation strategies. The ERM process is integrated with core processes such as Strategy and Planning, Mergers & Acquisitions and Internal Audit.

We acknowledge that risk management is a dynamic and ever evolving concept and hence, it is important to revisit the policies, framework, and processes periodically to ensure that they remain adequate and relevant. At Strides, we review our risk management framework on a regular basis to not only align with the changing regulatory requirements but more importantly to increase the maturity and resilience of the Company's risk response mechanism. Recent changes in the framework have been made to bring in the following enhancements:

- Leveraging data and technology to anticipate and measure risks
- Data-driven key risk indicator monitoring for enhanced risk monitoring and reporting
- Ingraining risk-based decision making and implementing mechanisms to reward best practices
- Integration of the ERM framework with the Environment, Social and Governance (ESG) practices of the Group
- Extending the risk management practices beyond risk mitigation, to planning for business continuity mechanisms

While risks can never be completely eliminated, we believe that these changes will improve our organizational maturity and preparedness for managing unforeseen risks as well respond to various crisis scenarios.

Key Risks in the Business:

We regularly review our key risk areas, and the leadership retains the responsibility for determining the nature and extent of significant risks and drawing out commensurate mitigation and response plans. We set out below our principal risks identified

1. Ensuring Business Continuity
2. Workforce Health and safety
3. Product Quality and Efficacy
4. Supply Chain Disruptions and Increasing input costs
5. Price-erosion and competition in the Regulated Markets
6. Cyber-security and Data Privacy regulations
7. Environment, Health and Safety (EHS) Risks
8. Regulatory and Compliance Management

As the organization focusses on business growth, we are committed to step up our investments in resources, tools and technologies to make our risk-mitigation processes more data driven and objective. These capabilities will help us build and equip our business with capabilities to sense and respond to emerging risks across our organizational ecosystem in a timely and effective manner.

“Dealing with risks and managing uncertainties is a key mantra and an essential skill for any organization today. Our reputation as an organisation is measured by our resilience to respond to uncertainties. Strides is committed to minimising risks and maximising performance through increased awareness and maturity towards risk management. A robust Enterprise Risk Management blueprint is vital to enable business and operations to take risk-informed decisions, manage crisis scenarios and build a risk-aware culture” - Sormistha Ghosh, Group General Counsel & Chief Risk Officer

2. Company's performance

FY22 has been a challenging year for the pharma industry and, particularly for Strides, given the significant headwinds.

We have witnessed unusual price erosion and volume drops in the Regulated Markets, leading to significant compression in our gross margins. The business was also impacted due to Covid-led disruptions in the first half of the financial year.

On a consolidated level, we reported a muted financial performance during the year. The Company's operating performance was impacted by increase in raw material prices with disruption in the global supply chain and a significant increase in the cost of operations during the year. The Company's logistics and warehousing costs were 10% of sales in FY22 versus 6% in FY21.

Regulated Markets

The Regulated Markets vertical comprising businesses in the US and Other Regulated Markets, including the UK, the EU, Canada, Australia, and South Africa, witnessed a revenue decline of 8% during the year. Business performance of this market was impacted by a significant fall in the US market revenues owing to Covid-related headwinds, leading to drop in volumes and margin compression on account of heightened competitive intensity and higher channel inventory.

Other Regulated Markets had a tepid growth impacted by Covid during the first half; however, in the last quarter, the business witnessed a strong rebound.

US business

The US business contributed ₹11,650 Million (38%) to the consolidated revenues of FY22, registering 27% de-growth over the last year. The business was significantly impacted by Covid-led challenges in the market, leading to a lower prescription rate for the products. The US business environment is constantly evolving post-Covid, with select products recouping both volume and price, while several other products continue to face price intensity and lower volume pick-up. While the Company believes the ambiguity will continue in the near term, given that Covid's future impact is unknown, it stays confident to navigate the evolving environment and meet a revenue target of over $250 Million for the US market in FY23.

Other Regulated Markets

Other Regulated Markets delivered 4% y-o-y growth in FY22. It contributed ₹11,180 Million (36%) to the consolidated revenues of FY22. While the business delivered a moderate performance, the results were impacted by Covid-led disruption for 3-4 months during the year. During the year, the Company focused on several new launches and new customer acquisitions across the markets to deliver improved outcomes.

Other Regulated Market business is a significant part of the Company's growth strategy driven by frontend presence in key markets and IP-led B2B partnerships in Europe, Australia and other parts of the world. The Company has committed R&D investments to fast-track portfolio maximization opportunities for Rx and OTC portfolios and several new products to be launched in FY23.

Emerging Markets

Emerging Market business includes African operations (except South Africa) and Institutional Business (i.e., Access Markets). This business saw a steady performance in FY22, contributing ₹8,116 Million (26%) to FY22 consolidated revenues. The Africa business scale-up continues to be driven by expanding geographical footprint in the region and better penetration of existing markets through portfolio expansion. While the Institutional Business is a low-margin business, it is critical in reducing under-recoveries, while the regulated markets volumes ramp up. Growth in this business will continue to be driven by improved wallet share in the products through cost leadership and selective expansion of the product portfolio.

Research & Development (R&D)

During the year, R&D investments of the Company were at ₹970 Million. The Company has an ANDA basket of a wide range of dosage formats and a mix of acute and chronic products that will help diversify product offerings and render stability to the portfolio.

The Company has 274 ANDAs, including 249 approved ANDAs, which provides substantial growth visibility in the near term for the US business and an opportunity to launch new products for the other global markets.

On a go-forward basis, the Company targets optimizing R&D investment for the US as it unlocks value from the large basket of approved products. The Company is shifting its R&D focus to other regulated markets and other geographies by leveraging the vast portfolio already approved. The Company's focus on cost improvements will significantly lead the new launches to achieve an improved price point for the commercial launch.

Outlook

Considering the evolving business environment, Company has made several changes to its business with a focus on growth. Growth across the markets will be driven by portfolio expansion, leveraging Company's approved portfolio and new customer acquisitions for its IP-led B2B business. The Company will aggressively focus on cost reduction and reduction of gross debt by over ₹10 Billion in FY23 (which will bring our Net Debt to EBITDA ratio below 3x).

While the operating environment continues to evolve and is ambiguous, the Company stays confident of a bounce-back in FY23 to deliver significant value for our stakeholders in the coming years.

3. Dividend for FY22

Considering FY22 performance of the Company, Board of Directors of the Company have decided not to recommend any dividend for the year.

In terms of Regulation 43A of the SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015 (SEBI Listing Regulations), the Dividend Distribution Policy is available on the Company's website and can be accessed at <https://www.strides.com/cg-corporate-policies.html>

4. Transfer to Reserves

Movement in Reserves and Surplus during the financial year ended March 31, 2022, is provided in the Statement of Changes in Equity included in the Consolidated and Standalone Financial Statements (Refer Note no. 20 and 19 respectively).

5. Corporate Updates

During the year under review, Company has initiated/ undertaken the following key corporate actions:

a) Acquisition of manufacturing facility in the US along with baskets of ANDAs

To accelerate Company's growth momentum for the US business, the group acquired a manufacturing facility situated at Chestnut Ridge, New York along with a basket of ANDA portfolio from the subsidiaries of Endo International plc (Endo) during October 2021. The acquisition strengthens Strides' portfolio, front-end presence, and local manufacturing capability for the US.

The transaction was undertaken by Strides' subsidiaries in the US and Singapore, as under:

- Chestnut Ridge manufacturing facility was acquired by Strides Pharma Inc., a step-down wholly owned subsidiary of the Company in the US.

This facility has an annual capacity of 2 billion units across multiple dosage forms and is registered with the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA), enabling it to manufacture controlled substances.

Being in the US, this facility shall drive logistics related synergies for the Strides' US business and will enable the group to mitigate supply chain related bottlenecks as faced during the Covid pandemic or any similar disruptions going forward.

Further, this site will also be able to participate in various federal government procurement programmes including the Department of Veterans Affairs, thereby strengthening the group's ability to cater to federal contracts.

- ANDA Portfolios was acquired by Strides Pharma Global Pte. Limited, a step-down wholly owned subsidiary of the Company in Singapore.

The acquired portfolios have 20 commercial products and a basket of ANDAs which shall help fast track group's new launch strategy for the US markets.

Aggregate consideration for the transaction was ~US$24 Million, which was financed by a combination of internal accruals and debt financing.

Given the scale and capabilities of this facility, Strides Pharma Inc., USA divested the West Palm Beach site in Florida in December 2021 to consolidate the soft gel capability (including VA opportunities) at Chestnut Ridge for better manufacturing cost synergies.

section of our report. We are independent of the Group, its associates and joint venture in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the consolidated financial statements in terms of the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and the relevant provisions of the Act, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence obtained by us along with the consideration of reports of the other auditors referred to in paragraph (a) of the "Other Matters" section below, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion on the consolidated financial statements.

Emphasis of Matter

We draw attention to Note 9(i) to the consolidated financial statements which states that the ability of Stelis Biopharma Limited ("the Associate") to continue as a going concern is dependent on the mitigation factors detailed in the said note which could have a consequential impact on the carrying amount of investment of ₹ 4,609.50 million in the Associate as at 31 March 2022. Further, the auditors of the Associate have, without modifying their opinion, reported a Material Uncertainty Related to Going Concern vide their report dated 24 May 2022 on the financial information of the Associate for the year ended 31 March 2022.

Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment and based on the consideration of reports of other auditors on separate financial statements of components audited by them, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Going concern

[Refer Significant Accounting Policies and note 2 to the consolidated financial statements]

The key audit matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
As at 31 March 2022, the Group has recorded a loss amounting to ₹ 4,742.50 million and has negative operating cash flows amounting to ₹ 2,578.15 million for the year ended March 31, 2022. Note 2 to the consolidated financial statements explain that Management has concluded that the going concern basis is appropriate in preparing the consolidated financial statements of the Group. The Group evaluated its ability to continue as a going concern based upon an assessment of the Group's cash position, assessment of the exposure with respect to the financial guarantees provided by the Parent Company to an associate company, future cash flow forecasts, its debt repayment obligations and other commitments and its availability of financing facilities, after considering breaches of its existing debt covenants and the related subsequent temporary relaxations obtained from the lenders for compliance with such debt covenants. This required the exercise of significant judgement, particularly in forecasting the Group's future revenues, profitability and cash flows. Based on their assessment, the Group concluded that there are no material uncertainties related to events or conditions which, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. Considering the significance of the area to the overall financial statements this was significant for our audit.	Our audit procedures to assess the going concern assumption and whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast a significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern included the following audit procedures to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Gaining an understanding and assessing the design, implementation and operating effectiveness of Group's key internal controls over preparation of cash flow forecasts to assess its liquidity; • Compared the forecasted statement of profit and loss and cash flows with the Group's business plan approved by the board of directors; • Evaluating the key assumptions in the cash flow forecasts with reference to historical information, current performance, future plans, and market and other external available information; • Performing sensitivity analysis on the forecasted statement of profit and loss and cash flows by considering plausible changes to the key assumptions adopted by the Company; • Performing a retrospective review to assess the reasonableness of Group's past projections by comparing historical forecasts to actual results; • Assessing the availability of banking and other financing facilities by inspecting underlying documentation; • Discussion with the parent and component Management with respect to the going concern assessment of the associate and confirming the same with the Associate's report on the financial information received from the auditor of the Associate; • Evaluating management's judgment of invocation of guarantees provided to the lenders of the Associate; • Assessing the impact of any existing covenants and the related waivers and other restrictive terms therein which may impact Group's ability to raise further debts; • Assessing the adequacy of the disclosures related to application of the going concern assumption.

Taxation

[Refer Significant Accounting Policies and notes 12, 13, 27 and 36 to the consolidated financial statements]

The key audit matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
The Group operates across different tax jurisdictions around the world and is subject to complexities with respect to various tax positions on matters including such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - availability of tax incentives / exemptions. - deferred taxes on business combinations - cross border transfer pricing arrangements etc. The Company is subjected to various domestic and foreign tax regulations with respect to taxability of income received in India including repatriation of any profits as dividends. Assessing the applicability of tax and accounting of such repatriation may involve complexities with respect to various tax positions on availability of tax incentives / exemptions resulting in possible tax litigations/assessments. Judgment is required in assessing the range of possible outcomes for some of these tax matters. These judgments could change over time as each of the matter progresses depending on experience on actual assessment proceedings by tax authorities and other judicial precedents. The Group makes an assessment to determine the outcome of these uncertain tax positions and decides to make an accrual or consider it to be a possible contingent liability. Where the amount of tax liabilities are uncertain, the Group recognizes accruals which reflect its best estimate of the outcome based on the facts known in the relevant jurisdiction. Given the complexity of tax accounting for multiple jurisdictions including judgment involved in determining impact of uncertain tax positions and impact of deferred taxes on business combination, we assessed this to be an area of focus for our audit.	In view of the significance of the matter, following audit procedures were applied, among others to obtain sufficient audit evidence: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We tested the design of internal financial controls and operating effectiveness of the relevant key controls in respect of taxation at a Group level; • We obtained an understanding and analysed key correspondences with the tax authorities to identify any additional uncertain tax positions; • We analysed the Group's judgment regarding the eventual resolution of matters with various tax authorities in certain key jurisdictions. In this regard, we understood how the Group has considered past experience, where available, with the tax authorities in the respective jurisdictions; • We used subject matter experts, to assess the accounting treatment done for key jurisdictions for current and deferred taxes. • We also considered external legal opinions and consultations made by the Group for key uncertain tax positions during current and past period. • We have verified the income tax rate reconciliation for key jurisdictions; • We also obtained the Group's computation for deferred taxes for multiple entities in the Group and assessed its compliance with the recognition and measurement principles under the accounting standards.

Impairment testing of goodwill and intangible assets

[Refer Significant Accounting Policies and notes 7 and 8 to the consolidated financial statements]

The key audit matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
The Group has goodwill and intangible assets of ₹ 4,859.07 million and ₹ 6,249.82 million respectively as at 31 March 2022. These intangible assets predominantly arise on account of past business combinations and are subjected to impairment test as part of Cash Generating Units (CGU's) which include goodwill. The annual impairment testing of goodwill and intangible assets within such CGU's was considered to be a key audit matter due to the complexity of the accounting requirements and the significant judgement involved to estimate the recoverable amount. The recoverable amount of the CGUs (includes goodwill and intangible assets among other items), which is the value in use has been derived from discounted forecast cash flow models. These models use several assumptions, including estimates of future sales growth, operating costs, terminal growth rates, weighted-average cost of capital and consider the impact of COVID-19 on these assumptions, if any.	In view of the significance of the matter, following audit procedures were applied, among others to obtain sufficient audit evidence: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Tested the design and operating effectiveness of the Group's controls around the impairment testing of carrying value of goodwill / intangible assets; • Engaged our valuation specialists to assist in testing the reasonableness of the valuation by evaluating the assumptions and methodologies used by the Group, in particular for weighted average cost of capital, terminal growth rate, etc. for the relevant markets in which the CGUs operate; • Evaluating the assumptions applied to key inputs such as sales growth, operating costs, and terminal growth rates; • Tested whether the Company's analysis about the sensitivity on the outcome of impairment to possible changes in key assumptions reflects the risks inherent in the valuation, including possible impact of COVID-19 pandemic, if any; • Performing a retrospective analysis of the accuracy of the Group's past projections by comparing historical forecast to actual results; We also assessed the Group's disclosures about the sensitivity of the outcome of the impairment assessment to changes in key assumptions like terminal growth rate, weighted average cost of capital, etc. reflect the risks inherent in the valuation of goodwill.

Chargebacks, rebates, returns, cash discount, other adjustments and related accruals ("gross to net sales adjustments")

[Refer Significant Accounting Policies and notes 16, 24 and 28 to the consolidated financial statements]

The key audit matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
A significant portion of Group's sales are made to customers in the United States of America ('USA') under certain commercial and governmental reimbursement schemes and mandated contracts. These arrangements provide for significant amount of chargebacks, rebates, cash discount, medicaid and other related accruals (collectively known as 'gross-to-net' sales adjustments). The Group also provides a general right of return to its customers for these products. These arrangements result in deductions to gross sales and give rise to obligations for the Group to provide customers with allowances, which for unsettled amounts are recognised as an accrual. This was an area of focus in our audit because arrangements are of significant value, inherently complex and computation of accrual requires significant judgement and estimation by the Group. This judgement is particularly complex in USA in which competitive pricing pressure and multi-layered product discounting are increasingly prevalent. These accruals (other than provision for sales return) have been disclosed as a reduction to trade receivables as of 31 March 2022.	In view of the significance of the matter, following audit procedures were applied, among others to obtain sufficient audit evidence: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We tested the design and operating effectiveness of the relevant key controls in respect of 'gross-to-net' sales adjustments. • Obtained the computation for year-end accruals and tested the assumptions used by reference to the Group's stated commercial policies, applicable contracts, stock lying at wholesalers and historical product returns and other claims / allowance. • We performed test of details on the actual claims processed for wholesalers during the year towards chargebacks, rebates, sales return and other allowances etc. to determine the accuracy of 'gross-to-net' sales adjustments. • Tested the historical data with respect to claims processed for sales return, chargebacks, rebates, Medicaid and other allowances. • Performed analytical procedures on 'gross-to-net' sales adjustments recognised during the year to identify any unusual variances / relationships, if any. • For each of the estimated accruals, tested the mathematical accuracy of the computation and verified the underlying data used for completeness and accuracy.

Impairment testing of investment in associates

[Refer Significant Accounting Policies and notes 9(i) to the consolidated financial statements]

The key audit matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
The Group has investments in associates of ₹ 5,273.53 million as at 31 March 2022. One of the associates is still carrying out significant product development currently with insignificant revenues and accordingly, the Group continues to record its share in the losses of the associates. Further, another associate continues to incur losses which requires the Group to assess for impairment given the minimum assured return to the other shareholders in the associate. The recoverable value of these associates for impairment testing was determined using discounted cash flow approach which involves significant judgement and estimates including assessing the impact of COVID-19 on projections and estimates and other recent financing transactions. Given the recurring losses incurred by the associates, impairment testing was significant to our audit, because of the financial quantum of the assets as well as the critical judgements, estimates and assumptions involved. We draw attention to Note 9(i) to the consolidated financial statements which states that the ability of Stelis Biopharma Limited ('the Associate') to continue as a going concern is dependent on the mitigation factors detailed in the said note which could have a consequential impact on the carrying amount of investment of ₹ 4,609.50 million in the Associate as at 31 March 2022. Further, the auditors of the Associate have, without modifying their opinion, reported a Material Uncertainty Related to Going Concern vide their report dated 24 May 2022 on the financial information of the Associate for the year ended 31 March 2022.	In view of the significance of the matter, following audit procedures were applied, among others to obtain sufficient audit evidence: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Tested the design and operating effectiveness of the relevant key controls around Group's assessment of impairment of investment in associates. • Performed a retrospective analysis to assess the reasonableness of Group's projections by comparing historical forecast to actual results. • Tested reasonability of projections used by the Group relating to the sales growth, operating costs, cashflow forecasts. • Engaged our valuation specialists to assist in testing the reasonableness of the valuation by evaluating the assumptions and methodologies used by the Company, in particular for weighted average cost of capital, terminal growth rate, etc. • Discuss with component auditors of associates on their testing of impairment of non-current assets in the associate and conclusions thereof. • Tested recent financing transactions in these companies with third parties to determine the fair value of certain investments. • Tested whether the Company's analysis about the sensitivity on the outcome of impairment to possible changes in key assumptions reflects the risks inherent in the valuation, including possible impact of COVID-19 pandemic, if any.

The key audit matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
The management of Stelis (an associate of the Group) has assessed the annual impairment of CGU (which includes intangible assets under development and assets relating to CDMO unit) as at March 31, 2022. The carrying value of the CGU of Stelis amounts to ₹ 11,039 million as of that date. The carrying value of the CGU is tested by the management of Stelis atleast annually for impairment, or more frequently if the events or changes in circumstances indicate that the asset might be impaired. The evaluation requires a comparison of the estimated recoverable value of the CGU to the carrying value of the assets in the CGU. It is considered to be a key focus area by the component auditor because of the significance of the balance and the significant estimates, judgements and assumptions involved in impairment assessment by the management of Stelis, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Obtaining adequate financing to fulfil Stelis' development and commercial activities, • the risks associated with development and obtaining regulatory approvals of Stelis products, • generation of revenues in due course from the product portfolio and contract manufacturing, • attainment of profitable operations, • discount rate • probabilities applied to the revenues which also factors Stelis management's best estimate of possible delay in product development cycle and regulatory approvals. 	The principal audit procedures performed by the Component auditor, among other procedures included: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Obtained an understanding of the Stelis Management's process for impairment assessment of the carrying value of assets of the CGU; • Evaluated the design and implementation of the relevant controls and carried out testing of the Stelis management's control around the impairment assessment; • Inquired with Stelis management to understand the factors considered when performing the impairment assessment including the rationale for the events and circumstances considered based on strategic plans of the entity (business revenue projections), consideration of economic and industry matters and the factors considered regarding the overall value in use conclusion; • Evaluated the key assumptions considered in Stelis management's estimates of future cash flows; • Involved valuation specialists to evaluate the discount rate used in the calculations; • Compared the historical cash flows (including for current year) against past projections of Stelis management for the same periods and gained understanding of the rationale for the changes; • Performed sensitivity analysis on the key assumptions within the forecast cash flows and focused the attention on those assumptions that were considered most sensitive to the changes; such as revenue growth during the forecast period, the discount rate applied to the future cash flows and terminal growth rate; • Ascertained the extent to which a change in these assumptions, both individually or in aggregate, would result in impairment, and considered the likelihood of such events occurring; • Tested the arithmetical accuracy of the computations; • Assessed the accounting principles applied by Stelis and adequacy of disclosures in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards, applicable regulatory financial reporting framework and other accounting principles generally accepted in India.

The carrying value of the CGU of Stelis amounts to ₹ 6,170 million as of that date. The evaluation requires a comparison of the estimated recoverable value of the CGU to the carrying value of the assets in the CGU. It is considered to be a key focus area by the component auditor because of the significance of the balance and the significant estimates, judgements and assumptions involved in impairment assessment by the management of Stelis, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • generation of revenues in due course from the vaccine plant and contract manufacturing, • plans to convert the existing vaccine plant for CDMO purpose, • ability to enforce the existing contract with customer and liquidate inventories as on balance sheet date prior to its shelf life, • probabilities applied to the revenues which also factors Stelis management's best estimate of possible delay in regulatory approvals. • attainment of profitable operations, • discount rate 	The principal audit procedures performed by the Component auditor, among other procedures included: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Obtained an understanding of the Stelis Management's process for impairment assessment of the carrying value of assets of the CGU; • Evaluated the design and implementation of the relevant controls and carried out testing of the Stelis management's control around the impairment assessment; • Inquired with Stelis management to understand the factors considered when performing the impairment assessment including the rationale for the events and circumstances considered based on strategic plans of the entity (business revenue projections), consideration of economic and industry matters and the factors considered regarding the overall value in use conclusion; • Evaluated the key assumptions considered in Stelis management's estimates of future cash flows; • Involved valuation specialists to evaluate the discount rate and terminal growth rate used in the calculations; • Performed sensitivity analysis on the key assumptions within the forecast cash flows and focused the attention on those assumptions that were considered most sensitive to the changes; such as revenue growth during the forecast period, the discount rate applied to the future cash flows and terminal growth rate; • Ascertained the extent to which a change in these assumptions, both individually or in aggregate, would result in impairment, and considered the likelihood of such events occurring; • Tested the arithmetical accuracy of the computations; • Assessed the accounting principles applied by Stelis and adequacy of disclosures in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards, applicable regulatory financial reporting framework and other accounting principles generally accepted in India.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, on the other information that we obtained prior to the date of this Auditor's Report, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Management's and Board of Directors' Responsibilities for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The Holding Company's Management and Board of Directors are responsible for the preparation and presentation of these consolidated financial statements in term of the requirements of the Act that give a true and fair view of the consolidated state of affairs, consolidated profit/ loss and other comprehensive income, consolidated statement of changes in equity and consolidated cash flows of the Group including its associates and joint venture in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) specified under Section 133 of the Act. The respective Management and Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group and of its associates and joint venture are responsible for maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of each company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; the selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, which have been used for the purpose of preparation of the consolidated financial statements by the Management and Board of Directors of the Holding Company, as aforesaid.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the respective Management and Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group and of its associates and joint venture are responsible for assessing the ability of each company to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the respective Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group and of its associates and joint venture are responsible for overseeing the financial reporting process of each company.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Management and Board of Directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Management and Board of Directors use of the going concern basis of accounting in preparation of consolidated financial statements and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the appropriateness of this assumption. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group and its associates and joint venture to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of such entities or business activities within the Group and its associates and joint venture to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of the financial information of such entities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors. For the other entities included in the consolidated financial statements, which have been audited by other auditors, such other auditors remain responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audits carried out by them. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion. Our responsibilities in this regard are further described in paragraph (a) of the section titled "Other Matters" in this audit report.

We communicate with those charged with governance of the Holding Company and such other entities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Annexure B to the Independent Auditor's report on the consolidated financial statements of Strides Pharma Science Limited ("the Company") for the year ended 31 March 2022

Report on the internal financial controls with reference to the aforesaid consolidated financial statements under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013

(Referred to in paragraph A(f) under 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' section of our report of even date)

Opinion

In conjunction with our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the Company as of and for the year ended 31 March 2022, we have audited the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements of Strides Pharma Science Limited (hereinafter referred to as "the Holding Company") and such companies incorporated in India under the Companies Act, 2013 which are its subsidiary companies and its associate companies, to the extent applicable, as of that date.

In our opinion, the Holding Company and such companies incorporated in India which are its subsidiary companies and its associate companies, have, in all material respects, adequate internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements and such internal financial controls were operating effectively as at 31 March 2022, based on the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements criteria established by such companies considering the essential components of such internal controls stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (the "Guidance Note").

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The respective Company's management and the Board of Directors are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements based on the criteria established by the respective Company considering the essential components of internal controls stated in the Guidance Note. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the respective company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act").

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note and the Standards on Auditing, prescribed under section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements were established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of the internal controls based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained and the audit evidence obtained by the other auditors of the relevant subsidiary companies and associate companies in terms of their reports referred to in the Other Matters paragraph below, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements.

Meaning of Internal Financial controls with Reference to Consolidated Financial Statements

A company's internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial controls with Reference to consolidated Financial Statements

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Other Matters

Our aforesaid reports under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act on the adequacy and operating effectiveness of the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements insofar as it relates to one subsidiary company and one associate company, which are companies incorporated in India, is based on the corresponding reports of the auditors of such companies incorporated in India.

Note No. 01 General information

Strides Pharma Science Limited (the 'Company' or 'Strides') and its subsidiaries (together referred to as the 'Group') are into the development and manufacture of pharmaceutical products. The Group has its registered office situated at 201, Devavrata, Sector 17, Vashi, Navi Mumbai - 400703, with corporate office in Bengaluru, India and operates across many countries spreading across developed and emerging markets. Strides is listed on the National Stock Exchange (NSE) and Bombay Stock Exchange (BSE) in India.

Note No. 02 Basis of preparation of consolidated financial statements

The Group has incurred loss of ₹ 4,742.50 million and has negative operating cash flows amounting to ₹ 2,578.16 million for the year ended 31 March 2022 on account of continuing pricing pressure in some of its key geographies consequent to effects of COVID. Management of the Group have obtained relaxations for compliance with financial covenants for year ended March 31, 2022, as these have not been met as of the date of the issue of financial statements. Further, as of 31 March 2022, the Company has provided guarantees aggregating to ₹ 9,419.83 million in relation to the borrowings of one of its associates ('the Associate'), out of which ₹ 6,016 million is outstanding as on 31 March 2022, for which there is a material uncertainty to continue as a going concern. The Associate has requested for temporary relaxations for compliance with these financial covenants from the lenders as these have not been met as of the date of these consolidated financial statements. Also refer note 9 of these consolidated financial statements.

Further, to mitigate the situation, the Group has raised long-term and other financing facilities amounting to ₹ 500 million post year ended 31 March 2022 and has issued equity warrants to the entity which is part of the Promoter group that is expected to provide additional equity of ₹ 884 million by 31 March 2023. The Group has cash and cash equivalents of ₹ 1,707.30 million as at 31 March 2022 and also undrawn borrowing facilities available from certain lenders. The Group expects to improve operating profits from the newly acquired business in the US and from cost reductions consequent to capacity optimization at some of its manufacturing locations from April 2022 and by monitoring of freight and other expenses.

Accordingly, based on the fact that the Group had generated positive operating cash flows in the previous year and expects to generate positive operating cash flows in future periods, temporary relaxations from lenders for compliance with financial covenants related to borrowings, its ability to raise new financing facilities, full utilisation of existing facilities, expected equity infusion in the year ending 31 March 2023 and the steps undertaken by management as noted above, management believes that the Group will be able to continue generating sufficient cash in the foreseeable future to meet its obligations as they fall due.

2.1 Statement of compliance

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") as per the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules 2015, as amended, notified under Section 133 of Companies Act, 2013, (the 'Act') and other relevant provisions of the Act.

These consolidated Ind AS financial statements ('consolidated financial statements') were approved by the Board of Directors and authorised for issue on May 24, 2022.

2.2 Functional and presentation currency

These consolidated financial statements are presented in Indian rupees (₹), which is also the functional currency of the parent Company. All amounts have been rounded-off to the nearest million, unless otherwise indicated. In respect of subsidiaries and associates whose operations are self-contained and integrated, the functional currency has been determined to be the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates.

2.3 Basis of measurement

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for the following items:

- Certain financial assets and liabilities (including derivative instruments) are measured at fair value;
- Net defined benefit assets/(liability) are measured at fair value of plan assets, less present value of defined benefit obligations; and
- Equity settled share based payments that are measured at fair value

2.4 Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements includes the financial statements of the Company and entities (including structured entities) controlled by the Company and its subsidiaries. Control is achieved when the Group:

- has power over the investee;
- is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee; and

Notes

forming part of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2022

- has the ability to use its power to affect its returns.

The Group reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control listed above.

When the Group has less than a majority of the voting rights of an investee, it has power over the investee when the voting rights are sufficient to give it the practical ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee unilaterally. The Group considers all relevant facts and circumstances in assessing whether or not the Group's voting rights in an investee are sufficient to give it power, including:

- the size of the Group's holding of voting rights relative to the size and dispersion of holdings of the other vote holders;
- potential voting rights held by the Group, other vote holders or other parties;
- rights arising from other contractual arrangements; and
- any additional facts and circumstances that indicate that the Group has, or does not have, the current ability to direct the relevant activities at the time that decisions need to be made, including voting patterns at previous shareholders' meetings.

Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Group obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiary. Specifically, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated statement of profit and loss from the date the Group gains control until the date when the Group ceases to control the subsidiary.

Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income of subsidiaries is attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

When necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies into line with the Group's accounting policies.

The financial statements of the Group are consolidated on line-by-line basis. Intra-group transactions, balances and any unrealised gains arising from intra-group transactions, are eliminated. Unrealised losses are eliminated, but only to the extent that there is no evidence of impairment. All temporary differences that arise from the elimination of profits and losses resulting from intragroup transactions are recognised as per Ind AS 12 Income Taxes.

Changes in the Group's ownership interests in existing subsidiaries

Changes in the Group's ownership interests in subsidiaries that do not result in the Group losing control over the subsidiaries are accounted for as equity transactions. The carrying amounts of the Group's interests and the non-controlling interests are adjusted to reflect the changes in their relative interests in the subsidiaries. Any difference between the amount by which the non-controlling interests are adjusted and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognised directly in equity and attributed to owners of the Company.

When the Group loses control of a subsidiary, a gain or loss is recognised in statement of profit and loss and is calculated as the difference between (i) the aggregate of the fair value of the consideration received and the fair value of any retained interest and (ii) the previous carrying amount of the assets (including goodwill), and liabilities of the subsidiary and any non-controlling interests. All amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to that subsidiary are accounted for as if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities of the subsidiary (i.e. reclassified to statement of profit and loss or transferred to another category of equity as specified/permitted by applicable Ind AS). The fair value of any investment retained in the former subsidiary at the date when control is lost is regarded as the fair value on initial recognition for subsequent accounting under Ind AS 109, or, when applicable, the cost on initial recognition of an investment in an associate or a joint venture.

Refer note 50 for details of subsidiaries considered in these consolidated financial statements.

2.5 Use of estimates and judgements

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires management to make estimates, judgements and assumptions. These estimates, judgements and assumptions affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Accounting estimates could change from period to period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Appropriate changes in estimates are made as management becomes aware of changes in circumstances surrounding the estimates. Changes in estimates are reflected in the consolidated financial statements in the period in which changes are made and, if material, their effects are disclosed in the notes to the consolidated financial statements.

2.5.1 Judgements

Information about judgements made in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effects on the amounts recognised in the financial statements is included in the following notes:

- Note 2.2 — Assessment of functional currency;
- Note 3.5 — Revenue recognition: whether revenue from sale of product and services is recognised overtime or at a point of time;
- Note 5 — Whether an agreement contains a lease;
- Note 3.18 and 51 — Financial instruments;
- Note 3.12, 3.13 and 3.14— Useful lives of property, plant and equipment, intangible assets and investment property;
- Note 46 — measurement of defined benefit obligation; key actuarial assumptions;
- Note 3.11 and 42— Provision for income taxes and related tax contingencies and evaluation of recoverability of deferred tax assets;
- Note 3.15 — Impairment testing for non financial assets.

2.5.2 Control over subsidiaries

The following entities are considered subsidiaries of the Group even though the Group and non-controlling interests have about 50% of the ownership interest and the voting rights in such entities:

Name of the entities	₹ In Million
	Proportion of ownership interest and voting power held by the Group
	31-Mar-22	31-Mar-21
1. Universal Corporation Limited	51%	51%
2. Trinity Pharma (Pty) Limited	51.76%	51.76%
3. Apollo Life Sciences Holdings (Pty) Limited	51.76%	51.76%

The management of the Group assessed whether or not the Group has control over the above mentioned entities based on whether the Group has the practical ability to direct the relevant activities of such entities unilaterally. Based on such assessment, the directors concluded that the Group has sufficient management rights to unilaterally direct the relevant activities of such entities and therefore the Group has control.

2.6 Assumption and estimation uncertainty

Information about assumptions and estimation uncertainties that have a significant risk of resulting in a material adjustment in the year ending March 31, 2022 is included in the following notes:

- Note 12, 36 — taxation including deferred taxes;
- Note 28 — accruals for charge backs, rebates and sales returns;
- Note 11 — impairment of financial assets;
- Note 7, 9 — Impairment of non financial assets
- Note 42 — litigations

2.7 Operating cycle

As mentioned in para 1 above under 'Corporate information', the Group is into development and manufacture of pharmaceutical products. Based on the normal time between acquisition of assets and their realisation in cash or cash equivalents, the Group has determined its operating cycle as 3 years to 5 years and 12 months relating to research and development activities and manufacturing of pharmaceutical products respectively. The above basis is used for classifying the assets and liabilities into current and non-current as the case may be.

2.8 Cash flow statement

Cash flows are reported using indirect method, whereby net profits before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature and any deferrals or accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments and items of income or expenses associated with investing or financing cash flows. The cash flows from regular revenue generating (operating activities), investing and financing activities of the Group are segregated.

2.9 Measurement of fair values

A number of the Group's accounting policies and disclosures require the measurement of fair values, for both financial and non-financial assets and liabilities.

Fair values are categorised into different levels in a fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows.

Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability,

forming part of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2022

either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).

Level 3: inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

The Group has an established control framework with respect to the measurement of fair values. This includes a finance team that has overall responsibility for overseeing all significant fair value measurements, including Level 3 fair values.

The Group regularly reviews significant unobservable inputs and valuation adjustments. If third party information is used to measure fair values, then the finance team assesses the evidence obtained from the third parties to support the conclusion that these valuations meet the requirements of Ind AS, including the level in the fair value hierarchy in which the valuations should be classified.

When measuring the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Group uses observable market data as far as possible. If the inputs used to measure the fair value of an asset or a liability fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy, then the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety in the same level of the fair value hierarchy as the lowest level input that is significant to the entire measurement.

The Group recognises transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy at the end of the reporting period during which the change has occurred. Further information about the assumptions made in measuring fair values is included in the following notes:

- Note 45 — share based payments;
- Note 6 — investment property
- Note 3.18 and 51 — financial instruments;

Note No. 03 Significant accounting policies

3.1 Business combinations

Acquisitions of businesses are accounted for using the acquisition method. The consideration transferred in a business combination is measured at fair value, which is calculated as the sum of the acquisition-date fair values of the assets transferred by the Group, liabilities incurred by the Group to the former owners of the acquiree and the equity interests issued by the Group in exchange of control of the acquiree. Acquisition-related costs are generally recognised in statement of profit and loss as incurred.

At the acquisition date, the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed are recognised at their fair value, except that:

- deferred tax assets or liabilities, and assets or liabilities related to employee benefit arrangements are recognised and measured in accordance with Ind AS 12 Income Taxes and Ind AS 19 Employee Benefits respectively;
- liabilities or equity instruments related to share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree or share-based payment arrangements of the Group entered into to replace share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree are measured in accordance with Ind AS 102 Share-based Payment at the acquisition date (see note 3.10.2); and
- assets (or disposal groups) that are classified as held for sale in accordance with Ind AS 105 Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations are measured in accordance with that Standard.

Goodwill is measured as the excess of the sum of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree, and the fair value of the acquirer's previously held equity interest in the acquiree (if any) over the net of the acquisition-date amounts of the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed.

In case of a bargain purchase, before recognising a gain in respect thereof, the Group determines whether there exists clear evidence of the underlying reasons for classifying the business combination as a bargain purchase. Thereafter, the Group reassesses whether it has correctly identified all of the assets acquired and all of the liabilities assumed and recognises any additional assets or liabilities that are identified in that reassessment. The Group then reviews the procedures used to measure the amounts that Ind AS requires for the purposes of calculating the bargain purchase. If the gain remains after this reassessment and review, the Group recognises it in other comprehensive income and accumulates the same in equity as capital reserve. This gain is attributed to the acquirer. If there does not exist clear evidence of the underlying reasons for classifying the business combination as a bargain purchase, the Group recognises the gain, after reassessing and reviewing (as described above), directly in equity as capital reserve.

Non-controlling interests that are present ownership interests and entitle their holders to a proportionate share of the entity's net assets in the event of liquidation may be initially measured either at fair value or at the non-controlling interests' proportionate share of the recognised amounts of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. The choice of measurement basis is made on a transaction-by-transaction basis. Other types of non-controlling interests are measured at fair value or, when applicable, on the basis specified in another Ind AS.

When the consideration transferred by the Group in a business combination includes assets or liabilities resulting from a contingent consideration arrangement, the contingent consideration is measured at its acquisition-date fair value and included as part of the consideration transferred in a business combination. Changes in the fair value of the contingent consideration that qualify as measurement period adjustments are adjusted retrospectively, with corresponding adjustments against goodwill or capital reserve, as the case maybe. Measurement period adjustments are adjustments that arise from additional information obtained during the 'measurement period' (which cannot exceed one year from the acquisition date) about facts and circumstances that existed at the acquisition date.

The subsequent accounting for changes in the fair value of the contingent consideration that do not qualify as measurement period adjustments depends on how the contingent consideration is classified. Contingent consideration that is classified as equity is not remeasured at subsequent reporting dates and its subsequent settlement is accounted for within equity. Contingent consideration that is classified as an asset or a liability is remeasured at fair value at subsequent reporting dates with the corresponding gain or loss being recognised in statement of profit and loss.

When a business combination is achieved in stages, the Group's previously held equity interest in the acquiree is remeasured to its acquisition-date fair value and the resulting gain or loss, if any, is recognised in statement of profit and loss. Amounts arising from interests in the acquiree prior to the acquisition date that have previously been recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to statement of profit and loss where such treatment would be appropriate if that interest were disposed of.

If the initial accounting for a business combination is incomplete by the end of the reporting period in which the combination occurs, the Group reports provisional amounts for the items for which the accounting is incomplete. Those provisional amounts are adjusted during the measurement period (see above), or additional assets or liabilities are recognised, to reflect new information obtained about facts and circumstances that existed at the acquisition date that, if known, would have affected the amounts recognised at that date.

3.2 Goodwill

Goodwill arising on an acquisition of a business is carried at cost as established at the date of acquisition of the business less accumulated impairment losses, if any.

For the purposes of impairment testing, goodwill is allocated to cash-generating units. The allocation is made to those cash generating units or groups of cash generating units that are expected to benefit from the business combination in which such goodwill arose.

A cash-generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment annually, or more frequently when there is an indication that the unit may be impaired. If the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the unit and then to the other assets of the unit pro rata based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit. Any impairment loss for goodwill is recognised directly in statement of profit and loss. An impairment loss recognised for goodwill is not reversed in subsequent periods.

On disposal of the relevant cash-generating unit, the attributable amount of goodwill is included in the determination of the profit or loss on disposal.

The Group's policy for goodwill arising on the acquisition of an associate and a joint venture is described at note 3.3 below.

3.3 Investments in associates and joint ventures

An associate is an entity over which the Group has significant influence. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee but is not control or joint control over those policies.

A joint venture is a joint arrangement whereby the parties that have joint control of the arrangement have rights to the net assets of the joint arrangement. Joint control is the contractually agreed sharing of control of an arrangement, which exists only when decisions about the relevant activities require unanimous consent of the parties sharing control.

The results and assets and liabilities of associates or joint ventures are incorporated in these consolidated financial statements using the equity method of accounting, except when the investment, or a portion

thereof, is classified as held for sale, in which case it is accounted for in accordance with Ind AS 105. Under the equity method, an investment in an associate or a joint venture is initially recognised in the consolidated balance sheet at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognise the Group's share of the profit or loss and other comprehensive income of the associate or joint venture. Distributions received from an associate or a joint venture reduce the carrying amount of the investment. When the Group's share of losses of an associate or a joint venture exceeds the Group's interest in that associate or joint venture (which includes any long-term interests that, in substance, form part of the Group's net investment in the associate or joint venture), the Group discontinues recognising its share of further losses. Additional losses are recognised only to the extent that the Group has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the associate or joint venture.

An investment in an associate or a joint venture is accounted for using the equity method from the date on which the investee becomes an associate or a joint venture. On acquisition of the investment in an associate or a joint venture, any excess of the cost of the investment over the Group's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities of the investee is recognised as goodwill, which is included within the carrying amount of the investment. Any excess of the Group's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities over the cost of the investment, after reassessment, is recognised directly in equity as capital reserve in the period in which the investment is acquired.

After application of the equity method of accounting, the Group determines whether there is any objective evidence of impairment as a result of one or more events that occurred after the initial recognition of the net investment in an associate or a joint venture and that event (or events) has an impact on the estimated future cash flows from the net investment that can be reliably estimated. If there exists such an objective evidence of impairment, then it is necessary to recognise impairment loss with respect to the Group's investment in an associate or a joint venture.

When necessary, the entire carrying amount of the investment (including goodwill) is tested for impairment in accordance with Ind AS 36 Impairment of Assets as a single asset by comparing its recoverable amount (higher of value in use and fair value less costs of disposal) with its carrying amount. Any impairment loss recognised forms part of the carrying amount of the investment. Any reversal of that impairment loss is recognised in accordance with Ind AS 36 to the extent that the recoverable amount of the investment subsequently increases.

The Group discontinues the use of the equity method from the date when the investment ceases to be an associate or a joint venture, or when the investment is classified as held for sale. When the Group retains an interest in the former associate or joint venture and the retained interest is a financial asset, the Group measures the retained interest at fair value at that date and the fair value is regarded as its fair value on initial recognition in accordance with Ind AS 109. The difference between the carrying amount of the associate or joint venture at the date the equity method was discontinued, and the fair value of any retained interest and any proceeds from disposing of a part interest in the associate or joint venture is included in the determination of the gain or loss on disposal of the associate or joint venture. In addition, the Group accounts for all amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to that associate or joint venture on the same basis as would be required if that associate or joint venture had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities. Therefore, if a gain or loss previously recognised in other comprehensive income by that associate or joint venture would be reclassified to statement of profit and loss on the disposal of the related assets or liabilities, the Group reclassifies the gain or loss from equity to statement of profit and loss (as a reclassification adjustment) when the equity method is discontinued.

The Group continues to use the equity method when an investment in an associate becomes an investment in a joint venture or an investment in a joint venture becomes an investment in an associate. There is no remeasurement to fair value upon such changes in ownership interests.

When the Group reduces its ownership interest in an associate or a joint venture but the Group continues to use the equity method, the Group reclassifies to statement of profit and loss the proportion of the gain or loss that had previously been recognised in other comprehensive income relating to that reduction in ownership interest if that gain or loss would be reclassified to statement of profit and loss on the disposal of the related assets or liabilities.

When a group entity transacts with an associate or a joint venture of the Group, profits and losses resulting from the transactions with the associate or joint venture are recognised in the Group's consolidated financial statements only to the extent of interests in the associate or joint venture that are not related to the Group.

3.4 Non-current assets held for sale

Non-current assets and disposal groups are classified as held for sale if their carrying amount will be recovered principally through a sale transaction rather than through continuing use. This condition is regarded as met only when the asset (or disposal group) is available for immediate sale in its present condition subject only to terms that are usual and customary for sales of such asset (or disposal group) and its sale is highly probable. Management must be committed to the sale, which should be expected to qualify for recognition as a completed sale within one year from the date of classification.

When the Group is committed to a sale plan involving loss of control of a subsidiary, all of the assets and liabilities of that subsidiary are classified as held for sale when the criteria described above are met, regardless of whether the Group will retain a non-controlling interest in its former subsidiary after the sale.

When the Group is committed to a sale plan involving disposal of an investment, or a portion of an investment, in an associate or joint venture, the investment or the portion of the investment that will be disposed of is classified as held for sale when the criteria described above are met, and the Group discontinues the use of the equity method in relation to the portion that is classified as held for sale. Any retained portion of an investment in an associate or a joint venture that has not been classified as held for sale continues to be accounted for using the equity method. The Group discontinues the use of the equity method at the time of disposal when the disposal results in the Group losing significant influence over the associate or joint venture.

After the disposal takes place, the Group accounts for any retained interest in the associate or joint venture in accordance with Ind AS 109 unless the retained interest continues to be an associate or a joint venture, in which case the Group uses the equity method (see the accounting policy regarding investments in associates or joint ventures above).

Non-current assets (and disposal groups) classified as held for sale are measured at the lower of their carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell.

3.5 Revenue from contracts with customers

The Group recognises revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. A 5-step approach is used to recognise revenue as below:

Step 1: Identify the contract(s) with a customer

Step 2: Identify the performance obligation in contract

Step 3: Determine the transaction price

Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract

Step 5: Recognise revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation

3.5.1 Sale of goods

Revenue is recognised when a promise in a customer contract (performance obligation) has been satisfied by transferring control over the promised goods to the customer. Control over a promised good refers to the ability to direct the use of, and obtain substantially all of the remaining benefits from, those goods. Control is usually transferred upon shipment, delivery to, upon receipt of goods by the customer, in accordance with the delivery and acceptance terms agreed with the customers. The amount of revenue to be recognised (transaction price) is based on the consideration expected to be received in exchange for goods, excluding amounts collected on behalf of third parties such as sales tax or other taxes directly linked to sales. If a contract contains more than one performance obligation, the transaction price is allocated to each performance obligation based on their relative stand-alone selling prices. Revenue from product sales are recorded net of allowances for estimated rebates, cash discounts and estimates of product returns, all of which are established at the time of sale.

The consideration received by the Group in exchange for its goods may be fixed or variable. Variable consideration is only recognised when it is considered highly probable that a significant revenue reversal will not occur once the underlying uncertainty related to variable consideration is subsequently resolved.

Profit share revenues

The Group from time to time enters into marketing arrangements with certain business partners for the sale of its products in certain markets. Under such arrangements, the Group sells its products to the business partners at a base purchase price agreed upon in the arrangement and is also entitled to a profit share which is over and above the base purchase price. The profit share is typically dependent on the business partner's ultimate net sale proceeds or net profits, subject to any reductions or adjustments that are required by the terms of the arrangement. Such arrangements typically require the business partner to provide confirmation of units sold and net sales or net profit computations for the products covered under the arrangement.

Revenue is an amount equal to the base purchase price is recognised in these transactions upon delivery

of products to the business partners. An additional amount representing the profit share component is recognised as revenue in the period which corresponds to the ultimate sales of the products made by business partners only when the collectability of the profit share becomes probable and a reliable measurement of the profit share is available. Otherwise, recognition is deferred to a subsequent period pending satisfaction of such collectability and measurability requirements. In measuring the amount of profit share revenue to be recognised for each period, the Group uses all available information and evidence, including any confirmations from the business partner of the profit share amount owed to the Group, to the extent made available before the date the Company's Board of Directors authorises the issuance of its financial statements for the applicable period.

Sale to Distributors

The Group appoints distributors in various territories who purchase the goods from the Group and thereafter sell them in the territory. In case the distributor is acting as an agent, the Group defers revenue recognition till the time goods are sold by the distributor to the end customer. On the other hand, if the distributor is principal, revenue is recognised upon the transfer of significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods to the distributor."

Right to reject or return goods

The Group sells its products to the customers with a right to return the goods within the specified period of time. If the probability of acceptance by the customer is uncertain, recognition of revenue is deferred till the expiry of right to return or acceptance by the customer whichever is earlier.

Free samples

The Group distributes free samples to distributors, at various exhibitions and at medical conferences. The cost of samples distributed at exhibitions, medical conferences or to doctors directly are treated as marketing expense and clubbed under "Business Promotion Expense". However, free samples given to distributors (that are not acting as agents) is recognised as cost of goods sold. In case the free samples are not delivered at the same time as the related sales consignment, a reliable provision is made in this regard.

Price Variations / Incentives

Incentives are accounted based on the assessment of whether the beneficiary (of the incentive) is acting as a principal or an agent. Where the beneficiary is a principal, the incentive is regarded as consideration paid to the customer and is reduced from revenue. However, where the beneficiary is an agent, the incentive payment is recognised as an expense as the same is in the nature of commission.

Chargebacks / Reptos claims by the wholesalers / distributors and Price Protections

Chargebacks and reptos claims are estimated on the basis of the average trend of the past years and recognised as reduction to revenue.

3.5.2 Rendering of services

Revenue from services rendered, which primarily relate to contract research, is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss as the underlying services are performed. Upfront payments received under these arrangements are deferred and recognised as revenue over the expected period over which the related services are expected to be performed.

3.5.3 Royalty, sale of licenses and Intellectual property rights

The Group enters into certain dossier sales, royalties, licensing and supply arrangements with various parties. Income from licensing arrangements is generally recognised over the term of the contract. Some of these arrangements include certain performance obligations by the Group. Revenue from such arrangements is recognised in the period in which the Group completes all its performance obligations.

3.5.4 Dividend and interest income

Dividend income from investments is recognised when the shareholder's right to receive payment has been established (provided that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Group and the amount of income can be measured reliably).

Interest income from a financial asset is recognised when it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Group and the amount of income can be measured reliably. Interest income is accrued on a time basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to that asset's net carrying amount on initial recognition.

3.5.5 Rental income

The Group's policy for recognition of revenue from operating leases is described in note 3.6.1 below.

3.5.6 Export Incentives

Export incentives are accrued for based on fulfilment of eligibility criteria for availing the incentives and when there is no uncertainty in receiving the same. These incentives include estimated realisable values/benefits from special import licenses and benefits under specified schemes as applicable.

3.6 Leases

At inception of a contract, the Group assesses whether a contract is, or contains, a lease. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Company uses the definition of a lease in Ind AS 116. This policy is applied to contracts entered into, on or after 1 April 2019.

3.6.1 The Group as lessor

At inception or on modification of a contract that contains a lease component, the Group allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component on the basis of their relative standalone prices.

When the Group acts as a lessor, it determines at lease inception whether each lease is a finance lease or an operating lease.

To classify each lease, the Group makes an overall assessment of whether the lease transfers substantially all of the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of the underlying asset. If this is the case, then the lease is a finance lease; if not, then it is an operating lease. As part of this assessment, the Group considers certain indicators such as whether the lease is for the major part of the economic life of the asset.

When the Group is an intermediate lessor, it accounts for its interests in the head lease and the sub-lease separately. It assesses the lease classification of a sub-lease with reference to the right-of-use asset arising from the head lease, not with reference to the underlying asset. If a head lease is a short-term lease to which the Group applies the exemption described above, then it classifies the sub-lease as an operating lease. The Group recognises lease payments received under operating leases as income on a straightline basis over the lease term.

3.6.2 The Group as lessee

At commencement or on modification of a contract that contains a lease component, the Group allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component on the basis of its relative stand-alone prices. However, for the leases of property the group has elected not to separate non-lease components and account for the lease and non-lease components as a single lease component.

The Group recognises a right-of-use asset and a lease liability at the lease commencement date. The right-ofuse asset is initially measured at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, plus any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of costs to dismantle and remove the underlying asset or to restore the underlying asset or the site on which it is located, less any lease incentives received.

The right-of-use asset is subsequently depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement date to the end of the lease term, unless the lease transfers ownership of the underlying asset to the Group by the end of the lease term or the cost of the right-of-use asset reflects that the Group will exercise a purchase option. In that case the right-of-use asset will be depreciated over the useful life of the underlying asset, which is determined on the same basis as those of property and equipment. In addition, the right-of-use asset is periodically reduced by impairment losses, if any, and adjusted for certain remeasurements of the lease liability.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, the Group's incremental borrowing rate. Generally, the Group uses its incremental borrowing rate as the discount rate.

The Group determines its incremental borrowing rate by obtaining interest rates from various external financing sources and makes certain adjustments to reflect the terms of the lease and type of the asset leased.

Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability comprise the following:

- fixed payments, including in-substance fixed payments;
- variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, initially measured using the index or rate as at the commencement date;
- amounts expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee; and
- the exercise price under a purchase option that the Group is reasonably certain to exercise, lease payments in an optional renewal period if the Group is reasonably certain to exercise an extension option, and penalties for early termination of a lease unless the Group is reasonably certain not to terminate early.

The lease liability is measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. It is remeasured when there is a change in future lease payments arising from a change in an index or rate, if there is a change in the Group's estimate of the amount expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee, if the Company changes its assessment of whether it will exercise a purchase, extension or termination option or if there is a revised in-substance fixed lease payment.

When the lease liability is remeasured in this way, a corresponding adjustment is made to the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset, or is recorded in profit or loss if the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset has been reduced to zero.

Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets

The Group has elected not to recognise right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for leases of low-value assets and short-term leases, including IT equipment. The Group recognises the lease payments associated with these leases as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

The Company's significant leasing arrangements are mainly in respect of factory land and buildings, residential and office premises.

3.7 Foreign currencies transactions and translation

In preparing the financial statements of each individual group entity, transactions in currencies other than the entity's functional currency (foreign currencies) are recognised at the rates of exchange prevailing at the dates of the transactions. At the end of each reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing at that date. Non-monetary items carried at fair value that are denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing at the date when the fair value was determined. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not retranslated.

Exchange differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items are recognised in statement of profit and loss in the period in which they arise except for:

- exchange differences which are regarded as an adjustment to interest costs on foreign currency borrowings that are directly attributable to the acquisition or construction of qualifying assets, are capitalized as cost of assets, and
- exchange differences on monetary items receivable from or payable to a foreign operation for which settlement is neither planned nor likely to occur (therefore forming part of the net investment in the foreign operation), are recognised initially in other comprehensive income and reclassified from equity to statement of profit and loss on repayment of the monetary items. On the disposal of a foreign operation, the cumulative amount of the exchange differences relating to that foreign operation, recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the separate component of equity, will be reclassified from equity to statement of profit and loss when the gain or loss on disposal is recognised.

For the purposes of presenting these consolidated financial statements, the assets and liabilities of the Group's foreign operations are translated into Indian Rupees using exchange rates prevailing at the end of each reporting period. Income and expense items are translated at the average exchange rates for the period, unless exchange rates fluctuate significantly during that period, in which case the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions are used. Exchange differences arising, if any, are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity (and attributed to non-controlling interests as appropriate).

On the disposal of a foreign operation (i.e. a disposal of the Group's entire interest in a foreign operation, a disposal involving loss of control over a subsidiary that includes a foreign operation, or a partial disposal of an interest in a joint arrangement or an associate that includes a foreign operation of which the retained interest becomes a financial asset), all of the exchange differences accumulated in equity in respect of that operation attributable to the owners of the Company are reclassified to the statement of profit and loss.

In addition, in relation to a partial disposal of a subsidiary that includes a foreign operation that does not result in the Group losing control over the subsidiary, the proportionate share of accumulated exchange differences are re-attributed to non-controlling interests and are not recognised in statement of profit and loss. For all other partial disposals (i.e. partial disposals of associates or joint arrangements that do not result in the Group losing significant influence or joint control), the proportionate share of the accumulated exchange differences is reclassified to the statement of profit and loss.

Goodwill and fair value adjustments to identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed through acquisition of a foreign operation are treated as assets and liabilities of the foreign operation and translated at the rate of exchange prevailing at the end of each reporting period. Exchange differences arising are recognised in other comprehensive income.

3.8 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs include:

- (i) interest expense calculated using the effective interest rate method,
- (ii) finance charges in respect of finance leases, and
- (iii) exchange differences arising from foreign currency borrowings to the extent that they are regarded as an adjustment to interest costs.

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets, until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale.

Interest income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation.

All other borrowing costs are recognised in statement of profit and loss in the period in which they are incurred.

3.9 Employee benefits

3.9.1 Short-term employee benefits

All employee benefits falling due wholly within twelve months of rendering the services are classified as short-term employee benefits, which include benefits like salaries, wages, short-term compensated absences and performance incentives and are recognised as expenses in the period in which the employee renders the related service.

3.9.2 Post-employment benefits

Payments to defined contribution retirement benefit plans are recognised as an expense when employees have rendered service entitling them to the contributions.

For defined benefit retirement plans, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the projected unit credit method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at the end of each annual reporting period. Remeasurement, comprising actuarial gains and losses, the effect of the changes to the asset ceiling (if applicable) and the return on plan assets (excluding net interest), is reflected immediately in the balance sheet with a charge or credit recognised in other comprehensive income in the period in which they occur. Past service cost is recognised in statement of profit and loss in the period of a plan amendment. Net interest is calculated by applying the discount rate at the beginning of the period to the net defined benefit liability or asset.

The retirement benefit obligation recognised in the consolidated balance sheet represents the actual deficit or surplus in the Group's defined benefit plans. Any surplus resulting from this calculation is limited to the present value of any economic benefits available in the form of refunds from the plans or reductions in future contributions to the plans.

A liability for a termination benefit is recognised at the earlier of when the entity can no longer withdraw the offer of the termination benefit and when the entity recognises any related restructuring costs.

3.9.3 Compensated absences

The Group has a policy on compensated absences which are both accumulating and non-accumulating in nature. The expected cost of accumulating compensated absences is determined by actuarial valuation performed by an independent actuary at each balance sheet date using the projected unit credit method on the additional amount expected to be paid/availed as a result of the unused entitlement that has accumulated at the balance sheet date. Expense on non-accumulating compensated absences is recognised in the period in which the absences occur.

3.10 Share-based payment arrangements

3.10.1 Share-based payment transactions of the Company

Equity-settled share-based payments to employees and others providing similar services are measured at the fair value of the equity instruments at the grant date.

The fair value determined at the grant date of the equity-settled share-based payments is expensed on a straight-line basis over the vesting period, based on the Group's estimate of equity instruments that will eventually vest, with a corresponding increase in equity. At the end of each reporting period, the Group revises its estimate of the number of equity instruments expected to vest. The impact of the revision of the original estimates, if any, is recognised in statement of profit and loss such that the cumulative expense reflects the revised estimate, with a corresponding adjustment to the equity-settled employee benefits reserve.

3.10.2 Cash settled share-based payment transactions of the Company

The fair value of the amount payable to employees in respect of cash settled share based payments is recognised as an expense with the corresponding increase in liabilities, over the period during which the employees becoming unconditionally entitled to payment. The liability is remeasured at each reporting date and at settlement date based on the fair value of the underlying options. Any changes in the liability are recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

3.10.3 Share-based payment transactions of the acquiree in a business combination

When the share-based payment awards held by the employees of an acquiree (acquiree awards) are replaced by the Group's share-based payment awards (replacement awards), both the acquiree awards and the replacement awards are measured in accordance with Ind AS 102 ("market-based measure") at the acquisition date. The portion of the replacement awards that is included in measuring the consideration transferred in a business combination equals the market-based measure of the acquiree awards multiplied by the ratio of the portion of the vesting period completed to the greater of the total vesting period or the original vesting period of the acquiree award. The excess of the market-based measure of the replacement awards over the market-based measure of the acquiree awards included in measuring the consideration transferred is recognised as remuneration cost for post-combination service.

However, when the acquiree awards expire as a consequence of a business combination and the Group replaces those awards when it does not have an obligation to do so, the replacement awards are measured at their market-based measure in accordance with Ind AS 102. All of the market-based measure of the replacement awards is recognised as remuneration cost for post-combination service.

At the acquisition date, when the outstanding equity-settled share-based payment transactions held by the employees of an acquiree are not exchanged by the Group for its share-based payment transactions, the acquiree share-based payment transactions are measured at their market-based measure at the acquisition date. If the share-based payment transactions have vested by the acquisition date, they are included as part of the non-controlling interest in the acquiree. However, if the share-based payment transactions have not vested by the acquisition date, the market-based measure of the unvested share-based payment transactions is allocated to the non-controlling interest in the acquiree based on the ratio of the portion of the vesting period completed to the greater of the total vesting period or the original vesting period of the share-based payment transaction. The balance is recognised as remuneration cost for post-combination service.

3.11 Taxation

Income tax expense represents the sum of the current tax payable and deferred tax.

3.11.1 Current tax

The current tax payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from 'profit before tax' as reported in the consolidated statement of profit and loss because of items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and items that are never taxable or deductible. The Group's current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

3.11.2 Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the consolidated financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognised for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilised. Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit. In addition, deferred tax liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of goodwill.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates, and interests in joint ventures, except where the Group is able to control the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax assets arising from deductible temporary differences associated with such investments and interests are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that there will be sufficient taxable profits against which to utilise the benefits of the temporary differences can be utilised and they are expected to reverse in the foreseeable future.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax liabilities and assets are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset realised, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from

forming part of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2022

the manner in which the Group expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Deferred tax assets include Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) paid in accordance with the tax laws in India, which is likely to give future economic benefits in the form of availability of set-off against future tax liability. Accordingly, MAT is recognised as deferred tax asset in the Balance sheet when the asset can be measured reliably and it is probable that the future economic benefit associated with the asset will be realised.

Current and deferred tax are recognised in statement of profit and loss, except when they relate to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively. Where current tax or deferred tax arises from the initial accounting for a business combination, the tax effect is included in the accounting for the business combination.

3.11.2.1 Deferred Tax on Undistributed Earnings

When only a portion of undistributed earnings is remitted to the parent entity by its subsidiary, the parent recognises a deferred tax liability only for the portion of the undistributed earnings expected to be remitted in the foreseeable future.

3.11.2.2 Deferred Tax on Unrealised Profits

The intragroup elimination is made as a consolidation adjustment and not in the financial statements of any individual reporting entity. Therefore, the elimination will result in the creation of a temporary difference, as far as the group is concerned, between the carrying amount of the inventories in the consolidated financial statements and the tax base (assumed to be the carrying amount in the purchaser's individual financial statements). The deferred tax effects arising in respect of this temporary difference is recognised. The tax rate used while recognising the deferred tax balance arising from the elimination of unrealised profits on intragroup transactions is determined by reference to the tax rate in the purchaser's jurisdiction where the temporary difference will reverse.

3.12 Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment held for use in the production or supply of goods or services, or for administrative purposes, are stated in the consolidated balance sheet at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses (if any).

Properties in the course of construction for production, supply or administrative purposes are carried at cost, less any impairment loss. Cost includes professional fees and, for qualifying assets, borrowing costs capitalised in accordance with the Group's accounting policy. Such properties are classified to the appropriate categories of property, plant and equipment when completed and ready for intended use. Subsequent expenditure is capitalised only if it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the group. Depreciation of these assets, on the same basis as other property assets, commences when the assets are ready for their intended use.

The non refundable payments made with respect to Land taken on finance lease (where there is an option to purchase the same at the end of the lease period) is classified under Property, plant and Equipment as "Lease hold Land".

Depreciation is recognised so as to write off the cost of assets (other than freehold land and properties under construction) less their residual values over their useful lives, using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

Assets held under finance leases are depreciated over their expected useful lives on the same basis as owned assets. However, when there is no reasonable certainty that ownership will be obtained by the end of the lease term, assets are depreciated over the shorter of the lease term and their useful lives.

Depreciation on property, plant and equipment has been provided on the straight-line method as per the useful life prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013 except in respect of the following categories of assets, in whose case the life of the assets has been assessed to be different and are as under based on technical advice, taking into account the nature of the asset, the estimated usage of the asset, the operating conditions of the asset, past history of replacement, anticipated technological changes, manufacturers warranties and maintenance support, etc.:

Dies and punches	: 4 years
Mobile phones	: 3 years
Certain factory buildings	: 18 years

Freehold land is not depreciated.

Depreciation on property, plant and equipment of the Group's foreign subsidiaries has been provided on straight-line method as per the estimated useful life of such assets as follows:

Notes

forming part of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2022

Building	: 20 years to 30 years
General plant and machinery	: 4 years to 20 years
Furniture and fixtures	: 5 years to 16 years
Office equipment	: 3 years to 6 years
Motor vehicles	: 8 years
Computers and data processing equipment	: 3 years to 6 years

Freehold land is not depreciated.

Individual assets costing less than ₹ 5,000 are depreciated in full in the year of purchase.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognised in statement of profit and loss.

When an item of property, plant and equipment is acquired in exchange for a non-monetary asset or assets, or a combination of monetary and non-monetary assets, the cost of that item is measured at fair value (even if the entity cannot immediately derecognise the asset given up) unless the exchange transaction lacks commercial substance or the fair value of neither the asset received nor the asset given up is reliably measurable. If the acquired item is not measured at fair value, its cost is measured at the carrying amount of the asset given up.

Depreciation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each financial year-end and adjusted if appropriate.

3.13 Investment property

Properties that is held for long-term rentals or for capital appreciation or both, and that is not occupied by the Group, is classified as investment property. Investment property is measured initially at its cost, including related transaction costs and where applicable borrowing costs. Subsequent expenditure is capitalised to the asset's carrying amount only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. All other repairs and maintenance costs are expensed when incurred. When part of the investment property is replaced, the carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognised.

Investment properties are depreciated using the straight line method over their estimated useful lives. Investment properties generally have a useful life of 25-60 years. The useful life has been determined based on technical evaluation performed by the management's expert.

Investment properties are derecognised on disposal or when the investment properties are permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefits are expected from its disposal. The gains or losses from the disposal of investment properties are determined as difference between the carrying amount of the investment properties and the net disposal proceeds and are recognised in the statement of profit or loss in the period in which it is disposed.

3.14 Intangible assets

3.14.1 Intangible assets acquired separately

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation is recognised on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life and amortisation method is reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis. Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses (if any).

3.14.2 Internally-generated intangible assets - research and development expenditure

Expenditure on research activities is recognised as an expense in the period in which it is incurred.

An internally-generated intangible asset arising from development (or from the development phase of an internal project) is recognised if, and only if, all of the following have been demonstrated:

- the technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale;
- the intention to complete the intangible asset and use or sell it;
- the ability to use or sell the intangible asset;
- how the intangible asset will generate probable future economic benefits;
- the availability of adequate technical, financial and other resources to complete the development and to use or sell the intangible asset; and
- the ability to measure reliably the expenditure attributable to the intangible asset during its development.

forming part of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2022

The amount initially recognised for internally-generated intangible assets is the sum of the expenditure incurred from the date when the intangible asset first meets the recognition criteria listed above. Where no internally-generated intangible asset can be recognised, development expenditure is recognised in statement profit and loss in the period in which it is incurred.

Subsequent to initial recognition, internally-generated intangible assets are reported at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses, on the same basis as intangible assets that are acquired separately.

3.14.3 Intangible assets acquired in a business combination

Intangible assets acquired in a business combination and recognised separately from goodwill are initially recognised at their fair value at the acquisition date (which is regarded as their cost).

Subsequent to initial recognition, intangible assets acquired in a business combination are reported at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses, on the same basis as intangible assets that are acquired separately.

3.14.4 Derecognition of intangible assets

An intangible asset is derecognised on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset, measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, are recognised in statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognised.

3.14.5 Useful lives of intangible assets

Intangible assets are amortised over their estimated useful life on straight line method as follows:

Registration and Brands : 5 years to 25 years

Software Licenses : 5 years

Customer/supply contracts are amortised over the period of the contract or useful life, whichever is less.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are not amortized and tested for impairment annually.

3.15 Impairment of assets

3.15.1 Impairment of financial assets:

The Group assesses at each date of balance sheet, whether a financial asset or a group of financial assets is impaired. Ind AS 109 requires expected credit losses to be measured through a loss allowance. The Group recognises lifetime expected losses for all contract assets and / or all trade receivables that do not constitute a financing transaction. For all other financial assets, expected credit losses are measured at an amount equal to the twelve-month expected credit losses or at an amount equal to the life time expected credit losses if the credit risk on the financial asset has increased significantly, since initial recognition.

3.15.2 Impairment of goodwill and investments in associates and joint ventures: Refer notes 3.2 and 3.3.

3.15.3 Impairment of non-financial assets other than goodwill

At the end of each reporting period, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its tangible and intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss (if any). When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. When a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be identified, corporate assets are also allocated to individual cash-generating units, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash-generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives and intangible assets not yet available for use are tested for impairment at least annually, and whenever there is an indication that the asset may be impaired.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or cash-generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised immediately in statement of profit and loss.

When an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset (or cash-generating unit) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised immediately in statement of profit and loss.

3.16 Inventories

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost and the net realisable value after providing for obsolescence and other losses, where considered necessary. Cost includes all charges in bringing the goods to the point of sale, including octroi and other levies, transit insurance and receiving charges. Work-in-progress and finished goods include appropriate proportion of overheads. Cost is determined as follows:

Raw materials, packing materials, stores and spares: weighted average basis

Work-in progress: at material cost and an appropriate share of production overheads

Finished goods: material cost and an appropriate share of production overheads, wherever applicable

Stock-in trade: weighted average basis

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and selling expenses. The net realisable value of work-in-progress is determined with reference to the selling prices of related finished products.

3.17 Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that the Group will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognised as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. When a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligation, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows (when the effect of the time value of money is material).

When some or all of the economic benefits required to settle a provision are expected to be recovered from a third party, a receivable is recognised as an asset if it is virtually certain that reimbursement will be received and the amount of the receivable can be measured reliably.

3.17.1 Onerous contracts

Present obligations arising under onerous contracts are recognised and measured as provisions. An onerous contract is considered to exist where the Group has a contract under which the unavoidable costs of meeting the obligations under the contract exceed the economic benefits expected to be received from the contract.

3.17.2 Contingent liabilities

Contingent liabilities are disclosed in notes when there is a possible obligation that arises from past events and whose existence will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the entity.

3.18 Financial instruments

3.18.1 Financial assets and financial liabilities

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when a group entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments.

Initial recognition and measurement:

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognised immediately in statement of profit and loss.

Financial assets at amortised cost

Financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost if these financial assets are held within a business whose objective is to hold these assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and contractual terms of financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income

Financial assets are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income if these financial assets are held within business whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows on specified dates that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding and selling financial assets.

The Group has made an irrevocable election to present in other comprehensive income subsequent changes in the fair value of equity instruments in Outlook Therapeutics Inc. and Sonnet Biotherapeutics Holdings Inc. which is not held for trading.

forming part of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2022

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets are measured at fair value through profit or loss unless it measured at amortised cost or fair value through other comprehensive income on initial recognition. The transaction cost directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are immediately recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are measured at amortised cost using effective interest method. For trade and other payables maturing within one year from the balance sheet date, the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to the short maturity of these instruments.

3.18.2 Equity instruments

An equity instrument is a contract that evidences residual interest in the assets of the company after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments recognised by the Group are recognised at the proceeds received net off direct issue cost.

3.18.3 Derivative financial instruments and hedge accounting

The Group uses various derivative financial instruments such as interest rate swaps, currency swaps and forward contracts to mitigate the risk of changes in interest rates and foreign exchange rates. Such derivative financial instruments are initially recognised at fair value on the date on which a derivative contract is entered into and are also subsequently measured at fair value. Derivatives are carried as financial assets when the fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when the fair value is negative.

Any gains or losses arising from changes in the fair value of derivatives are taken directly to the statement of profit and loss, except for the effective portion of cash flow hedges which is recognised in Other Comprehensive Income and later to the statement of profit and loss when the hedged item affects profit or loss or treated as basis adjustment if a hedged forecast transaction subsequently results in the recognition of a non-financial assets or non-financial liability.

Hedges that meet the criteria for hedge accounting are accounted for as follows:

a) Cash flow hedge

The Group designates derivative contracts or non derivative financial assets / liabilities as hedging instruments to mitigate the risk of movement in interest rates and foreign exchange rates for foreign exchange exposure on highly probable future cash flows attributable to a recognised asset or liability or forecast cash transactions. When a derivative is designated as a cash flow hedging instrument, the effective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative is recognized in the cash flow hedging reserve being part of other comprehensive income. Any ineffective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative is recognized immediately in the statement of profit and loss. If the hedging relationship no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting, then hedge accounting is discontinued prospectively. If the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated or exercised, the cumulative gain or loss on the hedging instrument recognized in cash flow hedging reserve till the period the hedge was effective remains in cash flow hedging reserve until the underlying transaction occurs. The cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in the cash flow hedging reserve is transferred to the statement of profit and loss upon the occurrence of the underlying transaction. If the forecasted transaction is no longer expected to occur, then the amount accumulated in cash flow hedging reserve is reclassified in the statement of profit and loss.

b) Fair value hedge

The Group designates derivative contracts or non derivative financial assets / liabilities as hedging instruments to mitigate the risk of change in fair value of hedged item due to movement in interest rates, foreign exchange rates and commodity prices.

Changes in the fair value of hedging instruments and hedged items that are designated and qualify as fair value hedges are recorded in the statement of profit and loss. If the hedging relationship no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting, the adjustment to the carrying amount of a hedged item for which the effective interest method is used is amortised to statement of profit and loss over the period of maturity.

3.18.4 Hedges of net investments in foreign operations

Hedges of net investments in foreign operations are accounted for similarly to cash flow hedges. Any gain or loss on the hedging instrument relating to the effective portion of the hedge is recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated under the heading of foreign currency translation reserve. The gain or loss relating to the ineffective portion is recognised immediately in statement of profit and loss, and is included in the 'Other income' line item.

Gains and losses on the hedging instrument relating to the effective portion of the hedge accumulated in the foreign currency translation reserve are reclassified to statement of profit and loss on the disposal of the foreign operation.

3.18.5 Written put options issued to the non-controlling interests:

The Group has issued written put option to non-controlling interests in certain subsidiaries of the Group in accordance with the terms of underlying agreement with such option holders. Should the option be exercised, the Group has to settle such liability by payment of cash.

Accounting on initial recognition:

The amount that may become payable under the option on exercise is recognised as a financial liability at its present value with a corresponding charge directly to the shareholders' equity.

Subsequent measurement:

The liability is subsequently accreted through finance charges recognised under exceptional items in the statement of profit and loss upto the redemption amount that is payable at the date on which the option first becomes exercisable. In the event that the option expires unexercised, the liability is derecognised with a corresponding adjustment to equity.

3.19 Exceptional items

When an item of income or expense within profit or loss from ordinary activity is of such size, nature or incidence that their disclosure is relevant to explain the performance of the Group for the year, the nature and amount of such items are disclosed as exceptional items.

3.20 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash on hand and cash at banks, demand deposits and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and which are subject to insignificant risk of changes in value. Bank overdrafts that are repayable on demand and form an integral part of our cash management are included as a component of cash and cash equivalents for the purpose of the statement of cash flows.

3.21 Earnings per share

Basic Earnings Per Share ('EPS') is computed by dividing the net profit attributable to the equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing the net profit by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and also the weighted average number of equity shares that could have been issued upon conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares.

Dilutive potential equity shares are deemed converted as of the beginning of the year, unless issued at a later date. In computing diluted earnings per share, only potential equity shares that are dilutive and that either reduces earnings per share or increases loss per share are included. The number of shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted retrospectively for all periods presented in case of share splits.

3.22 Operating segments

An operating segment is a component of the Group that engages in business activities from which it may earn revenues and incur expenses, including revenues and expenses that relate to transactions with any of the Group's other components, and for which discrete financial information is available. Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the chief operating decision maker. The Chairperson and Managing Director of the Company is responsible for allocating resources and assessing performance of the operating segments and accordingly is identified as the Chief Operating Decision Maker (CODM). All operating segments' operating results are reviewed regularly by the CODM to make decisions about resources to be allocated to the segments and assess their performance.

3.23 Recent accounting developments

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standard or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. On March 23, 2022, MCA amended the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2022, applicable from April 1, 2022, as below

Ind AS 103 – Reference to Conceptual Framework

The amendments specify that to qualify for recognition as part of applying the acquisition method, the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed must meet the definitions of assets and liabilities in the Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting under Indian Accounting Standards (Conceptual Framework) issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India at the acquisition date. These changes do not significantly change the requirements of Ind AS 103. The Company does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its financial statements.

Ind AS 16 – Proceeds before intended use

The amendments mainly prohibit an entity from deducting from the cost of property, plant and equipment amounts received from selling items produced while the company is preparing the asset for its intended use. Instead, an entity will recognise such

sales proceeds and related cost in profit or loss. The Company does not expect the amendments to have any impact in its recognition of its property, plant and equipment in its financial statements.

Ind AS 37 – Onerous Contracts - Costs of Fulfilling a Contract

The amendments specify that that the 'cost of fulfilling' a contract comprises the 'costs that relate directly to the contract'. Costs that relate directly to a contract can either be incremental costs of fulfilling that contract (examples would be direct labour, materials) or an allocation of other costs that relate directly to fulfilling contracts. The amendment is essentially a clarification and the Company does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its financial statements.

Ind AS 109 – Annual Improvements to Ind AS (2021)
The amendment clarifies which fees an entity includes when it applies the '10 percent' test of Ind AS 109 in assessing whether to derecognise a financial liability. The Company does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its financial statements

Ind AS 116 – Annual Improvements to Ind AS (2021)
The amendments remove the illustration of the reimbursement of leasehold improvements by the lessor in order to resolve any potential confusion regarding the treatment of lease incentives that might arise because of how lease incentives were described in that illustration. The Company does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its financial statements.

(iv) Fair value of investment properties

The fair value of the Company's investment properties as at March 31, 2022 has been arrived at ₹ 949 Million (previous year: ₹ 1,579 Million) on the basis of a valuation carried out by independent valuers. The said valuers are registered with the authority which governs valuers in India and have appropriate qualifications and relevant experience in the valuation of properties in the relevant locations. The fair value has been categorised as level 3 hierarchy based on the inputs used in valuation technique. The inputs used are as follows:

- Monthly market rent, taking into account the differences in location, and individual factors, such as frontage and size, between the comparables and the property; and
- Capitalisation rate, taking into account the capitalisation of rental income potential, nature of the property, and prevailing market condition.

	₹ In Million
Cash generating units	31-Mar-22	31-Mar-21
United States of America (USA)	3,143.22	3,070.41
Other regulated markets	1,355.45	1,387.79
Emerging markets	360.40	347.20
Total	4,859.07	4,805.40

The recoverable amount of the above cash generating units have been determined based on 'value in use' model, where in the value of cash generating unit is determined as a sum of the net present value of the projected post tax cash flows for a period of 5 years and terminal value. The terminal value of each cash generating unit is arrived at by extrapolating cash flows of latest forecasted year to perpetuity using a constant long term growth rate. Key assumptions used for determining the said value in use of each cash generating unit is as follows:

	₹ In Million
Cash generating units	US	Other regulated markets	Emerging Markets	Institutional business
Discount Rate	10.68% - 16.33%	9.95% - 15.81%	11.92%	16.51%
Growth Rate (used for determining Terminal Value)	2% - 5%	2% - 5%	3%	5%

The discount rates used are based on weighted average cost of capital.

The growth rates of the above cash generating units have been considered based on the market conditions prevalent in the countries that would fall in respective cash generating units.

The management believes that the projections used by the management for determining the "value in use" of cash generating units reflect past experience and external sources of information and any reasonably possible change in the key assumptions on which recoverable amount is based would not cause the aggregate carrying amount to exceed the aggregate recoverable amount of the cash generating unit.

An analysis of the sensitivity of the computation to the change in key parameters (discount rate, profitability and growth rate), based on reasonable assumptions, did not identify any probable scenario in which the recoverable amount of the CGU would decrease below its carrying amount.

Notes:

(a) The Management of Stelis Biopharma Limited (Stelis) have performed annual impairment assessment of the carrying value of the assets of the Cash Generating Unit (CGU) (which included the CDMO business and intangible assets under development) as at March 31, 2022. The "value in use" of the CGU has been determined by the external valuation experts using discounted cash flow approach. Based on such valuation, the Group has assessed that there is no impairment.

Determination of value in use involves significant estimates and assumptions that affect the reporting CGU's expected future cash flows. These estimates and assumptions, primarily include, but are not limited to:

- obtaining adequate financing to fulfil the Company's development and commercial activities,
- the risks associated with research, development and obtaining regulatory approvals of the Company's products,
- generation of revenues in due course from the development portfolio and contract manufacturing,
- attainment of profitable operations and
- discount factors
- probabilities applied to the revenues which also factors management's best estimate of possible delay in product development cycle and regulatory approvals.

The expected cash flows used in computation of value in use are based on the probabilities applied to the revenues which also factors management's best estimate of possible delay in product development cycle and regulatory approvals.

Further, the percentage movement in key assumptions that (individually) would be required to reach the point at which the value in use approximates its carrying value is given below:

- Increase in discount rate by 6%
- Increase in discount rate by 5.5% and nil terminal growth rate.

(b) Considering the current geopolitical situation between Russia and Ukraine and the subsequent sanctions enforced on Russia, the Management of Stelis have performed annual impairment assessment of the carrying value of the assets of the Cash Generating Unit (CGU) (which included the Vaccine facility) as at March 31, 2022. The 'value in use' of the CGU has been determined by the external valuation experts using discounted cash flow approach. Based on such valuation, the Group has assessed that there is no impairment.

Determination of value in use involves significant estimates and assumptions that affect the Vaccine facility's expected future cash flows. These estimates and assumptions, primarily include, but are not limited to:

- generation of revenues in due course from the Vaccine plant and contract manufacturing,
- plans to convert the existing vaccine plant for CDMO purpose,
- probabilities applied to the revenues which also factors management's best estimate of possible delay in regulatory approvals,
- ability to enforce the existing contract with customer and liquidate inventories as on balance sheet date prior to its shelf life.
- attainment of profitable operations,
- discount rate

The expected cash flows used in computation of value in use are based on the probabilities applied to the revenues which also factors management's best estimate of possible delay in product development cycle and regulatory approvals.

Further, the percentage movement in key assumptions that (individually) would be required to reach the point at which the value in use approximates its carrying value is given below:

- Increase in discount rate by 8.2%
- Increase in discount rate by 7.7% and nil terminal growth rate

(c) During the year ended 31 March 2022, Stelis has incurred loss of ₹ 2,327 million and has a net negative working capital position amounting to ₹ 2,976 million, which includes the current maturities of non-current borrowings of ₹ 3,731.55 million as at 31 March 2022. As of 31 March 2022, Stelis has inventories relating to Sputnik V, which remains unsold due to geopolitical situation between Russia and Ukraine and sanctions on

Russia and Russian Direct Investment Fund (RDIF). The management of Stelis is confident of liquidating these inventories within the shelf life in the normal course of business. Further, Stelis has shown growth in the Contract Development and Manufacturing business (from ₹ 213.9 million in FY21 to ₹ 1,321.27 million in FY22) which is expected to grow further in the coming years. Stelis also proposes to monetise some of its existing intangible assets under development through potential licensing / strategic partnerships. Stelis has requested for temporary relaxations for compliance with these financial covenants from the lenders as these have not been met as of the date of these financial statements. Also, the shareholders of Stelis have committed to extend the necessary financial support against the monies outstanding on the partly paid shares.

Given the mitigating factors discussed above, while there is a reasonable expectation that Stelis will be able to generate/raise adequate resources to continue operating for the foreseeable future and that the going concern basis for the preparation of its financial statements remains appropriate, there exists a material uncertainty in respect of Stelis's going concern. This also required the Group to undertake the Impairment assessment of the Group's investment in Stelis. The Group estimated the recoverable amount based on the value in use of the underlying businesses. The computation uses cash flow forecasts based on the most recently approved financial budgets and strategic forecasts. The Group also considered the valuation at which funds were raised by Stelis during the year and significant increase in its revenues during the current year. Accordingly, based on the above assessment, the Group has concluded that no impairment provision is required in the consolidated financial statements.

- (d) Pursuant to the recommendation of the Board of Directors of Stelis on July 9, 2021 and approval of Members at the extraordinary general meeting held on July 14, 2021, Stelis has allotted Bonus Equity Shares in the ratio of 1:2 i.e., one bonus share for every two shares held in Stelis as on July 9, 2021. Further, pursuant to the approval obtained on July 14, 2021 from shareholders of Stelis, each equity share of ₹ 10 each was subdivided into 10 equity shares of Re. 1 each.
- (e) During the previous year, the Group approved the investment of ₹ 1,021.14 million into Stelis, in multiple tranches. During the year, 5% of the approved investment value was invested into Stelis.

The Group has also estimated the costs of such recall and have provided for all inventory of Losartan with the Azide impurity(s) as of 31 March 2022, amounting to ₹ 353.47 million.

Subsequently the API process at the API manufacturer was optimized to address this issue and the product was relaunched during the current year.

39.2 Non-controlling interests, goodwill / bargain purchase on acquisition

The Group has recognised non-controlling interests in an acquired entity at the non controlling interest's proportionate share of the acquired entity's net identifiable assets. Further, the Group has issued written put options to the non-controlling interests of certain subsidiaries to purchase their equity shares in accordance with the terms of underlying agreement with such shareholders. Should the option be exercised, the Group has to settle such liability by payment of cash. The amount that may become payable under the option on exercise is recognised as a financial liability at its present value with a corresponding charge directly to the shareholders' equity.

Details of initial recognition of such gross obligation, non-controlling interests and goodwill/bargain purchase arising on such acquisitions have been given in the below.

39.2.1 Acquisition of non-controlling interest:

During the current year, the Group has acquired the non-controlling interests in below subsidiaries, thereby, making them wholly owned subsidiaries of the Group.

The pro-forma amounts are not necessarily indicative of the results that would have been occurred on date indicated or that may result in the future.

In determining the 'pro-forma' revenue and profit of the Group, had new entity / business been acquired at the beginning of the current year, the Group has calculated depreciation of plant and equipment acquired on the basis of the fair values arising in the initial accounting for the business combination rather than the carrying amounts recognised in the pre-acquisition financial statements.

In accordance with the terms of the India SPA and the Global SPA (together the "SPA"s) and other transaction documents, certain amounts were set aside under separate deposit / escrow accounts which were required to be utilised for specified expenses during the specified period. These included separate escrow / deposit of USD 100 Million in respect of potential claims in relation to certain regulatory concerns ("Regulatory escrow") and USD 100 Million in respect of potential claims in relation to the warranties and indemnities, including in relation to tax ("General claims escrow"). Further, ₹ 850 Million was set aside in separate Escrow for payment to certain specified senior management personnel of ASPL and its subsidiary. Any unutilised amounts from the deposit / escrow accounts after the specified period were payable to the respective entities of the Group. Given the uncertainties involved and in the absence of a right to receive, the amounts under the deposit / escrow arrangements were not included in the consideration accounted as income by the Group at the time of disposal of the investments. Receipts from these deposit / escrow accounts were recognised subsequently (net of related expenses incurred) in the period in which such amounts were received by the Group.

During the earlier years, the Company had received notifications of claims from Mylan under the terms of the SPAs. These included claims against the regulatory escrows, tax claims, warranty and indemnity claims, and third party claims. Under the terms of the SPAs, claims against the Company / Strides Singapore can only be made under specific provisions contained in the SPAs which include the procedures and timelines for submission of notifications of claims and actual claims and commencing arbitration proceedings

(i) In light of the judgment of Honorable Supreme Court dated February 28, 2019 on the definition of “Basic Wages” under the Employees Provident Funds & Misc. Provisions Act, 1952 and based on Group’s evaluation, there are significant uncertainties and numerous interpretative issues relating to the judgement and hence it is unclear as to whether the clarified definition of Basic Wages would be applicable prospectively or retrospectively. The amount of the obligation therefore cannot be measured with sufficient reliability for past periods and hence has currently been considered to be a contingent liability.

(ii) Other than the matters disclosed above, the Group is also involved in other disputes including patent and commercial matters that arise from time to time in the ordinary course of business. Management is of the view that the resolution of these disputes will not have any material adverse effect on the Group’s financial position or results of operations.

Movements in the fair value of the plan assets are as follows:

Particulars	₹ In Million
	Year ended
	31-Mar-22	31-Mar-21
Opening fair value of plan assets	134.26	141.55

Significant actuarial assumptions for the determination of the defined obligation are discount rate and expected salary increase. The sensitivity analysis below have been determined based on reasonably possible changes of the respective assumptions occurring at the end of the reporting period, while holding all other assumptions constant.

If the discount rate increases / (decrease) by 1%, the defined benefit obligation would be ₹ 544.75 Million (₹ 621.83 Million) as at March 31, 2022.

If the expected salary growth increases / (decrease) by 1%, the defined benefit obligation would be ₹ 611.00 Million (₹ 552.13 Million) as at March 31, 2022.

The sensitivity analysis presented above may not be representative of the actual change in the defined benefit obligation as it is unlikely that the change in assumptions would occur in isolation of one another as some of the assumptions may be correlated.

Furthermore, in presenting the above sensitivity analysis, the present value of the defined benefit obligation has been calculated using the projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period, which is the same as that applied in calculating the defined benefit obligation liability recognised in the balance sheet.

There was no change in the methods and assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis from prior years.

There has been no change in the process used by the Group to manage its risks from prior periods.

Expected future Cash outflows towards the plan are as follows:

51.2 Financial risk management objectives

The Group’s activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Group’s primary focus is to foresee the unpredictability of financial markets and seek to minimize potential adverse effects on its financial performance. The primary market risk to the Group is foreign exchange risk. The Group uses derivative financial instruments to mitigate foreign exchange related risk exposures. All derivative activities for risk management purposes are carried out by specialist teams that have the appropriate skills, experience and supervision. It is the Group’s policy that no trading in derivatives for speculative purposes may be undertaken. The Board of Directors reviews and agrees policies for managing each of these risks, which are summarised below:

51.3 Foreign currency risk management

The Group is exposed to foreign exchange risk due to:

- debt availed in foreign currency
- net investments in subsidiaries and joint ventures that are in foreign currencies
- exposure arising from transactions relating to purchases, revenues, expenses, etc., to be settled (within and outside the group) in currencies other than the functional currency of the respective entities

Exchange rate exposures are managed within approved policy parameters by utilising forward foreign exchange contracts.

51.3.1 Forward exchange contracts

It is the policy of the Group to enter into forward foreign exchange contracts to cover the following:

- repayments of specific foreign currency borrowings.
- the risk associated with anticipated sales transactions out to 6 months within 50% to 70% of the exposure generated.

51.3.2 Foreign currency sensitivity analysis

Financial instruments affected by changes in foreign exchange rates include External Commercial Borrowings (ECBs), loans in foreign currencies to subsidiaries and joint ventures. The Group considers US Dollar and the Euro to be principal currencies which require monitoring and risk mitigation. The Group is exposed to volatility in other currencies including the Great Britain Pounds (GBP) and the Australian Dollar (AUD). The impact on account of 5% appreciation / depreciation in the exchange rate of the above foreign currencies against Rs. is given below:

Particulars	₹ In Million
	Increase / (decrease) in profit		Increase / (decrease) in equity
Appreciation in the USD	(27.64)	(71.88)	(16.04)	(52.34)
Depreciation in the USD	27.64	71.88	16.04	52.34
Appreciation in the EUR	50.50	24.09	34.69	17.30
Depreciation in the EUR	(50.50)	(24.09)	(34.69)	(17.30)
Appreciation in the AUD	337.03	293.25	254.90	234.61
Depreciation in the AUD	(337.03)	(293.25)	(254.90)	(234.61)
Appreciation in the GBP	66.99	(0.86)	37.56	(6.93)
Depreciation in the GBP	(66.99)	0.86	(37.56)	6.93

The impact on profit has been arrived at by applying the effects of appreciation / depreciation effects of currency on the net position (Assets in foreign currency - Liabilities in foreign currency) in the respective currencies.

For the purposes of the above table, it is assumed that the carrying value of the financial assets and liabilities as at the end of the respective financial years remains constant thereafter. The exchange rate considered for the sensitivity analysis is the exchange rate prevalent as at each year end.

The sensitivity analysis might not be representative of inherent foreign exchange risk due to the fact that the foreign exposure at the end of the reporting period might not reflect the exposure during the year.

51.4 Interest rate risk management

Interest rate risk arises from borrowings. Debt issued at variable rates exposes the Group to cash flow risk. Debt issued at fixed rate exposes the Group to fair value risk. The Group mitigates its interest rate risk by entering into interest rate swap contracts.

51.4.1 Interest rate sensitivity analysis

Financial instruments affected by interest rate changes include secured long term loans from banks, secured long term loans from others, unsecured long term loans, secured short term loans from banks and unsecured short term loans from banks and others. The substantial portion of the borrowings of the Group have a floating rate of interest (refer note 22). The impact of a 1% change in interest rates on the profit of an annual period will be ₹ 279.79 Million (Previous year : ₹ 211.30 Million) assuming the loans at each year end remain constant during the respective years. This computation does not involve a revaluation of the fair value of loans as a consequence of changes in interest rates. The computation also assumes that an increase in interest rates on floating rate liabilities will not necessarily involve an increase in interest rates on floating rate financial assets.

51.4.2 Interest rate swap contracts

Under interest rate swap contracts, the Group agrees to exchange the difference between fixed and floating rate interest amounts calculated on agreed notional principal amounts. Such contracts enable the Group to mitigate the risk of cash flow exposures on the issued variable rate debt. The fair value of interest rate swaps at the end of the reporting period is determined by discounting the future cash flows using the curves at the end of the reporting period and the credit risk inherent in the contract, and is disclosed below. The average interest rate is based on the outstanding balances at the end of the reporting period.

The following tables detail the nominal amounts and remaining terms of interest rate swap contracts outstanding at the reporting period end.

The line-item in the consolidated balance sheet that includes the above instruments is "Other financial liabilities".

The interest rate swaps settle on a quarterly basis. The floating rate on the interest rate swaps is the local interbank rate in the currency of the loan. The Group will settle the difference between the fixed and floating interest rate on a net basis.

51.5 Other price risks

The Group is exposed to equity price risks arising from equity investments. Certain of the Group's equity investments are held for strategic rather than for trading purposes.

51.5.1 Equity price sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity analysis below have been determined based on the exposure to equity price risks at the end of the reporting period.

If equity prices had been 5% higher/lower, other comprehensive income for the year ended March 31, 2022 would increase/decrease by ₹ 2.39 Million (for the year ended March 31, 2021: increase/decrease by ₹ 7.05 Million) as a result of the changes in fair value of equity investments measured at FVTOCI.

51.6 Credit risk management

Credit risk refers to the risk that a counterparty will default on its contractual obligations resulting in financial loss to the Group. Credit Risk to the group primarily arises from trade receivables. Credit risk also arises from cash and cash equivalents, loans, financial instruments and deposits with banks and financial institutions and other financial assets.

The Group has adopted a policy of only dealing with creditworthy counterparties and obtaining sufficient collateral, where appropriate, as a means of mitigating the risk of financial loss from defaults. The Group has an internal mechanism of determining the credit rating of the customers and setting credit limits. Credit exposure is controlled by counterparty limits that are reviewed and approved by the risk management committee annually. Ongoing credit evaluation is performed on the financial condition of accounts receivable.

The Group is not significantly exposed to geographical distribution risk as the counterparties operate across various countries across the Globe.

forming part of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2022

The credit risk on liquid funds and derivative financial instruments is limited because the counterparties are banks with high credit ratings.

In determining the allowance for doubtful trade receivables, the Company has used a practical expedient by computing the expected credit allowance for trade receivables based on a provision matrix. The provision matrix takes into account historical credit loss experience and is adjusted for forward looking information. The expected credit loss allowance is based on the ageing of the receivables that are due and rates as given in the provision matrix. The Provision matrix at the end of reporting period as follows:

51.7 Liquidity risk management

Ultimate responsibility for liquidity risk management rests with the Board of directors, which has established an appropriate liquidity risk management framework for the management of the Group's short-term, medium-term and long-term funding and liquidity management requirements. The Group manages liquidity risk by maintaining adequate reserves, banking facilities and reserve borrowing facilities, by continuously monitoring forecast and actual short term and long term cash flows, and by matching the maturity profiles of financial assets and liabilities. A portion of the Group's surplus cash is retained as investments in Liquid Mutual Funds to fund short term requirements.

51.7.1 Liquidity analysis for non-derivative liabilities

The following table details the Group's remaining contractual maturity for its non-derivative financial liabilities with agreed repayment periods. The tables have been drawn up based on the undiscounted cash flows of financial liabilities based on the earliest date on which the Group can be required to pay. The table include both interest and principal cash flows. To the extent that interest flows are floating rate, the undiscounted amount is derived from interest rate curves at the end of the reporting period. The contractual maturity is based on the earliest date on which the Group may be required to pay.

51.8 Capital management

The Group manages its capital to ensure that entities in the Group will be able to continue as going concerns while maximising the return to stakeholders through the optimisation of the debt and equity balance. The capital structure of the Group consists of net debt (borrowings as detailed in notes 9,11,17, 18 and 22 offset by cash and bank balances and Investment in Mutual funds) and total equity of the Group.

The Group reviews the capital structure of the Group on a quarterly basis to ensure that it in compliance with the required covenants. The Group has a target gearing ratio of 1:1 determined as the proportion of net debt to total equity. The gearing ratio at March 31, 2022 is 1.09 (March 31, 2021: 0.64).

The gearing ratio at end of the reporting period was as follows.

Note No. 52 Transfer Pricing

The detailed transfer pricing regulations ("regulations") for computing the income from "domestic transactions" with specified parties and international transactions between 'associated enterprises' on an 'arm's length' basis is applicable to the Group. These regulations, inter alia, also require the maintenance of prescribed documents and information including furnishing a report from an Accountant which is to be filed with the Income tax authorities. The Group has undertaken necessary steps to comply with the transfer pricing regulations. The Management is of the opinion that the transactions with associated enterprises and domestic transactions are at arm's length, and hence the aforesaid legislation will not have any material impact on the financial statements, particularly on the amount of tax expense and that of provision for taxation.

Key Audit Matters

These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the standalone financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Impairment testing of investments in subsidiaries and associates:

Refer Significant Accounting Policies and note 8 to the Standalone Financial Statements

The key audit matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
The carrying amount of investments in subsidiaries and associates (aggregates to ₹ 23,997.62 million) accounts for 44% of the total assets of the Company as at 31 March 2022. Company's assessment of impairment contains a number of parameters which involve significant judgements and estimates including revenue growth, cash flow forecasting, weighted average cost of capital and other recent financing transactions. Changes in these assumptions, including ongoing impact of COVID-19, if any, could lead to an impact over fair value of investment and accordingly impairment provision. The annual impairment testing was significant to our audit, because of the financial quantum of the assets as well as the involvement of critical judgements, estimates and assumptions. We also draw attention to Note 8 of the standalone financial statements which states that the ability of Stelis Biopharma Limited ("the Associate") to continue as a going concern is dependent on the mitigation factors detailed in the said note which could have a consequential impact on the carrying amount of investment of ₹ 5,308.55 million in the Associate as at 31 March 2022. Further, the auditors of the Associate have, without modifying their opinion, reported a Material Uncertainty Related to Going Concern vide their report dated 24 May 2022 on the financial information of the Associate for the year ended 31 March 2022.	In view of the significance of the matter, following audit procedures were applied, among others, to obtain sufficient audit evidence: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Tested the design of key internal financial controls and operating effectiveness of the relevant key controls around the impairment testing of the carrying value of investment in subsidiaries and associates. • Performed a retrospective review to assess the reasonableness of Company's projections by comparing historical forecast to actual results. • Tested reasonability of projections used by the Company relating to the sales growth, operating costs, cashflow forecasts. • Engaged our valuation specialists to assist in testing the reasonableness of the valuation by evaluating the assumptions and methodologies used by the Company, in particular for weighted average cost of capital, terminal growth rate, etc. • Tested recent financing transactions in these companies with third parties to determine the fair value of certain investments. • Tested whether the Company's analysis about the sensitivity on the outcome of impairment to possible changes in key assumptions reflect the risks inherent in the valuation, including ongoing impact of COVID-19 pandemic, if any .

Taxation

Refer Significant Accounting Policies and note 33 to the standalone financial statements

The key audit matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit
The Company has investment in various subsidiaries and associates which operate across different tax jurisdictions. The Company is subjected to various domestic and foreign tax regulations with respect to taxability of income received in India including repatriation of any profits as dividends. Assessing the applicability of tax and accounting of such repatriation may involve complexities with respect to various tax positions on availability of tax incentives / exemptions resulting in possible tax litigations/assessments. Judgment is required in assessing the availability of tax incentives / exemptions. These judgments could change over time as each of the matter progresses with the relevant tax authorities and accordingly may impact the accounting treatment followed by the Company. Given the complexities and judgement involved in assessing the availability of tax incentives / exemptions and its impact on accounting, we assessed this to be an area of focus for our audit.	In view of the significance of the matter we applied the following audit procedures in this area, among others to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We tested the design of internal financial controls and operating effectiveness of the relevant key controls in respect of taxation.; • We analyzed relevant correspondences with the tax authorities; and • We used our subject matter experts to evaluate the Company's judgment regarding their assessment of availability of tax incentives / exemptions and the accounting treatment done. • We also considered external legal opinions and consultations made by the Company for key uncertain tax positions during current and past period.

Information Other than the Standalone Financial Statements and Auditor's Report Thereon

The Company's Management and Board of Directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises of Management Reports such as Board's Report, Management Discussion and Analysis and Corporate Governance Report, but does not include the standalone financial statements and our auditor's report thereon which we have obtained prior to the date of this Auditor's Report, and the remaining sections of the Company's Annual Report, which are expected to be made available to us after that date.

Our opinion on the standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the standalone financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, on the other information that we obtained prior to the date of this Auditor's Report, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

When we read the other sections of the Annual Report (other than those mentioned above), if we conclude that there is a material misstatement therein, we are required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance and take necessary actions, as applicable under the applicable laws and regulations.

Management's and Board of Directors' Responsibilities for the Standalone Financial Statements

The Company's Management and Board of Directors are responsible for the matters stated in Section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the state of affairs, profit/loss and other comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) specified under Section 133 of the Act. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the standalone financial statements, the Management and Board of Directors are responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors² either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors is also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Management and Board of Directors.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Management and Board of Directors use of the going concern basis of accounting in preparation of standalone financial statements and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls with reference to financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note and the Standards on Auditing, prescribed under section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements were established and maintained and whether such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements included obtaining an understanding of such internal financial controls, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls with reference to financial statements.

Meaning of Internal Financial controls with Reference to Financial Statements

A company's internal financial controls with reference to financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial controls with reference to financial statements include those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the Standalone financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial controls with Reference to Financial Statements

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to Standalone financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial controls with reference to Standalone financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

forming part of the standalone financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2022

Note No. 1 General information

Strides Pharma Science Limited (‘Strides’) is a pharmaceutical company domiciled in India, with its registered office situated at 201, Devavrata, Sector 17, Vashi, Navi Mumbai – 400703 and corporate office in Bengaluru, India. Strides has been incorporated under the provisions of Indian Companies Act and its equity shares are listed on the National Stock Exchange (NSE) and Bombay Stock Exchange (BSE) in India. Strides develops and manufactures a wide range of IP-led niche pharmaceutical products.

Note No. 2 Basis of preparation of financial statements

The Company has negative operating cash flows amounting to ₹ 2,826.85 million for the year ended 31 March 2022 on account of continuing pricing pressure in some of its key geographies consequent to effects of COVID. Management of the Company has obtained relaxations for compliance with financial covenants for year ended March 31, 2022, from the lenders as these have not been met as of the date of the issue of financial statements. Further, as of March 31, 2022, the Company has provided guarantees aggregating to ₹ 9,419.83 million in relation to the borrowings of one of its associates (‘the Associate’), out of which ₹ 6,016 million outstanding as on 31 March 2022, for which there is a material uncertainty to continue as a going concern. The Associate has requested for temporary relaxations for compliance with these financial covenants from the lenders as these have not been met as of the date of these financial statements. Also refer note 8 of these financial statements.

Further, to mitigate the situation, the Company has raised long-term and other financing facilities amounting to ₹ 500 million post year ended 31 March 2022 and has issued equity warrants to the entity which is part of the Promoter group that is expected to provide additional equity of ₹ 884 million by 31 March 2023. The Company has cash and cash equivalents of ₹ 121.24 million as at 31 March 2022 and also undrawn borrowing facilities available from certain lenders. Further, the Group also expects to improve operating profits from the newly acquired business in the US and from cost reductions consequent to capacity optimization at some of its manufacturing locations from April 2022 and by monitoring of freight and other expenses.

Accordingly, based on the fact that the Company had generated positive operating cash flows in the previous year and expects to generate positive operating cash flows in future periods, temporary relaxations from lenders for compliance with financial covenants related to borrowings, its ability to raise new financing facilities, full utilisation of existing facilities, expected equity infusion in the year ending 31 March 2023 and the steps undertaken by management as noted above, management believes that the Company will be able to continue to generate sufficient cash in the foreseeable future to meet its obligations as they fall due."

These standalone financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) as per the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules 2015, as amended, notified under Section 133 of Companies Act, 2013, (the 'Act') and other relevant provisions of the Act.

The standalone financial statements were approved by the Board of Directors and authorised for issue on May 24, 2022"

These estimates, judgements and assumptions affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Accounting estimates could change from period to period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Appropriate changes in estimates are made as management becomes aware of changes in circumstances surrounding the estimates. Changes in estimates are reflected in the financial statements in the period in which changes are

As mentioned in para 1 above under ‘Corporate information’, the Company is into development and manufacture of pharmaceutical products. Based on the normal time between acquisition of assets and their realisation in cash or cash equivalents, the Company has determined its operating cycle as 3 years to 5 years and 12 months relating to research and development activities and manufacturing of pharmaceutical products respectively. The above basis is used for classifying the assets and liabilities into current and non-current as the case may be.

2.6 Cash flow statement

Cash flows are reported using indirect method, whereby net profits before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature and any deferrals or accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments and items of income or expenses associated with investing or financing cash flows. The cash flows from regular revenue generating (operating activities), investing and financing activities of the Company are segregated.

2.7 Measurement of fair value

A number of the Company’s accounting policies and disclosures require the measurement of fair values, for both financial and non-financial assets and liabilities.

Fair values are categorised into different levels in a fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows:

- Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).
- Level 3: inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

The Company has an established control framework with respect to the measurement of fair values. This includes a finance team that has overall responsibility for overseeing all significant fair value measurements, including Level 3 fair values.

The Company regularly reviews significant unobservable inputs and valuation adjustments. If third party information is used to measure fair values, then the finance team assesses the evidence obtained from the third parties to support the conclusion that these valuations meet the requirements of Ind AS, including the level in the fair value hierarchy in which the valuations should be classified. When measuring the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Company uses observable market data as far as possible. If the inputs used to measure the fair value of an asset or a liability fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy, then the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety in the same level of the fair value hierarchy as the lowest level input that is significant to the entire measurement.

The Company recognises transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy at the end of the reporting period during which the change has occurred.

Further information about the assumptions made in measuring fair values is included in the following notes:

Note No. 3 Significant accounting policies

3.1 Business combinations

Acquisitions of businesses are accounted for using the acquisition method. The consideration transferred in a business combination is measured at fair value, which is calculated as the sum of the acquisition-date fair values of the assets transferred by the Company, liabilities incurred by the Company to the former owners of the acquiree and the equity interests issued by the Company in exchange of control of the acquiree. Acquisition-related costs are generally recognised in statement of profit and loss as incurred.

At the acquisition date, the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed are recognised at their fair value, except that:

- deferred tax assets or liabilities, and assets or liabilities related to employee benefit arrangements are recognised and measured in accordance with Ind AS 12 Income Taxes and Ind AS 19 Employee Benefits respectively;
- liabilities or equity instruments related to share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree or share-based payment arrangements of the Company entered into to replace share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree are measured in accordance with Ind AS 102 Share-based Payment at the acquisition date (see note 3.7.3); and
- assets (or disposal groups) that are classified as held for sale in accordance with Ind AS 105 Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations are measured in accordance with that Standard.

3.1.1 Business combination under common control

The company has followed the guidance given under Appendix C of Ind AS 103 (Business combination of entities under common control), while preparing these standalone financial statements.

The pooling of interest method is considered to involve the following:

- The assets and liabilities of the combining entities are reflected at their carrying amounts.
- No adjustments are made to reflect fair values, or recognise any new assets or liabilities. The only adjustments that are made are to harmonise accounting policies.
- The financial information in the financial statements in respect of prior periods should be restated as if the business combination had occurred from the beginning of the preceding period in the financial statements, irrespective of the actual date of the combination. In this financial statement, the effect of transactions, when the entities are under common control, prior to the appointed date has been adjusted in the 'other equity'.

The identity of the reserves in the transferor companies has been maintained in the transferee company.

The difference, if any, between the amount recorded as share capital issued plus any additional consideration in the form of cash or other assets and the amount of share capital of the transferor shall be transferred to capital reserve and should be presented separately from other capital reserves with disclosure of its nature and purpose in the notes.

3.2 Revenue from contracts with customers

The Company recognises revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. A 5-step approach is used to recognise revenue as below:

Step 1: Identify the contract(s) with a customer

Step 2: Identify the performance obligation in contract

Step 3: Determine the transaction price

Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract

Step 5: Recognise revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation"

Notes

forming part of the standalone financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2022

3.2.1 Sale of goods

Revenue is recognised when a promise in a customer contract (performance obligation) has been satisfied by transferring control over the promised goods to the customer. Control over a promised good refers to the ability to direct the use of, and obtain substantially all of the remaining benefits from, those goods. Control is usually transferred upon shipment, delivery to, upon receipt of goods by the customer, in accordance with the delivery and acceptance terms agreed with the customers. The amount of revenue to be recognised (transaction price) is based on the consideration expected to be received in exchange for goods, excluding amounts collected on behalf of third parties such as sales tax or other taxes directly linked to sales. If a contract contains more than one performance obligation, the transaction price is allocated to each performance obligation based on their relative stand-alone selling prices. Revenue from product sales are recorded net of allowances for estimated rebates, cash discounts and estimates of product returns, all of which are established at the time of sale.

The consideration received by the Company in exchange for its goods may be fixed or variable. Variable consideration is only recognised when it is considered highly probable that a significant revenue reversal will not occur once the underlying uncertainty related to variable consideration is subsequently resolved.

Profit share revenues

The Company from time to time enters into marketing arrangements with certain business partners for the sale of its products in certain markets. Under such arrangements, the Company sells its products to the business partners at a base purchase price agreed upon in the arrangement and is also entitled to a profit share which is over and above the base purchase price. The profit share is typically dependent on the business partner's ultimate net sale proceeds or net profits, subject to any reductions or adjustments that are required by the terms of the arrangement. Such arrangements typically require the business partner to provide confirmation of units sold and net sales or net profit computations for the products covered under the arrangement.

Revenue in an amount equal to the base purchase price is recognised in these transactions upon delivery of products to the business partners. An additional amount representing the profit share component is recognised as revenue in the period which corresponds to the ultimate sales of the products made by business partners only when the collectability of the profit share becomes probable and a reliable measurement of the profit share is available. Otherwise, recognition is deferred to a subsequent period pending satisfaction of such collectability and measurability requirements.

In measuring the amount of profit share revenue to be recognised for each period, the Company uses all available information and evidence, including any confirmations from the business partner of the profit share amount owed to the Company, to the extent made available before the date the Company's Board of Directors authorises the issuance of its financial statements for the applicable period.

Sale to distributors

The Company appoints distributors in various territories who purchases the goods from the Company and thereafter sells them in the territory. In case the distributor is acting as an agent, the Company defers revenue recognition till the time goods are sold by the distributor to the end customer. On the other hand, if the distributor is principal, revenue is recognised upon the transfer of control over the goods to the distributor."

Right to reject or return goods

The Company also sells its products to the customers with a right to return the goods within the specified period of time. If the probability of acceptance by the customer is uncertain, recognition of revenue is deferred till the expiry of right to return or acceptance by the customer whichever is earlier.

Price variations / Incentives

Incentives are accounted based on the assessment of whether the beneficiary (of the incentive) is acting as a principal or an agent. Where the beneficiary is a principal, the incentive is regarded as consideration paid to the customer and is reduced from revenue.

However, where the beneficiary is an agent, the incentive payment is recognised as an expense as the same is in the nature of commission.

Chargebacks / Reptos claims by the wholesalers / distributors and Price Protections

Chargebacks and reptos claims are estimated on the basis of the average trend of the past periods and recognised as reduction to revenue.

3.2.2 Sale of services

Revenue from services rendered, which primarily relate to contract research, is recognised in the statement of profit and loss as the underlying services are performed. Upfront payments received under these arrangements are deferred and recognised as revenue over the expected period over which the related services are expected to be performed.

3.2.3 Royalty, sale of licenses and Intellectual property rights

The Company enters into certain dossier sales, royalties, licensing and supply arrangements with various parties. Income from licensing arrangements

forming part of the standalone financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2022

is generally recognised over the term of the contract. Some of these arrangements include certain performance obligations by the Company. Revenue from such arrangements is recognised in the period in which the Company completes all its performance obligations.

3.2.4 Export incentives

Export incentives are accrued for based on fulfilment of eligibility criteria for availing the incentives and when there is no uncertainty in receiving the same. These incentives include estimated realisable values/benefits from special import licenses and benefits under specified schemes as applicable.

3.2.5 Rental income

The Company's policy for recognition of revenue from operating leases is described in note 3.3.2 below.

3.2.6 Dividend and interest income

Dividend income from investments is recognised when the shareholder's right to receive payment has been established (provided that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the amount of income can be measured reliably).

Interest income from a financial asset is recognised when it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the amount of income can be measured reliably. Interest income is accrued on a time basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to that asset's net carrying amount on initial recognition.

3.3 Leases

At inception of a contract, the Company assesses whether a contract is, or contains, a lease. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Company uses the definition of a lease in Ind AS 116.

3.3.1 The Company as lessee

At commencement or on modification of a contract that contains a lease component, the Company allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component on the basis of its relative stand-alone prices. However, for the leases of property the Company has elected not to separate non-lease components and account for the lease and non-lease components as a single lease component.

The Company recognises a right-of-use asset and a lease liability at the lease commencement date. The right-of-use asset is initially measured at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, plus any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of costs to dismantle and remove the underlying asset or to restore the underlying asset or the site on which it is located, less any lease incentives received.

The right-of-use asset is subsequently depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement date to the end of the lease term, unless the lease transfers ownership of the underlying asset to the Company by the end of the lease term or the cost of the right-of-use asset reflects that the Company will exercise a purchase option. In that case the right-of-use asset will be depreciated over the useful life of the underlying asset, which is determined on the same basis as those of property and equipment. In addition, the right-of-use asset is periodically reduced by impairment losses, if any, and adjusted for certain remeasurements of the lease liability.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, the Company's incremental borrowing rate. Generally, the Company uses its incremental borrowing rate as the discount rate.

The Company determines its incremental borrowing rate by obtaining interest rates from various external financing sources and makes certain adjustments to reflect the terms of the lease and type of the asset leased.

Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability comprise the following:

- fixed payments, including in-substance fixed payments;
- variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, initially measured using the index or rate as at the commencement date;
- amounts expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee; and
- the exercise price under a purchase option that the Company is reasonably certain to exercise, lease payments in an optional renewal period if the Company is reasonably certain to exercise an extension option, and penalties for early termination of a lease unless the Company is reasonably certain not to terminate early.

The lease liability is measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. It is remeasured when there is a change in future lease payments arising from a change in an index or rate, if there is a change in the Company's estimate of the amount expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee, if the Company changes its assessment of whether it will exercise a purchase, extension or termination option or if there is a revised in-substance fixed lease payment.

When the lease liability is remeasured in this way, a corresponding adjustment is made to the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset, or is recorded in profit or loss if the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset has been reduced to zero.

Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets

The Company has elected not to recognise right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for leases of low-value assets and short-term leases, including IT equipment. The Company recognises the lease payments associated with these leases as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

The Company's significant leasing arrangements are mainly in respect of factory land and buildings, residential and office premises.

3.3.2 The Company as lessor

At inception or on modification of a contract that contains a lease component, the Company allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component on the basis of their relative standalone prices.

When the Company acts as a lessor, it determines at lease inception whether each lease is a finance lease or an operating lease."

To classify each lease, the Company makes an overall assessment of whether the lease transfers substantially all of the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of the underlying asset. If this is the case, then the lease is a finance lease; if not, then it is an operating lease. As part of this assessment, the Company considers certain indicators such as whether the lease is for the major part of the economic life of the asset.

When the Company is an intermediate lessor, it accounts for its interests in the head lease and the sub-lease separately. It assesses the lease classification of a sub-lease with reference to the right-of-use asset arising from the head lease, not with reference to the underlying asset. If a head lease is a short-term lease to which the Company applies the exemption described above, then it classifies the sub-lease as an operating lease.

The Company recognises lease payments received under operating leases as income on a straightline basis over the lease term.

3.4 Foreign currencies transactions and translation

Transactions in foreign currencies are recorded at the exchange rate prevailing on the date of transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the functional currency closing rates of exchange at the reporting date.

Exchange differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items are recognised in Statement of Profit and Loss except to the extent of exchange differences which are regarded as an adjustment to interest costs on foreign currency borrowings that are directly attributable to the acquisition or construction of qualifying assets, are capitalized as cost of assets.

Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured in terms of historical cost in foreign currencies are not retranslated. Income and expense items in foreign currency are translated at the average exchange rates for the period, unless exchange rates fluctuate significantly during that period, in which case the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions are used.

3.5 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs include:

- (i) interest expense calculated using the effective interest rate method,
- (ii) finance charges in respect of finance leases, and
- (iii) exchange differences arising from foreign currency borrowings to the extent that they are regarded as an adjustment to interest costs.

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets, until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale.

Interest income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation.

All other borrowing costs are recognised in statement of profit and loss in the period in which they are incurred.

forming part of the standalone financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2022

3.6 Employee benefits

3.6.1 Short-term employee benefits

All employee benefits falling due wholly within twelve months of rendering the services are classified as short-term employee benefits, which include benefits like salaries, wages, short-term compensated absences and performance incentives and are recognised as expenses in the period in which the employee renders the related service.

3.6.2 Post-employment benefits

Payments to defined contribution retirement benefit plans are recognised as an expense when employees have rendered service entitling them to the contributions.

For defined benefit retirement plans, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the projected unit credit method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at the end of each annual reporting period. Remeasurement, comprising actuarial gains and losses, the effect of the changes to the asset ceiling (if applicable) and the return on plan assets (excluding net interest), is reflected immediately in the balance sheet with a charge or credit recognised in other comprehensive income in the period in which they occur. Past service cost is recognised in statement of profit and loss in the period of a plan amendment. Net interest is calculated by applying the discount rate at the beginning of the period to the net defined benefit liability or asset.

The retirement benefit obligation recognised in the standalone balance sheet represents the actual deficit or surplus in the Company's defined benefit plans. Any surplus resulting from this calculation is limited to the present value of any economic benefits available in the form of refunds from the plans or reductions in future contributions to the plans.

A liability for a termination benefit is recognised at the earlier of when the entity can no longer withdraw the offer of the termination benefit and when the entity recognises any related restructuring costs.

3.6.3 Compensated absences

The Company has a policy on compensated absences which are both accumulating and non-accumulating in nature. The expected cost of accumulating compensated absences is determined by actuarial valuation performed by an independent actuary at each balance sheet date using the projected unit credit method on the additional amount expected to be paid/availed as a result of the unused entitlement that has accumulated at the balance sheet date. Expense on non-accumulating compensated absences is recognised in the period in which the absences occur.

3.7 Share-based payment arrangements

3.7.1 Share-based payment transactions of the Company

Equity-settled share-based payments to employees and others providing similar services are measured at the fair value of the equity instruments at the grant date.

The fair value determined at the grant date of the equity-settled share-based payments is expensed on a straight-line basis over the vesting period, based on the Company's estimate of equity instruments that will eventually vest, with a corresponding increase in equity. At the end of each reporting period, the Company revises its estimate of the number of equity instruments expected to vest. The impact of the revision of the original estimates, if any, is recognised in statement of profit and loss such that the cumulative expense reflects the revised estimate, with a corresponding adjustment to the equity-settled employee benefits reserve.

3.7.2 Cash settled share-based payment transactions of the Company

The fair value of the amount payable to employees in respect of cash settled share based payments is recognised as an expense with the corresponding increase in liabilities, over the period during which the employees becoming unconditionally entitled to payment. The liability is remeasured at each reporting date and at settlement date based on the fair value of the underlying options. Any changes in the liability are recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

3.7.3 Share-based payment transactions of the acquiree in a business combination

When the share-based payment awards held by the employees of an acquiree (acquiree awards) are replaced by the Company's share-based payment awards (replacement awards), both the acquiree awards and the replacement awards are measured in accordance with Ind AS 102 ("market-based measure") at the acquisition date. The portion of the replacement awards that is included in measuring the consideration transferred in a business combination equals the market-based measure of the acquiree awards multiplied by the ratio of the portion of the vesting period completed to the greater of the total vesting period or the original vesting period of the acquiree award. The excess of the market-based measure of the replacement awards over the market-based measure of the acquiree awards included in measuring the consideration transferred is recognised as remuneration cost for post-combination service.

However, when the acquiree awards expire as a consequence of a business combination and the Company replaces those awards when it does not have an obligation to do so, the replacement awards are measured at their market-based measure in accordance with Ind AS 102. All of the market-based measure of the replacement awards is recognised as remuneration cost for post-combination service.

forming part of the standalone financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2022

3.8 Taxation

Income tax expense represents the sum of current tax and deferred tax.

3.8.1 Current tax

Current tax is calculated based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from 'profit before tax' as reported in the standalone statement of profit and loss because of items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and items that are never taxable or deductible. The Company's current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

3.8.2 Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the standalone financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognised for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilised. Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit. In addition, deferred tax liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of goodwill.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax liabilities and assets are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset realised, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Company expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Deferred tax assets include Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) paid in accordance with the tax laws in India, which is likely to give future economic benefits in the form of availability of set-off against future tax liability. Accordingly, MAT is recognised as deferred tax asset in the Balance sheet when the asset can be measured reliably and it is probable that the future economic benefit associated with the asset will be realised.

Current and deferred tax are recognised in statement of profit and loss, except when they relate to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively. Where current tax or deferred tax arises from the initial accounting for a business combination, the tax effect is included in the accounting for the business combination.

3.9 Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment held for use in the production or supply of goods or services, or for administrative purposes, are stated in the balance sheet at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any.

Properties in the course of construction for production, supply or administrative purposes are carried at cost, less any recognised impairment loss. Cost includes professional fees and, for qualifying assets, borrowing costs capitalised in accordance with the Company's accounting policy. Such properties are classified to the appropriate categories of property, plant and equipment when completed and ready for intended use. Subsequent expenditure is capitalised only if it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Company. Depreciation of these assets, on the same basis as other property assets, commences when the assets are ready for their intended use.

Depreciation on property, plant and equipment has been provided on the straight-line method as per the useful life prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013 except in respect of the following categories of assets, in whose case the life of the assets has been assessed to be different and are as under based on technical advice, taking into account the nature of the asset, the estimated usage of the asset, the operating conditions of the asset, past history of replacement, anticipated technological changes, manufacturers warranties and maintenance support, etc.:

Dies and punches : 4 years

Mobile phones : 3 years

Certain factory buildings : 18 years

Notes

forming part of the standalone financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2022

Asset held under finance leases are depreciated as per Ind AS 116.

Individual assets costing less than ₹ 5,000 are depreciated in full in the year of purchase.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognised in statement of profit and loss.

Depreciation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each financial year-end and adjusted if appropriate.

Asset held for sale

The company categorises Non-current assets and liabilities as "held for sale", when there is a proposal/intention to sell an asset or group of assets in its present condition.

The assets held for sale are carried at cost or fair value less costs related to disposal, whichever is lower and are not subject to depreciation."

3.10 Investment property

Properties that is held for long-term rentals or for capital appreciation or both, and that is not occupied by the Company, is classified as investment property. Investment property is measured initially at its cost, including related transaction costs and where applicable borrowing costs. Subsequent expenditure is capitalised to the asset's carrying amount only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. All other repairs and maintenance costs are expensed when incurred. When part of the investment property is replaced, the carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognised.

Investment property are depreciated using the straight line method over their estimated useful lives. Investment properties generally have a useful life of 25-60 years. The useful life has been determined based on technical evaluation performed by the management's expert.

Investment properties are derecognised on disposal or when the investment properties are permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefits are expected from its disposal. The gains or losses from the disposal of investment properties are determined as difference between the carrying amount of the investment properties and the net disposal proceeds and are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which it is disposed.

3.11 Intangible assets

3.11.1 Intangible assets acquired separately

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation is recognised on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life and amortisation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis. Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses, if any. Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are not amortized and tested for impairment annually.

3.11.2 Internally-generated intangible assets - research and development expenditure

Expenditure on research activities is recognised as an expense in the period in which it is incurred.

An internally-generated intangible asset arising from development (or from the development phase of an internal project) is recognised if, and only if, all of the following have been demonstrated:

- the technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale;
- the intention to complete the intangible asset and use or sell it;
- the ability to use or sell the intangible asset;
- how the intangible asset will generate probable future economic benefits;
- the availability of adequate technical, financial and other resources to complete the development and to use or sell the intangible asset; and
- the ability to measure reliably the expenditure attributable to the intangible asset during its development.

The amount initially recognised for internally-generated intangible assets is the sum of the expenditure incurred from the date when the intangible asset first meets the recognition criteria listed above. Where no internally-generated intangible asset can be recognised, development expenditure is recognised in statement of profit and loss in the period in which it is incurred.

forming part of the standalone financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2022

Subsequent to initial recognition, internally-generated intangible assets are reported at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses, on the same basis as intangible assets that are acquired separately.

3.11.3 Intangible assets acquired in a business combination

Intangible assets acquired in a business combination and recognised separately from goodwill are initially recognised at their fair value at the acquisition date (which is regarded as their cost).

Subsequent to initial recognition, intangible assets acquired in a business combination are reported at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses, on the same basis as intangible assets that are acquired separately.

3.11.4 Derecognition of intangible assets

An intangible asset is derecognised on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset, measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, are recognised in statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognised.

3.11.5 Useful lives of intangible assets

Intangible assets are amortised over their estimated useful life on straight line method as follows:

Registration and Brands : 10 years to 25 years
Software Licenses : 5 years

3.12 Impairment of assets

3.12.1 Impairment of financial assets:

The Company assesses at each date of balance sheet, whether a financial asset or a group of financial assets is impaired. Ind AS 109 requires expected credit losses to be measured through a loss allowance. The Company recognises lifetime expected losses for all contract assets and / or all trade receivables that do not constitute a financing transaction. For all other financial assets, expected credit losses are measured at an amount equal to the twelve-month expected credit losses or at an amount equal to the life time expected credit losses if the credit risk on the financial asset has increased significantly, since initial recognition.

3.12.2 Impairment of investment in subsidiaries and associates

The Company reviews its carrying value of investments in subsidiaries and associates at cost, annually, or more frequently when there is an indication for impairment. If the recoverable amount is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is accounted for.

3.12.3 Impairment of non-financial assets

At the end of each reporting period, the Company reviews the carrying amounts of its tangible and intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss (if any). When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. When a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be identified, corporate assets are also allocated to individual cash-generating units, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash-generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives and intangible assets not yet available for use are tested for impairment at least annually, and whenever there is an indication that the asset may be impaired.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or cash-generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised immediately in statement of profit and loss.

When an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset (or cash-generating unit) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised immediately in statement of profit and loss.

3.13 Inventories

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost and the net realisable value after providing for obsolescence and other losses, where considered necessary. Cost includes all charges in bringing the goods to the point of sale, including octroi and other levies, transit insurance and receiving charges. Cost is determined as follows:

Notes

forming part of the standalone financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2022

Raw materials, packing materials and stores and spares: weighted average basis

Work-in progress: at material cost and an appropriate share of production overheads

Finished goods: material cost and an appropriate share of production overheads and excise duty, wherever applicable

Stock-in trade: weighted average basis.

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and selling expenses. The net realisable value of work-in-progress is determined with reference to the selling prices of related finished products."

3.14 Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that the Company will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognised as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. When a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligation, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows (when the effect of the time value of money is material).

When some or all of the economic benefits required to settle a provision are expected to be recovered from a third party, a receivable is recognised as an asset if it is virtually certain that reimbursement will be received and the amount of the receivable can be measured reliably.

3.14.1 Onerous contracts

Present obligations arising under onerous contracts are recognised and measured as provisions. An onerous contract is considered to exist where the Company has a contract under which the unavoidable costs of meeting the obligations under the contract exceed the economic benefits expected to be received from the contract.

3.14.2 Contingent liabilities

Contingent liabilities are disclosed in notes when there is a possible obligation that arises from past events and whose existence will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the entity.

3.15 Financial instruments

3.15.1 Investment in subsidiaries and associates

The Company has accounted for its investments in subsidiaries and associates joint ventures at cost less impairment.

3.15.2 Other financial assets and financial liabilities

Other financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments.

Initial recognition and measurement:

Other financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognised immediately in statement of profit and loss.

Subsequent measurement:

Financial assets at amortised cost

Financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost if these financial assets are held within a business whose objective is to hold these assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and contractual terms of financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income

Financial assets are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income if these financial assets are held within business whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows on specified dates that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding and selling financial assets.

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets are measured at fair value through profit or loss unless it measured at amortised cost or fair value through other comprehensive income on initial recognition. The transaction cost directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are immediately recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are measured at amortised cost using effective interest rate method. For trade and other payables maturing within one year from the balance sheet date, the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to the short maturity of these instruments.

Notes

3.15.3 Equity instruments

An equity instrument is a contract that evidences residual interest in the assets of the company after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments recognised by the Company are recognised at the proceeds received net off direct issue cost.

3.15.4 Financial guarantee contracts

The Company enters into financial guarantee contracts with its subsidiaries and associates. At the inception of a financial guarantee contract, a liability is recognized initially at fair value and then subsequently at the higher of the estimated loss and amortized cost, the changes in subsequent measurement being recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Where a guarantee is issued for a consideration, a financial asset of an amount equal to the liability is initially recognized at amortized cost. Where a guarantee is issued for no consideration, the fair value is recognized as additional investment in the entity to which the guarantee relates.

3.15.5 Derivative financial instruments and hedge accounting

The Company uses various derivative financial instruments such as interest rate swaps, currency swaps and forward contracts to mitigate the risk of changes in interest rates and foreign exchange rates. Such derivative financial instruments are initially recognised at fair value on the date on which a derivative contract is entered into and are also subsequently measured at fair value. Derivatives are carried as financial assets when the fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when the fair value is negative.

Any gains or losses arising from changes in the fair value of derivatives are taken directly to the Statement of Profit and Loss, except for the effective portion of cash flow hedges which is recognised in Other Comprehensive Income and later to the Statement of Profit and Loss when the hedged item affects profit or loss or treated as basis adjustment if a hedged forecast transaction subsequently results in the recognition of a non-financial assets or non-financial liability.

Hedges that meet the criteria for hedge accounting are accounted for as follows:

a) Cash flow hedge

or forecast cash transactions. When a derivative is designated as a cash flow hedging instrument, the effective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative is recognized in the cash flow hedging reserve being part of other comprehensive income. Any ineffective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative is recognized immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss. If the hedging relationship no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting, then hedge accounting is discontinued prospectively. If the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated or exercised, the cumulative gain or loss on the hedging instrument recognized in cash flow hedging reserve till the period the hedge was effective remains in cash flow hedging reserve until the underlying transaction occurs. The cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in the cash flow hedging reserve is transferred to the Statement of Profit and Loss upon the occurrence of the underlying transaction. If the forecasted transaction is no longer expected to occur, then the amount accumulated in cash flow hedging reserve is reclassified in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

b) Fair value hedge

The Company designates derivative contracts or non derivative financial assets / liabilities as hedging instruments to mitigate the risk of change in fair value of hedged item due to movement in interest rates, foreign exchange rates and commodity prices.

Changes in the fair value of hedging instruments and hedged items that are designated and qualify as fair value hedges are recorded in the Statement of Profit and Loss. If the hedging relationship no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting, the adjustment to the carrying amount of a hedged item for which the effective interest method is used is amortised to Statement of Profit and Loss over the period of maturity."

3.16 Exceptional items

When an item of income or expense within profit or loss from ordinary activity is of such size, nature or incidence that their disclosure is relevant to explain the performance of the Company for the year, the nature and amount of such items is disclosed as exceptional items.

3.17 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash at banks and on hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and which are subject to insignificant risk of changes in value. Bank overdrafts that are repayable on demand and form an integral part of our

forming part of the standalone financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2022

cash management are included as a component of cash and cash equivalents for the purpose of the statement of cash flows.

3.18 Earnings per share

Basic Earnings Per Share ('EPS') is computed by dividing the net profit attributable to the equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing the net profit by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and also the weighted average number of equity shares that could have been issued upon conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. Dilutive potential equity shares are deemed converted as of the beginning of the year, unless issued at a later date. In computing diluted earnings per share, only potential equity shares that are dilutive and that either reduces earnings per share or increases loss per share are included. The number of shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted retrospectively for all periods presented in case of share splits.

3.19 Recent pronouncements

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standard or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. On March 23, 2022, MCA amended the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2022, applicable from April 1, 2022, as below

Ind AS 103 – Reference to Conceptual Framework

The amendments specify that to qualify for recognition as part of applying the acquisition method, the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed must meet the definitions of assets and liabilities in the Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting under Indian Accounting Standards (Conceptual Framework) issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India at the acquisition date. These changes do not significantly change the requirements of Ind AS 103. The Company does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its financial statements.

Ind AS 16 – Proceeds before intended use

The amendments mainly prohibit an entity from deducting from the cost of property, plant and equipment amounts received from selling items produced while the company is preparing the asset for its intended use. Instead, an entity will recognise such sales proceeds and related cost in profit or loss. The Company does not expect the amendments to have any impact in its recognition of its property, plant and equipment in its financial statements.

Ind AS 37 – Onerous Contracts - Costs of Fulfilling a Contract

The amendments specify that that the 'cost of fulfilling' a contract comprises the 'costs that relate directly to the contract'. Costs that relate directly to a contract can either be incremental costs of fulfilling that contract (examples would be direct labour, materials) or an allocation of other costs that relate directly to fulfilling contracts. The amendment is essentially a clarification and the Company does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its financial statements.

Ind AS 109 – Annual Improvements to Ind AS (2021)

The amendment clarifies which fees an entity includes when it applies the '10 percent' test of Ind AS 109 in assessing whether to derecognise a financial liability. The Company does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its financial statements

Ind AS 116 – Annual Improvements to Ind AS (2021)

The amendments remove the illustration of the reimbursement of leasehold improvements by the lessor in order to resolve any potential confusion regarding the treatment of lease incentives that might arise because of how lease incentives were described in that illustration. The Company does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its financial statements.

Note:

- During previous year, the Board of Directors of the Company have approved in principle the demerger of its bio-pharma business under Stelis Biopharma Private Limited. The transaction is subject to approval from shareholders, meeting customary closing conditions.
- 5,979,370 (As at March 31, 2021: 407,065) equity shares are pledged against borrowings taken by Stelis Biopharma Limited from a financial institution.
- During the year ended 31 March 2022, Stelis Biopharma Limited ("the Associate") has incurred loss of ₹ 2,327 million and has a net negative working capital position amounting to ₹ 2,976 million, which includes the current maturities of non-current borrowings of ₹ 3,731.55 million as at March 31, 2022. As of March 31, 2022, the associate has inventories relating to Sputnik V, which remains unsold due to geopolitical situation between Russia and Ukraine and sanctions on Russia and Russian Direct Investment Fund (RDIF). The management of the Associate is confident of liquidating these inventories within the shelf life in the normal course of business. Further, the Associate has shown growth in the Contract Development and Manufacturing business (from ₹ 213.9 million in FY21 to ₹ 1,321.27 million in FY22) which is expected to grow further in the coming years. The Associate also proposes to monetise some of its existing intangible assets under development through potential licensing/ strategic partnerships. The Associate has requested for temporary relaxations for compliance with these financial covenants from the lenders as these have not been met as of the date of these financial results. Also, the shareholders of the Associate have committed to extend the necessary financial support against the monies outstanding on the partly paid shares.

Given the mitigating factors discussed above, while there is a reasonable expectation that the Associate will be able to generate/raise adequate resources to continue operating for the foreseeable future and that the going concern basis for the preparation of its financial statements remains appropriate, there exists a material uncertainty in respect of the Associate's going concern. This also required the Company to undertake the Impairment assessment of the Company's investment in the Associate. The Company estimated the recoverable amount based on the value in use of the underlying businesses. The computation uses cash flow forecasts based on the most recently approved financial budgets and strategic forecasts. The Company also considered the valuation at which funds were raised by the associate during the year and significant increase in its revenues during the current year. Accordingly, based on the above assessment, the Company has concluded that no impairment provision is required in the standalone financial statements.

As per the judgment of Honourable Supreme Court dated February 28, 2019 on the definition of "Basic Wages" under the Employees Provident Funds & Misc. Provisions Act, 1952 and based on Company's evaluation, there are significant uncertainties and numerous interpretative issues relating to the judgement and hence it is unclear as to whether the clarified definition of Basic Wages would be applicable prospectively or retrospectively. The amount of the obligation therefore cannot be measured with sufficient reliability for past periods and hence has currently been considered to be a contingent liability.

Other than the matters disclosed above, the Company is also involved in other disputes including patent and commercial matters that arise from time to time in the ordinary course of business. Management is of the view that the resolution of these disputes will not have any material adverse effect on the Company's financial position or results of operations.

b. Details of the cash settled share based payment plan of the Company:

On May 20, 2020, the Board approved "Strides Long Term Incentive Plan 2020" titled the LTIP 2020 ("the Plan"). The Plan shall be in the form of Phantom Units. Each Phantom Unit, upon exercise, entitles the awardee a cash benefit equal to the Share Price on the date of exercise minus exercise price to be paid to the Company. The vesting period of these units is one year. The units must be exercised within a period of twelve months from the date of vesting. The Company has granted Nil options (Previous year: 72,966) under this scheme during the current year.

During the current year, Employee compensation cost reversal of ₹ 19.80 Million (cost for the year ended March 31, 2021: ₹ 52.80 Million) relating to the Plan have been recorded in the Statement of Profit and Loss on account of final settlement of the Phantom units granted previous year.

Note No. 43 Employee Benefits Plans

Defined contribution plan

The Company makes contributions to provident fund and employee state insurance schemes which are defined contribution plans, for qualifying employees. Under the schemes, the Company is required to contribute a specified percentage of the payroll cost to fund the benefits. The Company recognised ₹ 143.81 Million for provident fund contributions, ₹ 2.06 Million for employee state insurance scheme contributions in the Statement of Profit and Loss. The contributions payable to these plans by the Company are at rates specified in the rules of the schemes.

Defined benefit plan

Composition of the plan assets

The fund is managed by LIC, the fund manager. The details of composition of plan assets managed by the fund manager is not available with the Company. However, the said funds are subject to Market risk (such as interest risk, investment risk, etc.).

The said benefit plan is exposed to actuarial risks such as longevity risk and salary risk.

Longevity risk	The present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated by reference to the best estimate of the mortality of plan participants both during and after their employment. An increase in the life expectancy of the plan participants will increase the plan's liability.
Salary risk	The present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated by reference to the future salaries of plan participants. As such, an increase in the salary of the plan participants will increase the plan's liability.

Movements in the fair value of the plan assets are as follows:

	31-Mar-22	31-Mar-21

Significant actuarial assumptions for the determination of the defined obligation are discount rate and expected salary increase. The sensitivity analysis below have been determined based on reasonably possible changes of the respective assumptions occurring at the end of the reporting period, while holding all other assumptions constant.

If the discount rate increases (decrease) by 1%, the defined benefit obligation would be ₹ 434.30 Million (₹ 499.52 Million) as at March 31, 2022.

If the expected salary growth increases (decrease) by 1%, the defined benefit obligation would be ₹ 490.31 Million (₹ 440.52 Million) as at March 31, 2022.

The sensitivity analysis presented above may not be representative of the actual change in the defined benefit obligation as it is unlikely that the change in assumptions would occur in isolation of one another as some of the assumptions may be correlated.

Furthermore, in presenting the above sensitivity analysis, the present value of the defined benefit obligation has been calculated using the projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period, which is the same as that applied in calculating the defined benefit obligation liability recognised in the balance sheet.

There was no change in the methods and assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis from prior years.

There has been no change in the process used by the Company to manage its risks from prior periods.

Expected future cash outflows towards the plan are as follows-

Financial Year	₹ In Million

Fair value hierarchy

The fair value hierarchy is based on inputs to valuation techniques that are used to measure fair value that are either observable or unobservable and consist of the following three levels:

Level 1 - Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 - Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).

Level 3 - Inputs for the assets or liabilities that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

Fair value of the Company's financial assets and financial liabilities that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis

Some of the Company's financial assets and financial liabilities are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period. The following table gives information about how the fair values of these financial assets and financial liabilities are determined (in particular, the valuation technique(s) and inputs used).

Financial assets / financial liabilities	Fair value as at		Fair value hierarchy	Valuation technique(s) and key input(s)
	31-Mar-22	31-Mar-21
Financial assets:
Foreign currency forward contracts designated in hedge accounting relationships (FVTOCI)	9.08	64.54	Level 2	The fair value of forward foreign contracts are determined using spot and forward exchange rates at the balance sheet date.

47.2 Fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities that are not measured at fair value (but fair value disclosures are required)

Except as detailed in the following table, the Company considers that the carrying amounts of financial assets and financial liabilities recognised in the financial statements at amortized cost will reasonably approximate their fair values.

47.3 Financial risk management

The Company's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Company's primary focus is to foresee the unpredictability of financial markets and seek to minimize potential adverse effects on its financial performance. The primary market risk to the Company is foreign exchange risk. The Company uses derivatives financial instruments to mitigate foreign exchange related risk exposures. All derivative activities for risk management purposes are carried out by specialist teams that have the appropriate skills, experience and supervision. It is the Company's policy that no trading in derivatives for speculative purposes maybe undertaken. The impact on profit has been arrived at by applying the effects of appreciation / depreciation effects of currency on the net position (Assets in foreign currency - Liabilities in foreign currency) in the respective currencies.

For the purposes of the above table, it is assumed that the carrying value of the financial assets and liabilities as at the end of the respective financial years remains constant thereafter. The exchange rate considered for the sensitivity analysis is the exchange rate prevalent as at each year end.

The sensitivity analysis might not be representative of inherent foreign exchange risk due to the fact that the foreign exposure at the end of the reporting period might not reflect the exposure during the year.

47.4 Interest rate risk management

Interest rate risk arises from borrowings. Debt issued at variable rates exposes the Company to cash flow risk. Debt issued at fixed rate exposes the Company to fair value risk.

47.4.1 Interest rate sensitivity analysis

Financial instruments affected by interest rate changes include secured long term loans from banks and secured long term loans from others. The impact of a 1% change in interest rates on the profit of an annual period will be ₹ 124.65 Million (March 31, 2021: 88.18 Million) assuming the loans at each year end remain constant during the respective years. This computation does not involve a revaluation of the fair value of loans as a consequence of changes in interest rates. The computation also assumes that an increase in interest rates on floating rate liabilities will not necessarily involve an increase in interest rates on floating rate financial assets.

47.5 Credit risk management

Credit risk refers to the risk that a counterparty will default on its contractual obligations resulting in financial loss to the Company. Credit risk to the company primarily arises from trade receivables. Credit risk also arises from cash and cash equivalents, financial instruments and deposits with banks and financial institutions and other financial assets.

The Company has adopted a policy of only dealing with creditworthy counterparties and obtaining sufficient collateral, where appropriate, as a means of mitigating the risk of financial loss from defaults. The Company has an internal mechanism of determining the credit rating of the customers and setting credit limits. Credit exposure is controlled by counterparty limits that are reviewed and approved by the risk management committee annually. Ongoing credit evaluation is performed on the financial condition of accounts receivable.

forming part of the standalone financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2022

The Company is no significantly exposed to geographical credit risk as the counterparties operate across various countries across the globe.

Credit risk on cash and cash equivalent and derivatives is limited as the Company generally transacts with banks and financial institutions with high credit ratings assigned by international and domestic credit rating agencies.

In determining the allowance for doubtful trade receivables, the Company has used a practical expedient by computing the expected credit loss allowance for trade receivables based on a provision matrix. The provision matrix takes into account historical credit loss experience and is adjusted for forward looking information. The expected credit loss allowance is based on the ageing of the receivables that are due and rates as given in the provision matrix. The Provision matrix at the end of reporting period as follows:

47.6 Liquidity risk management

Ultimate responsibility for liquidity risk management rests with the Board of directors, which has established an appropriate liquidity risk management framework for the management of the Company's short-term, medium-term and long-term funding and liquidity management requirements. The Company manages liquidity risk by maintaining adequate reserves, banking facilities and reserve borrowing facilities, by continuously monitoring forecast and actual short term and long term cash flows, and by matching the maturity profiles of financial assets and liabilities. A portion of the company's surplus cash is retained as investments in Liquid Mutual Funds to fund short term requirements.
