ALL lines up $200-m capex for EV arm

SAJAN C KUMAR
Chennai, July 29

WITH DEMAND FOR electric vehicles increasing, Ashok Leyland (ALL) has lined up $150-$200 million capex over a period of two years for its electric vehicle subsidiary Switch Mobility, Dheeraj Hinduja, executive chairman, ALL told media on Friday.

For the commercial vehicle segment, the company has set aside ₹750 crore each as capex for the next two years. The Hinduja flagship company is also exploring whether to set up a separate platform for light commercial vehicles (LCVs) and allot additional capex for the vertical.

Addressing media through virtual mode on the company's first quarter performance, Hinduja said medium and heavy commercial vehicle (M&HCV) business has been growing and the company has surpassed 30% market share in the first quarter. The company is growing the network to push additional volumes. Trucks and tippers have been showing significant growth and the company is lining up ₹750 crore each as capex for the next two years.

"For the EV subsidiary Switch Mobility, we will be having a capex of $150 million to $200 million over a period of two years. That may be spent in UK and India," he said.

Automaker posts ₹68-cr profit in Q1

HINDUJA FLAGSHIP commercial vehicle major Ashok Leyland has bounced back to black in first quarter of FY23, reporting a net profit of ₹68 crore as against net loss of ₹282 cr in Q1 FY22, on the back of increased sales volumes both in domestic and export fronts. The Chennai-headquartered company reported a 145% increase in y-o-y revenues at ₹7,223 crore as against ₹2,951 crore in the same quarter last year. — FE BUREAU

Hinduja said the company is close to finalising strategic investors for Switch Mobility and the announcement is just weeks away. "We have been for the past months in discussions with many investors. We were not in a hurry to seal the deal as we want strategic investors who share our company's vision," he said.

ALL is on course to launch complete range of CNG vehicles by this fiscal end, despite the recent spike in CNG prices. "The fuel price escalations are temporary and we are going ahead with our alternate fuel vehicles plan," he said adding, "the CNG products introduced by the company have been received well". Hinduja said that commodity prices are beginning to decline and the benefit of this will be seen in the coming quarters. Gopal Mahadevan, whole-time director & CFO, ALL, said the company is studying whether another platform is required for LCVs given that the company has always been launching differentiated products. "For that we require additional capex which may not be a lumpy one for one year, it may spread across a couple of years," he said.

On the overall capex of ₹750 crore each for next two years, Mahadevan said that the company, at the beginning of fiscal, typically lines up a capex somewhere between ₹500-₹750 crore. However, the company does not end up exhausting the whole amount. "We are very much tight on project and capex management," he added.

IOC posts ₹1,993-cr loss on fuel price freeze

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, July 29

STATE-OWNED INDIAN OIL Corporation (IOC) on Friday reported a ₹1,993 crore loss due to a price freeze in petrol and diesel during the first quarter of the current fiscal. The company reported ₹5,914 crore net profit in the same quarter last fiscal.

Along with its peers in oil marketing space, IOC has not raised retail prices for transport fuels in proportion to the rise in crude oil prices. This eroded gains in average gross refining margin (GRM) that zoomed to $31.81 per barrel in Q1FY23 compared with $6.58 a barrel in the same quarter last fiscal.

"The core GRM or the current price GRM for the period April-June, 2022 after offsetting inventory loss/gain comes to $25.34 per barrel. However, the suppressed marketing margins of certain petroleum products have offset the benefit of increase in GRM," IOC said.

This is the first quarterly loss for the company in over two years. The company had in January-March 2020 reported a net loss because of inventory losses.

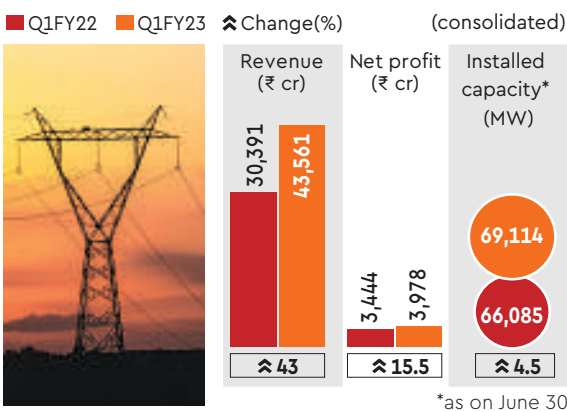

In a July 11 report, ICICI Securities had said that oil marketing companies - IOC, Bharat Petroleum and Hindustan Petroleum - may post a combined loss of ₹10,700 crore in the first quarter of the current fiscal.

The brokerage firm said the loss will be due to selling transport fuels at a loss of ₹12-14 per litre even as there GRMs will remain fairly strong at $17-18 per barrel.

IOC's profit before tax for the reporting quarter was Rs 2,529 crore compared with Rs 7,798 crore a year earlier. Revenue from operations rose to Rs 2.52 trillion from Rs 1.55 trillion. The net profit margin was at (-) 0.79% compared with 3.83% a year earlier.

NTPC Q1 net profit rises 15% to ₹3,978 cr

REPORT CARD

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, July 29

COUNTRY'S LARGEST POWER generation company NTPC on Friday reported a 15.51% rise in consolidated net profit for the first quarter of the current fiscal at ₹3,978 crore on higher sales and tariff. The company had reported ₹3,444 crore net profit in the same period last fiscal.

The board of the state-run firm, at its meeting held Friday, approved raising ₹12,000 crore through bonds or non-convertible debentures by way of private placement in the domestic market. In the June quarter, NTPC's gross power generation was at 86.88 billion units compared to 71.74 billion units in the same period a year ago. Coupled with a 22.52% rise in average tariff to ₹4.57 per unit, NTPC's revenue rose to ₹43,561 crore from ₹30,391 crore a year earlier.

During the reporting quarter, NTPC imported 4.33 million tonne (MT) coal compared with just 470,000 tonne in the same period last fiscal. The supply of domestic coal for its plants stood at 51.24 MT, up from 45.81 MT in the year-ago period. NTPC's captive coal production was at 4.1 MT, up from 2.46 MT a year earlier.

"NTPC's coal stations achieved a plant load factor of 80.39% as against the national average of 69.49% during Q2FY23," the company said in a statement. At the end of June 2022, NTPC's installed capacity, as a group, stood at 69,134 MW compared with 66,085 MW in the year-ago period.

COO quits in latest blow for Zilingo

YOOLIM LEE & OLIVIA POH
July 29

THE CHIEF OPERATING officer of Zilingo Pte has resigned from the company after a tenure during which the fashion e-commerce startup rose to prominence before plunging into a crisis.

Aadi Vaidya, who joined the company in 2015 and became the COO two years later, confirmed his resignation when contacted by Bloomberg News. Friday is his last day at the company, Vaidya said in his response.

"I have resigned and decided to move on from Zilingo," he said. "It was a place that shaped me both personally and professionally and gave me great colleagues and friends. I feel now is the time to move on, clear my head and reset priorities for the future."

It marks the latest high-level departure at the troubled company. Chief executive officer Ankith Bose was dismissed in May after an investigation by an independent firm into complaints of financial irregularities. Chief Financial Officer Ramesh Bafna, a former CFO of fashion e-commerce platform Myntra, also left in May, a mere two months after joining the startup. The exits put the company under the leadership of Dhruv Kapoor, co-founder and chief technology officer who owns about 89% of Zilingo. Vaidya has a 2% stake in the company. Kapoor has been trying to draw investment to keep the company afloat. — BLOOMBERG

PhonePe fully acquires OSLabs, ending legal tussle with AGPL

TUSHAR GOENKA
Bengaluru, July 29

PHONEPE, A DIGITAL payments enabler, has acquired 100% stake in OSLabs - a content and app discovery platform - in an all cash deal, a company spokesperson said.

The deal size was not immediately known but PhonePe, AGPL and OSLabs reached an amicable settlement in the matter, with PhonePe acquiring AGPL's entire stake at a premium, the companies said in a statement. Walmart-owned PhonePe already owned about 25-30% stake in OSLabs.

This announcement ends the long legal tussle between PhonePe and shareholders of OSLabs, Affle and Ventureast Fund on the valuation of OSLabs. Mid-2021, PhonePe was close to acquiring OSLabs for $60 million. But, Affle - which was then the largest shareholder - objected the deal, saying the true valuation stood at $90 million and it was unwilling to sell its majority stake at a lower valuation.

With the acquisition of, PhonePe will further its vision of building a homegrown horizontal, local Appstore - PhonePe Switch. The already existing feature allows users to browse multiple apps within the PhonePe app, without downloading them. It has portals like Ola, Swiggy, McDonalds, Domino's, among others.

"We are very excited to embark on this journey with OSLabs, and build just the kind of the localised Appstore that India needs," said Sameer Nigam, founder and CEO, PhonePe. About 100 employees of OSLabs and its founders, will all be a part of PhonePe as part of this acquisition, the spokesperson said.
