Russian Software Firm Disguised As "American" Finds Its Way In US Army

LONDON: (AGENCY) Pushwoosh is headquartered in the Siberian town of Novosibirsk, where it is registered as a software company that also carries out data processing...

Pushwoosh provides code and data processing support for software developers, enabling them to profit from the online activity of smartphone app users and send tailor-made push notifications from Pushwoosh servers. On its website, however, it presents itself as a U.S. company, based at various times in California, Maryland and Washington, D.C. Reuters found Pushwoosh says it does not collect sensitive information, and Reuters found no evidence Pushwoosh mis-handled user data. Russian arm proud to be Russian and I would never hide this." He said the company "has no connection with the Russian government of any kind" and stores its data in the United States and Germany.

Russia, whose ties with the West have deteriorated since its takeover of the Crimean Peninsula in 2014 and its invasion of Ukraine this year, is a global leader in hacking and cyber-espionage, spying on foreign governments and industries to seek competitive advantage, according to Western officials.

Pushwoosh code was installed in the apps of a wide array of international companies, influential non-profits and government agencies from global consumer goods company Unilever Pk and the Union of European Football Associations (UEFA).

King Charles Turns 74, Becomes New "Park Ranger" Replacing Father

LONDON: (AGENCY) Britain's King Charles III marked his 74th birthday on Monday by taking on an additional environmental role as the Park Ranger of Windsor Great Park on the royal Windsor Castle estate in south-east England.

"Who Is He Going To Talk To?": Why Putin Is Staying Away From G20

MOSCOW: (AGENCY) The last time Russian President Vladimir Putin found himself isolated at a G20 summit was in 2014, soon after he seized Crimea - and he was so shunned that he left early eight years later, after launching a full-scale offensive in Ukraine in February and threatening the summit, you have to talk to people and be photographed? The G20 gathering will inevitably be overshadowed by Moscow's offensive in Ukraine, which has shocked global energy markets and aggravated food shortages.

Iranian Khan has said he wants to mend relations with the US if rejected and no longer blames it for his removal as Pakistan prime minister, apparently taking a U-turn after accusing Washington of engineering his ouster by supporting the then Opposition's no-confidence motion.

Chen, 70, who was ousted in April in a no-confidence vote had been claiming that he was the result of a conspiracy between prime minister Shehbaz Sharif and the US, a top security partner to Pakistan that has provided the country with billions of dollars in military aid. He had been claiming that the Opposition's no-confidence motion against him was the result of a foreign conspiracy because of his independent foreign policy on Islamabad's ties with countries like China and Russia and funds were being channelled from abroad to oust him from power. In an interview with the Financial

"The Pakistan I Want To Lead Must...": Imran Khan On Pak-US Relations

Times following an assassination attempt this month, Khan said he no longer "blamed" the US and wants a "dignified" relationship if re-elected. "As far as I'm concerned it's over, it's behind me," he told the British financial newspaper of the alleged conspiracy, which both Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif and the US deny.

Khan has claimed that Donald Lu, the top American official dealing with South Asia in the US State Department, was involved in the foreign conspiracy to topple his government. "The Pakistan I want to lead must have good relationships with everyone, especially the United States. Our relationship with the US has been as of a master-servant relationship, or a master-slave relationship, and we've been used like a hired gun. But for that I blame my own governments more than the US," the newspaper quoted Khan as saying. Khan, the chairman of the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf party, suffered bullet injuries in the right leg earlier this month when two gunmen fired a volley of bullets at him and others standing on a container-mounted truck in the Wazirabad area, where he was leading the march against the government. Khan has blamed Prime Minister Sharif, Interior Minister Rana Sanaullah and Major General Faisal Noor for latching a plot to assassinate him, a former cricketer-turned-politician said that early elections were the only way to restore political stability.

Biden, Xi Seek To Avoid Conflict At First US-China Summit In Years

NUSA DUA: (AGENCY) Presidents Joe Biden and Xi Jinping voiced hope Monday that the United States and China can manage growing differences and avoid conflict as they met for the first time in more than three years.

Xi and Biden shook hands in front of the two nations' flags before starting a long-awaited sit down on the Indonesian resort of Bali ahead of a Group 20 summit, following months of tension over Taiwan and other issues. Biden, sitting across from Xi at facing desks, said that Beijing and Washington "share responsibility" to show the world that they can "manage our differences, prevent competition from becoming conflict." Xi, China's most powerful leader in decades who is fresh from securing a norm-breaking third term, told Biden that the world has "come to a crossroads." "The work I do is that China and the United States will properly handle the relationship," Xi told him. Despite the upbeat public statements, both nations are increasingly suspicious of each other, with the United States fearing that China has stepped up its military buildup in the Taiwan Strait and is seeking to avoid "red lines" that could push the world's two largest economies into conflict.

Zelensky Visits Ukraine's Kherson After Russian Troops Withdraw: Report

UKRAINE: (AGENCY) Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky visited the newly liberated city of Kherson on Monday, following the retreat of Russian forces from the strategic hub, a source in Zelensky's office told AFP. The visit came just days after Ukrainian troops entered the city - the Kherson region's administrative centre - after Russia pulled back its forces on Friday.

Zelensky said late on Sunday that Ukrainian forces who retook Kherson city found evidence of hundreds of new "war crimes" carried out by Russian occupiers. Ukrainians in the liberated city expressed relief at the end of months of occupation. The city of Kherson was the first major urban hub to fall after Russia invaded in February. Its full recapture opens a gateway for Ukraine to the entire Kherson region, with access to both the Black Sea in the west and the Sea of Azov in the east. The region was one of four that the Kremlin announced
