Uday Kotak steps down as MD, CEO

“We have created value for our stakeholders and provide over 1 lakh direct jobs,” he said. “An investment of ₹10,000 with us in 1985 would be worth around ₹300 crore today,” he added. Kotak said that as the founder, he is deeply attached to brand Kotak and will continue to serve the institution as non-executive director and significant shareholder and the bank has an “outstanding” management team to carry the legacy forward. “Founders go away, but the institution flourishes into perpetuity,” he said. In March, the KMB board approved the appointment of Uday Kotak as a non-executive non-independent director for a term of five years. In his handwritten resignation letter to KMB Chairman Prakash Apte, Kotak wrote: “It has been 38 long years since this institution was created, with 3 employees in Fort, Mumbai, it is now a pre-eminent bank and financial conglomerate, having presence across India and in 5 other countries, with over 100,000 employees. I have cherished being a part of this entire journey. It is now time to move on. Although, I still have a few months to go, my resignation as Managing Director & CEO of the Bank is with immediate effect. I have mulled over this decision for some time and believe this is the right thing for the institution”. He added the bank had taken various measures to “fortify” the institution and make it future ready. This included steps taken to ensure the bank is financially stable and has a stronger risk matrix. Talent has been added, Kotak wrote, in the areas of technology, customer experience, marketing and risk analytics. As per RBI guidelines, a bank MD's tenure can be extended for a maximum of 15 years. Earlier last month, Kotak Mahindra Bank had denied a Bloomberg report which said the RBI had nudged Kotak Mahindra Bank to appoint an external candidate as MD and CEO. As per sources, KVS Manian, President - Corporate, Institutional & Investment

Banking and Shanti Ekambaram, President, Consumer Banking at the bank are the frontrunners for the position of MD & CEO.

Go First, Jet Airways lose airline codes

In addition, companies assigned an IATA airline designator code use them for reservations, schedules, timetables, telecommunications, ticketing, cargo documentation, legal, tariffs and/or other commercial/traffic purposes. The designator and numeric codes remain blocked for 12 months, during which the airline can ask for the reinstatement of the designator if the requirements are met. Go First did not respond to queries at the time of the article going to print but a Jalan-Kalrock spokesperson said, “The 9W code is held by Jet Airways and is currently under preservation with IATA as it is to be used only for commercial operations. It will be de-preserved upon commencement of operations.” Go First, the formerly Wadia group-controlled low-cost airline, losing its airline code comes a few days after the troubled airline announced its decision to extend cancellation of all flights till September 5. September 2 marks four months since the last of Go First's aircraft took flight before its management pleaded for bankruptcy protection. Go First had a fleet of 57 aircraft, comprising leased planes, before it halted all operations. It has been struggling to restart operations ever since.

The chances of Go First resuming operations look bleak as one of its lessors Jackson Square Aviation Ireland moved the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) to prevent its aircraft leased by Go First from being used to resume its flight operations. The successful bidder, Jalan-Kalrock (JKC), of full-service carrier Jet Airways, on Thursday had announced infusion of ₹100 crore into the airline, within two days after the NCLAT directed it to do so. With this JKC claims to have infused ₹250 crore into Jet Airways. A balance of ₹100 crore is required to be infused before September 30. Civil aviation regulator, the Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA), had granted a limited period renewal of Jet Airways' air operator's certificate (AOC) in August. This renewal was for a period of one month and is due to get lapsed on September 3, 2023. After grounding all flights in April 2019 following mounting financial troubles, Mumbai-based Jet Airways was admitted to the corporate insolvency resolution process where JKC emerged as the winning bidder two years later.

ment support, it will need to consider closing its sites. The company did not immediately respond to a Reuters request for comment, while a spokesperson for the government's Department for Business and Trade said it did not comment on ongoing negotiations.

Coal import mandate for power extended

India typically reports maximum electricity demand during the summer months of April to June, when use of cooling appliances from air-conditioners to industrial chillers boost consumption. The country reached peak demand of almost 240 GW on Friday, surpassing the previous record set just a day before, according to data from the Grid Controller of India. Friday's was 20% more than the maximum during September last year. As a result of the surge in coal demand, stockpiles of the fuel have shrunk rapidly. Power stations are left with just 11 days of inventories, compared with 14 days at the start of June. The ministry's plan to boost stockpiles with seaborne cargoes can potentially reverse a declining trend in imports by power stations amid an increase in rising domestic availability. Spells of cool weather during the summer months also helped soften demand for the fuel that helps produce about 70% of India's electricity. Coal imports by power stations during the four months through July dropped 24% from a year earlier, according to data from the power ministry.

“These women are showing a path to do this,” added Sampath. Mathias added how women in sports, too, like in this year's FIFA World Cup for women, have seen incredible following in terms of audience views as compared to a decade ago. “If one half of the world population can pull the other half, it's time to acknowledge the superpower of women,” he said. A record over 1.9 million people attended the 2023 FIFA Women's World Cup, with the previous record at 1.35 million at the 2015 Women's World Cup in Canada. Added Karan Taurani, senior vice-president, Elara Capital, an investment solutions firm, “Like Women's Indian Premier League (WPL) is a big proposition now, where women are on a par with men.” The Women's Indian Premier League (WPL) inaugurated this year in March gave a much-needed boost to women's cricket in India, easing gender disparity and driving the economy. It was dubbed the second-richest franchise-based cricket league in the world across genders, after the IPL, as per BCCI secretary Jay Shah, and the third-richest franchise-based women's league in the world across sports, after Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA) and Women's Super League. The media rights for the first five seasons of the league were acquired by Viacom18 Media for ₹951 crore for 134 matches—which translates to roughly ₹7.09 crore per match. While the men's broadcast rights for IPL stand at upwards of ₹48,000 crore for the next five years, WIPL roped in sponsors like Hero Vida, Tata Motors, Tata Capital, Bank of Baroda, MPL Striker, Mia by Tanishq, World Gold Council, H&M, JSW Paints, Noise and Apar Industries.

The sponsorship money, ticket sales and other commercial revenue opportunities add well for the teams, as the league's top player Smriti Mandhana was bought at ₹3.4 crore (28.3% of the total purse) by the Royal Challengers Bangalore (RCB). Biden to hold bilateral talks with PM Modi “While in New Delhi, the President will also commend Prime Minister Modi's leadership of the G20 and reaffirm the US commitment to the G20 as the premier forum of economic cooperation, including by hosting it in 2026,” it said. The G20 or Group of 20 is an intergovernmental forum of the world's major developed and developing economies. The members represent around 85% of the global GDP, over 75% of the global trade and about two-thirds of the world population. Biden will travel to Hanoi, Vietnam on September 10. “While in Hanoi, the President will meet with general secretary Nguyen Phu Trong and other key leaders to discuss ways to further deepen cooperation between the United States and Vietnam,” it said. “The leaders will explore opportunities to promote the growth of a technology-focused and innovation-driven Vietnamese economy, expand our people-to-people ties through education exchanges and workforce development programs, combat climate change, and increase peace, prosperity, and stability in the region,” said the White House.
