FE BUREAU
Ahmedabad, August 20

WITH OVER 300 new pharmaceutical plants likely to be commissioned in the next two years, Gujarat is all set to reclaim the top spot in national pharma production with a projected share of 40% in total output as compared to the existing 33%.

Commissioner of state food and drug control administration (FDCA) Hemant Koshia said, "The state FDCA has recently approved over 300 pharma plants. These projects are in various stages of implementation and some of them would be commissioned in the near future. Every week, we are receiving applications for 4 to 5 new plants. Looking at the scenario, Gujarat's share in the country's total pharmaceutical production would cross 40%."

Speaking on the sidelines of PharmaTech Expo organised at Ahmedabad, he said, "There was a time when Gujarat used to produce over 45% of drugs manufactured in the country. But, the problem began a decade back when some states offered tax exemption to woo investments, following which many firms migrated to such tax-free states."

"However, the table has now turned as the 10-year tax holiday offered by those states is coming to an end. Moreover,

GST has levelled the playing field as taxes are uniform in all states."

India's current pharma production is high as the pharma production in other countries, he even in export, the lion's share of

India's total pharma production stands at 3 billion and 300 million annually, approximately

"Out of the total pharma production of 1,400 are compliant. Of these, 1,000 are USFDA approved. In India, Gujarat has more than 1,000 pharma plants. At the point of Gujarat's drug failure, the share of Gujarat is 5%, the state's share is below 5% and much lower than other states."

Southern states like Andhra Pradesh and West Bengal are forming well-developed pharmaceutical and chemical parks. Gujarat has an edge in pharmaceuticals due to its infrastructure, skilled workforce, and a strong pharmaceutical system. USFDA has approved Gujarat as a pharma hub. Gujarat has decided to set up a pharma park in Gandhinagar.
