was agreed upon in COP26.

A number of parties rued the agreement leaving out the call for peaking of emissions before 2025 and the sions before 2025 and the weakening of language on the transition to green energy. "Emissions peaking before 2025 as the science tells us is necessary. Not in this text. Clear follow through on the phase down of coal. Not in this text. Clear commitments to phase put all fossil fuels. Not in this text. And the energy text weakened in the final minutes," the UR's lead climate negotiator Alos Sharma said at the closing plenary.

The Sharm-el-Sheikh Implementation Plan called upon 'parties to accelerate the development, deploy-ment and dissemination of technologies, do transition towards low-emission energy systechnologies, and adoption of policies, to transition towards low-emission energy systems, including by rapidly scaling up deployment of clean power generation and energy efficiency measures, including accelerating efforts towards phasedown of unabated coal power and phase out of inefficient fossil fuel subsidies, while providing targeted support to the powerstand most unherable. The plan reaffirmed the Paris Agreement goal of holding the increase in the global average temperature to well below 2 digree Celsius above pre-industrial levels, recognising that this would "significantly reduce the risks and impacts of climate change". Shrutisharma, Senior Policy Advisor, International Institute for Sustainable Development asid it is disappointing that COP27 did not build on the COP26 statement to deliver a stronger message on phaseout of fossilfuels. "COP26 asked parties to, among other things transition."

COP26 asked parties to, among other things, transition to low energy systems through the phasedown of unabased coal phase down. The hope at COP27, through India's proposal, was to include a phaseout of all fests it useds, including oad cil and gas.
