'Job Openings Rise in Tier-2 Locations, Dry up in Top Cities'

Prachi Verma
@timesgrgprachi

New Delhi: Even as the jobs are shrinking in major cities, tier-2 locations continue to add jobs. According to an Xplore study, active job contribution has decreased by 10% in mega cities in January 2023 compared to January 2022 while active job openings in tier-2 locations are up by 12% in the same period. In the month of January 2023, there were 12,500 active job postings in 30 tier-2 locations, according to the Xplore study that tracked job portals, LinkedIn and internal company job postings shared exclusively with ET.

The total active job postings in tier-2 locations are relatively small but growing at a faster pace than the metros, mostly led by startups, mid and small IT services companies. BFSI firms, health, and wellness.

"Enterprises on the talent hunt look for professionals with low frictions on onboard employment. On this front, tier-2 and tier-3 locations have become good catchment areas for tech and non-tech talent alike," Prasad M.S. head, Workforce Research & Analytics, Xplore, said.

Higher stickiness or lower attrition, diverse talent pool and lower costs are some of the reasons why companies are hiring from these locations.

"Just like the new normal times have enabled work from anywhere for employees, it has also encouraged employers to broaden their hiring circuit, without any location-based bias," said Manoj Shikarkhane.

Total active jobs in tier-2 cities are relatively small but growing at a faster pace than the metros.

CHRO, LTMindtree, LTMindtree has nearly 200 professionals as part of its global workforce. The pandemic has dissolved location constraints, said Shikarkhane.

Nasaq-led travel service provider, MakeMyTrip is expanding its pool of colleges and has started visiting and exploring diverse campuses going beyond metros.

"Organisations need to expand their reach to unexplored cities and cities to get the right talent. With the advanced hiring technologies and vast reach of tier 2 and 3 campuses in mini metros this effort has become relatively easier," said Vinyasa Srivastava, group chief human resources officer, MakeMyTrip.

Online hiring and interviewing are enabling companies including MakeMyTrip to reach and onboard candidates from different parts of the country. Airtel too is tapping into the talent pool in tier-2 and tier-3 cities.

"Hiring talent from tier-2 and tier-3 locations will help increase the regional diversity. In addition to offering a diverse range of career possibilities to the many bright young talents that are based there," said Anirban Choudhury, chief people officer, Bharti Airtel.

As Consumer Goods to Get Costlier as Firms Begin to Pass on Costs

Companies cite high inflation, depreciation of rupee; prices could go up by as much as 3-10%

Writankar Mukherjee

Kolkata | Mumbai: Prices of several consumer goods including packaged food and dairy products, liquor, electronic appliances like refrigerators and air-conditioners, imported apparel and personal care products are set to go up 3% over the next 12 months as companies are going to pass on the recent increase in certain input prices and the impact of rupee depreciation which is turning into costlier.

"The companies were largely absorbing these costs till now to avoid investment in demand."

However, chief executives said the proposed price hike will still be one of the lowest in the last two years when inflation shot up to record levels and rupee devalued at a higher pace, and hence they do not expect this will have any significant impact on consumption when overall inflation is softening. The industry has forecasted demand, including in rural markets, is likely to recover from April-June quarter.

Dabur India chief executive officer Mohit Malhotra told analysts earlier this month that the mix of inflation is changing with crude and herbs prices softening but that of the con-

Appliances dependent on imported components like air-conditioners, refrigerators and microwave ovens too will see hike with rupee trading at around ₹83 against the dollar while their earlier pricing benchmark was at ₹77-78.

Neeraj Bahl, managing director of BSH Household Appliances India that makes Bosch and Siemens appliances, said the company will increase prices by 3-5% from April. "It's a small price hike and we don't expect any impact on demand due to the early onset of summer," he said. "Inflation has been a bit of impact because of the dollar value and the market has accepted that pricing. We are seeing the global cost of raw materials getting a bit more settled as they were very volatile in the last 12 months. We have tried to absorb as much as we could within ourselves and not pass it on to the customer. But in certain cases there have been some price variations," said Abhishek Bajpai, CEO of Apparel Group India, that sells brands such as Aldo, Charles & Keith and Bath & Body Works.

'Xiaomi to Focus on 5G, Local Production to Regain Market'

ET Q&A

After a tough 2022, which saw Xiaomi India face government scrutiny and market share losses, the smartphone maker is now betting on a 40% leaner portfolio, with a focus on 5G and ramping up local manufacturing further to regain its lost share, said president Muralikrishnan B. Speaking to ET's Subrojit Mallick, Muralikrishnan admitted that the government scrutiny did impact the smartphone market, including employee morale, but stressed that Xiaomi has done no wrong and was in conformity with the law of the land.

Edited excerpts:
Q: You take these challenges you have faced in 2022
A: 2022 was tricky. In 2020-21, on the back of the pandemic, there was a lot of pent up demand which unfortunately could not get serviced because of chipset shortage. So, we were very bullish on 2022, with aggressive forecasts. But once the Omicron wave died down, that pent up demand just got sucked out. Somewhere, inflation started pinching the entry-level segment. The sub-10,000 segment, which used to be about 40% of the market, is now 35% or atad below that. And that's a strong forte for us. The mid-level segment between ₹10,000-20,000 was caught in the 4G/5G dilemma. People's need was around the corner. So, 5G networks still hadn't rolled out, and people thought as time goes by, 5G devices will get cheaper, so let me wait. The upgrade cycle's went up... earlier it would have been maybe around 18 months, now it has definitely gone to a little bit.

Q: How are you trying to address those in 2023?
A: I think we got our forecast wrong, to be very honest. We were stuck with inventory. And that created a lot of pressure because the value started to depreciate exponentially. And therefore, we had to keep an eye on our bottom line. But things in 2023 are going to be a lot more different. Think we launched too many products and our portfolio got confusing.

'Haifa Set to be Adani Ports' Biggest Revenue Generator Outside India'

Anirban choudhury
@timesgrpanirban

Mumbai: Israel's strategic Haifa port will be Adani Ports & Seas' (APSEZ) biggest revenue generator outside India, a senior executive told ET.

India's biggest port operator won the tender for privatising the port at $2.15 billion. The company took it over in January. It won the bid in a 70-30 consortium with an Israeli chemical company Gadrat Group.

Haifa is the second largest port and one of three major ports in Israel. Apart from operating container cargo it's the biggest bulk for tourist cruises in the region. Over the years Haifa has become increasingly critical for Israel, as its strategic political relations with the Gulf which has led to harbour ambitious trade ties with them. "Strategically it is very well located. It is the eastern-most harbour in the Mediterranean. Everyone wants to do economic activity there. There are future plans to connect the Middle East to the Mediterranean an starting at UAE and concluding at Haifa via routes to which will connect Saudi Arabia & Jordan on the rail corridor," said the APSEZ executive.

Haifa port also is strategically located for transhipment of cargo through the Mediterranean sea through the UAE to the ports in Europe.

route route to the current existing more expensive one that goes via the Suez Canal. "Right now every ship sailing through the Mediterranean has to pass through the Suez canal. Prices keep going up. So when the port is modernized and the railway connectivity is developed, it will reduce transit time and make an alternate route to Jordan, Saudi Arabia and UAE and to Europe," he added.

Pranmit Pal Chaudhury, head of India practice at the Eurasia Group said the alternate route and operations would increase efficiency of transportation by 60%.

Just outside cargo railway lines are being planned connecting UAE to Israel to Jordan and potentially Saudi Arabia. Haifa would be integrated into the just-in-time network.

WE ARE SEEING THE GLOBAL COST OF RAW MATERIALS GETTING A BIT MORE SETTLED AS THEY WERE VERY VOLATILE IN THE LAST 12 MONTHS. GOVT BEGINS PROCESS TO EXPAND NATIONAL LIST OF ESSENTIAL MEDICINES

Essential Drugs List to Soon Include Hygiene Items

Move aimed at ensuring adequate availability of the products in the health system

Teena.Thacker
@timesgrpteena

New Delhi: The government has initiated the process to finalise a list of commonly used hygiene products like adult diapers, sanitary napkins, door disinfectants, soaps which it plans to put under the National List of Essential Medicines (NLEM).

The government had in 2019 decided to widen the basket of NLEM by including hygiene products according to how essential they are for health-care. The sub-committee will identify consumables, hygiene products and will send the list to another committee. "Products like sanitary napkins, adult diapers have to be on the list. Experts will deliberate on various aspects of hygiene products that should be available within the healthcare system at all times. "We have to decide what kind of soap to put under the hygiene category, whether it should be liquid, medicated. What type of liquid, simple, powdered, lubricated. What is included in the list, said a committee member.

The government had in September last year included disinfectants, anti-diabetic drugs and patent anti-virals used in the treatment of percolosis.
