PNGRB Wants Petroleum Product Pipelines Too Within Its Ambit

Move to help determine tariff, facilitate non-discriminatory third-party access to oil PSU assets

Sanjeev Choudhary @timesgroup.com

New Delhi: The Petroleum and Natural Gas Regulatory Board (PNGRB) has undertaken a vital exercise to bring all petroleum product pipelines under its ambit, which will help determine their tariff and facilitate non-discriminatory third-party access to public sector oil companies' pipelines.

Access to state-run companies' product pipelines can dramatically increase private fuel retailers' ability to serve new markets across the country, increasing competition in the fuel business and benefitting end consumers, people familiar with the matter said.

The PNGRB Act of 2006 covers all petroleum and natural gas pipelines, but the focus so far has been only on gas pipelines. The regulator is now trying to enforce the law on petroleum products pipelines as well. In a letter earlier this month to Indian Oil, HPCL, and BPCL, the regulator sought details of all their operational as well as under-construction petroleum product pipelines.

pleasure at public sector companies' practice of bypassing the regulator for laying pipelines.

"Obtaining Right of User notification through ministry of petroleum & natural gas shall not fulfil the requirement of authorisation from PNGRB for laying of the pipeline," it said. "Laying of any cross-country pipeline without PNGRB's authorisation... shall attract penal provisions."

Non-discriminatory third-party access can be ensured only after the regulator has information on all pipelines and their tariff is determined, people familiar with the matter said. Pipelines with no spare capacity may not be forced to offer third-party access but those with spare capacity will be, they said.

Railways to Start GPS Tagging of 300,000 Wagons

Twesh Mishra@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: The Indian Railways is set to initiate Global Positioning System (GPS) tracking of each of its nearly 300,000 wagons under a plan to prevent pilferages on the national transporter.

As part of the Wagon GPS (WGPS) Project, the Centre for Railway Information Systems (CRIS) has invited expressions of interest for participating in knowledge gathering exercise for the determination of location on-run of the freight wagons of Indian Railways using Satellite Navigation System.

Officials said instances of "missing wagons" and theft of goods from open wagons have been a long-standing concern of the railways. This leads to disputes with entities that use the railways network for freight transport. Even when goods trains cross the Indian borders, there have been cases where their return to the country is delayed.

While instances of wagons going missing are rare, considering the volume of goods movement on the railways, they have been significant enough to raise concerns. In August, ET had reported one such instance where 8,000 tonnes of coal rejects from Jharkhand ended up in MP. In July 2018, it was reported that the railways delivered a fertiliser-loaded wagon booked in Visakhapatnam for delivery in Basti in four years. This consignment was part of a 21-wagon rake. While 20 wagons reached, one was presumed "lost".

"WGPS Project has been sanctioned for pinpointing the exact location of freight wagons on the run, in operation for better transportation and operational planning, including gaining insights into freight movement for planning of future operations," a senior railways ministry official told ET on condition of anonymity.

SOCIAL PROGRESS INDEX

Puducherry, Lakshadweep and Goa Top Performers

Our Bureau

New Delhi: Puducherry, Lakshadweep, and Goa have emerged as top three performers among all states and union territories in India in the Social Progress Index while Jharkhand and Bihar stood at the bottom of the index, according to a report mandated by the Economic Advisory Council to the Prime Minister (EAC-PM).

As per the report, prepared by the Institute for Competitiveness and the Social Progress Imperative, Ai-

Progress Report

EAC-PM releases Social Progress Index. Jharkhand, Bihar worst performers

Parameters: Basic human needs, foundations of well-being & opportunity

89 indicators for states and 49 for districts

zawl in Mizoram, Solan in Himachal Pradesh and Shimla in Himachal Pradesh have emerged as the top three best-performing districts.

The report has not made a distinction between states and UTs while assessing their performance and has classified even UTs as states.

SPI has assessed the performance of states and districts on three dimensions of social progress, namely basic human needs, foundations of well being and opportunity. The ranking of states and districts is based on 12 components across three critical dimensions with 89 indicators at the state level and 49 at the district level. SPI is a comprehensive tool intended to be a holistic measure of the social progress made at the national and sub-national levels. Understanding that the social progress of citizens is key to sustaining economic growth in the long run, the index complements the conventional measures of economic growth and development, EAC-PM said. As per the report, Puducherry has the highest SPI score of 65.99 on the remarkable performance across components like personal freedom and choice, shelter, and water and sanitation.

CAG Asks Customs Dept to Ensure Periodic Audit of SEZs

Our Bureau

New Delhi: The Comptroller and Auditor General (CAG) has asked the customs department to ensure periodic audits of Special Economic Zones (SEZs) are conducted.

It also asked the customs department to ramp up its IT systems to track, monitor submission and renewal of solvency certificates, duty bond and bank guarantee, and risk insurance policy.

In a report tabled in Parliament on Tuesday, the CAG pointed out several shortcomings in the current digital record keeping framework for customs bonded warehouses and said the warehouses are not maintaining the records in prescribed electronic formats.

It said if details of the goods removed from warehouses are not maintained properly, the reconciliation and monitoring of monthly returns would become difficult. "Therefore, the department is not in a position to ensure whether the correct duty and interest are paid or the correct bond and bank guarantee are available through record have a control," said the report. The CAG has suggested that digital record keeping controls be tightened and streamlined.

The CAG said the finance ministry must ensure that a mechanism for internal audit and inspection of customs bonded warehouses is implemented immediately.

Fitch Affirms India at BBB-, Outlook Stable

Our Bureau

New Delhi: Fitch Ratings Tuesday affirmed India's sovereign credit rating at 'BBB-' with stable outlook, saying the country's rating reflected strengths from a robust growth outlook and resilient external finances that have supported it in navigating the large external shocks in the past year.

Fitch expects the government to push ahead with fiscal consolidation and forecast FY24 deficit target to be set at 6.0% of GDP in the upcoming budget. It expects a modest fiscal slippage in FY23 with a deficit of 6.6% of GDP (including disinvestment) relative to the 6.4% budget target due to higher food and fertiliser subsidies, but revenue growth and expenditure switching will contain the measures' fiscal toll while allowing capital spending to remain a priority.

The general government deficit has receded from its pandemic high of 13.5% of GDP (excluding disinvestment) but is forecast to remain large compared to peers. The rating agency expects the country's deficit to gradually decline to 9.2% of GDP in FY24 and 8.7% in FY25 on the back of continued declines in central government deficits.

"We forecast the central government to set a 6.0% of GDP deficit target in its upcoming budget and to retain its 4.5% FY26 target, though we believe this may be difficult to achieve," it said, adding fiscal pressures could arise from upcoming national elections in May 2024, but the incumbent government's dominant political position likely limits these risks.

Fitch had in June upgraded the outlook to stable from negative while keeping the rating unchanged. Fitch forecast FY23 growth at 7.0% on sustained consumption and investment recoveries. "India is somewhat insulated from the gloomy global outlook in 2023, given its modest reliance on external demand," it said.
