Afghanistan: A Year Later, US Relies On Drones To Battle Extremist Groups

WASHINGTON (AGENCY)

One year after US forces retreated from Afghanistan, Washington now counts only on its drones to continue the fight against the Islamic extremist groups that drew it to invade the country 21 years ago...

General Joseph Votel said the US does have the capability to pressure Qaeda and Islamic State from outside Afghanistan.

approach can prevent the jihadists from reestablishing Afghanistan as a base from which to carry out attacks around the globe, as Al-Qaeda did up to 2001. For retired general Frank McKenzie, who as commander of the US Central Command oversaw the operations in Afghanistan through last year's pullout, the presence of Zawahiri in Taliban-controlled Kabul illustrates how hard it is to fight the Islamic extremists without a US presence on the ground there. 'I've said publicly in testimony that counterterrorism operations from over the horizon in Afghanistan would be very hard but not impossible,' McKenzie told the BBC in a recent interview. 'We are going to have to continue to apply pressure, and that's going to be very difficult,' he said. Not long after withdrawal McKenzie's predecessor at Central Command, retired

Liz Truss Defeated Rishi Sunak By This Margin

LONDON (AGENCY)

UK foreign secretary Liz Truss defeated Indian-origin former chancellor Rishi Sunak to be named the winner of the Conservative Party leadership contest on Monday and will now go on to formally take charge as British Prime Minister as Boris Johnson's successor. The 47-year-old senior Cabinet minister was widely expected to clinch the job after a first round of 160,000 online and postal votes cast by Tory members, ending Sunak's historic run as the first member of Parliament of Indian heritage to compete for the top job at 10 Downing Street.

Truss won 81,326 votes compared to Sunak's share of 60,399 votes. However, for pollsters, political analysts and media outlets it came as little surprise as Sunak was widely expected to be more divided

Truss' campaign pledge to reverse Sunak's tax hike plans while he was Chancellor to tackle the cost-of-living crisis, facing the outgoing Prime Minister Johnson, whom they see as being betrayed by former ally Sunak, had Truss' pledge to cut taxes among the key factors among the Conservative Party's power base. Conservative backbench MPs, Sir Graham Brady at the Queen Elizabeth II Centre near Downing Street, he said

Briefs News 1 Dead, 9 Missing In US Plane Crash, Rescue Op On

WASHINGTON (AGENCY)

One person was killed and rescue crews were searching for nine others after a small plane crashed along the coast of the US state of Washington on Sunday, the coast guard said. The Coast Guard said it received a report of the crash around 3:11 pm (22:11 GMT) and dispatched helicopters and boats to scour the area. Local search and rescue officials were on the scene, adding that no cause for the crash had yet been determined. The plane crashed while on its way to Renton Municipal Airport near Seattle. Flight tracking website Flight Radar 24 said it was monitoring reports of the crash, and that it had received the last signal from a 55-year-old de Havilland Canada DHC-3 Otter, a single-engine propeller plane, in the area at 3:08 pm local time at 100 feet (30.5 meters) above altitude. Initially, the Coast Guard's Pacific Northwest division received that eight adults and one child were on board. It later tweeted an update that they were searching for 10 passengers.

Pakistan Struggles To Avert Danger As Floods Rise, Death Count Crosses 1,300

ISLAMABAD (AGENCY)

Pakistan's authorities are struggling to prevent the country's biggest lake bursting its banks and inundating nearby towns after unprecedented flooding, which the disaster management agency on Monday raised its count of flood deaths by another 24. Record monsoon rains and melting glaciers in Pakistan's northern mountains have brought floods that have affected 33 million people and killed at least 1,314, including 450 children, Pakistan's National Disaster Management Agency said. The floods have followed record-breaking summer temperatures and the government and the United Nations have both warned of a potential climate change for the extreme weather and the devastation it has brought. Authorities on Sunday breached Pakistan's largest freshwater lake, displacing up to 100,000 people from their homes in the hope of draining enough water to stop the lake bursting its banks and swamping more densely populated areas. But water levels in the lake, on the west of the Indus river in the southern province of Sindh, remain dangerously high. 'The water level at Manchar lake has not come down,' Jam Khan Shori, the provincial minister for irrigation told Reuters. He declined to say if another attempt to drain water from the lake would be made. The floods are a huge burden for an economy already needing help from the International Monetary Fund.

'Zero Tolerance': Pope Francis On Sexual Assault By Members Of The Clergy

LISBON, PORTUGAL (AGENCY)

The Catholic Church must show 'zero tolerance' to sexual assault by members of the clergy, Pope Francis said in excerpts of an interview with a Portuguese television channel broadcast Sunday. 'It's very clear: It's zero tolerance,' he told TV GNN Portugal in an interview, extracts of which were published on the channel's website. 'A priest cannot continue being a priest if he is an aggressor. He cannot because he is either sick or a criminal,' he said. 'It's monstrous because it destroys lives,' he added, during the two-part interview to be aired on Sunday and Monday. An independent inquiry into sexual abuse within the Catholic Church in Portugal has so far gathered testimony from around 400 people, said the man leading the inquiry, child psychiatrist Pedro Stehly. As a result, 17 cases have been referred to the judiciary. 'The findings of the inquiry are expected at the end of the year. I do not deny abuses,' said the pope. 'A single abuse would already be monstrous.' He said he had to visit Portugal in August next year for World Youth Day, a gathering of young Catholics.

China Accuses US Of 'Tens Of Thousands' Of Cyberattacks

BEIJING (AGENCY)

Beijing on Monday accused the United States of launching 'tens of thousands' of cyberattacks on China and interfering in its election process, including from a public research university. Washington has accused Beijing of cyberattacks against US businesses and the university is funded by China's Ministry of Industry and Information Technology, and specialises in aeronautical and space research. CVERC alleged that TAO infiltrated the university's networks and took control of tens of thousands of network devices including servers, routers and network switches. Using dozens of cyber weapons and exploiting previously unknown flaws in the SunOS operating system, the unit gained access to 'core technical data' including passwords and the operations of key network devices, the report said.

TAO has 'stolen over 140 gigabytes of high-value data in recent years and has infiltrated networks from groups in Europe and South Asia, CVERC said in the report, which was co-authored by the private Chinese cybersecurity firm Qihoo 360. The report also said that the foreign ministry condemned the alleged hack, saying it seriously endangered China's national security and users' personal data security. 'We ask the US to provide an explanation and urge them to stop immediately this illegal move,' Mao Ning, a spokeswoman for the foreign ministry, said at a regular press conference.

Bed Bath & Beyond CFO Gustavo Arnal Jumps To Death, Days After Announcing Job Cuts

WASHINGTON (AGENCY)

The Chief Financial Officer (CFO) of Bed Bath & Beyond jumped to his death from a high-rise in Manhattan, according to the police. Gustavo Arnal jumped from the 18th floor of a 'teng' tower, the police said. Arnal, 50, was a long-time employee of the company. He had joined Bed Bath & Beyond in 2020. He previously worked at the parent company, which had a 20-year stint with Procter & Gamble, news agency Reuters reported. The tower from where Arnal jumped is best known for its purportedly misaligned elevator. The police department (NYPD) told CNN that the 52-year-old

'was found unconscious and unresponsive' outside the skyscraper at 12:30pm on Tuesday.

'They added that the man 'appeared to suffer from injuries indicative from a fall from an elevated position'. The personnel of the emergency services, who reached the site, pronounced the man dead, the outlet further said in its report quoting the police.
