ZEN TECHNOLOGIES LIMITED SECURES ORDER OF ~ ₹93 CR FOR TACTICAL TRAINING SIMULATORS

Zen Technologies Limited, secures an order of ~ ₹93 Cr (inclusive of 18% GST) from Ministry of Defence, Govt of India. This is yet another order in the space of Tactical Training.

Commenting on the win Mr Ashok Atluri, CMD remarked "The focus on training has historically been on technical training comprising of virtual simulators and live range equipment. Such training, while useful isn't holistic and doesn't take into account the ingenuity of an adversary. Practicing one way and without an opponent would be just breaking wooden boards without fighting an actual adversary (as Bruce Lee, in the movie Enter the Dragon, famously said "Boards don't hit back". <https://youtu.be/3zRsgsUWYks>). Now the inclusion of tactical, force-on-force training simulators in their training augurs well for the armed forces and makes them combat ready at the highest level. This order further confirms a well-balanced approach by the armed forces to both technical and tactical training."
