kids to indulge in criminal activities.

Many intellectuals observed the number of injecting drug users (IDUs) has gone up considerably. This is a matter of concern because drug addicts often take injections in groups. This may lead to HIV infection, as multiple users use the same needle. Addiction also leads to various forms of illness like depression, apathy, withdrawal, personality disorders, short-term memory loss and violent mood alterations, they observed.

Consequently, they end up committing petty crimes and more often than not get arrested, or dealt with by the juvenile justice system in the case of minors.

Senior residents of the town observed that the retailers do not hesitate to sell such products to minors. They pointed out that the police and district administration should be proactive to prevent such sale.

When contacted, Angul child protection officer (CPO) Gouri Shankar Behera said, "We have been conducting awareness programmes from time to time for nomadic minor children in the slums. Town police will be requested to carry out raids at different retail outlets soon."

Among the various problems that plague the village is absence of a proper road, mobile network, lack of a school, proper electrification and drinking water facilities. The villagers narrated that in the absence of roads, they are forced to carry pregnant women and sick persons in makeshift stretchers to hospitals. They informed that sometimes the patients die en route to hospital.

Village seniors also informed the lawmakers that even though many kids in the village want to want a 15-point charter of demands for the release of the hostages. Among the demands were the halting of anti-Naxal operations and withdrawal of cases against tribals lodged in jails 'in the name of Maoists'.

Since then Gadapakali village has taken the appearance of a haunted place with officials shunning the locality due to the fear of Maoists. So the visit by the MLA and BDO will certainly give new hope to the tribals.
