'One sun, one world': Modi calls for global solar grid at COP26

HTC and Agencies
letters@hindustantimes.com

GLASGOW: Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday launched the Green Grids Initiative—One Sun One World One Grid (GGI-OSOWOG), the first international network of global interconnected solar power grids, jointly with his UK counterpart Boris Johnson, at COP26.

Using the vision of One Sun One World One Grid through interconnected green grids can be transformational, enabling all of us to meet the targets of the Paris Agreement to prevent dangerous climate change...these efforts can stimulate green investments and create millions of good jobs. The declaration has been endorsed by 80 International Solar Alliance (ISA) member countries.

PM Narendra Modi with his British counterpart Boris Johnson and Australia's PM Scott Morrison in Glasgow on Tuesday. REUTERS was put forth by him at the First Assembly of the ISA in 2018.

Modi expressed hope that a common and strong global grid can be developed through cooperation between countries on this initiative. "I am hopeful that a common and strong global grid can be developed through cooperation between 'One Sun, One World & One Grid' and 'Green Grid' initiatives."

He said, "Indian space agency, Isro, will provide a solar calculator application to the world."

The GGI-OSOWOG will bring together a global coalition of governments, financial and technical organisations, power system operators and knowledge leaders to accelerate the construction of the new infrastructure needed for a world powered by clean energy, as per the ISA.

"One Sun, One World & One Grid will not only reduce storage needs but also enhance the viability of solar projects. This initiative will not only reduce carbon footprints and energy cost but also open a new avenue for cooperation between different countries and regions," PM Modi said, while delivering his remarks at the 'Accelerating Clean Technology Innovation and Deployment' event at COP26.

Modi and Johnson on Tuesday also released the One Sun declaration, which stated, "Real-clean and sustainable. Challenge is that this energy is only available during the daytime and is dependent on the weather. "Solar energy is totally and energy cost but also open a new avenue for cooperation between different countries and regions," PM Modi said, while delivering his remarks at the 'Accelerating Clean Technology Innovation and Deployment' event at COP26.

PM: SMALL ISLAND NATIONS MOST VULNERABLE TO CLIMATE CRISIS

Press Trust of India
letters@hindustantimes.com

GLASGOW: Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday launched the Initiative for the Resilient Island States (IRIS) for developing infrastructure of small island nations, saying it gives a new hope, a new confidence and satisfaction of doing something for the most vulnerable countries.

The launch was also attended by Australian Prime Minister Scott Morrison and UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres. "The launch of 'Infrastructure for Resilient Island States' gives a new hope, a new confidence," Modi said, adding that the initiative gives the satisfaction of doing something for the most vulnerable countries.

Modi congratulated the Coalition for Disaster Resilient Infrastructure (CDRI) and said for him CDRI or IRIS is not just about infrastructure but it is part of a very sensitive responsibility of human welfare. "It is the collective responsibility of all of us towards mankind," he said. "It is, in a way, a shared atonement for our sins."

"The last few decades have proved that no one is untouched by the wrath of climate change. Whether they are developed countries or countries rich in natural resources, this is a big threat to everyone," Modi said.

Stating that the Small Island Developing States (SIDS) face the biggest threat from climate change, Modi said India's space agency, Isro, will build a special data window for them to provide them timely information about cyclones, coral-reef monitoring, coast-line monitoring etc. through satellite.

Experts praise India's 'bold' net zero pledge

letters@hindustantimes.com

NEW DELHI: What does India's announcement of transitioning to net zero emissions by 2070 mean? After all, it isn't easy for an emerging economy with extremely low per capita emissions (and low per capita incomes), to declare its intent to decarbonise, however gradual the process may be.

And what does this deadline mean for when the country's emissions peak and then decline—especially those of major emitters like the United States and China—is critically important in determining whether the most dangerous climate impacts can be avoided.

And how significant is India's announcement? In the wake of India's announcements—enhancing its non-fossil fuel power capacity to 500 gigawatts (GW) by the end of the decade, up from 450 GW; getting half of its energy from renewable sources by 2030; reducing carbon dioxide emissions per unit of gross domestic product by 45%; and cutting carbon dioxide emissions by 1 billion tonnes from the business-as-usual scenario by 2030—HT spoke to experts on the ramifications.

Vaibhav Chaturvedi, Fellow, CEEW

India's pledge is very significant. This is an unprecedented bold announcement from the PM. This is more ambitious than either the EU and Chinese announcements. For an economy that is expected to grow fast for the next two decades, even peaking in the next 20 years, is not an easy feat.

Realistically speaking India should peak by 2040-2045. So, there will be a lot of growth in the near term. We are trying to clarify with the government if it's talking about meeting 50% of India's energy requirements from renewable energy by 2030. It's not possible. Then you are referring to all sectors. I think they are referring to 50% installed capacity for electricity from renewable energy.

This announcement will shake

A protester outside the venue of COP26 in Glasgow. AFP

Indian and global energy markets and give a sense of much needed long-term certainty to the investors in the energy domain. The enhanced ambition of 2030 targets make the net-zero announcement even more credible. The PM has stamped India's leadership in the climate discourse. Any ambitious target would have its share of challenges. The biggest near-term challenge is in electricity market design and distribution sector reforms. For the longer term, it would be managing the human resources in the coal sector. Skilled human resources for the new shape of energy markets would be critical. So, challenges galore, but strategic planning would help.

Professor Lord Stern of Brentford, Chair of the Grantham Research Institute on Climate Change and the Environment at the London School of Economics and Political Science

This was a very significant moment for the summit, with PM Modi pledging stronger action on climate change, with five new targets. Together this might mean India's annual emissions of greenhouse gases could peak by 2030. This demonstrates real leadership, based on a track record of action and ambitious targets, that can deliver on both economic development and climate change, from a country whose emissions per capita are about one-third of the global average. The rich world must respond to Modi's challenge to deliver a strong increase in international climate finance.

Sandeep Pai, research lead at Center for Strategic and International Studies

India's net zero pledge is bold. For a developing country that has not even carbonised to talk about decarbonisation is ambitious and sets the targets clearly. However, devil will be in the details or in other words what would be the exact plans to achieve this target. In the absence of these plans, this pledge will not mean much. By when India will have to peak to meet the pledge will really depend on the sectoral pathway the country will follow. India's 2030 targets are achievable but not easy. From DISCOM reforms, raising finance for deployment of renewables, managing land issues, to aligning centre-state climate policies will be key to whether India will be able to meet its 2030 targets.

Sunita Narain, director general of Centre for Science and Environment

Our analysis shows that India's pledge at Glasgow is achievable. If we just look at Central Electricity Authority's projections, it shows we are on track. India's power requirement in 2030 is projected to be 2518 BU and if we target to meet 50% of requirements from renewables, the installed capacity will have to increase from the planned 450 GW to 700 GW. If we consider hydroelectricity as part of renewables, then we will need to increase new renewable capacity to 630 GW. This is achievable.

Apurba Mitra, Chirag Gajjar and Ulka Kelkar, experts at World Resources Institute

If today's announcement refers to net-zero greenhouse gas emissions, it would be very ambitious and more than India's fair contribution to global efforts to stay within 1.5 degrees Celsius of warming. It would require countering emissions from agriculture and land use, not just emissions from energy and industrial processes.

Modi, Boris vow to rein in extremism

HT Correspondent
letters@hindustantimes.com

GLASGOW: Prime Minister Narendra Modi and his British counterpart discussed issues pertaining to counter-terrorism and the need to rein in extremist activities by certain fringe separatist outfits, during the "short" bilateral exchange on the margins of the COP26 climate summit here.

Addressing the media after day one of the World Leaders' Summit of the 26th Conference of Parties (COP26) at the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC) on Monday night, foreign secretary

PM (Boris) Johnson felt fully that some of these groups need to be reined in

HARSH SHRINGLA, Foreign secretary

Harsh Vardhan Shringla said, "The meeting was short, but it did allow short exchanges on concerns that both our countries have on increasing radicalism." Shringla was responding to a question on whether anti-Indian activities by separatist groups that organise pro-Khalistani activities in the United Kingdom was among the issues discussed.

"...The extremism that we are seeing in certain fringe groups seems to be speaking out on issues that they have no legitimate right to do so... But nonetheless, it's causing a certain level of disequilibrium and concern in both our countries."

"Prime Minister Johnson felt fully that some of these groups need to be reined in and that clearly, steps have to be taken to see how such activity, which under no means is democratic or constitutional, could be addressed," Shringla added.

When asked if the extradition of high-profile fugitives such as Vijay Mallya and Nirav Modi, wanted on charges of fraud and money laundering, was discussed, Shringla said it was not specifically discussed at length.

"The issue of extradition is important and the two PMs agreed that the specifics of this issue will be discussed between our NSAs who are going to meet in London on Nov 3. They would go into detail of consular, security and other aspects of the UK-India relationship," he said.

उपचुनाव के परिणाम विपक्ष की हौसला अफजाई करने वाले भावी राजनीति की जमीन तैयार करेंगे चुनावी नतीजे

नई दिल्ली | मदन जैड़ा

देश के 13 राज्यों एवं केंद्र शासित प्रदेशों में हुए उपचुनावों के नतीजे मिश्रित रहे हैं। यदि हिमाचल प्रदेश को छोड़ दिया जाए तो सभी राज्यों में सत्तारूढ़ दलों का प्रदर्शन बेहतर रहा है। बावजूद राजनीतिक जानकारों का मानना है कि कई राज्यों में यह नतीजे भावी राजनीति को प्रभावित कर सकते हैं। खासकर जिन राज्यों में निकट भविष्य में चुनाव होने वाले हैं। पर कई राज्यों में उपचुनावों के नतीजे स्वभाविक नजर आते हैं जिनका भावी राजनीति पर तत्काल कोई असर होने की संभावना नहीं है।

उपचुनावों को लेकर ज्यादा चौंकाने वाले नतीजे हिमाचल के हैं। वहां अगले वर्ष चुनाव होने हैं। विधानसभा की तीन और लोकसभा की एक सीट को कांग्रेस जीतने में सफल रही है। उसने लोकसभा व विधानसभा को एक-एक सीट भाजपा से छीनी है। जबकि राज्य में भाजपा की सरकार है। आमतौर पर जिस दल की सरकार राज्य में होती है, उसे ऐसी पराजय का सामना नहीं करना पड़ता है। इसलिए हिमाचल की हार-जीत को आगामी चुनावों से जोड़कर देखा जाने लगा है। पर चुनाव में अभी वक्त है और भाजपा के पास रणनीति को नए सिरे से निर्धारित करने का पर्याप्त वक्त है। राजस्थान में

पटना में मंगलवार को उपचुनाव में मिली जीत के बाद जश्न मनाते जदयू कार्यकर्ता।

बिहार में दोनों सीटों पर जदयू का कब्जा, राजद को मायूसी
बिहार में दोनों सीटों पर जदयू के पुनः काबिज होने से राजद को मायूसी हुई है लेकिन राजद के राष्ट्रीय प्रवक्ता सुबोध कुमार का कहना है कि दोनों सीटों पर राजद ने पहले से बेहतर प्रदर्शन किया है। यदि उप चुनाव के नतीजों को समग्रता में देखें तो यह भाजपा के पक्ष में कर्तई नहीं है। लोकसभा सीटों के उपचुनाव में भाजपा के लिए झटका जरूर है। क्योंकि वह दो में से एक सीट ही बचा पाई। खंडवा में भाजपा जीती है लेकिन हिमाचल में हार गई। जबकि दादर एवं नागर हवेली में शिवसेना ने पहली बार सीट जीती है।

दोनों सीटें कांग्रेस ने जीती है जिनमें से एक सीट भाजपा से छीनी है। राजस्थान में गहलोत सरकार के कामकाज को लेकर पार्टी में ही सवाल उठे हैं, बावजूद इस जीत से यही माना जाएगा कि जनता में सरकार का विरोध अभी इस कदर नहीं बढ़ा है। इन नतीजों के बाद भाजपा को भी नए सिरे से गहलोत सरकार की घेराबंदी के लिए रणनीति बनानी होगी। बंगाल में तृणमूल का चारों सीटें जीतना और असम में पांच सीटों पर भाजपा और

उसके सहयोगियों का काबिज होना स्वभाविक है। इससे साबित होता है इन राज्यों में दोनों दलों ने वोटों पर पकड़ मजबूत की हुई है। भाजपा ने मध्य प्रदेश में तीन में से दो सीटें जीती हैं। उसकी एक सीट बढ़ी है। लोकसभा की सीट को भी कायम रखने में सफलता मिली है। कर्नाटक में दो सीटों पर उपचुनाव में भाजपा हालांकि हंगल सीट को कांग्रेस से हार गई पर उसने जेडीएस से सिद्धी सीट जीत ली।

कांग्रेस को कई राज्यों में दिखी उम्मीद की किरण

नई दिल्ली। पांच राज्यों के विधानसभा चुनाव से ठीक पहले हुए उपचुनाव के परिणाम से कांग्रेस उत्साहित है। पार्टी को हिमाचल, राजस्थान, कर्नाटक और मध्य प्रदेश में उम्मीद की किरण दिखाई दी है। क्योंकि उपचुनाव में कई सीटें ऐसी थी, जहां कांग्रेस और भाजपा का सीधा मुकाबला था।

वहीं लोकसभा की तीन सीट पर उपचुनाव में भी विपक्ष सरकार पर भारी पड़ा है। हिमाचल में क्वीन स्वीप व राजस्थान की दोनों सीट पर जीत को पार्टी

अहम मान रही है। हिमाचल में अगले वर्ष चुनाव है। वहीं राजस्थान में 2023 में चुनाव है। कर्नाटक में मुख्यमंत्री बोम्मई के गढ़ में हनागल सीट पर कांग्रेस की जीत से साफ है कि भाजपा के लिए इस दक्षिणी राज्य को बचाए रखना आसान नहीं है। कांग्रेस के एक नेता ने कहा कि हिमाचल में लोग बदलाव चाहते हैं। पर पार्टी को उनके भरोसे पर खरा उतरना होगा। प्रदेश नेताओं को कलह को दरकिनार कर अभी से चुनावी तैयारियों में जुटना होगा। (वि.सं.)

जनता का रुख बदल रहा : सुरजेवाला

नई दिल्ली। विधानसभा और लोकसभा उपचुनावों के परिणाम को कांग्रेस ने बदलाव का संकेत करार दिया है। पार्टी का कहना है जनता का रुख बदल रहा है। भाजपा की उल्टी गिनती शुरू हो चुकी है। इसलिए, केंद्र को हट त्यागते हुए कृषि कानून वापस ले लेने चाहिए। पार्टी प्रवक्ता रणदीप सुरजेवाला ने कहा कि लोकसभा उपचुनावों में भाजपा तीन में से दो सीट हार गई। विधानसभा चुनाव में जहां कांग्रेस-भाजपा की सीधी टक्कर है, भाजपा हारी है। हिमाचल, राजस्थान, कर्नाटक और महाराष्ट्र उपचुनाव इसका सबूत है। (वि.सं.)

किसने क्या कहा

लोकसभा और विधानसभा के लिए हुए उपचुनावों में कई प्रदेशों में पार्टी को मिली सफलता कांग्रेस के हर कार्यकर्ताओं की जीत है। नफरत के खिलाफ लड़ते रहो। डरो मत! - राहुल गांधी, कांग्रेस नेता

लोकसभा व विधानसभा उपचुनावों में भाजपा और एनडीए को मिली जीत के लिए कार्यकर्ताओं का अभिनंदन और जनता का आभार व्यक्त करता हूँ। - जेपी नड्डा भाजपा अध्यक्ष

लाजु प्रसाद और तेजस्वी यादव सिर्फ जाति विशेष को टिकट देकर उन्हें बरगला नहीं सकते हैं। अब तो समझ में आ गया होगा कि जाति विशेष किसके साथ है। - जीवन राम मांझी, पूर्व मुख्यमंत्री, बिहार

कांग्रेस अध्यक्ष सोनिया गांधी जी के नेतृत्व में कांग्रेस पार्टी की नीतियों, कार्यक्रमों एवं राज्य सरकार के सुशासन पर जनता ने मोहर लगाई है। - अशोक गहलोत, मुख्यमंत्री, राजस्थान
