LA County breaks heat record with 49° Celsius

AGENCIES / Los Angeles

Amid a dangerous heatwave in western US, the temperature in Woodland Hills hit a record 49.44 degrees Celsius, the highest ever recorded in Los Angeles County.

"Today was a historic day climatologically speaking, Xinhua news agency quoted the National Weather Service Los Angeles as saying in a Facebook post on Sunday.

It said the temperature recorded in Woodland Hills broke the previous record of 48.33 degrees Celsius on July 22, 2006.

The National Weather Service said Sunday was 'one of the hottest days since weather records began across much of Southwest ern California".

Record or near-record temperatures were verified for a second day in a row on Sunday across the region.

The same is true for Paso Robles where today's high of 47.22 degrees Celsius was the highest all-time temperature ever recorded at an official site in San Luis Obispo

It urged California resi dents that extreme heat will significantly increase the risk for heat-related illnesses, and could become deadly, particularly for those work ing or participating in outdoor activities, as well as the

It also warned there will be an increased threat of large fires and power outages.

Shaver Lake ing Rescuers in military helicopters airlifted 207 people to safety over the weekend after an explosive wildfire trapped them in a popular camping area in California's Sierra National Forest, one of dozens of fires burning amid record-breaking temperatures that strained the state's electrical grid and for a time threatened power outages for millions.

At least two people were severely injured and 10 more suffered moderate iniuries. Two campers refused rescue and stayed behind, the Madera County Sheriff's Office said, and there was no immediate word on their fates. A photo tweeted by the California National Guard showed more than 20 evacuees packed tightly inside one helicopter, some crouched on the floor clutching their belongings.

The California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection, or Cal Fire, said the latter blaze, called the El Dorado Fire, started Sat-
