ITC's new playbook to raise market share in noodles

Mithun Dasgupta
Kolkata

Diversified conglomerate ITC feels there is a "further scope" to enhance the market share of its noodles segment under YIP-Pee! brand in the North, where it is "relatively smaller" in large regions.

Suresh Chand, VP & Head of Marketing, Snacks, Noodles & Pasta, ITC Foods, at an event in Kolkata on Wednesday DEBASISH BHADURI

YIP-Pee! is No. 2 brand in noodles on a pan-India basis. The conglomerate's Foods business will keep focussing on to grow in geographies where there is still scope to increase market shares. Nestle India's Maggi is the market leader in the Noodles segment.

Chand said the company's key focus area is "product augmentation" to increase the market share further in Noodles. "Over the years we have done a very strong entry into this category. We have come up with a completely different proposition and we stand for long non-sticky noodles and there are veggies also that we have provided in the product. And it has given us extremely good results over the years."

STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIP

He was speaking on the sidelines of an event where ITC's "Sunfeast YIP-Pee!" and "Bingo!" announced strategic partnership with the Argentine Football Association (AFA) as its official regional sponsor.

Bingo! is No. 1 in the Bridges segment of Snack Foods. Bingo! earlier had collaborations with Kerala Blasters

Football Club and East Bengal FC.

According to Chand, at the industry level Noodles and Snacks are fairly large categories. "Because there is a lot of play by local and regional players also, these growths (for the company) need to now be further enhanced. And that is where these partnerships and your products would be important going forward," he pointed out.

As a part of the partnership with Argentine Football Association (AFA), respective brands have unveiled packs featuring star players like Lionel Messi, Angel Di Maria, Julian Alvarez and Emiliano Martinez.

Notably, the conglomerate's non-cigarette FMCG business registered a 7.59 per cent year-on-year growth in its revenue to ₹5,209.05 crore during third quarter this fiscal, while the segment posted a 24 per cent y-o-y growth in operating profit at ₹431.82 crore during the period.

India uniquely positioned to enable AI adoption, says Microsoft's Ahmed Mazhari

Our Bureau
Mumbai

Ahmed Mazhari President, Microsoft Asia, believes that developments around Artificial Intelligence (AI) is the biggest and most innovative developments that tech has experienced over several decades and India is well positioned to enable its adoption.

"The pace of diffusion of this technology is unprecedented and we are confident that AI will touch every facet of our lives in 2024. Tech services companies are doubling down and intensifying their focus on building new capabilities and skills to serve customers' needs in generative AI.

"We are excited that, today, one in four AI projects on GitHub comes from India and, by 2026, India will have eclipsed the US. India is very uniquely positioned to enable the adoption of AI at scale at home and in international markets," Mazhari said at the Microsoft AI Tour in Mumbai today.

DYNAMIC LANDSCAPE

Much of India's dynamic landscape is being shaped by sector-agnostic adoption of the intelligent cloud and AI, together creating a new class of distributed, connected applications and breakthrough business outcomes. According to a recent report commissioned by Microsoft, for every USD that a company invests in AI, it realizes an average return of USD 3.50. Infusing AI into every layer of the tech stack is delivering real productivity gains for organizations, amplifying human ingenuity, and reducing digital debt, according to Microsoft.

Sony, Zee clashed over Russia assets, cricket rights before deal collapse

COMPLIANCE MATTERS. Disagreement over more than 20 issues led to scrapping of merger

Reuters
New Delhi

ON THE BLINK. Zee shares have fallen 27 per cent since the merger was called off. BLOOMBERG

Sony and Zee disagreed over more than 20 compliance issues, including the Indian firm's failure to dispose of some Russian assets and its $1.4 billion Disney cricket rights deal, before their India merger was scrapped, according to internal emails reviewed by Reuters.

The communications between Sony's legal and M&A executives in India and Los Angeles with top Zee executives provide undisclosed details on the high-stakes backroom tussle that preceded the Japanese firm's January 22 decision to pull the plug on the $10-billion merger.

Emails exchanged between December 20 and January 9 show executives from both companies accusing each other of not honouring the merger commitments. Zee executives repeatedly said that there was nothing out of line, and asked Sony to extend the closure deadline.

SETBACK FOR ZEE

The Zee-Sony merger, in the works for two years, would have created an Indian TV juggernaut with more than 90 channels across sports, entertainment and news that would have competed with the likes of Walt Disney and billionaire Mukesh Ambani's Reliance.

The collapse of the deal is a bigger setback for Zee, one of India's best known TV networks that started in 1992 but has seen its business struggle over the years. Its shares have fallen 27 per cent since the merger was called off.

Emails show there was a face-off between Sony and Zee about four Russian subsidiaries that dealt in content creation and distribution, as the merger agreement had stipulated no dealings with entities based in countries under US sanctions. Russia is under Western sanctions for the Ukraine war.

In a January 5 email, Erik Moreno, executive vice president for corporate development and M&A at Sony Pictures Entertainment said Zee had not ended ties with the Russian entities even though it was "absolutely critical", and the merged entity "would under no circumstances inherit the Russian entities".

Zee's counsel Venkatachalam responded by saying the divestment process had not been completed due to changing regulations in Russia and alternate structures were being explored, even though the business of those entities "was shut down in December 2022", emails showed.

CRICKET RIGHTS

Reuters on Monday reported Sony's confidential termination notice which showed it accused Zee of also not meeting certain financial terms including required cash reserves. Zee denies those allegations.

The emails show another key sticking point was Zee's 2022 decision to enter into a $1.4 billion deal with Disney to purchase certain TV cricket rights for India.

Sony said Zee had decided to furnish a bank guarantee and a deposit totaling $406 million for that deal. And Zee's bid to take debt for the deal, which was "without prior written consent" of Sony, took the Indian firm's total debt to more than $451 million - above the merger agreement threshold.

In response, Zee legal executive said that Sony's allegations were raised too late, and were "reprehensible and unfortunate". The cricket deal violated no merger conditions as the two sides wanted to encourage Zee's expansion into sports, it argued in the emails.

Renewable capacity to surpass coal in China

Reuters
Beijing

China's installed wind and solar capacity is expected to overtake coal for the first time this year, according to industry forecasts.

The China Electricity Council (CEC), an industry association, forecast in a yearly report on Tuesday that grid-connected wind and solar would make up around 40 per cent of installed power generation capacity by the end of 2024, compared with coal's expected 37 per cent.

By comparison, wind and solar together were around 36 per cent of capacity at the end of 2023, and coal was just under 40 per cent.

China will have built around 1,300 gigawatts (GW) of wind and solar capacity by the end of 2024, the CEC expects, meaning it will have already exceeded its official target of 1,200 GW by 2030.

The CEC also said that generating capacity from all non-fossil fuel sources - including nuclear and hydro - made up more than half of the total for the first time in 2023.

The CEC sees electricity consumption growing by 6 per cent this year, down just slightly from 2023's 6.7 per cent growth rate, when demand was recovering from a low base following the pandemic.
