Sonata Software Presents its Award Winning Solutions at the Travel Technology Show in London

Bangalore, February 19, 2015

Sonata Software, an IT solutions and services company today announced that it will be present at the Travel Technology Show, being held in London, from February 25th to 26th at the Olympia Conference and Exhibition Centre.

Sonata Software will be showcasing its award winning and next generation travel solutions, TravelPlus and Rezopia at the event. TravelPlus provides a comprehensive platform-based multi-channel travel ecommerce with advanced search, responsive design framework and a full-featured content manager. Rezopia, offers a cloud-based end-to-end travel reservations, contracts, operations and distribution management system for travel providers. Rezopia's customers include tour operators, online travel agencies, destination specialists, member-based organizations, and holiday divisions of travel suppliers such as airline, hotel, activity, and passenger rail providers. Tour operators and destination specialists across US and ANZ markets have used Rezopia to simplify their core IT systems while simultaneously gaining new features like multi-channel distribution and customer service, dynamic packaging and a wide range of pre-built connectors to inventory sources. A leading Rail network in Australia also uses Rezopia to book passenger rail experiences across the country. They have replaced their legacy reservation system with Rezopia's flexible next generation platform which helps the company sell its rail vacation packages via multiple channels.

Sonata's portfolio of solution accelerators incorporates some of the best practices from its experience with the leaders in the business and significantly brings down the time-to-market and risk associated with the client's technology initiatives.

"Providing technology and IT solutions for the Travel industry has been a focus for Sonata over many years. With solutions like Rezopia and Travelplus, Sonata is the true next generation travel technology provider. We will be meeting with global travel providers, showing them how we can help solve their technology challenges at the Travel Technology Show," said Konrad Empacher, Business Development Director for travel industry for Europe for Sonata.

The Travel Technology Show is a decade long running travel summit in Europe. It showcases latest products, services and solutions and is attended by over 4,500 travel technology professionals.
