AURIONPRO'S RYAN SULLIVAN NAMED ORACLE ACE ASSOCIATE

Globally, Sullivan is the 10th recipient of this prestigious award

July 27, 2015, Mumbai,

The Oracle ACE Program recently awarded the Oracle ACEAssociate designation to Ryan Sullivan, Senior Solutions Specialist at Aurionpro. The program recognizes individuals who exhibit technical excellence and make noteworthy contributions to the Oracle technical community.

As a specialist with an exemplary track record, Ryan has demonstrated expertise in Oracle technology, as well as a willingness to share his knowledge and experiences with the community at large. His career has been focused on architecting, developing, customizing, and supporting content-centric applications that have led to the evolution of more than a dozen Oracle WebCenter implementations.

A certified Oracle WebCenter implementation specialist and member of the Chicago Oracle User Group, Ryan's contribution to the organization stretches beyond in-house business expectations. With over nine successful years of Oracle WebCenter, Oracle Database, and Oracle SOA Suite implementations, his work has gained him recognition.

As an ACE Associate, Ryan's profile will be featured in the Oracle ACE directory. Commenting on the recognition, Swapnil Mehta, EVP, Global Head, Enterprise Security said, "I am delighted that we have had multiple people on our team bestowed with this recognition. We are proud of Ryan's achievement; it was well deserved. We extend our complete support as he works towards achieving the Oracle ACE status."

Taking into account all levels of Oracle ACE members, this is the 10th time worldwide that someone from the Oracle WebCenter domain has received this title.
