Kellton Tech continues acquisition spree with Bokanyi Consulting purchase

Hyderabad, IN – January 27, 2016: Close on the heels of a major acquisition last year, Hyderabad, India based global IT company Kellton Tech acquired Bokanyi Consulting, a Houston, US based enterprise, cloud and analytics services provider. Kellton Tech funded this entire acquisition through internal accruals.

Bokanyi, which recently celebrated its tenth anniversary and clocked revenue of about $8 million last year, is a recognized expert in serving the mid-market IT needs of customers across 12 countries today. It has established itself as a heavy-weight in enterprise solutions market when it recently earned the recertification of its SAP Partner Center of Expertise (PCoE). The recertification places it in the elite segment of top 3 percent of SAP partners in North America that have the depth and expertise necessary to meet the rigorous standards of SAP. Bokanyi offers full suite of Analytics Solutions providing insightful, customizable infographics and specializes in SAP HANA implementations. Utilizing its state-of-the-art cloud services, it promptly delivers its offerings on cloud in a hassle-free, secure manner.

The acquisition demonstrates Kellton Tech's continued investment in ISMAC (Internet of things, Social, Mobile, Analytics and Cloud) and its resolve to further strengthen its core focus. It will deepen and diversify Kellton Tech's expertise by bringing complementary customer-base and development capabilities in addition to prestigious technological partnerships. With US already contributing substantially to Kellton Tech's revenue, the move will further improve its in-region support and help it to cater to the increasingly profitable mid-markets.

"We are excited to join forces with Kellton Tech, a rapidly expanding organization and are looking at an immediate surge in opportunities. Both companies share an entrepreneurial culture, providing a nimble organization like ours a supportive environment to explore newer markets and geographies in an agile way. Also, being one among SAP's top value-added resellers, we are eager to leverage Kellton Tech's services portfolio and global footprint to deliver more value to our customers and expand our outreach. The integrated proposition will certainly position Kellton Tech as the leader in the ISMAC space," said Brian Bokanyi, CEO, Bokanyi Consulting.

Commenting on the acquisition, Niranjan Chintam, Founder and Chairman, Kellton Tech, said, "We are happy to welcome aboard Bokanyi's talented and experienced team to Kellton Tech. As we merge Bokanyi's proven enterprise technology expertise that complements our ISMAC focus, we look forward to a myriad of new business opportunities while leveraging the cross-selling possibilities brought forth through this acquisition. We are confident of a seamless integration, and expect the unique synergies from the alliance to enable us to offer greater scale and superior range of transformational services".
