Solix Joins the Berkeley Innovation Forum to Drive Open Innovation Through Big Data

Leading big data application provider to research and discuss issues and best practices for the data-driven enterprise.

December 13, 2016 — Santa Clara, Calif. — Solix Technologies, Inc. (www.solix.com), a leading big data application provider for empowering data-driven enterprises, announced today its membership to the Berkeley Innovation Forum, an exclusive, invitation-only group for leading executives who are deeply involved in managing innovation within their companies.

As a member of the Berkeley Innovation Forum, Solix will join other technology companies during future BIF forums – including Cisco, IBM, Intel and SAP – to research and discuss issues and best practices for the data-driven enterprise, including enterprise data management, information governance and advanced analytics.

“Each day, users around the world generate 2.5 quintillion bytes of data, bringing on new challenges. As a new member of the Berkeley Innovation Forum, we hope to create solutions for data-driven enterprises to address many of these growing challenges, and encourage innovation within the big data space through thoughtful discussion,” said Sai Gundavelli, Founder and CEO of Solix,

“During Solix EMPOWER earlier this year, I was able to see Solix’s vision on the future of big data – a unified, common data platform for the enterprise,” said Solomon Darwin, Executive Director at UC Berkeley-Haas School of Business. “We welcome Solix as a member of the Berkeley Innovation Forum, and look forward to the discussion that Sai Gundavelli and his team will bring to our future forums.”

“Data growth and large scale data management are very common issues that span across industries and the world. We look forward to Solix’s participation during future BIF forums, and hearing how they plan to address these aforementioned issues through open innovation,” said Dr. Henry Chesbrough, Faculty Director of the Garwood Center for Corporate Innovation.
