APL Apollo wins the 'Fastest Growing Manufacturing Company' award at the IPF Industrial Excellence Awards

New Delhi, December 8, 2016: APL Apollo Tubes Limited (APL Apollo), India's leading branded steel products manufacturer, recently bagged the 'Fastest Growing Manufacturing Company' Category Award at the IPF Industrial Excellence Awards.

Commenting on the development, Mr. Ashok Gupta, Managing Director of the Company said, "We are pleased to receive the IPF Industrial Excellence Award. The last few years have been periods of rapid growth for the Company driven by new customers, penetrating new markets, and launching new & innovative products.

Amidst a challenging market scenario, the recent demonetization scheme of the Government is expected to adversely impact sales in the second half of the year. We firmly believe that in a highly unorganized and fragmented sector like ours, the demonetization step will not only throw up significant long-term benefits for large organized players like ourselves, but will also help consolidate the industry at large.

Our transformation into a branded steel products player with exposure to several high-growth sectors of the economy will ensure we are able to deliver stronger performance in the coming years."

Industrial Products Finder (IPF) is India's largest circulated industrial magazine and hosted its first ever IPF Industrial Excellence Awards at World of Industry (WIN) India in Mumbai. The 'IPF Industrial Excellence Awards' were distributed to the fastest growing manufacturing companies across sectors with manufactured products that meet the 'Product Excellence' standards.

The award underscores APL Apollo's commitment towards growth along with operational excellence. Over the last five years, the Company has delivered a 27% CAGR in production volume across its state-of-the-art manufacturing facilities. Thus, transforming into India's leading branded steel products manufacturer.
