f) Management's perception of risk factors:

Production of alloy steel globally is around 120 million tonnes per annum and around 6 million tonnes per annum in India. Company produces specialty steel long products which cater to a very niche market and not commodity steel products. Recently, huge increase in the import of commodity steel products from China has affected the entire domestic steel industry putting pressure on prices of steel products. Government of India has imposed safeguard duty in September 2015 on import of HR coils, thus protecting the interests of domestic steel industry. Management expects that fortunes of its alloy steel segment are poised to get an impetus as the country's automobile growth story unravels with automobile Original Equipment Manufacturers increasing their capacity through expansion and its export of stainless steel products could improve on account of quality and cost competitiveness in the world markets.

The performance of Industrial Machinery Division of the Company has been impacted on account of slowdown in modernization and expansion activities in steel, infrastructure and industrial sectors. Under the present economic scenario, the Division plans to focus on developing its business in Defense, Power and Space sectors that require specialized equipment.

The deposits accepted by the Company are unsecured and rank pari passu with other unsecured liabilities of the Company. Unsecured deposits carry inherent risk of default in repayment of deposits or interest thereon in case of the Company facing liquidity crisis. The liquidity and/or profitability of the Company may get adversely affected due to change in economic situation, government policies, natural calamities etc.

g) Details of default including the amount involved, duration of default and present status, in repayment of :

- Statutory dues: There is no default in payment of undisputed statutory dues by the Company.
- Debentures and interest thereon: There are no dues to any debenture holder.
- Loan from any bank or financial institution and interest thereon: Rs. Nil
There have been delays in payment of interest and repayment obligations to its lenders. However, this has not triggered the clause of default as defined in the loan agreements as the subject payments have been made within 60 days of the due dates.
