Principal choose to encash the Bank Guarantee despite the Company's contention to the contrary.

The Company has invoked arbitration clause of the Contract and the proceeding is in progress.

This is a general practice in the Infrastructure Segment in which the Company is operating. In past in several cases the Company has obtained and successfully received substantial sum by way of claims against such unjust encashment by the Principals and the Company does not expect any claim on account of the encashment

Further as per the definition of Provisions in Accounting standards 29, which we quote :

Provisions

14. A provision should be recognised when:

- (a) an enterprise has a present obligation as a result of a past event;*
- (b) it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation; and*
- (c) a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.*

If these conditions are not met, no provision should be recognised.

In the case of Company a reliable estimate for the amount of obligation cannot be made for the past event as the matter is subject to outcome of an arbitration award.

Bank guarantees invoked by department is disputed by the company. Since these matter are Sub Judice and subject to the outcome of the proceedings of various courts of the Country, We have thought it prudent not to provide for any such BG encashment and as we are hopeful of recovering the BG encashed and hence no provision is deemed necessary.

e.	For Audit Qualification(s) where the impact is not quantified by the auditor:
