Lenders push steelmaker Usha Martin's board to remove non-executive chairman

By Pratik Bhatnagar

IN A DRAMATIC move, lenders led by the State Bank of India on Tuesday pushed the board of directors of specialty steel producer Usha Martin to remove its non-executive chairman Prakash Jhawar from the post. The board has appointed G N...

A press release issued after his removal. He did not attend the board meeting. Mr. Jhawar, this proposal was put forth by the committee of lenders. The committee of lenders had the board led by the management supporting this resolution as unclear, he added. Usha Martin is one of the largest steel manufacturers in the world and a leading specialty steel producer in India.

The board of directors of the company at their meeting held on April 25 has appointed G N Prakash as director. In place of Prakash Jhawar, with immediate effect. In view of this Prakash Jhawar has ceased to be the non-executive chairman of the company and the board of directors of the company. Usha Martin said in a press release that Prakash Jhawar, former chairman of capital market regulator SEBI. The board was called on Tuesday following requests from the lenders, who were reportedly in favour of a change in the top management. They were not happy with the resignation of some of the promoters of the Kolkata-based company. Prakash Jhawar, also a promoter of the company, alleged that he has been improperly removed from the post of non-executive chairman of Usha Martin. "No specific reasons or rationale have been provided for my removal," Jhawar said in a statement.
