Exxon fined for Russia sanctions violations

BLOOMBERG
Washington, July 20

The said violations occurred when now-secretary of state Rex Tillerson was CEO

THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT fined Exxon Mobil $2 million for "egregious" violations of sanctions against Russia when now-secretary of state Rex Tillerson was chief executive. Exxon violated Ukraine-related sanctions by signing eight legal documents related to coal and gas projects in Russia with Igor Sechin, head of Rosneft Oil Co., who isn't Treasury's list of sanctioned Russian individuals. The violations occurred from about May 14, 2014, while Tillerson led the company. Treasury's administration included asset freeze and ban on travel to the US.

Russia is Exxon's biggest oil exploration region worldwide. Exxon spokesman Scott Shultz said the treasury department did "fundamentally unfair" to the oil company. He said Exxon "followed the clear guidance from the White House and treasury department when its regulations were signed." The statement said.

The US and European na-representatives signed documents involving ongoing oil and gas activities in Russia with Rosneft, noting that the company itself wasn't under sanctions. Sechin "counter-signed" the documents "in his official capacity," Tillerson said.
