Pawan Hans chopper crashes, four bodies found

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Mumbai, January 13

A PAWAN HANS helicopter with seven persons on-board, including five ONGC officers and two pilots, crashed off the Mumbai coast minutes after it took off for the company's oil installation in the Arabian sea.

So far, four bodies have been recovered, ONGC said in a statement to PTI. Search operation is on for the other missing persons. The helicopter, including three of the level of deputy general managers, went missing at around 10:40 am on Saturday.

ONGC coast guard and the Navy pressed helicopters and speed boats as soon as the information of the chopper going missing was received at the Juhu helibase.

ONGC has key oil and gas fields off the Mumbai coast and Pawan Hans helicopters routinely ferry company employees and officers to the oil installations that are situated as far as 160 kilometres from the coastline.

The field in the offshore include Mumbai High, the nation's largest oil field and Bassein fields, the largest gas field. The crash is not the first accident in ONGC's history. In August 2003, a Mi-172 helicopter crashed off the Mumbai coast killing 27 employees and the pilot on-board.

"ONGC vessels and choppers along with the coast guard and Indian Navy are combing the areas where the chopper has apparently crashed," the statement said.

"Identification of the bodies is in progress."

The chopper, bearing registration number VT-PWA, was scheduled to land at the designated oil rig at Mumbai High at 11 am.

The Navy said it had deployed its stealth frigate INS Teg for the search operation, while surveillance aircraft P8i was also pressed into service.
