*Bringing together
people and technology*

Genesys is executing this project, along with its local partner Afghanite, wherein it will conduct route survey and mapping through airborne LiDAR, terrestrial and bathymetric survey for the Afghanistan stretch of about 800 Km, as a part of the Turkmenistan – Afghanistan – Pakistan – India (TAPI) Gas Pipeline Project. This modern spatial technology will be utilized for preparation of Front End Engineering and Design (FEED).

This phase of the project contracted is scheduled to be finished over a 3 month timeframe and with an approximate contract value of USD 450,000. Importantly it demonstrates company's ability to handle mission critical complex LIDAR projects.

The Contract is awarded by TAPI Pipeline Company Ltd, to the Genesys Consortium. There is no interest of promoter / promoter group / group companies of Genesys, and hence not a related party transaction.
