GST slabs may reduce to 3 in long-term

Kolkata, Aug 6: In the long-term, Goods and Services Tax (GST) slabs may come down to three, in addition to the exempted category, Sanjeev Sanyal, Principal Economic Adviser to the Finance Ministry, today said.

The three slabs could be a low of 5 per cent, a central 15 per cent (merging 12 per cent and 18 per cent slabs that exist now) and a top rate of 25 per cent, he said here at an interactive session organised by the Bharat Chamber of Commerce.

"In the long-term, the GST rates might be squeezed to three as more and more simplification will be done," Sanyal said.

Presently, there are four GST slabs of 5, 12, 18 and 28 per cent, plus the exempted category which attracts 0 per cent GST.

He said a bulk of the goods might get taxed in the 15 per cent slab.

Earlier this week, Bihar Deputy Chief Minister Sushil Modi, who also heads high level minister panel on GST, had said that the slabs may come down in the future.

Sanyal, who was a renowned economist before joining the government, said that after indirect taxes (GST), the government is planning to undertake legal and administrative reforms.

"The inability of the legal system to enforce contracts needs to be addressed and this require reforms. The administrative reforms is also on the government's radar," Sanyal added.

He said there has been a slowdown in the Indian economy but now beginning to recover.

Marathon to educate on saving accident victims

Chennai, Aug 6: Run to Stop is a marathon that aims to create awareness among the public on the importance of learning life saving skills that enable us to help during accidents.

The event is organized by TACT academy of Critical Training in association with Dr. K. M. Cherian's Charitable Trust and SAGA Charitable Trust both of which are non profit initiatives by doctors.

The idea was born as the 'Stop the Bleed' initiative launched by a team of trauma surgeons including NRI Dr. Mayur Narayan during an event at the White House. It is a short training program created and accredited by American College of Surgeons which has trained many common men to become lifesavers by empowering them with simple life saving techniques. NAEMT (National Association of Emergency Medical Technicians) which participated in the launch of this White House initiative has endorsed the Stop the Bleed campaign.

According to Dr. N. Ramakrishnan, "We have come across many situations where a life could have been saved if only the first responder just knew very basic techniques like how to hold the accident victim, how to stop bleeding and perform Cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR). What is more tragic than a death by bleeding is one that could have been prevented. All it takes is a few hours of commitment to learn these life saving skills."

Fila, Rannvijay to launch motorsport collections

Chennai, Aug 6: The Italian Brand, FILA dropped its first-ever Indian motorsport collection in collaboration with youth icon RannvijaySingha in its stores across the country today. The outcome of FILA's signature playful aesthetic and Rannvijay's brazen personality, this collection is all set to ride its way into the hearts of sneaker heads and petrol heads everywhere.

MD Cravatex Brands Limited, Rohan Batra added, "We wanted to introduce a product that was true to the spirit of Motorsport Category, but with this collection, we consciously targeted the Indian consumer by taking their requirements into consideration and retailing the range at very reachable price points.
